Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the child becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, dirt, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or mucrous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still engrafted fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, TUMORS, ROSE NODES, JUNONS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can scarcely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases by the use of this medicine. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the throat and lungs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JAN. 24, 1860.

☞ The Concord Statesman, speaking of the lost at Lawrence, says:

To many the passage was almost instantaneous from the bright light of life to the darkness of the grave. Others, who survived the fall, lived only to be burned in the awful wreck. This interval, it is said, was employed by many in prayer. Heaven grant that whether those supplications were made to a risen and intercessory Redeemer, or to that Mother through whom so many of them were instructed to make their petitions, they all may have been received into that peaceful abode, far above "the wreck of matter and the crush of worlds."

To this we add, Amen—and Heaven grant also the same reception to those who were stunned or crushed so quick, as to offer no prayer at all! If any body should accuse Br. McFarland and Uncle Toby of praying for the dead, we should only plead that humanity will make such prayers, in spite of creeds and platforms—and that our Heavenly Father, in whose house are many mansions, will hear them too, and show himself more ready to give good gifts than we are to ask them.

PHILANTHROPY.—We have already published and criticized the heartless and false assumptions of the New York Herald, on the Lawrence tragedy. The following item on the same topic is from a paper in New Hampshire:

Between the scramble for the "almighty dollar" and the manifestation of a hypocritical concern for the slaves of the South, our Northern capitalists had forgotten that there are white men at the North who are almost as good as negroes, or have regarded them only as living machines, to be worked to swell their coffers, and exposed to any hazard of suffering the while.

We believe there is something like a scramble after the dollar, not only by those who build cotton mills, but by those who raise and sell cotton, by those who raise and sell negroes, or go to Africa and import them; by those who print newspapers, and by those who hold good fat offices as a quid pro quo for the support of the administration.

That the capitalists of the North may have a hypocritical or real concern for the welfare of black men, is quite possible, but nothing to the purpose in the case. But when it is asserted that these capitalists have forgotten the hazard of their white workmen, the proper answer is, that Mr. Howe, one of the principal owners of the Pemberton Mill, testified before the inquest that he never had any suspicion of weakness in the mill, and never had a hint of the kind from any one; and that he, with the Agent, Mr. Chase, were in the mill when it fell!

Mr. Howe was not one of the builders of the mill, but he is a Northern capitalist, and from the manner of his testimony no one can doubt his interest in the welfare of the work-people who have escaped, as well as in the loss and sorrow brought on the sufferers. It would not be strange if it should turn out that he pities the bondman and woman who are sold like cattle in the market, and classed with horses by some members of Congress. We don't know that such is the fact, but deem it highly probable; for true humanity does not care much for color, name, sect or nation; and the tyranny that would sell Uncle Tom, would sell Uncle Toby also, if it could catch him.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.—The omission of half a dozen words, in the closing paragraph of an article on the Richmond Theatre and the Pemberton Mill, changed the sense materially. The paragraph as we wrote it, was in these words:—

People may, if they please, learn the utter uncertainty of the present life everywhere,—and those who are wise, will lay hold on eternal life, possessing which they will love and enjoy all present blessings, and bravely endure all present trials, knowing "that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

☞ A correspondent in Maine tells us a singular story of the medical effect of cayenne, hair oil and thoroughwort. A middle-aged woman, not many months ago, eating a hearty supper, partook freely of cayenne, and being very thirsty soon after, she drank near half a cup-full of hair-oil by mistake, in the twilight. Feeling badly, and fearing the hair-oil might be poisonous, she took strong thoroughwort tea as an emetic. All together operated powerfully, and the effect on the woman's health was excellent. She had been afflicted with a large tumor in her side, which she supposed would be permanent, and she had other ails. But the tumor disappeared; she voided a large quantity of worms,—her eyes became clear, and her whole system underwent an apparent change for the better.

☞ As small, thin shoes in cold weather, will have a tendency to produce consumption, so will a small, thin bonnet, (notwithstanding the proverb to "keep the head cold") have a tendency to chill or soften the brain. B.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.

The Holidays are over. For three successive Sabbaths the city has been a scene of confusion consequent on three anniversaries which fell upon those days—Christmas, New Year, and the "8th of January." The booming of artillery, the crack of small arms and fireworks, the strains of martial music and the parade of military, gave life and animation to the streets, but must have slightly annoyed those devout persons who attended church,—for New Orleans has churches, and they are very well supported too.

Just before the celebration of the 45th anniversary of the engagement in which he took a conspicuous place, Gen. Planche, a veteran of the battle of New Orleans, was buried with all the solemnity and pageantry of the Romish church and the profession of arms. In the cortege could be seen "Old Noble," who beat the reveille which called the men to arms on the morning when British pride met such a fall, and British power such a check, on the margin of the turbid artery of the great central portion of our Union. Immediately following the hearse were the negroes owned by the General in life, but in death—as all other property,—left behind; they were mostly shedding tears, and seemed to deplore their loss as that of a very kind master.

The weather for some days past has been very warm, and mosquitoes have made their appearance, after having granted us a respite of about a fortnight.

I wish "Old Squaretoes" was here for a month; he would be rejoiced to shake the mud from his feet for a testimony against the place, and return to Portsmouth; there never to utter a word of remonstrance if not more than two-thirds of the pavement were dug up. The manner in which the contractors perform their business of repairing the streets here is outrageous.—"Sensitivus" might also find subject for condemnation in the custom, which s here prevalent, of beating a drum before the auction rooms. Please send him out.

Though New Orleans prices are exorbitant, still there are places where the poor can procure a very fine meal for a dime, and those places are the public markets, which are scattered over the city. A place for "Cheap Amusement" has also been opened on one of our best streets—Camp—a "Free Concert," for admission to which you must pay two dimes, which includes refreshments. "Nothing to offend the most fastidious," for the reason that such people do not trust themselves there. If not amusement for the poor—certainly, poor amusement.

A few weeks ago there was received into a Baptist church in this city, a man who has bought and sold over sixteen thousand negroes, who owns a great deal of real estate, and who is said to be the veritable person portrayed by Mrs. Stowe, in her character of Legree. "How hardly shall a rich man enter the kingdom of Heaven."

Several of the most noted bullies in this city have met with violent deaths since I last wrote, among them, "Bob Forbes" and "Red Bill." The like treatment of a dozen more of them will probably give the remaindern idea of the value of life to themselves, if not to others.

I wish I could send you a boquet of the violets which are now sold in our streets, as I think it hardly time for them in New Hampshire. IOX.

☞ Not many days ago, a correspondent (S. T.) spoke very highly in praise of rum, and specially glorified the moral and physical effects of tobacco, saying we did not agree with him, but asking us if we had ever tried it?

We answer, that our trials of tobacco, 40 years ago and more, were very short, and quite satisfied us that a more useless and dirty habit can hardly be thought of.

We have seen trials enough of both rum and tobacco from that day to this, to convince any one who is neither a smoker nor a sot, that both practices are useless and pernicious.

The fancy picture of a white-headed man of fourscore years, steeped in rum and perfumed with tobacco, sitting on a door stone at sundown, and sending up the smoke of a stinking dudheen as an incense to heaven, is worthy of a gilt frame.

But most of the youngsters who smoke at 12 and drink rum at 16, will never see fourscore years,—and three-quarters of them will never reach forty.

The idea that working men need either rum or tobacco to help them, we know to be nonsense. That, the work, the hard labor of various kinds, we have tried, night and day, early and late, and we are certain we have done very well without them.

☞ Since the withdrawal of the Collins line of mail steamers from the route between New York and Liverpool, the Cunard line, which has now almost a monopoly of the mail business, do not attempt to make their winter passages in less than fourteen, fifteen, and even sixteen and seventeen days. They run slow with the view of saving coal.

FAST HORSES.

Messrs. Editors:—We notice in your paper of Saturday, an article relating to the attempt of the N. H. State Agricultural Society to exclude fast horses as competitors for premiums at agricultural fairs. We are also sorry to observe that no definite action was taken on the matter; for any man who has any degree of interest in the promotion of agriculture, and the success of agricultural fairs, will at once condemn the practice of allowing "fast horses" to compete for premiums, and horse-racing to be one of the principal features of the exhibition.

Mr. Clark of Manchester argues that, by the adoption of a rule excluding fast horses, all good ones would be excluded; and also that "no horse is a good horse unless it is fast." We think Bro. Clark, as well as the editor of the Chronicle, who calls the anti-racing idea a "sleepy-headed old fogyism," are entirely on the wrong track, and are talking without book. The fact that there are very few good horses at our fairs is well known; and the reason is, that so much attention is paid to a good roadster, or a three-minute animal, that draught horses are wholly ignored. Speed and draught cannot be combined in horse-flesh; and a horse that will trot his mile in three minutes or less, will not drag the harrow or the plow. It may be said that it requires more endurance to travel on the road for a day, than to pull the plow or drag the harrow the same length of time. This may be true; but we contend that a horse may have endurance for travel, and at the same time be unable to withstand any sort of a test of draught.

Every farmer who is about to select a good draught horse, will not ask, as the first question, if he is fast, but rather if he is sound, kind, and can draw in front of oxen. Fast horses will do very well for sporting men, or even for a farmer who occasionally wants to take a quick drive to a distant place; and we would encourage the breeding of fast nags; only let them occupy their appropriate sphere.

Mr. Clark says it is for the farmer's interest to raise fast horses. The writer of this has had some experience in the matter, and believes the statement to be incorrect. We once owned a very fine mare, which would trot a mile inside of three minutes, but was not worth a copper for any other kind of work. She was as sulky as a donkey when hitched to a harrow, but as clever as a kitten when in front of a wagon. Some said it was owing to improper training.—This idea appeared plausible enough, and as we knew nothing of her youthful days, we thought it might be true. We raised a colt from her, and bestowed the utmost care in training him; but alas! he proved to be the very counterpart of his mother, and although very fast, was useless on the farm as a work-horse. We know of many similar instances, and might cite them, would time and space allow.

If our State and County agricultural fairs are gotten up for the purpose of making money—then bring on the fast horses—let them run, pace and trot. But if the fairs are intended for the encouragement and advancement of agriculture, then abolish the system of horse-racing at such exhibitions, and the desired end will be attained, and fairs will be a success, instead of a failure. FERMIER.

We will just say, in response to our anonymous, but evidently well meaning correspondent—that the taking no vote on the question is pretty conclusive evidence that it would have been voted down, and so leave the track clearer than ever for the fast horses. And we can't allow that none of the horse-men have any interest in the Fairs, or agriculture generally. Nor do the managers of the shows, or the sporting men, make the trotting-course "the principal feature of the exhibition"—the people vote it a first place almost universally. Nor would we, or the owners and lovers of horses generally, have any other branch or department of farming neglected for this—as it certainly need not be; but we can't see why the attraction and excitement of the beautiful and fleet horses may not be here enjoued, unaccompanied by the drawbacks sometimes not to be avoided on regular race-courses.

We know there are but few good horses at our New Hampshire Fairs—for the good ones are scarce in the State, especially in the hands of farmers. Any old plodding five-miles-an-hour-under-the-whip-horse has been considered good enough for the farm, in past years; but this sort is getting out of favor; and the best way to improve the breed, is to show up the best animals—and no place like the track for this.

We can't go into an extended horse talk; but must close by saying we know of many draft horses, who can also make good time; and because our correspondent owned a stupid, brainless brute or two, that would do nothing else but travel, is no convincing evidence for his statement. The premium draught horse at the U. S. Agricultural Fair in Boston, trotted his mile in three minutes, then drew upwards of three tons—and was a regular team horse; a premium family and work-horse at the Rockingham Fair for two or three years, now owned in Portsmouth, is one of the fastest horses in the city; and the handsomest and most valuable working horse in town, can do his mile in three and a half minutes; while we will warrant the best-blooded mare in the city, to trot one mile in three minutes, fifteen miles in an hour, and to work anywhere on the first trial—even in a tread-mill or before cattle.

We don't believe in slow, cold-blooded, lazy horses or men, anyhow; let those who like that sort, stick to the ox-team. And while we do not favor the mere racer, we are convinced that better blood, more speed, spirit and intelligence, can be introduced into the horse-stock of this State, and especially this County, to good advantage—without reducing their working capabilities, which we believe would, on the contrary, be vastly increased by the change. And we know of no way to bring this about, so effective as these horse exhibitions at the Fairs. F.

FAIR AT THE OCEAN HOUSE.—The M. E. church at Rye, having been recently repaired, the ladies of the Society who have so nobly interested themselves in the good work, propose holding another Fair to meet the expenses incurred.

Their first one for this purpose, held a year ago, is well remembered by all who were able to gain admittance to the crowded halls of the Earl House. This year, the spacious halls of the Ocean house having been secured, no effort will be spared to make the occasion one of rare interest and profit.

The supply of useful and fancy articles will be large, and refreshments will be furnished in abundance. Commencing on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31st, and continue two evenings. If stormy, the first pleasant evenings after. Come one, come all, and aid a good cause. Per Order.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "Have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted teller upon the shop-board, and the perplexed student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affection.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

6th Annual Announcement!

Cosmopolitan Art Association.

From all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year,) are being received in a ratio unparalelled with that of any previous year.

Any person can become a member by subscribing $3

WHICH WILL ENTITLE HIM TO

1st. The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakspeare and his Friends."

2d. A Copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d. A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, several hundred valuable works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

is of a character to give unqualified pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever placed within reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 20 by 28 inches, and is the most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Value of it: Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st day of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six memberships.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 546 and 548 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Subscriptions also received at the CHRONICLE OFFICE, by FRANK W. MILLER, Hon. Sec. for Portsmouth and vicinity.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and traveling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and put your money to those whom you know to be responsible. ☞ Among the killed at Lawrence, was Mrs. Augusta Ann Ashworth, a former resident of Portsmouth, and a sister-in-law of two young women who were drowned here a few years since.

THE DANCERS will see notices of interest to them, in our advertising columns.

We are informed that the reason of Mr. Kendall's non-appearance here, as announced for Mr. Cootey's ball, was severe sickness, from which he has not yet recovered.

☞ We wish to call attention to the Readings of Mrs. Laura S. Bishop, the first of which is promised at Hanover Street Chapel, Wednesday evening. The lady is sustained by the press and the public everywhere. Mrs. Sigourney, the authoress, writes of her:—

Mrs. Bishop is equal to any reader we have heard, and far better than many.—Her voice is full and rich, her accents telling; her expression of emotion evinced by change of countenance, perfect; and her actions appropriate and forcible. In addition to these mental and intellectual accomplishments, she is a beautiful woman. She reads a humorous piece with infinite zest and relish. But her forte is in the pathetic and emotional. Tom Hood's "Bridge of Sighs," "The Maniac," and "The Child and the Angel," moved many of the audience to tears.

☞ A party of five young men left the store of Mr. Ayers, Christian Shore, at 8 o'clock, Monday morning, for Boston, on foot, under command of Capt. Roberts.—They intended to arrive at 12 o'clock, same night. They are fast runners on Piscataqua, No. 4, and will prove fast walkers, we have no doubt. D.

HOWE AND WILSON.

The testimony of Realf, said to be John Brown's Secretary of State, was to show up Senator Wilson and Dr. Saml. G. Howe, as somehow connected with Brown's conquest of Virginia,—at least some papers suggested it.—Now Realf has been examined, and his testimony simply shows that they protested against it!

This, the reader will perceive is quite a different thing: and leaves those who have howled so terribly over this bone, in a posture somewhat ridiculous.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent, writes on Saturday, as follows:

Mr. Realf has been before the Senate Brown Raid Investigating Committee today. He testified that Senator Wilson wrote a letter to Dr. Howe in 1857, or 1858, stating that he had learned from Mr. Forbes that Brown was about to make a raid into some of the Southern States for the purpose of liberating slaves, and that he would use money furnished him by parties in Massachusetts for his Kansas work, to aid him in his new project, and that in his (Wilson's) opinion, it was madness in Brown to attempt such a thing, and that he (Howe) must withdraw all means furnished him for services in Kansas, if they were to be misapplied in the manner that was indicated by Forbes.

Realf testified that Howe sent a copy of Wilson's letter to Brown, informing the latter that the arms and money which had been furnished him for the protection of the settlers of Kansas, would be withdrawn, in consequence of the revelation made by Forbes through Wilson;—that Brown became enraged and abandoned his plans for a while, but some time subsequently pursued some pro-slavery men into Missouri, and carried back with him several slaves.

Senator Wilson was notified to-day by Senator Mason that Realf had alluded to him in his testimony, and notified Wilson he could be present on Monday, and read the testimony of Realf concerning his (Wilson's) correspondence with Howe, and make such explanation as he pleased.—B. B. Newton, a member of the Kansas Aid Committee, arrived here to-day, and will be the next witness after Realf and Wilson. Realf will not implicate any member of the Republican party in New England, although there are persons who belong to other organizations, who may be slightly compromised.

☞ The train which left New York at 12:15 on Saturday, when ten miles from New Haven, lost off a driving wheel of the engine and tore the trucks from under the baggage car, throwing the car bottom up directly across the track. The first car was thrown down the embankment, and 22 of 28 seats in the car broken, and although full of passengers, no one was seriously injured. This was on the new shore line, via Providence.

WHAT BECAME OF THE MONEY.—The Newburyport Herald explains the loss of the pot of coin in that city. Its paragraph solved the mystery, for no sooner was it seen by the wife of the man alluded to, than she ran to her husband to say that she was the person that took it, and it had been expended for the benefit of the family.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher lectured in Portland on Thursday last. It was intended to limit the number of tickets to the capacity of the hall, but at the time of meeting the people came in crowds without tickets, some paying at the door, and others being rushed in without time to pay, till the hall was full, and several hundred ticket-holders were left outside.

SALERATUS.—Saleratus (quantum sufficit,) will kill anything it touches that has life; a strong solution of which is said to be superior to anything else for killing bedbugs, whose tenacity of life (even in an unoccupied house) seems almost incredible. B.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 23.—The hospital called the "Pemberton Home" has now five patients, and there is a prospect of having the house filled up, and the advantages of the charity fully enjoyed. All good men unite to further the project, and to extend the benefits of the Home to the wounded and suffering, who cannot have any rooms and tender nursing at home. All the badly wounded are doing well.

Inquisitiveness.—Looking through a keyhole with your ear.

Bacchus has drowned more men than Neptune.

Better wear out shoes than sheets.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

☞ Persons intending to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association for this season, should do so at once. The books close and the award of premiums is made Jan. 30th; and the Secretary will visit New York several days previous, to be present at the declaration. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column; and the beautiful engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends," at N. P. Thacher's store.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, and see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject nauseating medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.
BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.
BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he consulted it, to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. His case was well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. LAPORME, sole agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents. ow7ly

From the N. H. Gazette.

The Democracy of New Hampshire Recovering their Reason.

The subjoined resolutions were adopted unanimously at the Democratic Convention for Senatorial District No. 4, held at Concord on the 10th inst, and we hail them with lively satisfaction as evincing that right sentiments are beginning to assert their sway once more over the minds of the Democracy of New Hampshire. These resolutions have the true Democratic ring; they clearly and vigorously proclaim sound and incontrovertible doctrine—the doctrine of the Constitution, and of Democracy untainted with abolitionism. They declare that the Constitution of the United States is a compact between independent sovereign States, securing to each and all equal rights, powers, privileges and protection; that no State or number of States can claim powers and privileges not enjoyed by all; that it is the office of the Federal government to uphold and protect, and not to destroy or injure; that the Territories are the common property of the people of all the States, who have rights entirely equal in them, and that it is the duty of Congress to enact all laws necessary to enable the Judiciary and Executive to protect these rights. They approve of the Dred Scott decision, and of the Cincinnati platform interpreted thereby; charge old Brown's treasonable foray most justly upon the Black Republican party, and declare an unqualified approval of the administration of Mr. Buchanan, and pledge it a cordial support.

Such are the doctrines and sentiments of these admirable resolutions. What a contrast do they present to the feeble trash which has been put forth in the shape of resolutions by most of the Democratic Conventions held in this State for several years past. We repeat, we hail them with sincere gratification. They afford a strong indication, in view of the unanimity with which they were adopted, that the Democracy of New Hampshire are yet sound; that they have been misled by demagogues and deceivers but not corrupted, and having discovered their error are returning to the true faith—to their mission of upholding the principles of right and justice, and of preserving the integrity of the Union.

We commend these resolutions to the perusal and candid consideration of all Democrats, in and out of the State. They declare the sentiments to be proclaimed at Charleston next April, and upon which the Democracy will conduct the Presidential contest and win the battle:

Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States is a compact between independent sovereign States, possessing equal rights and powers, and secures to each, and the whole, equal privileges and protection.

Resolved, That no State, nor any number of States combined, is entitled to, or can claim rights, powers, and privileges under the Constitution, which are not possessed and cannot be claimed by all the States.

Resolved, That, neither the Federal Government, nor any of its branches, has the constitutional power to injure, nullify, or destroy, but it is its duty to recognize and protect, the institutions of the several States of the Union, and the rights of persons and of property of their respective citizens, of whatever description such rights may be, or in whatever form they may exist, within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Resolved, That the domain and the organized Territories of the Union, having been acquired by their common blood and treasure, are the common property of the people of all the States, who have an equal right to emigrate to, and settle in them, with such property and effects as are recognized as such in the respective States from which they go, including property in slave labor; and to hold the same there, free from hindrance or molestation while the territorial condition exists; and that, it the right to such property is disturbed or attempted to be wrested from them, it is the duty of the Congress of the United States to enact all laws which may be necessary for its security and protection, provided the Judiciary and Executive of the United States shall not possess adequate power to protect the same for want of such legislation.

Resolved, That we approve of the principles of the opinion pronounced by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Dred Scott, and regard them as the true key to a sound interpretation of the Cincinnati Platform, which, with that interpretation, we approve and sustain.

Resolved, That we condemn and denounce with horror, the recent invasion of the sovereignty of the State of Virginia, by the late John Brown and his fellow conspirators, not only on account of the treasonable and murderous act, but also, on account of its tendency to disturb and dissolve the fraternal relations heretofore so happily existing among the several States, and to prepare the way for a dissolution of the Union.

Resolved, That we regard the crimes of the said John Brown and his accomplices, as the legitimate fruits of the present bitter and unjustifiable sectional warfare waged by the Republican party against the people of the South on account of the institution of Slavery, for which that party should be held responsible before God and the country.

Resolved, That we approve the policy both foreign and domestic, of the Administration of JAMES BUCHANAN, President of the United States, because we believe it to be sound in principle and patriotic in intent; and that we will give the President our cordial and unqualified support.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have suffered from that distressing complaint to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness, for which I prescribe my drops. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most efficacious remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY W. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over years, and can say of it, what we have of any other medicine, TRUTHFULLY & SAFELY, TO EFFECT A CURE, we know an instance of disatisfaction by any one who has used it. Never did we know an article give such universal satisfaction as this, never did we meet with a mother who has once used it, but speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe to the best and safest of all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any other disease, we do not but your own judgment of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that is ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. The genuine article has the fac-simile signature of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.

Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the cause of pain, instead of merely deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article commonly recommended will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton. Fourthly—It is so mild in its operation, that it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for soothing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend it to as can those whose whole expense is their "offering; for the same reason, it commends itself as invaluable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Hobson, having been so far reduced by consumption, having proved beyond all hope to be incurable, discovered a remedy which effected a cure in more immediate consequence, and effect to cure by simply applying the subject of Consumption, that he discovered the BLOOD FOOD, which effected a cure of twenty years' practice—at a last resort, Hobson, and also by himself—a remedy discovered by accident, from which he discovered the BLOOD FOOD, from the use of which, Dr. Hobson, having been so far reduced by consumption, in the last stage, he was cured beyond all hope of recovery, and restored to perfect health. A boon to mankind and a blessing to the afflicted. Dr. Hobson, in the most interesting cases of Consumption, has the most interesting cases of testimony in the world, and will publish them in a pamphlet, which will be given to all who call for it. The BLOOD FOOD is a powerful Generator of Blood, and will build up the most delicate constitution in the most interesting cases. Dr. Hobson, having been so far reduced by consumption, he knows what he says, and can speak from experience. A boon to mankind and a blessing to the afflicted. Dr. Hobson, in

ASTOUNDING DISCLOSURES.

Many charges have been made against dealers in intoxicating liquors, as engaging in vile and dangerous adulterations. The Legislature of Ohio, in March 1855, directed Dr. Hiram Cox, a distinguished chemist of Cincinnati, to make a thorough examination of such liquors as are in the market. The following letter from Dr. Cox, to James Black, Esq., of Lancaster, Penn., gives the result of his investigations. We advise every man who is in the use of intoxicating liquors, to read it carefully, and then think before he drinks. Can a man walk on hot coals, and his feet not be burned? Can he take poison into his stomach, and not be injured?

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 3, 1859.

JAS. BLACK, Esq.—Dear Sir:—Yours of 29th September, dated Lancaster, Pa., is now before me. Although not personally acquainted, I take great pleasure in contributing my mite, in any and every possible mode, where the object is the bettering of the human family. I have had similar letters, with similar request from every point of the compass—from the extreme North, South, East and West—to all of which, I have cheerfully responded; believing, although the labor has been considerable, that it would tell in after years in the longevity and health of thousands who would otherwise fill a premature grave, and would contribute to the happiness and comfort of thousands of mothers and children, who are and have been, unfortunately, connected with the unfortunate slaves of intemperance. I rejoice to know that my exposures of the villainous liquors with which the markets, East and West, are glutted have had a salutary moral influence in almost every region of our happy Union. I have letters in my possession from ministers of the Gospel, from New Orleans, from Nashville, Tennessee, from Florida, from New York, from Boston, from Richmond, Va., Alexandria, Norfolk, Washington City, Philadelphia, Pa., from Toronto, from Hamilton, Canada, and from all of our Eastern States—congratulating and encouraging me to continue my exposures—that they were causing men to think and stand aghast, more than anything they could do or say on the subject of temperance. The same effects have been produced in this community. A gentleman tapped me on the shoulder some little time past, and remarked at the same time, "Doctor, I rejoice to see you take the stand that you do on the subject of poisonous liquors. I can lay my hands on more than thirty of our best citizens, gentlemen, who were tippling and tippling from a dozen to twenty times a day, and who were bidding fair to fill a drunkard's grave, who have stopped short, and do not, and pledge themselves that they never will, drink any more, for fear they may get hold of some of the miserable adulterations that Dr. Cox is holding up to public view. Thank God!"

Chemists from various colleges have written to me, that they had analyzed numerous samples of the various alcoholic liquors in our markets, and find the same pernicious developments which I had, at various times, indicated in articles which I had written from time to time; one of which you will find at page 123 of the "Crusader," which accompanies this letter. Another evidence that the exposures which I have been making have had a salutary moral effect, is, that there has not been one-fourth as much liquor sold yearly since as was previously; and another is, that a number of large liquor establishments have closed; their proprietors ruining many of their fellow citizens who had become their sureties. A number of distilleries have closed in this vicinity. They have, as it is familiarly called, "burst their boilers." One year previous to these break-ups, one of our largest distillers and liquor merchants in the city said to me, "Dr. Cox, your articles on the adulterations of liquors have taken more trade from Cincinnati and more money—at least $100,000 per month—since they have been put in circulation. For God's sake, stop them, sir!—you will break us up. I have been to New York, and since to Boston, to Rochester, to Canada West, and have just returned; and wherever I stopped there was nothing talked of but the poisoned liquors of Cincinnati and Dr. Cox's exposures; for God's sake, I say again, stop it!"

Although the liquors are villainous in the extreme, there are other large cities equally as culpable. For example:—A gentleman of our city, a druggist, that he might have pure liquor as a medical article, and that kind for purity, &c., that he could recommend to his customers, went to New York and purchased two half-pipes of splendid "Seignetta Brandy," one pale, the other dark. When passing one day, he called me in to see his "beautiful, pure brandy," just from New York! I stopped, looked at it, smelled it, but before tasting it, happened to have some blue litmus paper in my pocket, I introduced a small piece—it came out red as scarlet! I then called for a polished spatula, put it into a tumbler containing, perhaps a half a gill, and waited on it 15 minutes—at the expiration of which the liquor was black as ink. The spatula corroded, and when dried had a thick coating of rust, which when wiped off left a copper coat almost as thick as if it had been plated. I charged him on the spot, under the penalty of the law, not to sell a drop of it; took samples of it to my office, and the following is the result of the analysis:—

1st sample (dark) 55 per cent. acloholic spirits by volume, and 41 per cent. by weight; specific gravity 0.945. The tests indicate Sulphuric Acid, Nitric Acid, Nitric Ether, Prussic Acid, Guinea Pepper, and an abundance of Fusil Oil. Base—common whiskey, not one drop of wine.

2d sample (pale) 54 per cent. alcoholic spirits by volume, 40 per cent. by weight; specific gravity 0.955. This article has the same adulterations as the first, but in greater number, with the addition of Catchuc.—Remark—most villainous compound.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make it water, snow and wind tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth, and filthy habits, the depraving vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the god of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or mucous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expuration of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUMS, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its beneficianess and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who owe their health and lives to its timely and even desperate cheaks of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies have lost their popularity have tried and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkabge to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 25, 1860.

☞ Caucuses were held in Portland, Me., last week, for a Convention to choose delegates to Charleston for the Presidential nomination. The Douglas men, and the Administration made a trial of strength, when the former carried four and Buchanan three wards. In the popular vote the Douglas strength was 664, Administration 383. Portland being the residence of Hon. John Appleton and a large number of government officials, the Buchanan party, though numbering but one-third the Democratic vote, is probably three times as strong as it would average in the free States.

THE MORMONS.—Judge Cradlebaugh, of the United States Court in Utah, has arrived in Washington, and has issued a card inviting Mr. Hooper, the Mormon delegate in Congress, to a public discussion of Mormon affairs. The Judge, in his cartel, asserts] the Mormons teach treason, murder, incest, theft, and polygamy of the most shocking nature. He says he is prepared with proofs of these charges, and he defies Mr. Hooper to refute them.

AUTHORSHIP.—The Atlantic Monthly for February contains: Roba di Roma, by W. W. Story; Amber Gods (concluded), by Harriet E. Prescott of Newburyport;—The Poet's Friends, by W. D. Howells; The Memorial of A. B., or Matilda Muffin, by Rose Terry; Some account of a Visionary, by Marian James, London; The Truce of Piscataqua, by J. G. Whittier; The Maroons of Jamaica, by T. W. Higginson;—The Professor's Story, by O. W. Holmes; Mexico, by C. C. Hazewell.

AN EXTENSIVE OPERATION.—James Pipler and wife, Nashua, were arrested, their house searched, and a large quantity of articles found, which the woman had stolen from various stores, consisting of prints, linen, ready-made clothing, &c., enough to set up a small store. One piece of ribbon was stolen a year and a half ago. The woman is said to "wear the breeches," and the fact is substantiated, as she had stolen six pairs of pants, enough to keep her supplied for a long period. The woman was bound over; the man was discharged.

HEBREW SYMPATHY.—The New York Jewish Messenger reports that now more than ten thousand dollars have been collected in this country for the relief of the exiled Jews of Gibraltar. With the contributions of the synagogues in the West and California, it is expected that the total amount raised in the United States for the Morocco refugees will be at least twenty thousand dollars.

THE STEAM FRIGATE "BROOKLYN" MURDER.—Our readers will remember that in November last, a sailor on the steam frigate Brooklyn, named George Rudder, of Philadelphia, was beaten to death by a corporal named Charles C. Cooper, while the vessel lay off the Narrows, below New York. When the vessel reached Staten Island, the body of the deceased was put ashore, and Cooper was allowed to go ashore and escape at the same time. He managed to elude arrest until Thursday, when he was found by the New York Harbor Police and committed for examination, and, we hope, for the punishment which his crime merited.

☞ At Manchester, the city marshal is arresting some of the keepers of tippling shops. On Monday, in the Police Court, Calvin Merrill of Goffstown was arraigned for assault on Eben Carr and Mr. Pike, policeman, who went to arrest him for profanity, noise and brawl, disturbing passengers, &c.

Merrill said he could make no plea, as he was drunk at the time Ordered to recognize in the sum of $800. The respondent was committed for want of bail. His wife and his aged mother were present at the trial, and were deeply affected at his conduct. The prisoner himself melted before the proceedings closed.

Merrill is about 30 years old, and is a fellow of bad repute. He made a desperate resistance, striking his knife into the thigh of officer Pike, and cutting the hand of Sheriff Farmer, before he was secured.

☞ Burleigh, writing from New York, Jan. 20, says:—

The colored people had an indignation meeting last night to trounce Mr. Charles O'Connor. One of the speakers said that when Charles O'Connor was District Attorney, so far from aiding to arrest a fugitive slave, he allowed one that came into his hands to escape, with the words—"Begone you scoundrel!" The black folks invited Mr. O'Connor to make good his words about their race in a series of lectures.

☞ Two young men, about 17 years of age, got into a dispute in a school at Hiram, Me., about a seat. Young Ridley kicked Wardsworth in the side, which resulted in the death of Wardsworth two days after.

STRENGTH OF IRON PILLARS.—The Boston Courier alluding to the fall of the Pemberton mill, adds:

The hollow iron columns supporting the floor below this heavy machinery had lost strength. Though adequate to the support of the floor and machinery above when introduced—and probably to much greater pressure than any at that brought to bear on them—the constant jar of the revolving shafts, wheels and spindles had produced the same change in them, which is known to take place in the wrought iron axles of railway cars after long running. The same change is produced in cast iron cannon—so that having been fired a certain number of rounds, they are condemned as unsafe, and have been known to burst even with inferior charges. The cohesion is lessened.—The fibrous condition is changed to the granular.

IRON PILLARS.—A correspondent of the Transcript makes some important suggestions in regard to casting iron pillars. The large iron mains on the Cochituate water works were cast vertically, as the writer recommends, in order to insure pipes of the best quality, and the result has justified the extra expenditure involved.

EFFECTS OF PARTY DRILL.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Atlas and Bee, in speaking of the ballotings for Speaker, says:—

I was much amused with the story of one of the Western members, who is, by the way, one of the clearest-headed and largest-hearted men here. Said he, "I declare to you that I have got so used to shouting out 'John Sherman,' when I am spoken to, that when the waiter asked me this morning at the table what I would have for breakfast, I told him 'John Sherman!'"

ADVICE TO AN EDITOR.—In a conversation with a member of Mr. Madison's administration, Mr. Gales, the senior editor of the National Intelligencer, in his diary, relates that the Secretary gave him, then young in the profession, a piece of advice, which was as follows:

"Above all things avoid altercations with other editors—it is always disagreeable to readers, and a paper is more respected for carrying itself above it. You ought, said the Cabinet officer to the editor, "no more to condescend to it, than the Secretary of State would."

THE POOR POPE.—An Italian journal says the police of Fermi reported the arrest of the portraits of Victor Emmanuel, Cavour and Garibaldi. In the first hasty perusal of the report, the Pope did not observe the word portraits, but thinking that those illustrious personages themselves were taken, danced for joy, until, again inspecting the document, he exclaimed, "Afflictus sum et humiliatus."

RUM AND CRIME.—In Lawrence, during the last quarter of 1859, the number of arrests by the police department was 135, of which 86 were for drunkenness, and six for violation of the liquor law. Thus nearly three-fifths of the arrests were for rum, says an exchange; and we may add that nine-tenths of the crime and rowdyism spring from the tippling shops. No total abstinent rowdy can be found any where.

THE "SUNNY SOUTH."—The Houston Telegraph states that during the cold weather in December last, there were fifty to sixty persons frozen to death in Texas, at least forty of whom were under the influence of liquor when frozen. There were also many thousands of hogs, cattle and sheep frozen to death in that State. In that region the people are so unaccustomed to cold that what would not be considered much here, is terribly severe there.

BROWNSVILLE.—Brazos dates to the 18th. The people and authorities of Matamoras protest against the introduction of American volunteers, and refuse a passage to Americans through the District, in pursuit of Cortinas, or aid of either government. Cortinas has gathered 300 men to renew hostilities. The Galveston News says Cortinas has recrossed the Rio Grande, 30 miles above Brownsville, with 300 men.

☞ In Philadelphia, the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, the Franklin Market Company celebrated by placing in the niche in the front of their market-house, a colossal statue of the philosopher, cut in Pictou stone. It weighs about six tons. During the time, the bells of St. Stephen's Church rang out a merry peal.

☞ Dr. Livingstone, in Africa, is thought to have thoroughly "seen the elephant." He writes to a London society that somewhere, upon some river, about 800 of these noble animals burst upon his astonished vision, naturally making quite a disturbance.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher complained the other evening that the new hall in Portland, which has been claimed to be the best in New England, has very inferior provisions for ventilation. A great oversight.

☞ The Philadelphia Ledger complains that business in that city is thoroughly prostrated; there is literally nothing doing.—The present state of affairs is supposed to have some connection with the break-down in 1857.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Jan. 23, Mr. Douglas made his promised speech on his resolution calling for a system of consolidated Federal power, to prevent inroads from one State into another, after the manner of John Brown. The speech was designed and devised to make political capital for himself at the South, by a special show of great opposition to the Republican party.

He attacked Mr. Seward's irrepressible conflict speech; wanted Congress to vigorously carry out the power to repress conspiracies, and he would show the Senator from New York that it was the Constitutional mode of repressing the irrepressible conflict. He would open the prison doors and show the conspirators the cells in which they would drag out their miserable existence. It was not enough for the Republicans to disavow the Harper's Ferry outbreak. They must disavow the doctrines which produced it.

Mr. Fessenden said there was nothing new in that charge. It had been made repeatedly here and in the newspapers, and had got to be a dogma of the Democratic party, and part of their scheme for the next campaign. It was intended to affect the fall elections.

He referred to the declaration of a former Senator from South Carolina that the object of the repeal of the Federal Missouri Compromise was to extend the area of slavery. The language of the gentleman from New York had been misrepresented. He had the misfortune to become the author of a phrase which, if it had been expressed in two or three phrases, would not have attracted attention. It had never been said that free and slave States could not live together as friends. He believed they could, but if free and slave labor were brought together on the same soil there would be antagonism.

Mr. Fessenden said he believed free labor elevated the laborer. Slave labor depressed and degraded him. When the two came together on the same soil there would be antagonism.

He asked Mr. Douglas a question, to which the latter replied, his doctrine was that the Federal Government should exercise no power, directly or indirectly, to control, form, or otherwise influence the domestic institutions of the States and Territories.

Mr. Fessenden—That's squatter sovereignty, the Senator's favorite doctrine. No one can pretend that the Government could interfere with the institutions of the States. The charge that the Republicans favored this doctrine is unfounded. He asked if the Senator from Illinois said the Republicans not only wanted to repress, but also to make war on slavery in the States?

Mr. Douglas—I did.

Mr. Fessenden—I deny it. It could not be found in the party creed. The Republican party was formed to prevent the introduction of slavery in the free Territories. He denied the right of sovereign men to take Slavery into a Territory unless the law there recognized slavery. He hated and loathed slavery, but did not hate the slaveholders. The object of Northern Democrats was to influence the South against all but themselves, so as to get political power. He was opposed to slavery in the abstract, but did not wish to interfere with it where it existed. It was charged that the Republicans were warring on the South. It should be recollected that they held the doctrines of the fathers of the Republic.

With much more debate such as this, including a long speech from Mr. Douglas, the sitting was wholly occupied.

In the House, Mr. Barksdale made a full pro-slavery speech, to direct the House to organize on his basis, on pain (not of the irrepressible conflict, but) of eternal discord. He said:—

The Democratic, South American, and anti-Lecompton parties, all professing to stand in the attitude of hostility to the Republicans, should unite to defeat the latter. The Democrats have manifested every disposition to unite with the South Americans and Anti-Lecomptonists on a national basis, until their spirit of conciliation has been exhausted.

The South Americans had presented Mr. Gilmer, who could never be acceptable to him (Barksdale). Mr. Gilmer, if elected, must be supported by Republicans, and he would vote for no man who commended himself to the consideration of that party. He did not doubt Mr. Gilmer's loyalty to the South, but his political conduct. Rather than the nominee of the Republican party should be elected, a man who had received no vote from fifteen of the States of this Union; rather than his own State and section should be dishonored by the election of Mr. Sherman: he would repeat the declaration of Mr. Pugh of Alabama—"Let discord reign here forever."

Mr. Curtis replied to something said by Barksdale.

Mr. Barksdale—The gentleman from Iowa is not a fit representative of the Republican party. (Laughter.)

Mr. Curtis—I beg the gentleman not to read me out of the Republican party.—(Laughter.)

Mr. Barksdale—Let Mr. Lovejoy speak; let him be put on the stand; or Mr. Dawes, or Mr. Hutchins, or Mr. Gooch. I will take Mr. Tappan: let him speak for the Republican party. Some say, select Mr. Hickman; but he can't speak for any party, (Laughter.) Scarred and blistered as he is, I could not strike him. The Republicans do not intend to vote for the acquisition of any more slave territory. They can elect you, (to Mr. Corwin) Speaker, but they refuse to do it, and you are hostile enough to slavery, in all conscience. (Laughter.) In the course of his remarks, he said he would resist the inauguration of a Republican President. The South know what their rights are under the Constitution, and are resolved at all hazards and to the extremity, to defend them. In case of a dissolution the South would have nothing to fear, and would have the sympathy of the world, because they would be in the right.

Mr. Corwin humorously said his object was to move that the House proceed to a ballot. They had done such things before with, he admitted, very little success. If the gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. Barksdale, who had advocated secession in the event of the election of a Republican President, should be elected Speaker, he, Corwin, promised to stay in the Union.—(Laughter.) This farce which has been acting here for seven weeks, very much to the amusement of the members themselves, and sometimes to the disturbance of the temper of gentlemen, had begun to be in the minds of the people rather a serious matter.

It was said Mr. Seward had made certain speeches, the effect of which was, with the Helper book, the invasion of Virginia. But if North Carolina had not brought up this Helper we never should have had the Helper book.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system, The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizens of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

JAMES F. SIMMONS. U. S. Senator from R. I.

A. V. BROWN HEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky

I. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.

WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. F. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spno4 4w&4w

2d. A Copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d. A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, several hundred valuable works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

is of a character to give unqualified pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever placed within reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage-paid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st day of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

The Portsmouth Chronicle is great on holidays. Late in the fall it made a holiday "for all hands" to attend Cattle Show.—Christmas and New Year afforded two admirable occasions for holidays, separated by a brief week, though both days fell on the Sabbath. Wednesday was the birth-day of Franklin, and that was duly observed by a general cessation from toil, and the suspension of the daily issue. Of course our friends of that paper do not consider Franklin above Washington, so that the 22d of February will come in for its observance.—Bath Times.

Certainly; we always keep Washington's birth-day, as regularly as the Irish do St. Patrick's. We didn't keep New Year though. Perhaps we may in 1860, should we be in the land of the living.

Holidays refresh us—and we want one in each month, for all hands. We can't see a spare day in March yet, but shall try and "make a march" somehow.

As to comparing Franklin with Washington,—we have no doubt George deemed Ben the wiser, if not the better man—so why may not we?

☞ Mrs. Bishop is to read at the Hanover street Chapel this evening. The Newburyport Herald says of her readings there:

The readings by Mrs. Bishop, before the Lyceum, on Friday evening, gave the best satisfaction to a full house. How could it be otherwise? She is by far the prettiest woman that has appeared before a public audience in Newburyport; has a voice as sweet as the bird-notes in Spring; and has been trained to the most distinct utterance, and most correct pronunciation in reading.

For this evening's readings, we print in the advertisement the selection of pieces and think we may safely promise an intellectual treat to those who hear the lady.

☞ All who like Band Music, and all who appreciate the labor and expense of keeping up such an organization, and who deem it desirable to have such in our midst—ought to manifest their interest, by attending the Cornet Band's Concert at the Temple to-morrow.

THE WALKERS.—Messrs. Editors:—I notice in your issue of Tuesday that a party of young men left this city on a pedestrian tour to Boston. We learn that there is a party of young men in this city—of sedentary employments,—who believe in walking as an exercise, and who daily walk ten miles.

On Monday evening, the same party started at 8 o'clock—walked to the Plains, then to Rye, and thence back to this city. B.

For the Chronicle.

SURPRISE PARTY.—Monday evening, as the members of Atlantic Engine Co., No. 6, were holding their monthly meeting, they were agreeably surprised by the entrance of about 70 of their lady friends, who immediately took possession of the Hall; and Miss Lizzie Hoyt, in behalf of the ladies, in a few pertinent remarks, (which were replied to by the Foreman, W. G. Miller,) presented to the Company, three splendid Pictures, after which, with the excellent music of Elliott's Quadrille Band, which accompanied the ladies, the company passed the evening in a social dance, till the wee sma' hours smacked of the dawn, and the company separated, all highly pleased with the agreeable surprise. A SIX.

☞ Persons intending to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association for this season, should do so at once. The books close and the award of premiums is made Jan. 30th; and the Secretary will visit New York several days previous, to be present at the declaration. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column; and the beautiful engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends," at N. P. Thacher's store.

There is no chance like it to procure a superb picture for a little money,—besides the other inducements to subscribe.

☞ We are requested to state that the Free Will Baptist Society in this city, are to hold a Social Levee and Fair, at Jefferson Hall, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, Jan. 31st and Feb. 1st.

☞ The operatives employed in the Portsmouth Steam Factory, last week, contributed $197 for the sufferers at Lawrence; and we hear that the Treasurer add Agent of the Mill have agreed to add a like amount to this sum.

AID FOR LAWRENCE.—Last week all the employees of the Globe Mill gave the avails of one day's work for the sufferers at Lawrence, and thus contributed two hundred and ten dollars. A similar effort in all the mills of New England would swell the funds to the full amount needed.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The operatives of the Fall River Mills have contributed $1518 for the Lawrence sufferers.

NO MORE CONTRIBUTIONS NEEDED AT LAWRENCE.—The Mayor of Lawrence, and the Committee of Relief, having in charge the distribution of funds contributed for the aid of the Pemberton Mill sufferers, announce to the public that so generous have been the contributions in money and clothing from every quarter, that no more assistance than what has already been sent, with what is now pledged and subscribed, will be needed to provide liberally for the wants of those really needy. The Committee make acknowledgement of nearly twenty thousand dollars subscribed by the "New England Society for the Promotion of Manufactures," a liberality which is an entire refutation of the slanders of the New York Herald upon the manufacturers of New England.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.
HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.
OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE
These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.
THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY
Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.
What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—
That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.
That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing, and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.
That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.
That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.
That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.
That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.
Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.
That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.
That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.
Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.
PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.
☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES.
This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief, and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.
Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtuosity this great discovery.
This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.
In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—
"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults with a fickle stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"
Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, Boston.
BOSTON, July 31, 1858.
To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:
"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTER OF CHARITY.
Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.
BOSTON, March 10, 1859.
J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:
Dear Sir,—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,
CHAS. H FOSTER.
At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.
In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:
"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. Its such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.
It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents novtly

From the N. H. Gazette.

THE CITY MARSHALSHIP.—We observe a proposition has been adopted in the City Council, in accordance with the suggestion of the Mayor, to consider the expediency of raising the salary of this office and requiring the whole time of its incumbent to be devoted to the service of the city. This was one of the recommendations of the inaugural of Mayor Reding with which we intimated we did not agree. With due deference to the city authorities we must say, that we do not consider this proposition demanded to increase the vigor of the police force of the city, but that, if carried out, it will improve the public order one iota. If there is any fault in this department of the city government, we apprehend it does not arise from inadequate compensation. Most of our citizens remember when the police were paid nothing in the way of salaries, and yet, with a population not very much less than at the present time, we then had quite as good order as we have now—many think better.

We are not among those who think ours a very disorderly city, and consequently that extraordinary measures and large expenditures are necessary to protect the public and preserve the peace. We have some low rowdyism, and this is our chief annoyance; and all that is wanted to restrain this is—what we seldom now witness, but what used to occur when the officers received only the legal fees for their services—a few arrests and punishments occasionally by way of example. To pay a man for spending even his entire time in walking about the streets, and holding up his finger to the rowdies, will not do it;—they will be civil in his presence, but when his back is turned they will continue their depredations and annoyances to them, until they are made to realize that there is a police court and a jail within the city limits. Then, too, most of the acts against the peace of the city are committed in the night-time, when the Marshal is not expected to be on duty, and will not be whatever his salary. It is a remarkable fact that in proportion as our police force have been paid for their services, their power to arrest or ability to recognize those in the habit of committing crime or rowdyism seems to have been diminished.

We suppose it is a foregone conclusion that the sala y of the City Marshal, and also, of course, of the Assistants, will be increased, but we repeat our prediction that this will not improve the order of the city. Besides, if the Marshal's salary is raised, with what propriety can the Mayor's salary and the salaries of the other city officers be kept where they are? Must there not, in justice and propriety, be an increase all round? And is the city treasury in a condition to bear augmented expenditures? Are not the tax-rates high enough already, and as large as most of the citizens are able to pay? We hope the City Council will ponder on these considerations before they act affirmatively on the pending proposition. Deliberation will do no harm.

☞ The following resolutions were offered at the Union meeting held in this city on the 29th of December, by Nehemiah Moses, Esq., but having been submitted at a late period in the proceedings, and a regular series prepared for the occasion having been adopted, they were not acted upon. They are now published by request of their author.

RESOLUTIONS.

A doctrine has during many years been enunciated and inculcated throughout the Northern or Free States of this Republic, viz: that the servitude or "slavery of the African race as it exists in the Southern States is a great 'national sin', or at the least 'an evil' and a curse," which doctrine has been zealously promulgated and preached by the few, i. e. the pulpit, press, lyceums, conventions, official dignitaries, &c., and apparently believed, or tacitly admitted by the many:—Therefore

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this meeting facts and statistics warrant the assertion that said doctrine is a radical and exceedingly dangerous error, and in its essence, tendencies and practical operation, totally at war with the integrity of the Constitution and the perpetuity of the Union.

Resolved, That this pernicious error is the root and prolific source of discord and alienation between the North and South politically, theologically and socially;—that it caused the recent treason and murder at Harper's Ferry;—and has for more than a quarter of a century up to this time impaired strength, progress and partial success in the fanatical, unconscionable and murderous spirit of (so called) religious "higher law" political abolitionism, or "union of church and state"—has been freely and successfully used by numerous unprincipled politicians and demagogues as the instrument of their elevation to place, power and wealth, and has apparently brought the Union to the verge of dissolution, which can only be consummated amid the horrors of servile insurrections and civil war.

Resolved, That while we utterly detest and condemn all cruelties, including those said to have been practiced in early times by Englishmen prosecuting the slave trade by authority of the English Government, in transporting negroes from the wilds of Africa to this country for the sole purpose of pecuniary gain;—yet, the history and results to the present time of negro slavery as an industrial and producing institution establish the facts that slave labor in the "sunny South," supplies a very large portion of the civilized world with various articles of necessity, comfort and luxury in quantities and at prices never otherwise supplied; especially the raw material cotton—furnishing all Northern Cotton Mills and workers with that article—securing to the North constant demand for her numerous freighting ships and other vessels. In short, slave labor is the basis or original source, wholly or in part, direct or indirect, of comfort, employment, competency or wealth to many millions of the white race both in this and other countries.

Resolved, That these undeniable facts and considerations, and others too numerous for detail, constrain us to recognize and acknowledge, with profound reverence, the all-wise providence of Almighty God in over-ruling for good the acts and doings of wicked men in the olden time, by which they were instrumental in gradually creating an institution of servitude and labor by Blacks in but climates congenial with their nature, where white laborers soon perish—an institution, which although, or yet in its infancy, has already conferred priceless blessings on the white race, both on this and the other side of the Atlantic—and not only on the white race, but also on the Blacks themselves, who bearing physically, mentally and in their own consciousness, the unmistakable insignia, or impress and seal by Nature's God, of an inferior race, are unfit for liberty and equality with a white population; but are blessed in having been redeemed from the lowest and vilest condition of brute savages or cannibals (which would have been their fate in common with their race in Africa) to compulsive industry, and the enjoyment of partial but progressive civilization and christianity. And while the sufferings incidental to slavery as it exists in the Southern States may justifiably be rare cases be as severe for the sufferers, as are the incidental evils of institutions, laws, usages or abuses peculiar to, or tolerated in the North,—yet, in comparison with the benefits of the Institution, those incidental sufferings are doubtless of less account than the sufferings of the hundreds of crushed and half-killed on our railroads, compared with the rapidity and comfort with which the hundreds of thousands pass to their journey's end in safety and joy.

Resolved, That the present alarming and unprecedented crisis demands the avowal by Northern men of "the whole truth and nothing but the truth" respecting this all-important subject; and nothing short of such an expression as the foregoing—based as it is on incontrovertible facts,—can or ought to satisfy our brethren of the South, said expression being as our judgment due both to them and ourselves in members of a common brotherhood of citizens of this great and glorious Confederacy of Sovereign States.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. They are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cancker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cardial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter, Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 Cents.

His Cosmetic cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CAMAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have taken many bottles of them."

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe that the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent exertion. I have found cause to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CAMAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found better relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, of it, what we can not of any other medicine, FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE—NEVER HAS IT BEEN THE LEAST instance of dissatisfaction to the User. On the contrary, all who have made use of it, speak in terms of highest praise of its wonderful medical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know," from our own experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, from want of sleep, and energy to the whole system, it will almost instantly relieve the child, and cause it to sleep quietly and sweetly from two to three hours, by relieving the little sufferer from pain and wakefulness, and by producing this result, it will be found that it will be the means of saving life, and prevent that painful and distressing sickness, which so often follows, when the system is left to exhaust itself by pain and want of sleep. We believe it is the best medicine in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—we speak from experience and do not hesitate to promise you, that if you will but give this medicine, if timely used, will be SURE—yes, SURE—to give immediate relief. Full directions to accompany each bottle. None genuine but those with the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the cause of pain, instead of stupefying or deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very score from which it is distilled being drug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly innocent and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also for lancing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such high advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the genuine wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

☞ Perley, in his waifs from Washington, Jan. 20, gives the following items.

A great vineyard is to be established in the environs, on the estate of Hon. Amos Kendall, where wine is to be—says a local writer—manufactured upon the principle of that of Paige & Co., of Boston. Although Mr. Kendall must be far advanced in years, he is well and as active as when Postmaster General under General Jackson. Among other improvements at "Kendall's Green," he is sinking an artesian well, and has already reached a depth of about 400 feet.

The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance waited on the President yesterday, and Grand Worthy Patriarch Gautt made a speech, "referring to the President, (says the Constitution,) as an example of temperance. His apparent health, his vigor, his activity, his capacity and habits of labor, all indicated temperance in all things.—Tres bien; but the "Sons" cannot surely endorse as up to their ideas of "temperance," a gentleman who daily enjoys his glass and his cigar.

Macaulay once spent a week at a country vicarage as the guest of Sidney Smith. "Well, and how did you get on with him?" asked a friend. "Get on—I did not get on at all," said the wit. "He talked all day, and I have no doubt he talked all night;—but I went to bed as usual, and, thank God, slept soundly, only when I got up in the morning I found Macaulay hard at it still. I took my revenge, however, in my own way, for when he was leaving I went to the door of his chaise, and after bidding him good bye, said, 'I admit it.' 'Admit what?' he exclaimed. 'That you are the greatest man in England.'" Macaulay was never known to have any female attachment. He had many celebrities for intimate acequaintances, and these did him instead of friends.—Boston Sat. Eve. Gaz.

FROM KANSAS.—Leavenworth, K. T., Jan. 23.—The Territorial Legislature reassembled at Lecompton, on Friday last, in conformity with the special proclamation of Gov. Medary, and immediately passed a joint resolution adjourning to Lawrence.—The Governor having returned this resolution with his veto, it was immediately taken up and passed over the veto by a vote of nine to three in the Council, and twenty-nine to eight in the House.

☞ Forty-one Southern Democrats have signed a pledge to resist the plurality rule to the last extremity. Several, like Mr. Cobb of Ala., and a few others, refused to sign it, as involving a revolutionary precedent, and intended to provoke sectional conflict.

THE TEN-MILE FOOT RACE.—Jackson, the American Deer, was beaten by James Rowan, at Hackney Wick, near London, Eng., on Christmas Day, a ten-mile race, in 58 minutes 23 seconds.

COUNTERFEITERS.—Toledo, Jan. 23.—United States Deputy Marshal Johnson arrested on Saturday a gang of counterfeiters, six men and two women, with their dies, &c., and a large amount of counterfeit coin.

☞ The wood-house of the Eastern Railroad at Newburyport, containing about one hundred cords of wood, was burnt with its contents Saturday night. Loss $800 to $1000.

VINOUS.—If old wine is good, is elder wine better.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights. It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and dirty habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or poisonous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as INTERNAL AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula, is a degeneration of the blood. The popular phrase, and virtue of this Sarsaparilla, is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so compounded that diseases within the range of their action can rarely withstand or resist their power. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical weakness, is emboldened to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis to persons applying, an Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 26, 1860.

☞ Within the present week, we have copied three or four articles from the Gazette, showing, as we published them entire, that the Rockingham Democratic County Convention, the Democratic Convention at Concord, and the conductors of that paper, take the extreme ground of extending slavery over all the Territories of the United States, by constitution and court, and the enactment of a slave code by Congress, for the protection of slavery against the encroachments of freedom.

The Gazette specially commends these sentiments and doctrines, as expressed at Concord, as "admirable"—as having "the true Democratic ring," and as declaring "the sentiments to be proclaimed at Charleston next April, and upon which the Democracy will conduct the next Presidential contest, and win the battle."

The sentiment, in this view, will be very plain, and easily understood, viz.: Slavery paramount, all things else subordinate.—Union, Constitution, Court, Congress and President, Army and Navy, Treasury and Post Office, must sustain the peculiar institution, at all hazards. Anything else may be sustained, if it do not infringe on the blessed privilege of buying, selling and working negro slaves.

If all the Democrats in New Hampshire could be made to understand this programme, a few thousand of them would not play it.

So far, however, we have seen full approvals of it only in the Gazette and Democratic Standard; while the Dover Gazette makes no mention of it, and the Concord Patriot publishes the resolutions without a word of comment, pro or con.

The Democratic State ticket of the various counties and districts is the same, while their resolutions contradict each other on the same important points, over which the two or three Democratic parties in Congress are now quarrelling.

The election in this State next March will of course have some influence on the Presidential election next fall—and the decision of it will be looked at everywhere abroad, as a Republican pledge against slavery extension, or as a Democratic pledge in its favor.

☞ Mr. J. Ware Butterfield gives notice, in the N. H. Patriot, that Mr. Rolfe, who was nominated for Senator in No. 4, (where the convention passed the slave code resolutions,) has declined the nomination—and Mr. Butterfield thereupon calls on the delegates to re-assemble at Concord on Saturday, Jan. 28.

MOVEMENTS AT THE SOUTH. — Harper's Magazine has been proscribed at Raleigh, North Carolina, because, says the Fayetteville North Carolinian, it has been ascertained that G. W. Curtis, one of the editors, is an infamous Abolitionist, and that one of the Harpers has given a large sum of money to the Brown sympathizers.

The Charleston Mercury denounces the merchants of that city who maintain business relations with Claflin, Mellen & Co., of New York, because, it says, the partners in that firm all attend the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's church. It moreover threatens to publish the names of the offenders.

A Baptist deacon, Reuben Salisbury, formerly of New York, has been driven out of Prince George's county, Virginia, for entertaining abolition sentiments.

The Columbian South Carolinian is reliably informed that an abolitionist was discovered in the Clarendon District by a Vigilance committee, and hung.

☞ There are about $3,000,000 in possession of the Post Office Department, but which cannot be paid out until an appropriation bill shall be passed by Congress for that purpose.

In the Virginia Legislature, a resolution has been introduced for the appointment of a joint committee of eighteen to report on the recommendation of Mr. Memminger, the Commissioner from South Carolina.—A bill has been passed, appropriating $150,000 to pay the expenses accruing from the Harper's Ferry affair.

☞ An item has been going round for several days, purporting to come from the Bangor Journal, professing to be informed that Treasurer Peck had spent $36,000 in electing four or five republicans to office! But a careful daily scrutiny of the Portland Argus and of the Portland Advertiser has shown us no confirmation of such statement, in either of those papers.

Now seeing the official investigation is closed without any such disclosure,—and seeing besides that the Argus, with its hundred eyes, has not yet discovered the truth of this great story, it is only fair and natural to conclude it is one grand mistake, made to have effect in Washington, or possibly in New Hampshire.

Handy to have in the House—Organization.

EXERCISE AND AMUSEMENTS.—To get the full benefit of exercise it must be amusement as well as exercise; a pleasure, not a medicine. Recreation, amusement, is necessary to man's full health. A solitary daily walk for the mere sake of walking, and without any other object than the exercise is, except in the finest weather, a very dreary undertaking, and the performer's mind is so apt to revert to its usual occupation that one of the main ends of the exercise is defeated. Gymnastics are open to a similar objection. They are a course of hygienic rules—a system of drill, the rudiments of which are distasteful to many boys and to most men. It is more than half the virtue of the exercise, that the man should like it. Thus, riding is, to those who are are fond of it, one of the most agreeable and the most healthy of recreations; to those who do not take to it naturally, a great bore and no benefit at all.

It is a great desideratum that that very large class of the community, our business men, should have some favorite exercise, to which they will rush off naturally, whenever they get a holiday or vacation, since it is very difficult for them to keep regular, uninterrupted hours for daily exercise. And here we see the importance of cultivating a general taste for sports of all kinds, so that each man, from his youth up, may find a liking for some recreation, and some recreation to his liking.

☞ Realf, who has just been testifying before the Harper's Ferry Committee of the U. S. Senate, seems to be literally a know-nothing in the premises. He states emphatically that the movement was known to but few persons, as Brown was a secretive man and kept his own counsels. None who accompanied him to Harper's Ferry but Kagi was informed of the plan, which did not contemplate insurrection, but running off negroes. He says also that Brown and those in his confidence were radical abolitionists, who denounced the Republicans.

He testified that he went to England in 1853, and knew nothing about Brown's operations after that time. He was requested to examine certain letters found in Brown's bag, to see if he could identify them, but testified that he knew nothing about Brown's correspondence or the authorship of the letters. Some members of the committee have been disappointed in Realf's testimony.

B. B. Newton, member of the National Kansas Committee, and previously the leader of a colony at Mapleton, Bourbon county, Kansas, confirmed the testimony of Mr. Arny concerning the refusal of the National Kansas Committee to furnish arms to Brown in 1854. When he commenced testifying in relation to the invasion of Kansas by armed men, he was stopped.

THE DISTURBANCE IN CANADA.—Chatham, C. W., Jan. 24.—The United States papers received here during the past few days, contain exciting accounts of disturbances said to have recently taken place here, and in this vicinity, between the whites and colored population. The ground for these reports is a fight which took place between a few white and colored school boys a few days ago, in which no damage was done to either party. It caused no excitement here, and was scarcely noticed.—There has been no other disturbance whatever here or in this vicinity.

The above dispatch thoroughly crushes out the electioneering lies which were so rapidly circulated, and commented upon with so much unction.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—New York, Jan. 24.—On Saturday evening, two serious accidents occurred on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, by which at least one man was instantly killed, and many received injuries which probably in some cases will prove fatal. The first occurred near Delaware, a small town between Cleveland and Columbus. Owing to the negligence of a switch tender, two cars were very badly smashed, and seven or eight persons were severely injured; three or four were found to be hurt so bad that they could not be taken away, and were left at Delaware. A German was horribly mangled, and it is probable some of the wounded cannot recover.

The front part of the sleeping car was also smashed, and several persons were considerably bruised. The train proceeded, as soon as it was possible to arrange matters, and when about seven miles from Cleveland met a construction train. The latter, hearing the whistle of the passenger train, which was out of time, attempted to switch off suddenly, when some of the cars ran off the track, and one was literally smashed to pieces. One man was taken from the ruins, terribly mangled and dead.

☞ The hard time at Washington, incident to the non-organization of Congress, is manifesting itself more disastrously in the reporters' gallery than on the floor of the House. The scores of volunteer newspaper correspondents who had gathered there to compete for the dozen clerkships of committees, have died and made no sign. Reason—board bills are payable weekly.

A son of George Howarth of Clappville, aged four years, was drowned in a pond in that village, on Sunday, by falling through a hole cut in the ice for the purpose of watering cattle.

A man may generally expect a domestic "breeze," when his wife begins to put an "airs."

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, Jan. 24, Mr. Douglas's resolutions about Harper's Ferry, &c., were taken up, and Mr. Toombs made a fiery speech, in which he coupled Douglas and Fessenden together.—Toombs said:

Now the time had arrived when the success of a particular party brings us face to face with revolution. It was time to seek the remedy.

The threats of the Senators from Maine and Illinois to keep it down by force won't avail.

The Democratic party were never truer to the Constitution than during the last seven years, and because they were so, a combination was formed to place a party in power, whose success is inconsistent with the peace of the country.

The Republicans are undertaking to elect a man Speaker who could not travel throughout what was called our common country. It was not common for such men, and he hoped to God it never would be.

He pronounced the success of the Black Republican party a cause for secession.—The South should never let the Black Republicans get hold of the reins of government. She should not wait for overt acts. War was already declared, and blood shed. She should meet them at the threshold and drive them back, or tear down the pillars of the temple of liberty, and whelm all in universal ruin!"

There was more of the same sort, with a running debate by various members. Finally—

Mr. Brown moved to postpone these resolutions, and take up those offered by himself. This was agreed to, and the latter were then postponed till Wednesday.

The reader will see that the Senate threw out the Douglas resolutions, as not sufficiently pro-slavery; and then take up Mr. Brown's, which are probably black enough.

In the House, Hon. John Cochrane, having recovered from his illness, was present.

Some debate took place between Messrs. McClernand, Farnsworth and Logan, about Douglas's two platforms, one for Illinois, and the other for Washington.

Mr. Corwin resumed his remarks from Monday, saying, we stand with the Slaves of the Republic and the Constitution, and, whatever may be the opinions of this day, we should not be accused of treason while we adopt the doctrines of Jefferson, Adams and Monroe. If we were wrong, these gentlemen were wrong; and if we are right, then the Democratic party are wrong.

It has been said that the election of Mr. Sherman would be the initiatory step for dissolution, and, if followed by the election of Mr. Seward to the Presidency, the calamity would be accomplished. But no menace or threat from any section could make him shrink from exercising the rights bequeathed him by his fathers. Were he to submit, that very moment he would be disfranchised—would have a collar about his neck, and be treated as a serf. He argued at some length, that the territories are to be governed by Congressional law, which could provide whether slavery shall or shall not exist therein, and referred to a former period of our history to show that Mr. Monroe, President, and Messrs. John Quincy Adams, Crawford, Calhoun, Southard, and Wirt, Cabinet officers, all agreed that Congress has the power to exclude slavery from the territories. He also alluded to the judicial history of the country, to show that the policy of the Republicans was consistent therewith.

Mr. Winslow, M. Corwin expressing willingness to yield the floor, moved that the House proceed to vote for Speaker, viva voce.

Mr. Hickman and others on the Republican side objected.

Mr. Corwin reviewed the history of the Ohio Democracy of 1848, who, in resolutions, declared that they looked on the institution of slavery as unfavorable to the full development of free institutions; and, entertaining these sentiments, said they would be derelict to duty if they did not prevent its increase, and mitigate and finally eradicate it. The Democracy of Ohio in 1848 held these doctrines, going further than the Whigs; but in that year the Democrats were carried captive to Babylon—Zachary Taylor was elected President.

The Democrats hung their harps on the willows, and moaned for the slain of the daughters of their people. While up to 1853 they maintained that slavery might be restricted, the Democrats suddenly woke up, and now say that slavery is very good, and will develop the resources of the country. He referred to these things to show Democratic inconsistencies. The question as to slavery must be tried hereafter—after the House is organized—if this shall ever take place. If Southern gents announce, as they have, that this Union shall be dissolved if the people of the North elected a President of their choice, we shall then see where the treason lies. Mr. Corwin spoke four hours. Adjourned.

HAVERHILL SHOES.—The Newburyport Herald understands that the Newburyport Railroad carried 730 cases of shoes, or about 40,000 pairs, from Haverhill to Boston last Friday. They were consigned to one of the South Carolina disunionists.

☞ Wm. H. Loomis of Winsted, Conn., lately made a trip to Alabama, as book agent, but the fire-eaters lit on him and raised such a fugo of warm tar, coupled with a suggestion of feathers, that he had to return without selling a single book.

When I reflect, as I frequently do, upon the felicity I have enjoyed, I sometimes say to myself that, were the offer made me, I would engage to run again, from beginning to end, the same career of life. All I would ask, should be the privilege of an author, to correct in a second edition, certain errors of the first.—Franklin's Life.

"Hello, Bill, lend me five dollars!" "You are mistaken in your man, sir. I'm not a five dollar bill."

Old Grant Thornburn, whose ideas run on women at a terrible rate, says in a recent letter to a friend: "I verily believe that when the names are called in Heaven, seven women will appear for one man."

It is said that bleeding a partly blind horse at the nose will restore him to sight—so much for the horse. To open a man's eyes, you must bleed him at the pocket.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purity their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted teller upon the clog-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer—this a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

The unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

SAMUEL S. PHELPS, WILLIAM UPHAM, } U. S. Senators from Vt.
JAMES F. SIMMONS, U. S. Senator from R. I.
J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY is unprecedented, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all the various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

6th Annual Announcement!

Cosmopolitan Art Association:

From all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year,) are being received in a ratio unparalelled with that of any previous year.

Any person can become a member by subscribing $3

WHICH WILL ENTITLE HIM TO

1st. The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakspeare and his Friends."

2d. A Copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d. A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, several hundred valuable works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

is of a character to give unqualified pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever placed within reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage pre-paid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st day of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six memberships.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A.,
546 and 548 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Subscriptions also received at the CHRONICLE OFFICE, by FRANK W. MILLER, Hon. Sec. for Portsmouth and vicinity.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Association, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. EVERYBODY ought to attend the Concert to-night, and take his wife; or if not so lucky as to own a wife, but yet fortunate enough to have a sweetheart, take her.—The Portsmouth Cornet Band has proved itself worthy of all encouragement—musically, as a band, and socially as a company of gentlemen. It is but rarely our citizens have such an opportunity to evince even a trifling regard for this the only musical organization in the city; and let every one who really cares to have such an enterprise sustained, see to it that the pittance demanded for admission is not wanting on his part, whether he attends or not.

We make these remarks entirely on our own responsibility, and without the knowledge of any one else. But we know something of the cost and labor of such matters; and while this Band may have been liberally treated in times past, let us not forget that their expenses and labors are continual, and ought to be noticed and aided occasionally. We are not going to speak of their playing, more particularly than to say that they are always improving—for all our readers know they perform creditably and acceptably; but we do think, that if the ticket-office was merely a contribution-box on this occasion, and no equivalent rendered for the money,—the Temple ought not to be able to accommodate the visitors.

It will be seen that Mrs. Bishop postpones her Readings, and Mr. Lamprey his Assembly, to-night, so as not to interfere with this concert. Let all the music-lovers and concert-goers also arrange accordingly, and give "Our Band" an old-fashioned, crowded house.

☞ Mrs. Bishop's Readings, at Hanover street Chapel, last evening, were well attended, by a select and highly appreciative audience. And richly were they entertained, too. Mrs. B. is an easy, natural, beautiful reader, of fine personal appearance, and excellent voice, which she modulates with great skill and accurate judgment.

All the school girls and boys ought to hear her, for an example; as well as those who enjoy the distinct enunciation, correct emphasis, naturalness of manner and appropriate expression, which constitute good reading.

It will be seen that this talented lady Reads again (a different selection of pieces) on Friday evening—not this evening.

☞ To-day is the last chance to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column.

☞ Mr. Whittemore, as will be seen per advertisement, has removed his bonnet and millinery establishment to No. 3 Market street. The apartments he occupies were thoroughly built and finely finished for Jacob Sheafe, Esq., merchant, who made his home there from the time (1813) when his house on State street was burnt, till the close of his life.

Mr. Sheafe's house-keeping was on a liberal scale as to good cheer, and some gay parties have occupied the parlors now devoted to bonnets and ribbons. The writer remembers one of the graver sort, viz., the rehearsal of the North Parish choir there, in which the refreshment tables were superabundantly furnished with eatables, not to mention the drinkables.

The same apartments have been at a later period the office and private rooms of Hon. Ichabod Bartlett, counsellor at law; and still later have been occupied as a first-class boarding house.

More genteel, spacious or pleasant parlors are rarely seen anywhere—and the central location makes it easy of access to ladies in quest of bonnets, fancy or substantial.

The entrances to these Bonnet Rooms, and to Dr. Goodwin's office, as recently fitted, are at once neat and showy.

☞ The following communication is published exactly as written, by special request of the author.

After looking carfully through the word of Good, common Sense ought to teach us that the present condition of our Country demand of the Church of Christ, humiliation and prayer, while our government is held both state and national, in breathless Suspense by those men who respect and honour the laws of God, and our fore Fathers, and are strugling for liberty and equality amongst all men for both body and mind, let me urge upon all men of prayer to petition our God through our Saviour that victory may turn on Zions Side, and have we not a sure promise that he will intercede in Heaven for us— C.

☞ Late Washington items, Jan. 25, mention the confirmation by the Senate of Benj. Grover, P. M. at Concord.

It is understood the Collectorship of Boston has been offered to John Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State, and declined, he having been urged by Gen. Cass to continue at his present post.

☞ In Boston, says the Atlas, the new market building in Bowdoin square, corner of Chardon st., is pronounced unsafe by the city authorities. Mr. Gerrish, of Gerrish Market notoriety, is the builder.

☞ It is pretty well settled in the minds of the public that the cause of the calamity at Lawrence was in the pillars which supported—or did not support the floors.—These were defective in quality, and too few in number.

The editor of the Boston Journal says,—we had the opportunity to examine some of these pillars, last week, in company with an engineer of eminence in his profession. By the sagging of the core in casting, pillars which should have been five-eighths of an inch thick were nearly double that thickness on one side, while on the other they were scarcely an eighth of an inch thick. It is well known that the strength of a pillar is determined by the strength of its weakest part. It follows that where the builders of the mill intended to put pillars five-eighths inch thickness of metal, through the carelessness or incompetency of the founder the metal was scarcely one-fifth as thick as was intended, and of course the pillars were proportionally weakened. But this was not all. The metal itself was of poor quality, and the pillars were vesicular and unsound. We saw one of the largest of the pillars broken by simply dropping one end while the other rested upon the ground, and an examination showed that the severed ends were full of blow holes.

The pillars on which the mill depended for almost its entire support were much too light, and there were not enough of them. In fact there were only two-fifths of the number requisite for security, for it is certainly bad construction to leave an area of twenty by fifty-four feet (one thousand and eighty square feet) with all the heavy machinery upon and above it dependent for its entire support upon one small and perhaps carelessly cast iron pillar. Architects generally consider that twelve feet between the supports of floors framed like those in the Pemberton Mills is a large space. But here the pillars were twenty-seven feet apart. The only wonder is that the mill could have stood for so many years before the weight and motion together crushed it to the earth.

☞ Mr. Colfax stated in the House of Representatives on Thursday, that in every State of the Union, members of Congress are chosen under the plurality rule, except in Rhode Island, where the rule applies on a second trial.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spool—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds, and were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential, or for delicate or irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds." Signed by the Sisters of Charity.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.,

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:—

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. F. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. SOME DOGGEREL.

AN APPEAL FOR SCHOL-GIRLS.

What is it makes our hearts within us sink,
And grasp with desperate hand, the pen and ink,
And strive in vain, and vainly strive—to think?
'Tis Composition.

What is it makes the brightest eye grow dim,
And brain begin to turn, and head to swim,
And all things seem confused in general din?
'Tis Composition.

What is it comes on every Wednesday afternoon
Like some white ghost? The pale fair moon
Looks down on girls; ah! girls grown old too soon,
From writing—Composition.

What is it makes the earth seem dull and dead
To our young hearts? 'Tis—ah! the dread,
The sleepless, hopeless, horror-stricken dread
Of writing Composition.

And what machine of all, of late discovered,
Would be most sought for—be most strongly favored;
Which should be lined with gold, with satin covered?
One to write Compositions.

What is it when we're gally singing, "All is well,"
Comes o'er our spirits like the rising of a knell?
'Tis summons to repair, each to her cell,
And write her Composition.

What is it when we greet with joy the rising sun,
Comes o'er us blasting as the Repus gun?
'Tis schoolmates calling us to come! come! come!
And write our Composition.

What is it when in dreams, in visions of the night,
When all around is beautiful, and calm and bright
Wakes us with shivering start? that awful blight!
'Tis Composition.

O Goddesses—and all poetic muses,
Who thus permit these modern vile abuses;
How can ye bear it said—Behold the uses
Of Composition?

Oh! this Nemesis has always stood before me,
From infancy to woman's brightest glory;
Then ask me not, I beseech, I beg, implore thee,
To write more Composition.

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact; I cheerfully comply to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Alamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced its use, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
W. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds one quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely." MARY N. RICHARDS.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, but have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many." JOHN N. HOLMES.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung-complaints, as I believe it is the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing else so much relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and commendations of its mode of cure. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years our reputation for the fulfilment of what we assert in every instance where from pain and exhaustion, in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered, This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and HAS BEEN used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe THIS REMEDY IS THE WORLD'S RESTORER OF HEALTH IN THE BOWELS, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—we do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Druggists. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st., New York.

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE COMPOUND, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

It is not the production of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—it is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—it is put up with paregoric in comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain, and regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied upon with perfect confidence, as being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to give it a trial. In pronouncing it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising bills, therefore, we simply say, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price 25 cents per bottle.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity of adventuring, for the interest of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize drawn is sent the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.
Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us from any city or town where they have an office. If money sent order must be made payable to "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

ASTOUNDING DISCLOSURES.

As a matter of course, these articles of liquor could not be sold without a violation of the liquor law. Consequently I condemned them. They were purchased on four months time. The purchaser immediately notified the New York merchant of the character and quality of the goods, and directed him to send for them; but, instead of sending for them, he waited till the notes became due, and brought suit in our Court of Common Pleas. I analyzed the liquors in the presence of court and jury, showed them satisfactorily that they were the pernicious, poisonous and villainous liquors which I had represented them to be, and the defendant gained his case triumphantly; and Mr. New York merchant vanished before I could get a State's warrant, or he would now be learning an honest mode of making a living in one of our State Institutions in Columbus. I was appointed to the office of Chemical Inspector on the 19th day of March, 1853. Since then I have made upwards of 600 inspections of stores, and lots of liquors of every variety, and positively assert that 90 per cent. of all that I have analyzed, were adulterated with the most pernicious and poisonous ingredients. The business of inspecting against the will of men who are only governed by motives of cupidity, I have found an up-hill business. I have had more lawing, more squabbling and quarreling with unprincipled things, bearing the shape and form of men, made after God's image, since I have been engaged in the capacity of Inspector, than I had during half a century before. You may think I have heard it thunder some; well I have. I am 66 years old, but in all my recollection I have not heard thunder that had the same effect on my nervous system, nor anything else to effect my sympathetic nerves so much as the sad effects of imbibing the miserable concoctions sold in our markets under the character of healthy beverages, with which, Cocktails, Brandy Smashes, Mint Juleps, &c., &c., are concocted, and which sent young men, all under 30 years old, and all sons of some of our most respectable citizens, to a premature grave, during the winter previous to my appointment; some of whom had not been drinking three months! Not only young men, but many old men of our city, who were not considered drunkards, died, during the same winter, the horrid death of the drunkard with the Delirium Tremens! These facts induced me to accept the unthankful appointment. Since the appointment I have, as physician to the Probate Court, examined upwards of 400 insane cases, two-thirds of which number became insane from drinking the poisonous liquors sold by the dogeries and taverns of our city and country. Many of them were boys of from 10 to 20 years of age, some of whom were laboring under hereditary taint—and perhaps in many the mental derangement would never have been developed, had they not drank of these poisonous decoctions. One boy 17 years of age, the principal support of a widowed mother and a little sister, was induced on the 4th July, 1853, to drink some beer, and from beer to the horrid rotgut whiskey kept by the low doggeries of our city. They all got drunk, and the boy referred to became hopelessly, and incurable insane, and is yet in the Insane Asylum at Dayton. In examining the case for the purpose of getting all the antecedents with it, I learned that the grandfather of the boy died insane. I think the probability is altogether in favor of the idea that the insanity would never have been developed in this case, had not these poisoned admixtures acted as a powerful excitant cause.—I called at a grocery store one day where liquor also is kept. A couple of Irishmen came in while I was there and called for some whiskey; and the first drank, and the moment he drank the tears flowed freely, while he at the same time caught his breath like one suffocated or strangling. When he could speak, he said to his companion—"Och, Michael, but this is warming to the stomach." Michael drank and went through like contortions, with the remark, "Wouldn't it be foine in a cowld frhosty morning?"

After they had drank, I asked the landlord to pour me out a little in a tumbler, in which I dipped a slip of litmus paper, which was no sooner wet than it put on a scarlet hue. I examined it and found it had 17 per cent. alcoholic spirits by weight, when it should have had 40 per cent. to be proof, and the difference in per centage made up by Sulphuric Acid, Red Pepper, Pellitory, Costic Pottasa and Brucine, one of the salts of the Nucis Vomicæ, commonly called Nux Vomica. One pint of such liquor would kill the strongest man. I had the manufacturer indicted, but owing to some defect in the law, have never been able to bring the case to a final issue.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make the roof perfectly water tight. Or it can be put on tough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the blood becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the disease of every kind, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the soul of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swelling; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this hateful infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active vegetables that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its dire and destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Venereal Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia, Anthonyfire, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular idea that "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
For all the purposes of a family physic, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties rouse and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy tone and vigor. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find the health and vigor restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agues they have named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and the purifier of the blood.
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many boasted remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial conferring benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JAN. 27, 1860.

Because old Mrs. Brown's husband was hung in Virginia for crime, some of the very philanthropic held meetings to raise money for the relief of her and her "orphan children"—great fat, lazy boys, twenty or more years old—but we haven't heard of the first movement by the same class of philanthropists for the relief of the Lawrence sufferers, who died, not for crime, but while at the post of honest duty. As near as we can cypher it up, the relief fund at Lawrence has been mainly contributed by those who thought Brown had received no more than he deserved.—Bath Times.

Political capital must be very scarce, when a paper so rich in resources as the Bath Times condescends to pick up a coin so base as this.

The two things mentioned have no such connexion as is here forced upon them.—Only one "class of philanthropists" would or did feel called upon to aid the Brown family, and their means were limited; but they raised $2500: for them a large sum.

But in the Lawrence case, all philanthropists, without regard to class, were called upon, and nobly have they responded to the call. There were classes of persons called upon specially, viz., the owners of mills and factories, and operatives in the same, and those persons who have formerly been in the business.

Their benefactions have been larger than many others—but the tide of charity is swelled in this case by rills from a thousand sources, having no more thought of old Brown's merits or demerits than they have of Abraham's war or "raid" against the five kings.

"As near as we can cypher it up, the relief fund at Lawrence has been" contributed by all sorts of people.

RESIGNATION OF PROF. HUNTINGTON. The Boston Journal announces that Prof. F. D. Huntington, of Harvard College, has resigned his situation as Plummer Professor of Christian morals and Preacher to the University. This step is somewhat unexpected, for, notwithstanding Prof. H.'s recent change in religious views, it was generally understood that he would retain his place. It is known that the change created not a little stir in the College Faculty and Overseers; but the statement in a cotemporary journal, that the late disturbances in the undergraduate department were owing to the unpopularity of Prof. H.'s sentiments, was simply ridiculous. Prof. H. was was quite generally liked by the students as a preacher and as a man; few could be more esteemed. Many will learn with regret his resignation, and none more than the large congregation to whom he so ably ministered.

It may be remarked in this connection, that the statement of a trinitarian newspaper, that a large majority of the Freshman class at Harvard are from Evangelical families, and are of Evangelical views, is pronounced by good authority to be incorrect. Nor do we think that Prof. Huntington's new belief has secured any converts in his congregation. He never was in the habit of preaching doctrinal sermons at all from the College pulpit. We have heard no one suggested as his successor. T.

☞ Mazzini has published another manifesto, in which he blows up everything and expresses profound dissatisfaction at the course that things have taken in Italy. He wishes the army of Central Italy to make a movement on Rome or Naples, in defiance of consequences and in dependence on the popular revolutionary spirit. It is rumored that Garibaldi favored this plan, and that Farini, on hearing of it, gave him the alternative of resignation or arrest. Mazzini intended, after having formed a united Italy, either to proclaim a republic or declare in favor of Victor Emmanuel.

☞ In Massachusetts, the House of Representatives refused, by a vote of 78 to 136, to change the present liquor law of the Commonwealth so as to leave it optional with the towns or selectmen to appoint or not appoint agencies. So the law stands without change. It appears to be satisfactory to a majority of the people.

In Maine, the State Temperance Society have just held their annual meeting at Augusta, passing resolutions acknowledging the divine blessing on temperance efforts—recommending increased moral efforts, as lectures, associations, &c.,—and sustaining the law.

☞ A correspondent of the Augusta Age, who lives in Whitefield, at Cooper's Mills, has investigated the alleged miracle of making the dumb speak, performed by a spiritualistic doctor, and says:

The miracle in Maine, mentioned in the Tri-Weekly Age of last Saturday, is as great a humbug as the double-headed child story. There is not the first word of truth in it, except that the said Dr. Thomas was at the house where the lady referred to lives; and I suppose he placed his hands hands upon her head; but as for her talking and hearing, she never has since, any more than before.

☞ The Richmond Whig apprises the Virginia ladies,—very pretty ladies they are too,—the salvation of Virginia depends upon them. Without the aid of the women what State could get along? The Whig advises them, sooner than buy Northern cloth, to resort to "primeval fig leaves." The Traveller has a suggestion as to how it would be to pass a season at White Sulphur Springs, if the belles should adopt this slightly selfish suggestion, and appear in "the primeval garments of Eve." Why not extend the advice to men? for we read that Adam became aproned from the fig tree, as well as the unsophisticated lady with whom he "kept company," and "set up"—in the clothes manufacturing business. And Uncle Toby has the idea that this Adamic and Evitic costume would be a little too cool for winter, even in Virginia.

☞ The Providence Post is not only a democratic paper, but it sustains the administration without a "why or wherefore."—Here is an item which we commend to all true friends of Union:—

"It is high time that these outrages upon personal rights were brought to a close.—If no man who does not believe in slavery is to be allowed to visit South Carolina, let us know it. The question is no longer whether a Southern man may be permitted to carry his property into an organized Territory, but whether a Northern man be permitted to carry his soul into a slave State. We think there should be a fair understanding on that point before we go much farther."

☞ At Springfield, Vermont, Rev. N. S. Hazeltine, of the Congregational Church, died of consumption, on Sunday, 22d inst., aged 30. He had just eaten his breakfast, when, by rupture of a blood vessel, he suddenly expired. Mr. Hazeltine was formerly of Chester, N. H., a graduate of the theological class of 1858, at Andover, Mass., ordained Jan. 13, 1859. In his ministry, talented, devoted and benevolent. He has not been able to preach since September. He leaves a wife, to whom he was married the last summer—a daughter of Rev. Robert F. Lawrence, Claremont, N. H.

☞ President Lord, of Dartmouth College, has written a letter concerning the recent foray of John Brown, in which he says that "we shall not be rid of slavery till the day of the Lord. Its existence depends not on mere human judgments, but on God's providential ordering of Shem, Ham and Japhet, agreeably to physical laws and the plan of moral government in reference to the ends of the present probation state."—The venerable Doctor further says that "nothing but a miracle can prevent slaves from being called for in New England yet;" and he anticipates the time to be coming when "the children and grandchildren of our present abolitionists shall be compelled to sell themselves for bread, and suffer the proper chastisement for their fathers' sins, for their rebellion against the government of God."

☞ The Concord Patriot of Jan. 25 says: "The black republican speakers in Congress are continually asserting that they have a majority in the House."

We will thank the Patriot, or any other paper, to name one or two of these black speakers who have made this declaration, and tell the time when they made it.

We thought we had read the debates carefully, day by day—but we have seen no such thing even once, as the Patriot says they have declared continually.

☞ Mr. DeBow, the publisher of the Review, has just recovered a verdict of six cents, in the Supreme Court of New York, against D. Appleton & Co., who were sued to recover the value of a thousand copies of the plaintiff's books. Evidently Mr. DeBow will not get rich very fast by going to law.

The President's niece is affianced, by the newspapers, to "a diplomatic lion" at Washington. Diplomatists bear more resemblance to the fox than to the lion. The lady should have his claws pared, so that if they should ever come to the scratch after pairing, they might meet on equal terms.—Traveller.

THE LEMMON SLAVE CASE.—Albany, Jan. 24.—The Lemmon Slave case was on trial to-day, in the Court of Appeals.—Chas. O'Connor commenced his argument, and had not concluded when the Court rose.

☞ A lady died in Newburyport recently, who was somewhat particular in her habits, and had one room of her house which no person except herself had entered for forty years.

☞ The entire olive crop in the department of Var, France, is said to have been destroyed by the cold weather. The loss is estimated at several millions of francs.

☞ Mr. Thackeray gets a monthly salary of twelve hundred and fifty dollars for his services as editor of the Cornhill Magazine.

☞ One dram-shop keeper at Exeter, and two at Concord, have been held to bail the past week, for trial at the S. J. Court.

PRESENT STYLE OF LADIES' DRESS.—The Low and Behold style.

LINE OF BOOTY.—Mason and Dixon's.

THE GREATEST PLAGUE IN LIFE.—An unsatisfactory Helper in the House.

☞ The Wrong Passenger gets waked up, often. For example, the New York Herald's Washington correspondent says:

The Committee investigating the Harper's Ferry affair have determined not to explore points involving the Kansas troubles; hence all testimony directed to an explanation of supplies and arms for support and defence through that period is to be immediately arrested, as opening a field of inquiry beyond the scope of the Committee.

Callendar, cashier of the Hartford bank, testified before the Senate Brown Committee, that Brown deposited with him, and that he never paid money on Brown's check to any one but Brown, except in one case to Col. Forbes, to whom he paid $600 on Brown's check. This is a contradiction of Forbes' statement in his letter, in which he stated he never received money from Brown. Callendar also testified that when the Missourians invaded Kansas, he and other Connecticut men advised Brown to go there, and he gave him a Sharpe's rifle, and told him to use it. Callendar was informed that the committee did not care about such testimony.

Charles Blair, of Collinsville, Conn., testified that he made Brown's pikes; Brown paid him for them himself, and he knew no other parties concerned with Brown in the matter. Mr. Blair is a Democrat; made the contract with him as he would with any other person, not knowing for what purpose the weapons would be employed.

A CASE FOR SYMPATHY.—It will be recollected that among those who lost their lives by the late calamity at Lawrence, was Maurice Palmer, an overseer. A card has been published, attested by the Postmaster and Town Clerk of Rochester, N. H., stating that he was the sole hope of his aged parents. A young sister had labored to relieve her father's house from a heavy mortgage until her death, three months since;—and now the parents and the three children—the oldest not nine years of age—of Mr. Palmer, are left in poverty. An appeal is made to the benevolence of the public, that means may be contributed to save the home. The father is over 70 years of age, and highly respected by all who know him. It seems to be a case strongly appealing to the charitably inclined. Contributions may be forwarded to Wm. Jackson, P. M., Rochester, N. H.

A gentleman connected with one of the largest West India goods houses in Boston, and an acquaintance of the late Maurice Palmer, raised $100, his own and the contributions of his friends, which sum he has forwarded to the parents of the deceased at Rochester, N. H., to be applied to the maintenance of his three orphan children.

We would suggest the collection in the churches here, which was spoken of for the general relief, be turned into this channel, when taken.

EXCOMMUNICATION.—The Chicago New Covenant says:—Rev. J. Mason, of Hamilton, Ill., known to some of our Eastern friends as once connected with the mission on the Isles of Shoals, has been excommunicated by the Illinois Congregational Association, for the heresy of denying the Trinity and the eternity of future punishment. Mr. Mason preached in the Unitarian Church, Quincy, Ill., Sunday, Dec. 12, and designs hereafter co-operating with the Unitarians. A good portion of the Congregational Society of which he was pastor in Hamilton still sympathize with Mr. Mason in his views and labors, and have engaged him to preach for them one-half the time.—He is highly spoken of as a Christian gentleman and scholar.

FREE NEGROES LEAVING NEW ORLEANS FOR HAYTI.—The Picayune of the 15th inst. states that on that day the barque Laurel would leave New Orleans for Hayti, having as passengers eighty-one free persons of color, who are emigrating from Louisiana to Hayti. These people are all cultivators of the soil, being well versed in farming, and in all the mechanical arts connected with a farm. They are all in easy circumstances, some even rich, one family being worth $50,000.

☞ A United States officer visited Concord, Mass., on Tuesday, and tendered to Mr. F. E. Sanborn his fee as a witness, to appear before the Investigating Committee at Washington, which he refused to receive, and before other measures could be taken he had disappeared. It is stated that he has gone to Europe.

VALOR REWARDED. — John Shaw, a young man about twenty years of age, who was very active in saving life on the night of the terrible disaster at Lawrence, has received through Mayor Saunders and Gen. Oliver two $10 gold pieces, the gift of a gentleman of Boston. Mr. Shaw rescued six persons.

☞ A division of Sons of Temperance was organized in Rowley, Mass., on Monday evening, by R. K. Potter, of Boston.—Rev. John Pike was placed at its head, and the other offices were filled with some of the best men in the town. The name given to it is "Welcome Division, No. 157."

☞ It is said that Mr. Corwin laughs at the suggestion of the Democrats, that he be substituted for Mr. Sherman, as he considers himself the "second endorser on the Helper note."

Local.

☞ Mrs. Bishop's chaste and beautiful Readings are selected from the most approved and celebrated poets and prose writers. To a musical voice and good figure, which are natural endowments, she adds distinct elocution and graceful gesture, with a propriety of manner in which nature and art are happily blended.

Lovers of good reading, especially young ladies who would improve their own style, should hear Mrs. Bishop this evening at the Hanover street Chapel.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, or did we know an instance in which it was not the best of all medicines, we would say so. In almost every instance where our directions are followed, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES EXPERIENCED and has been used with EVER-FAILING SUCCESS, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD IN ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Special Notices.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Florpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous eruption by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MORE HEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON. and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being its only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to its unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; or were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to vomit. Ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPOMBE, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary Chem.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPOMBE, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the possession of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 180 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPOMBE, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a speedy and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which reason they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no impostor, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Hearing Palpitation on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 60 pills, by return mail.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Wednesday, Jan. 25, there was a discussion of Slavery.

Mr. Brown's resolutions—that the Territories are the common property of all the States—came up, and Mr. Wilson spoke.

Mr. Wilson commenced by referring to the fact that when this Republic entered upon its existence, it proclaimed to the world the equality of man. Now, in its 84th year, it presented the humiliating spectacle of a nation distracted by discussions growing out of the bondage of four millions of men.

He alluded to the disunion speeches and threats of violence from the slave power, and said he and his friends were not for violence, but if attacked should defend.

Messrs. Clingman and Davis made earnest pro-slavery replies.

In the House, Mr. Keitt, the aid-de-camp of Bully Brooks, made a defence of slavery, as "established under the Old Testament, and recognized in the New."

Mr. Boteler said it was not his intention to make a speech. He wished to bring the controversy to a close. He thought the Republican agitation of the slavery question was the direct cause of Brown's raid at Harper's Ferry. Virginia had come to the determination that there should be an end of such invasions. She had buckled on her armor, and her bayonets are bristling.—He had no pyrotechnic display of glittering generalities.

His desire was to produce a practical solution of the great question now stirring up the depths of human feeling. It is expected, and the country and patriotism demand it. Gentlemen should come here, in the language of a distinguished Virginian, feeling that they have a country to serve as well as a party to obey. There were three parties—Democratic, Southern opposition, and anti-Lecomptonite, and without a union of these there could be no defeat of the Republican nominee for Speaker. Gentlemen had opposed that organization, and had allowed party prejudice to interfere with their patriotism.

Mr. Eldridge made some remarks, which produced the best possible feeling among members. He promised that if they ceased debating for two weeks, a Speaker would be elected before the end of that time.

The House took a vote for the Speaker, with the following result:

Necessary to a choice 108; Sherman 105; Bocock 51; Smith (of N. C.) 26; remainder scattering.

☞ Charles H. Goodhue, formerly a dry goods clerk in Newburyport, who killed Mrs. Harriet J. W. Freeborn, alias Goodnow, at her house in Boston, some weeks since, pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced, in the Superior Court, in Boston, on Saturday, to fifteen months in the common jail. This is sentence light enough for the crime, most certainly. It is said the circumstances mitigated the offenc. True enough; but a simple assault at that time of night, with no provocation, would not have been punished less. Some of the papers have stated that Goodhue was led astray by this woman, Freeborn, who robbed him of character and money, etc.—It is possible the truth is the very reverse of that. Some years ago, (says the Newburyport Herald,) when Goodhue was arrested in Newburyport for defrauding his employer, the woman he has murdered, came, advanced money and set him at liberty, and the probability is that she was at last killed for refusing him money.

☞ The accident on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, reported by telegraph, is said to have been caused by the fact, that one man was required to attend the switch near Delaware, night and day. Being overcome by fatigue he went to sleep, and a freight train which he expected would awake him, passed without rousing him. When the passenger train came along, he jumped up alarmed and confused, and turned the switch first one way and then the other, and finally, when the engine struck it, the switch was in such a position that the train divided, the engine running in one direction, and some of the cars in the other.

☞ The riddle is solved. A few mornings since, telegraph announced the arrival at Richmond of "Mr. Chaplain, the Commissioner from Connecticut." This was the first intimation that the people of Connecticut had sent a Commissioner to the Virginians, and everybody was very much in the dark as to the matter. The New Haven News explains that Mr. Chaplain was sent from that city, with an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted at the New Haven Union meeting.

Our Union folks might have sent a Commissioner or two from New Hampshire,—and the authors of the two sets of resolutions would have been the very men for the place.

NEWBURYPORT, Jan. 25.—At the election in the First Representative District today,—to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of E. O. Colby,—Orlando S. Bailey, Republican, was elected by upwards of two hundred plurality.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—It is rumored that it will be shown before the Harper's Ferry Committee that Forbes wrote to Mr. Buchanan, apprising him of the John Brown invasion in ample time to have bad the project arrested.

☞ The South Carolina legislature, by a vote of 32 to 18, has refused to pass resolutions in favor of reviving the African slave trade.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—You note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

Toward it is to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head; very much to my gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if they would stay or get curling hair. Very Respectfully,

RENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamerton, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENNEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to have my hair, beard and whiskers, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

EINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. Yours, respectfully, A. BUTLER."

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. BUTLER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have spent much time and money in search of relief." EZEKIEL SWETT.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and tough phlegm of the throat, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others afflicted, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Bro. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be a valuable remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. CHARLES C. BURNHAM.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and see years, and can say, in all the years we have sold it, we have never had a single instance of any other medicine, FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE to EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an application by any one who tried it, but what was delighted to speak in terms of the highest medical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we have stated. In almost every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, a dose of the SYRUP will relieve the child, and in fifteen or twenty minutes after this syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES EXPERIENCED and has been used with EN THOUSANDS in New England and never failing success, in OF CASES

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, correcting acidity, and gives tone to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the surest and safest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every child suffering from any other disease, Do not let your sick child suffer longer, but go and procure a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and rub it on the gums of your child, and the relief that will be SURE — yes, MOST SURELY FOLLOW the use of this medicine, if timely used, between your suffering child and the relief that will follow the use of this medicine, if timely used, is as sure as the sun shines, if you will only follow the directions attending each bottle. None genuine but those bearing the fac-simile signature of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is for sale by any druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hatchin's Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy cape to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore put forth.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It contains not a single drop of any opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening the sensibilities of the child by its use with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very best of them which it is claimed are taken from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly innocent in its effect from being free from opiate of any kind, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain, for regulating the bowels, it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on as a perfect cure. Mothers, try this, and you will be convinced of its efficacy. Fifthly—It is a sure and speedy anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to give this a trial, and be convinced. Sixthly—It is as much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can Mothers by the expense they save by giving, for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions must be followed and be duly, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been for the preceding 20 years, in the most extensive practice of physicians, in the most extensive cities of the Union, has at last been the production of this, the acme of perfection upon the health and strength of the human system, and supplies the subject of debility, consumption, &c., with a remedy, which, when once tried, will prove a blessing to the afflicted. It is the most invigorating compound ever offered to the public, and will in a few days convince the most incredulous of its superior virtues. If your liver is torpid or diseased, in the most trifling degree, by commencing with this, you will be rewarded with a healthy action of the stomach, and a healthy tone to the whole system. If your kidneys are broken down and disturbed, if your stomach is weak, if you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your blood is impure, by commencing with BLOOD FOOD, you will be rewarded with a healthy action of the liver, and a healthy tone to the whole system. If your liver is torpid or diseased

A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours Truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the child becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, whether either one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of scrofulous matter, or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, tumors, ulcers or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disease which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can bring to bear against this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disease from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIVE AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, JAUNDICE AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. This popular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are confidently recommended to the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, many who have been bowed down with pain or physical debility, have found to their joy that health or energy restored by a remedy at once so agreeable and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis to the purchaser an Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have fallen and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

BLESSING OF SLAVERY.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Confedracy says:

We regard every man in our midst an enemy to the South who does not boldly declare that he or she believes African slavery to be a social, moral and political blessing. Any person holding other than these sentiments, whether born at the South or North, is unsound, and should be requested to leave the country.

One of our own citizens, who has just published his Resolutions on the subject, would doubtless be deemed a friend of the South, and need not leave the country.—Possibly ten such righteous men might be found in our modern Abolition Sodom—but it is rather doubtful. But come to think of it, New England is not to be burnt, and as the elect are only one in a thousand, the other 999 will not leave Clam Shell Corner in a hurry, though often requested.

☞ The Board of Overseers of Harvard College have requested Prof. Huntington to withdraw his resignation.

Pres. Walker having resigned, the corporation called the President and Fellows of Harvard College have elected Prof. Cornelius Conway Felton to that office, provided the Board of Overseers concur, as no doubt they will.

It is said Rev. F. D. Huntington has received a call from the Shawmut Avenue Church, Boston, (late Mr. Smith's) at a salary of $4,000 per annum.

Rev. Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge, the uncle of the Vice President, an old man of 70 years of age, has just written a powerful letter to his nephew, imploring him to be true to the Union in these days of treasonable language. He declares that secession is not an "allowable alternative" in any event, and he denies the "right of any Court, any President, any Congress, any State, any combination of States under heaven, to abolish from among men that highest of all human titles, an American citizen.

Uncle Toby wonders, as he reads the above, whether it is allowable for a minister to meddle with politics;—and also, whether the nephew will send back a fiery letter of rebuke to his uncle, after the example of Douglas, when he rebuked the 3000 clergymen who protested against the Kansas swindle."

INDISPOSITION OF MAYOR SAUNDERS. The Boston Advertiser states that on Wednesday, as Mayor Saunders of Lawrence was passing through Commercial st., of that city, and while making his customary visits to the wounded and sick, he was suddenly attacked with a fit of fainting, caused by over-exertion. The Mayor has been untiring, since the accident, in his endeavors to relieve the wants of suffering, and has worked both day and night in the cause of humanity, which, it seems, has proved to be too much for his physical strength. It is fortunate that he was not alone when he was taken ill.

He was carried immediately to his residence, where he remained for several hours; but as soon as he was able to walk, returned to his office, to answer letters containing donations, and attend to his other numerous calls. The energy and earnestness with which he applies himself to these labors of charity are deserving of the highest commendation.

☞ Hon. Caleb Cushing addressed a strong pro slavery letter to the Bangor Union Convention.

The Bangor Union, newspaper calls it "noble," but the Augusta Age says:—

It follows too closely the O'Connor model. Such language and such sentiments are not calculated to allay the existing agitation; but will do more mischief than all the Union meetings will do good.

Whereupon, the Augusta Journal remarks:—

The Age and its school of Softs do not like such strong Democratic meat, and as usual pucker their mouths, but as usual will swallow it in due time, and contend that such has ever been the teaching of the Democratic party and the Constitution.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce says:—

An effort to prevent any further legislation and also to break up the Democratic party at the Charleston Convention is to be seriously made, and promises success. The parties engaged in it, deem it the surest mode of bringing about disunion, or at least the adoption of a new Constitution for the Federal Government, under which the South shall receive additional guarantees.

☞ The Circassians are rapidly migrating to Turkey. Some 16,000 have arrived at Constantinople, and 8000 more have assembled at Kertch.

☞ Peter Spangler, a young German of better appearance than morals, has been made to pay $5000 by a Joilet (Ill.) Court for ruining a young German damsel in that town.

Prentice says, "there are two periods when Congress does nothing. One is before the holidays, and the other after."

FIVE MINUTES' TALK ON MORALS AND FAITH.—The true life and happiness of a human being consists in a sound faith. Faith leads him to "think upon his ways;" not but that a person could exhibit some very good practice if he had had good training and examples, but, lacking an inspiring motive, it would be neither complete nor stable. This statement is a necessary appendage to all inquiry into moral conduct, lest one should incur the imputation of beginning at the wrong end.

Nevertheless, inside of faith moral conduct has its relations, its corrective and establishing agencies; and while we say that morality cannot be sound or perfect without faith, yet the possession of the clearest faith will not annul the distinctive relations of conduct.

It may be said, then, without the fear of contradiction, that whatever may be our faith, misery, destruction and blood are the temporal prerogatives of a defective morality; and to avert these, and make straight paths for ourselves and for posterity, is a worthy motive for the most earnest moral inquiry.

The question now arises whether we cannot best promote the life and happiness above named by putting a negative on the faculties through which we are liable to the evils named. Why not starve the body, cauterize and destroy all its motions, ignore and denounce possession of worldly property and advantage of every sort? Answer: because there is a better way, which is this:

1. In regard to appetite, learn to discover and discriminate in relation to wholesome and appropriate food and drinks; or, failing in this, immediate starvation and death is no greater evil.

2. Let the passions be directed to their appropriate objects, and let constancy, fidelity and love, rule sexual intercourse; otherwise, or failing herein, the "right eye" "plucked out," or the "right hand" "cut off," is the happier lot.

3. In regard to property, guard against having any of the blood and bones of fellow men mixed in the "money-till," and keep the dollars from rusting by circulating them well in every beneficial enterprise; otherwise, the most abject poverty is preferable.

Keeping a watchful and vigilant eye on all these three points, hesitate not to apply the pruning knife with its keenest edge upon the least suggestion of inordinate desire. And "upon as many as walk according to these rules"—read the great Apostle's blessing. P. J. A.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—As the evening train on the York & Cumberland R. R., was approaching Gorham station, Wednesday night, (says the Portland Argus,) it ran into a four horse team, loaded with lime, etc., completely demolishing the sled and scattering the load in all directions. The snow having melted from the crossing the team was stuck, and was not discovered by the engine driver until the train was hard upon it. The two lead horses detached themselves from the sled and ran furiously through the village, doing no damage. The other horses, were thrown in the deep snow outside the track, uninjured. The horses which escaped were probably somewhat injured, as they had attached to them some parts of the wreck. The team was a valuable one, owned in Conway, N. H.—The driver says he believed for the train to stop, but supposes the engine man did not hear him. Probably not.

EFFECTS OF SKATING.—A young lady who indulged in an afternoon's exercise on skates on Jamaica Pond, during the very cold snap, very imprudently had her skate straps so tightened as to prevent any circulation of the blood in the feet below the ancles. The consequence was, that upon taking them off to return home, her feet were both found to be frozen. Although every effort was made by physicians to restore them to the normal state, one of them was so badly frost bitten as to render amputation necessary to prevent mortification ensuing. The young lady, a resident of Boston, is about 19 years of age, and her misfortune is felt very keenly by herself and friends.

☞ Different minds have different capacities, and no mind can ever be driven to love that for which it has no taste. First, seek to understand the natural abilities and dispositions of children, and then, in your management of their education for after life, govern yourself accordingly. George Combe, the greatest moral philosopher of his day, could hardly reckon in simple addition; and Colburn, the mathematician, could not write out a common-place address.

ALBANY, Jan. 26.—Rhineman, the paramour of Mary Hartung, and indicted with her for the murder of her husband, was acquitted this evening of the charge as principal, the jury not leaving their seats. He was taken back to jail to await his trial on two other indictments, as accessory before and after the fact.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The bark Gleaner, burnt at Apalachicola, belonged to Yarmouth, Me., and had a cargo of nearly 1400 bales of cotton. She was a new vessel, of 500 tons burden. The cargo was valued at $89,000, and is believed to be insured in England.

☞ The police business at New York and Brooklyn (says the Newburyport Herald) last year employed a force of 2,190 men—a sufficient number to conquer Mexico, or any of the Spanish American States. Their cost was nearly a million and a half dollars; in New York, $1,215,560; and in Brooklyn, $211,170. During the year they arrested 84,326 persons; 59,440 males, and 24,886 females. Only one in five of the arrested were natives of the United States, which will show how emigration increases crime. Ignorance has the same tendency; one-third of them could neither read nor write. But rum does more than anything else; full two-thirds of these 84,000, were arrested for drunkenness, or misdemeanors and crimes that they would not have committed but for rum. Rum, ignorance, and the collection of the vicious from all parts of the world, fill the prisons, the alms houses, the courts, and the scaffolds of the great city of the nation, and present such an array of crime as requires a standing army of more than two thousand policemen to repress it.

In the city proper of New York the number of arrests was 68,890; but in singular contrast with this large number is the fact that only 8,754 were brought to trial, and of these only 3,973 were convicted.—We see on the one hand a long list of crimes, which is headed by 103 murders—or at least 103 persons came to violent deaths, either by their own hands or from others—and following on is every species of crime, and in large proportions too, against persons and property: and on the other, of the 69,000 arrested for these crimes, but one in eight is brought to trial; but one in seventeen is convicted; and when we consider the commutations, not one in twenty ever fully suffers the punishment for his offences. A criminal system that punishes but one, where it lets nineteen go free to commit other crimes, seems as near a farce as it well can be. "To have a police system what it should be, the chance of escaping apprehension should be very small to the offender; and the chance of escaping trial, smaller still; and the chance of escaping punishment, if convicted, absolutely nothing.

MEXICAN NEWS.—A gentleman from Acapulco states that only the artillery of the Liberal army, numbering about 2000 troops, was engaged in the battle of the 21st. The main body of the troops under Rocha Rajas having failed to come up, owing, as was believed, to treachery, the artillery, which was under the command of Col. Haile, an American, from San Francisco, was cut in pieces. Miramon's artillery was much heavier, and of longer range than that of the Liberals. Col. Haile escaped to Magarland, where he had purchased, and was fitting out two small vessels, with which he intended to proceed to Mansanilla for the purpose of capturing the two vessels seized in that part by Miramon. When Miramon left the Capitol he had 5000 troops in command, 2000 of which, under Marques, were dropped at Guadalajara, to cover Miramon's retreat, should he be forced to make one. Marques, it will be recollected, was at last previous accounts in prison in Mexico for the seizure of the $2,000,000 conducta at Tepic.

MAINE TEMPERANCE CONVENTIONS.—We learn from the Augusta Journal that the Temperance Association and the Quarterly session of the Sons of Temperance held in Augusta, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, were well attended by friends of the cause from different sections of the State. The speeches and resolutions were in excellent temper, and point to the right course of action on the great subject to which they relate. The Journal says the general state of the cause is highly encouraging; the Association is prosperous, and the Sons of Temperance are increasing in number and vigor throughout the State.—The Grand Division was represented by nearly two hundred members.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says that letters to the Southern Opposition from North Carolina and Tennessee, state that the disunion sentiments expressed in the House do not reflect the opinions of the South, and desire speeches contradicting this assumption immediately made. A reaction has begun in earnest, and Helper's book is played out.

Several foreign Ministers, including the Russian and French Legations, were present during Mr. Toombs' violent disunion speech, and seemed much interested in his gloomy statements. They afterwards remarked that if these things be so, it was strange our stocks continued to be the best offered in the European markets.

MURDER IN EGREMONT.—A colored man named Henry Jones was murdered in Egremont, Berkshire County, on Saturday last. His presumed murderers are Stephen Darling and Theodore Jones, both colored, and Michael McGrath, Irish. Rum was the cause, the parties having been on a drunken frolic, as was apparent by the appearance of a bottle of rum in the coffin, beside the corpse.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—Savannah, Jan. 26.—The Democratic meeting held here last night broke up in a row.

Mr. Henry R. Jackson made a speech sustaining the resolutions in favor of the Milledgeville convention. A row commenced, and many withdrew. The meeting adjourned.

Another meeting was organized, with Colleo'er Barton as chairman. Resolutions were passed, declaring the election of Seward, or any other Republican endorser of the Helper book, to the Presidency, would be a just cause for dissolution of the Union. In such an event, those present pledged their lives, honor and fortunes to effect a dissolution.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 26.—The joint committee on the Harper's Ferry affair have made a voluminous report, which closes with resolutions urging the arming and equipping of the militia, and the passage of laws encouraging domestic manufactures, and for the more prompt punishment of persons attempting to incite slaves to insurrection, and vindicating the course of Gov. Wise throughout the Harper's Ferry affair. Five thousand copies are ordered to be printed.

SHIPWRECK.—St. Thomas, Jan. 7.—Capt. Cannsland and crew, of the ship Armorial of Bath, fifteen in number, arrived here this day, on board the Hamburg schooner Voltigeur. The Armorial sailed from Bristol on the 25th of November, bound to Savannah, with a cargo of railroad iron. On the 8th of December encountered a terrific hurricane from the north-east, the sea tearing the rudder from its pintles, causing the vessel to leak badly, and become unmanageable. On the 12th, the captain and crew were taken off by the above named vessel, bound to St. Thomas. The ship was abandoned in lat. 34 38, lon. 21 56.

The Armorial was built at Bath, Me., 1856; 530 tons, rated A 2, and owned by C. T. Minot, of Bath. Cargo valued at $45,000.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a most malignant cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George A. Green, of Windsor, Vt., it affords me a knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocuous nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in concurring diseases, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial; as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of vitalic, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of pulmonary medication.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know no other equally efficacious and safe in cases of coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.
BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:—

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to almost every eligible remedied in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1853, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in his 68th year. It seems that eight months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, always be so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BETSEY FARMER'S WILL.

A will case involving some nice points of law, as well as a considerable amount of cash—$50,000 or $60,000—is now on trial before the Supreme Judicial Court of New Hampshire, sitting in Exeter, Judge Nesmith presiding. The counsel employed are Gen. B. F. Butler, of Lowell, Mass., and J. W. Emery, Esq., of Portsmouth, N. H., for the heir-at-law, Mr. Daniel Farmer, of Manchester, N. H. Messrs. Christie, of Dover, Shapley, of Exeter, Wilcox, and Chief Justice Perley, appear as counsel for the legatees. The case is as follows: Betsey Farmer, a maiden lady, worth the sum named in real and personal estate, resided in Newton, Rockingham county, N. H. Her nearest relation was an uncle, Daniel Farmer; none others nearer than second cousins. When she was taken with her last sickness, and about a fortnight before she died, one of her second cousins, Mr. Henry Farmer, came on from New York, and told her that he was sent by the spirit of her mother to require her to make a will. He was a spiritualist and a mesmerizer, and attempted to mesmerize Miss F.

A few days previous to her death, Mr. F. seceded, through the assistance of a neighbor, Mr. Gilman B. Currier, and wife, in inducing Miss Farmer to make a will Mr. Currier wrote the will, which it appears, is an exact copy from the Probate Directory—but he swears that he wrote it from the testator's own lips, word for word; that she was then in perfect strength of body and mind, and that she signed her name by his steadying her hand. The heir at law introduces the family physician to prove that a week before the will was signed, her hand had become palsied, and that she had lost the use of it. The signature, however appears to be written in a bold hand. Much of the evidence as to her condition is contradictory. Among the legacies are $2000 to the Baptist Society of Foreign Missions, although she had not attended church for the last fifteen years of her life; and after some specific legacies the rest of her estate is left to her mother's cousin's children, without naming them.—The case has been on upwards of a week, and excites much interest.

☞ The Concert of the Portsmouth Cornet Band on Thursday evening, was attended by a full house. They have improved much in their style of playing since they gave their first concert here. We are glad they met with such encouragement.

CAN TELL THE TRUTH.—Uncle Toby answers, to an article from the Gazette, (copied in another column,)—

1. That the title of Reverend is not assumed, but conferred by ordination in the usual way.

2. That if by the democracy is meant slavery, he certainly has no love for it; but if by democracy is meant a government where the people rule, he certainly does not hate it.

3. We copied the resolutions and articles from the Gazette entire, and if we misrepresent them, the reader of our paper can certainly compare our statement with the documents themselves.

4 and last: Let us compare the statement and see where the error lies.

The Democratic Convention at Concord resolved that people from all the States have the right to go into all the Territories, with their property, "including property in slave labor and hold the same there," &c.

If this be not slavery extension, then we don't know what the words mean.

The same resolution goes on to say—

"If the right to such property is disturbed or attempted to be wrested from them, it is the duty of the Congress of the United States to enact all laws which may be necessary for its security and protection."

Now if laws to protect property in slaves be not a slave code, then again there seems to be no meaning in words.

We repeat, then, that the Democratic Convention at Concord did take the extreme ground of extending slavery over all the Territories—and that we prove it by the extracts above, as we do also the assertion about the slave code. We know these terms are not very popular with most democrats—but they mean exactly what the resolutions say in more words.

If we know any plainer terms, or more accurate, than slavery extension and a slave code, we would use them.

☞ In another column we copy from the Gazette, the statement (to which we alluded a day or two since,) by the Bangor Union, that the defaulting treasurer Peck had confessed using $30,000 or $40,000 in certain elections. As no paper in Augusta or Portland confirms the statement, (now a fortnight old,) it is no doubt a lie from whole cloth, manufactured for New Hampshire, where it has gone the rounds of a certain class of papers.

Elder Peck's Canada speculations where he lost his money, were by no means so successful as these elections alluded to,—but on which no one knows that he spent any thing but wind.

Friction Matches—Unhappy marriages.

☞ The U. S. Senate, Thursday, Jan. 26, had a debate on Slavery, on Douglas, disunion, and John Brown's victory, and adjourned to Monday.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Etheridge, there was a call of the House, with a view of affording the absentees time to arrive, preparatory to voting for Speaker.

Mr. Winslow, in order to further procure the attendance of the absentees, moved to adjourn.

This was decided in the negative—yeas 32, nays 190.

Mr. Winslow moved that the House proceed to vote for Speaker, viva voce.

After some debate and delay, a vote was taken.

Whole no. votes 226; nec. to choice 114; Sherman 109, Bocock 58, Smith (of N. C) 37, Davis (of Ind.) 5, McClernand 3, scat. 4.

Mr. Winslow moved that the House again vote, and demanded the previous question.

Some debate, mostly on points of order, ensued.

The Clerk explained that Mr. Etheridge on Wednesday suggested that the House vote some considerable time, without making speeches. While it seemed that this was generally acquiesced in, the Clerk did not think himself authorized to record it on minutes.

Other explanations were made, and John Cochrane said We are ready for the ballot.

Mr. Hickman, in view of these explanations, objected to Mr. Winslow's motion for a vote.

Cries from the Democratic—"too late."

Mr. Hickman—It is not too late—I make a point of order.

The Clerk said the previous question had been called on Mr. Winslow's motion.

Mr. Hill was willing to test the solemn assurance of Mr. Etheridge, that, if the House would vote for two weeks, they could elect a Speaker.

Mr. Phelps combatted Mr. Hickman's point, that, unless by unanimous consent, the House could not vote for Speaker. The motion was made to that purpose without a single objection being interposed. The objection came too late.

After debate Mr. Hickman withdrew his objection, and the House voted three times for a Speaker, the last time with the following result:—

Whole no. votes 226; nec. to choice 114; Sherman 109, Bocock 51, Smith of N. C. 33, Gilmer 4, Davis of Ind. 7, Florence 4. The remaining votes were scattered among 13 other candidates.

DR. S. G. HOWE has been at home for the last five or six weeks, attending to his usual business. He has been preparing for an exhibition of his pupils in Canada, and was about to leave town when the summons from the Investigating Committee at Washington reached him. This was last Monday evening. The time fixed for his appearance was the next day. Of course it was impossible to conform. He telegraphed immediately, however, to inquire whether he should await a new summons, assigning a future day for his appearance, or whether he should go on immediately. He has had no official reply, but is ready to go on and testify if required.—Boston Journal.

☞ James Redpath, of Kansas notoriety who is now a resident of Malden, has been summoned to appear before the Harper's Ferry Committee, but has written a letter to Senator Mason, urging pressing business engagements as an excuse for his non appearance at Washington.

FIVE CALVES AT A BIRTH.—A cow belonging to Deacon John W. Brigham, of this town, was delivered of five perfect calves, one day last week. The smallest one weighed 32 pounds, and they would average at least 35 pounds each, making their united weight about 175 pounds.—Marlboro' Gazette.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

From the N. H. Gazette.

CAN'T TELL THE TRUTH.—The Reverend Uncle Toby, like most of the class of rabid politicians who have a clerical prefix to their names, is rarely able to correctly state the views of the Democratic party. In speaking of the proceedings of some of the late Democratic Conventions, he says:

"Within the present week, we have copied three or four articles from the Gazette, showing, as we published them entire, that the Rockingham Democratic County Convention, the Democratic Convention at Concord, and the conductors of that paper, take the extreme ground of extending slavery over all the Territories of the United States, by constitution and court, and the enactment of a slave code by Congress, for the protection of slavery against the encroachments of freedom."

So far from this, the conventions and articles spoken of take no ground whatever about "extending slavery" or passing a "slave code." They simply declare in favor of the constitutional rights of all in the Territories, and that it is the duty of the government to protect these rights, and, by consequence, that if any further legislation is necessary to afford such protection, it is the duty of Congress to supply it. But the general belief among Democrats is that the existing laws and powers of the government are sufficient to secure this object, and hence there has been no expression for additional enactments, unless experience shall show them to be wanted, and none whatever for a "slave code."

Considering that Uncle Toby has been a most thorough hater of Democracy through life, it is perhaps unreasonable to expect him to truthfully represent the views and principles of the Democratic party in his old age, Reverend though he assumes and delights to be styled.

In announcing the preparations for Lord Macaulay's burial in Westminister Abbey, The London Globe says:—"The sexton of the Dean and Chapter is busy opening a grave for our great historian—not with kings and knights of the Garter—not even with Stephenson or Telford—but in Poets' Corner, or the south transept of the Abbey. He will lie at the foot of Addison's statue, and close to the grave of Isaac Barrow, one of the great Trinity of Cambridge men, Macaulay's own College. The historian will not lie far off Camden—almost the father of English history—not far from what remains of May, the historian of the Long Parliament, and near to the remains of Johnson, Garrick, Sheridan and Gifford, the Tory editor of the Quarterly Review. He will lie facing the statue of the poet of 'The Pleasures of Hope,' at whose funeral the noble historian helped (with wise selection) to bear the pall."

☞ The United States gun-boat Mohican sailed 17th inst., from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on a trial trip. She will be absent about 24 hours from the yard, and if everything proves satisfactory she will sail forthwith for the Coast of Africa. The Navy Department has been informed that she made 11 1-2 miles per hour during the trip, and she has departed for the African station to which she was ordered.

The Bangor Union learns by private advices from Augusta, that Elder Peck is making a clean breast of the Treasury defalcation, and, so far from implicating "Democrats high in office" in the transaction, he has made developments that go to the very heart of the Black Republican party. The Union is informed that Peck has made a statement that he expended thirteen thousand dollars to elect Daniel E. Somes in the First Congressional District; eight thousand dollars to elect Ezra B. French in the Third District, and four thousand to elect Stephen C. Foster in the Sixth District, and eleven thousand more to one of the most prominent Republican leaders in Maine.

THE MONT VERNON PURCHASE.—We have received from Mrs. George A. French, Agent for the Ladies' Mont Vernon Association for this county, the final exhibit of the transactions of that organization, prepared by the Regent, Miss Ann P. Cunningham. It appears that the purchase money has all been raised and paid over to Mr. Washington—most of it in advance of the time it became due. The entire obligation incurred was $200,000, the last payment of some $40,000 not becoming due until the spring of 1862. All but about $8000 is already paid, and the Regent reports about $40,000 of available funds, subject to the control of the Association. As much of this as is needed will be appropriated to necessary repairs, and it is proposed to augment the remainder to a permanent fund of $150,000, the interest of which is to be applied to the current necessities of the establishment.

Allusion is made to the reported failure of Mr. Washington, whereby the interests of the Association were placed in jeopardy. The report was altogether untrue. Official statements are appended, to show that the title is unquestionable.

The Regent congratulates the ladies upon the accomplishment of this great work; and we are so well pleased with the result, and so ready to acknowledge the efficiency of the ladies engaged in the work that we shall not resent the statement that "Woman has dared to undertake that from which Man shrank appalled—and has triumphed where he failed."—Union Democrat.

THE YACHT WANDERER.—The seizure of the slave-yacht Wanderer is likely to furnish business for the Courts and officers of the law for some time to come. District-Attorney Woodbury is still engaged in taking the evidence of the crew as to what was done on board the vessel after she left Savannah. Evidence will also be taken at that city to show what was done by the owners before the vessel was run away with from that port. It will be many months before all the evidence in the case can be prepared by the Government. The crew of the vessel have libeled her for wages, and she has also been libeled by persons who furnished her with supplies. These actions depend upon the result of the claim of the Government that the vessel was sent upon a slave voyage. The owner of the vessel, Mr. Lamar of Savannah, now lays claim to her, and, to strengthen his claim, presents the copy of an indictment in the United States Circuit Court for the District of Georgia against the late master for piratically running away with her. On Thursday, in the U. S. District Court, Judge Sprague appointed B. C. Clark, Osborn Howes, and Foster Waterman of this city appraisers of the Wanderer; and if Mr. Lamar desires, he can have the vessel upon giving bonds to the Government to pay the value at which she may be appraised, in case the vessel is finally condemned. If he declines to take the Wanderer at that appraisal, the vessel will be sold by the officers of the Government, in whose custody she now is.—Boston Traveller, Jan. 21.

Arrangements are being made for a Sabbath School Convention to be held in this city during the coming month, at which time distinguished gentlemen from abroad are to be present.

Dr. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1,00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a cough from infancy to procure them to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, and I conscientiously recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry have found complaints of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all other afflicted, that the cough drops prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a trial and try it. Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I have made trial. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together. THEOPHILUS CURRIER, SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR. SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his Medicine Store in

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED, IN AN INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted in speaking in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, whereof we know, after ten years experience, and pledge the reputation for the success of what we have here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from the exhausting pain incident to teething, or the painful diseases of children, we would say, try your child, for your relief will be SURE — yes, you will bless the time you first used it. Full directions accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every medicine that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the cause of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other preparation of infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, and put up by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, and is warranted and sold much long advertisement as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as entirely safe to all mothers. In all cases, full directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and if will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 60 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
REUL A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Sumaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I send several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and in a words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices of lust, slow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.

Hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed subercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which pervades the whole blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the purge, of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOTLOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from an IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in impurity of the blood is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand their searching power. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, restoring the diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a gentle cathartic these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health so speedily recovered by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of society, but also those of a more formidable and dangerous disease. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis his American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a diuner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate disease of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JAN. 30, 1860.

☞ There is a prospect now of the speedy election of a Speaker in the House of Representatives. On Friday, Jan. 23, by a sudden and unexpected movement, the Democrats concentrated on Mr. Smith of North Carolina, who was elected as a South American. At one time it was understood that he was within two votes of an election, but some members changed their votes, and the result was that he received 112, which was within three votes of a majority, while Sherman received 106. There was intense excitement in the House, and after this one ballot an adjournment till Monday was moved and carried. There was evidently finessing about this movement. It looks more like an approach to an election than anything which has yet occurred. The Democrats have evidently become disorganized, and have given up all hope of electing a man called a Democrat.

The debate was personal, partizan and interesting.

Mr. Cobb made a humorous speech by way of exhortation to his dissenting political friends to come up to the support of Smith. He called attention to the fact that men of all parties voted for him. If gentlemen did not avail themselves of the present opportunity, they never would come nearer to electing a nominee who was opposed to the Republicans.

English and Niblack voted for Smith, as the contest narrowed down between a Republican and an American.

Sherman voted for Corwin, when Jenkins changed from Smith to Sherman, thus spoiling an election.

Morris of Pa., understanding that the Republicans would present Corwin, withdrew his name from Smith and voted for Corwin. Hisses from the galleries and cries of "announce the vote."

Keitt proceeded to expose the inconsistency of those who vote for and then changed against Mr. Smith.

The result was finally announced, as follows:—Whole number of votes, 228; necessary to a choice, 115; Sherman had 106, Smith of N. C. 112, Corwin 4, scat. 6.

The House adjourned till Monday by 6 majority.

Smith's vote for Speaker included the votes of all the Northwestern Democrats, with three exceptions. Mr. Smith utterly disavowed any connection with the know-nothing order or its principles. He would have been elected but for the withdrawal of several Pennsylvania members who had supported him.

The Republicans were to have a caucus on Saturday. It was supposed that either Mr. Corwin or Mr. Pennington would be nominated. The probabilities were in favor of the latter.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of Friday evening says private letters from Washington assure that an effort is being made to obtain the unanimous consent of the Republicans to a change of candidates, and to unite the vote of the party upon Mr. Corwin, Mr. Pennington, or Mr. E. Joy Morris, and "we are further informed by a gentleman who is on confidential terms with Messrs. Briggs, Adrain and Riggs, that those three members would vote for either of the gentlemen spoken of as substitutes for Sherman."

A Spicy Letter to Senator Mason. The following letter to Senator Mason, chairman of the Investigating Committee on the Harper's Ferry affair, from James Redpath, is spicy and characteristic. It speaks for itself:—

MALDEN, Mass., Jan. 27, '60.

To Senator Mason, Chairman of Senate Brown Committee:—

Senator:—On my return to my home here this morning, I found a paper, purporting to be a summons, on which your name appears, and by which I am required to be at Washington day before yesterday. As "the impossible," according to an eminent New England moral teacher—Theodore Parker—"is never the obligatory," I write you to state that I have not the power to obey it; as I cannot turn back the hands of the clock of time, even if disposed so to do; ye which I am not. This summons, my colored servant tells me, was given to her on Monday afternoon to deliver to me on my return home. Sir, she is one of the race that have no rights that a white man is bound to respect. Am I bound to recognize her right to deliver me a summons?—You see, Senator, I rather have you there, if I choose to stand on the legal principles of the Democracy; but I waive that advantage, inasmuch as I did not get the summons, nor know that there was a summons here for me until this blessed morning.

Even had I come home on Monday evening, as usual I could not have obeyed the summons. Why did'nt your servant serve it sooner? I was at home all last week and until Monday morning, and yet I received no visit from any Federal official.—They need looking after, Senator. Now, what must I do? Please let me know by return mail, as I have urgent business which requires my speedy and prolonged absence from home. JAMES REDPATH.

A Juvenile Pun.—A little five-year older being shown an almanac a few days since, having on the outside leaf a vignette, representing a drove of cattle, was asked what kind of a book it was? "Why," replied he quickly, "I should call it a cattle logue."—Progressive Age.

Did Nebuchadnezzar go to grass in the hey-day of his youth?

Abolition of the Slave Trade by Britain.—Slavery existed early in England. When Alfred the Great came into power in 872, he made laws regulating the sale of slaves. In that age the peasantry were sold, and children were offered for sale in market-places as common as cattle. From the time of William the Conqueror, 1066, and some 400 years, the slaves were what were called villains. They were held by owners, and could hold no property themselves. This slavery had declined at the time of Richard III., 1435, and at the time of James I., 1603, was about extinct. It needed the people of some other nation for its victims, and while princes of the unfortunate house of Stuart reigned, the Africans were enslaved, and the slave-trade, a seemingly necessary adjunct of slavery, was established. The slave-trade was abolished in that country, and finally slavery itself.—The slave-trade has been abolished in our country, but some would gladly have it again. If it shall be, the world will see how unjust, cruel and barbarian a nation professing to be Christian can be.

The agitation for the abolition of the slave-trade in Britain began in 1783. A bill regulating "the African Company" was before Parliament; and the Quakers, holding their yearly assembly at London at the time, sent in a petition for the abolition of the detestable trade. The Quakers in that country opposed slavery as decidedly as war. We wish the same were true of all of them in this country. William Wilberforce, then about 24 years of age, was then a member of Parliament, and soon enlisted in the effort. The excellent Thomas Clarkson, though not a member, gave his aid.

In 1788 a bill was passed, regulating it so that only a reasonable number should be put in a ship. The illustrious Wm. Pitt was at that time enlisted in the discussion, and soon after Mr. Fox.

In 1789 Mr. Wilberforce moved its abolition. Conservatives insisted on regulating it, but Mr. Fox declared there was no way to regulate robbery. A vote prevailed, delaying the subject till the next session.

From this time the struggle was continued about 18 years. We cannot give full particulars, but will say that in 1791 Mr. Wilberforce's motion to abolish the traffic was lost by 75 majority. In 1792 Pitt declared that 30,000 Africans were yearly torn from their native land and enslaved.—In 1796 the Duke of Clarence, afterwards King William IV., commenced his political career in the House of Lords by opposing the abolition of the trade. He lived not only long enough to see it abolished, but, as King, to sign a bill abolishing slavery in the British West Indies.

In 1804 men were earnest. Wilberforce moved to consider the slave trade. Carried, 124 to 49. Then voted, 69 to 33, that it cease in October of that year. But this was lost in the House of Lords, that body believing the time too near. In 1806 the subject was warmly debated. Pitt was then dead, and Fox finishing his Parliamentary career. It was found then, on a division, that in the House of Commons there were 114 against the trade to 15 for it. In the Lords the vote was 41 to 20.

The bill finally passed March 24, 1807. The next day the royal signature was put to it, and Britain cleared itself forever, it is trusted, of the awful crime.

In the course of the agitation the colonies had threatened to secede if the trade was abolished. Yet to the honor of members of the government be it said, they never tried to frighten by saying the Union would be dissolved. If they had, women would have laughed at them.

Wilberforce died July 28, 1833, aged 72.

J. P.

An Old Voter.—The Connecticut papers announce the death of B. Penfield, Esq., aged 95 years, and add that he has voted for seventy-four years. During that long time he never failed to vote, except on a single occasion, when he was absent from home. He voted for Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Pierce and Buchanan. He lived and died on the place where he was born.

☞ Touching the rumored marriage of Garibaldi, letters from Como reiterate the statement, the day named being the 15th of January. His son has already married the young daughter of Count Raimond (aged sixteen); the widowed General marries the elder daughter, aged twenty, who is described as endowed with the attributes Scott depicted in Diana Vernon.

☞ Madame Favargier, an estimable French lady, employed to teach her native language in the "Old Dominion Female Institute," at Richmond, has been compelled to leave Virginia, because she did not share the prevalent opinion respecting John Brown. The principal of the Institute handsomely gave her a certificate setting forth her eminent qualifications as a teacher, and stating that she was dismissed only because she gave utterances to anti-slavery sentiments.

☞ The Division of the "Sons of Temperance" at West Amesbury, now numbers two hundred members.

Letter from the Widow of John Brown.—Mrs. Brown writes to the New York Tribune to contradict the report circulating through the country in a small book, that her husband was the murderer of the wives of two men, whose bodies he burned to ashes. She speaks bitterly of such maliciously false allegations, and believes they are set afloat by pro-slavery men "to injure a sale of the memoir of one whose influence, with that of others, in the scale of liberty, operates so powerfully against them, both morally and politically." She adds that false witnesses appeared against the Savior of men, both before and after death, and she asks, "is it not enough for the servant if he can fare as well as the Master did."

The Lemmon Slave Case.—This noted case, which created so much excitement some half dozen years ago, but which has almost faded from the public mind, has at last reached the highest court in New York, where it was argued last week. The case involves the right of the slaveholder to transport his slaves through a free State or to hold them therein. The State of Virginia is the plaintiff in the case, having relieved the owner of the slaves who were set at liberty, from the prosecution of his grievance.

The Appeal of one in Bonds.—The Rev. Daniel Worth writes from Greensboro' Prison, N. C., that he is held to answer in two counties in that State on a charge of circulating Helper's book, and he asks all persons wishing to write to him to abstain from allusions to slavery, and all else which can excite the South, as his letters undergo a close scrutiny, and all inflammatory matter will greatly prejudice him. He adds:—"Lines of Christian condolence and sympathy gladly received, and the prayers of all Christians earnestly solicited."

Organization.—We take the following extract from the Washington correspondence of the New York Times. When the members run short of the sinews of war, the war will cease. It would have been a good thing for the country if the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Pennsylvania bank which supplied him with money for the members had failed a month ago:—

"All sides begin to weary of the profitless and exhausting war. Many members begin to lack their pay. The hotel-keepers are already near ruin from the backwardness of the season, and but very few would feel regret if either side could organize a surprise, and capture the disputed post. It is said that the present Clerk of the House alone enjoys the existing condition of affairs—his pay, perquisites and importance depending on the continuance of the struggle. Certain it is that he makes no effort to disentangle matters, and always appears willing to submit a disputed point of order to the House for argument, when he might a great deal better take it up and pass upon it himself."

☞ The glass ballot-boxes which Fernando Wood introduced into the New York city election, two or three years since, under an impulse of honesty derived from the San Francisco election frauds, just then disclosed, are not yet paid for. Benj. Wood, the brother of Fernando, had a hand in the contract, and produced 4,000 boxes at a charge of $15 apiece, when it is susceptible of proof that he only paid $2. The supervisors refused to credit the bill, and now the courts have given a verdict of $62,470, adding all over $60,000 for the costs of a suit. An attempt will be made to re-open the case, but it will only increase the costs in the end. It is almost needless to say that the boxes were used but once, and are now among the relics of the past.

☞ A negro-wag at New Orleans, the other day, engaged twenty-one carriages, to go a funeral. The train of carriages slowly wended its way to a church. On arriving, they found that no one there had heard of a funeral. The negro tried to get away, but did not succeed. He then induced the funeral cortege to move on to a cemetery; no funeral there. Whereupon the victimized Jehus proceeded to hold an inquest upon the darkey, but he managed to escape.

☞ At a preliminary examination of a Rev. Thomas Abbott, a Baptist preacher of Blue Point, Christian county, Illinois, it appeared that he had been in the habit of inhumanly beating his wife, and on the 30th of last November beat, her so as to cause the blood to flow from the mouth and ears of the prostrate and insensible woman.

☞ The Kirghises of Siberia have signified to the Russian Minister of the Interior their willingness to emancipate all their slaves at once, and to discontinue forever the practice of holding human beings in bondage.

☞ Speaking of Southern Presidential aspirants, the Charleston Mercury says there are "some twenty Richmonds in the field, all challenging fate at the hands of the terrible Black Republican Richard of 1860, on whose banners, in such a contest, victory will inevitably perch."

☞ Two sets of delegates will go from New York, from Georgia, and from Illinois, to the Charleston Convention.

Father Chiniquy, the celebrated excommunicated Catholic priest, with two-thirds of his Kaffakeec congregation, have joined the Presbyterian Church. The Father did not give them time for reflection, but urged them on financial considerations to up stakes and join. He requested them to try Presbyterianism one year, and then if they did not like it they could join some other. The balance of his congregation will join the Baptist persuasion.—Chicago Journal.

California.—Malloy's Station, Jan. 27. The overland mail of the 6th, with one day's later news from California arrived this morning.

The Democratic caucus, to nominate a candidate for United States Senator, was held at Sacramento on the 5th. Seven ballots were taken, the average vote on which stood: Willie 37, Denver 33, Baldwin 11, Washington 9, Macdougal 8. Willie (Weller?) got less votes than was anticipated.

Indemnity for Slaves Lost.—Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—John H. Wheeler, formerly United States Minister to Nicaragua, has presented a memorial to our Legislature, asking $5000 indemnity for the loss of three slaves, who he asserts were stolen from him by a citizen of Pennsylvania in 1855, while he was on his way through Philadelphia. The memorial has reference to the Passmore Williamson case, which caused so much excitement in Pennsylvania a few years ago.

In Seabrook, Mr. Seth C. Flanders, of Salisbury, Mass., to Miss Betsy S. Dow, of Seabrook.

DIED.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a most vexatious cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the preparation. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary Diseases.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocuous nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their natural condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of vegetable, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alterative or antispasmodic therapy; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other mode of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says: 'I have used Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for coughs, colds, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. Laporme, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for the cure of coughs and colds. Signed by the Sisters of Charity.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. Laporme, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. F. Brigham, No. 182 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Fabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. His such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. P. LAPORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. Local.

A Mean Fellow.—On Friday evening a number of public-spirited young men procured old Engine No. 3, and conveyed it to the North pond, for the purpose of flooding the ice, for the benefit of the community at large. Just as they had got their machine in working order, some mean rascal cut a large hole in the hose, rendering it unfit for service, in consequence of which the work was abandoned. Twenty-five dollars reward was offered on the spot, and measures are being taken to ferret out the fellow, and bring him to justice.

Skating.—The skating on the North pond is very good, and has been visited daily by hundreds of those who wish to enjoy this healthful amusement as long as it lasts. It is to be hoped that another winter our citizens will, at the first of the season, combine together, and keep the two excellent ponds, which are so available to any one, free from snow. Money would pay far better invested in this way than laid out in drugs and medicines. H.

☞ The new Chapel for the Brolhead M. E. Society, is rapidly approaching completion. The house is intended to accommodate three hundred persons; leaving room for entries, pulpit, organ, &c. Mr. Isaiah Wilson, the contractor, informs us that the building will be ready for occupancy about the first of April. He is a smart and energetic man, and will finish whatever he undertakes, promptly.

☞ Not long ago, says the Atlas, a young Irishman was sent by one of the principal paper manufacturers in Boston to Georgia, for the purpose of collecting rags. While in Savannah, after having made some agitation in the rag market, he was waited upon by a Vigilance Committee, headed by a constable and backed by a large mob, and served with a notice to leave the place, as he had been denounced as an abolitionist.—He made known to the officer that his business was of a peaceful character, and that he in no waypurposed to interfere with their "peculiar institution," only desiring to remove some of their rags. The officer replied that he presumed there was no truth in the charge, but as he was interfering with the business of one of their citizens, who was engaged in collecting paper stock, he had better be off, if he would avoid a coat of tar and feathers. The consequence was, the man was taken in charge by a committee, who escorted him to Charleston, where he was handed over to another committee and passed through Southern territory. Patrick was a good deal terrified at the prospect of a coat of tar and feathers, and said that he had less respect for the Constitution than for the Sons of Malta, for he believed that nothing saved him from violence but a membership of that order.

☞ J. J. Dyer & Co., 35 School street, Boston, will publish immediately A Full and Authentic History of the late Calamity at Lawrence, embracing all the particulars, and an Authentic Report of the Coroner's Inquest. It will be edited by two members of the Boston press, who arrived at Lawrence soon after the fire broke out, and who have since remained there as correspondents for two of the leading dailies of Boston. They were eye-witnesses of nearly all the scenes described, and have compiled a truthful narrative of what they heard and saw. Sold by all periodical dealers. Price 25 cents.

☞ Uncle Toby is not quite alone in his use of the term slave code, as applied to the new test of Democracy. The Dover Gazette of Jan. 28, has the following editorial item:

In the recent Kentucky Democratic State Convention a resolution was introduced declaring that Congress has the power, and is bound to pass a slave code for the Territories, and denying the right, anywhere, to interfere to injure slave property. It was voted down by a majority of 8 to 1.

The same Dover Gazette has not yet informed its readers that the Democratic Senatorial Convention at Concord unaninously passed just such a slave code resolution as was voted down in Kentucky!

☞ In the Essex Co. Superior Court, at Lawrence, Mass., the following persons convicted of a violation of the liquor law were defaulted:—

Wm. E. Willey, Thomas Smith, James L. Sherman, Samuel A. Mudgett, Joseph B. Morris, and Charles Morris, all of Salem.

Nathaniel O. Alley, of Lynn, retracted his plea of not guilty to a violation of the liquor law and plead guilty to one count.

James Fitzgibbons, of Marblehead, retracted his plea of not guilty for maintaining a liquor nuisance, and plead guilty.

Michael Collins, of Marblehead, was arraigned for maintaining a liquor nuisance and plead not guilty.

Henry Mansfield of Salem, appellant, for a violation of the liquor law.—Verdict guilty.

Not quite a dead letter.

☞ In the Essex County Court, at Lawrence, Mass., Friday, the following sentences were passed:—

James Fitzgibbon of Marblehead, for maintaining liquor nuisance, two indictments, sentenced to ten months House of Correction at Lawrence.

Michael Goff, John Gallan, Patrick Drummey and John Sullivan, all of Lawrence, for highway robbery, were severally sentenced to hard labor for a term of eight years each in the State Prison at Charleston.

Henry Mansfield of Salem, for a violation of the liquor law, sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and be confined at the House of Correction, for the term of twenty days, at Ipswich, and to recognize in $1000, not to violate the law for one year.

Charles Cantey of Salem, for the violation of the liquor law, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs and to be confined at hard labor in House of Correction at Ipswich far twenty days, and to recognize in $1000 not to violate the law for one year.

Wyshington, Jan. 27.—Dr. S. G. Howe has returned from Canada, and is expected to appear before the Senate Investigating Committee next week.

Gen. Pomeroy and Judge Army are now here co-operating with Hon. M. J. Parrott, delegate from Kansas, to effect the speedy admission of Kansas as a State, under the Wyandotte Constitution. Messrs. Pomeroy and Army are candidates for the Senatorships under the new Constitution.

A Paris dispatch says it was becoming every day more doubtful whether Congress would assemble; and the Paris correspondent of the London Times says there were many indications that the chances of Congress meeting were of the most shadowy kind.

The treaty between the United States and China has been put in force.

☞ In the Pemberton Hospital at Lawrence, the Callahan girl, who refused amputation when it was pronounced absolutely necessary to save her life, has a chance to recover.

This case, and that of Rev. T. B. Thayer, make it probable that amputation is often performed where a cure might be more likely without it.

Cortinas.—Advices from Point Isabel, dated Sunday, state that Cortinas, with 260 men, was above Matamoras, plundering Texans. The federal troops have returned to Brownsville, but the Rangers remained at Rio Grande city.

The papers say that a child born in a car on the Lake Shore Railroad was thrown from the window by its inhuman mother, when two miles from Erie, was picked up, and is now alive and well. Very tough 'an that.—Atlas.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "Grover & Baker" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Portsmouth, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

Portsmouth, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents: for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

From the Journal.

Mr. Faulkner, who in 1856 proposed, if Fremont was elected President, that the Governor of Virginia should at once take possession of the United States property at Harper's Ferry, has been nominated by the President and confirmed as Minister to France. In the Senate, his treasonable and disunion purposes and sentiments were proved and his confirmation opposed upon those grounds, yet he was confirmed by a strictly party vote. We commend these startling facts to the attention of all committees for getting up union meetings. Will they feel justified in delaying prompt action?

After every body but the Governor of Virginia, and a few of his sympathizers, had quietly attended to their own business, while the law was being executed upon John Brown for an offence, the king of which might have come from Mr. Buchanan's newly made minister to France, these committees were preparing for a demonstration; and as soon as the result proved that the North had no more sympathy with the movement of Brown, than with the proposition of Faulkner: demonstration were made which did not quite protect the getters up from ridicule at the South.

But now a democratic President nominates an avowed disunionist to one of the most important diplomatic positions, and the democratic Senators, knowing all the facts, vote in solid columns for his confirmation. Now here is an official declaration by the head of the government and the head of the democratic party, that disunion sentiments—even treasonable purposes, are no disqualification for the highest position in the gift of the President. It seems to us either that committees of safety who in their several and respective localities have the preservation of the union in charge, should, without delay, convene the people and invite them to deliberate upon this most significant fact, or that they will expose themselves to the suspicion of attempting by their late union-saving meetings to aid the party in whose ranks the disunionists have always been found.

THE DISSEVERED CONSTITUTION.—That frigate when afloat was so firm and substantial that it received this name of "Old Ironsides." But after much service and a mature age, the Constitution was floated to our Navy Yard to be anatomatized—and her old oak ribs, fresh and strong as in youth, have since been in demand for the manufacture of walking canes. But these oak staffs, which combined in the Constitution gave it a strength which could resist any pressure of the elements and of all militant attacks, have been found but feeble supports in a dissevered state. Passing down Market street last week we saw one of our estimable citizens, an invalid who needed a staff for support, whose patriotism had led him to trust his feeble frame to one made of a portion of the old ship. Just as we passed, his staff snapped beneath the pressure of his arm, disclosing a cross knot, which in the ship might have added to its strength, but in a cane gave it a pine-like weakness. "Well," said he, as he accepted an Indian bamboo to support him home, "however strong the old Constitution may be when standing together as a whole—I don't think much of it made up into walking sticks." This we regarded as a most happy illustration that "In Union is Strength," whether applied to the Constitution afloat, or to the great Ship of State.

MRS. HONES' CASE.

We copied from a Boston paper last week a notice that Mrs. Howes of this city had received $2000 of the Eastern Railroad, for injury received while attempting to enter the cars.

The article we find had as many errors as lines. The lady's name is Hones. The sum she has received is $3000—she received it from the Railroad to Providence, not the Eastern. The disaster occurred on leaving, not on entering the cars.

The case as given by Mrs. H. is this:—She was about leaving the cars, and in stepping on the platform in the depot, which was elevated to the steps of the cars, the cars started, and she was dropped in an upright position between the cars and the platform. As the cars moved on, she was whirled around about forty times, breaking some ribs, and receiving other damage. She was somewhat frightened, but was sensible to all that was going on.—"There, you've killed another woman," she heard some exclaim. When she was taken up, by two Irishmen, who bore her off, she was somewhat amused by their congratulation, "You'll get a good sum for this." She says that every attention was paid to her by the company until her return home—and that the sum paid was by mutual agreement. She is now able to walk about the house, and will probably recover her health, but may be some crippled.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Editor:—It is rumored about the streets that our City Fathers cannot agree upon men to fill the various offices that the Charter and Laws make it their duty to elect. But this is but rumor: the City Fathers, following the precedent of the old Spanish Inquisition, sit with closed doors, and no official report of their secret doings are brought to light; and by this means the tax payers who elected them are entirely in the dark as to the reason why certain incompetent servants of the people are kept in office.—I say incompetent, and a large majority of the tax payers of all parties will vouchy that assertion. Now if there is any good reason for this, Mr. Mayor and Aldermen, open your doors and let your constituents know what it is. If there are any factious men in the city government who prevent the reforms in the government of our municipal affairs, which the people demand, let us know who they are, and where the blame lies. Again I say, open the doors and let the people see and hear what you do. TAX PAYER.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, nausea and Sick, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and modes, Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has ever been down during the whole 49 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854.—"I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that disagreeable complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be true. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cared of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 5, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, and do frequent labor. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, have been a great help to me. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. ED. EDWIN BENNEMAN.

EXETER, July 29, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicine with which I am acquainted. WINGATE CURRIER, SALLY CURRIER.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1839. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, or did we know any one to the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its magical effect and wonderful this matter, "what we experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we utter." In almost every instance where from pain and exhaustion fifteen or twenty sold this article for over in confidence and truth, never been able to say of any other medicine, THAT IT GLE INSTANCE, when timely used. Nor instance of disinclination used it. On the contrary, with testimonials and commendation of its marvellous virtues. We speak, in its home, after ten years our reputation for the truth of our orders. In almost the infant is suffering from pain, relief is indispensable to prevent the child from pain, but and bowels, corrects, and wind colic, it will instantly relieve BOWELS, AND COLIC, cious, which, if not in death. We believe EXPERIENCE WILL PROVE THEM AND DIARRHEA, whether it arises from any other cause. We leave it to every mother who has child suffering from any of the diseases, or the prejudices, or the prejudices between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has ever recommended you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience to infinitely compliment to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other preparation will immediately show you, the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of which he has to gather with his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, CONSTIPATION, strengthening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For COUGH, the most distressing and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or nervous disorders, we cannot but recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that you cannot afford much longer to deprive yourselves as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most economical, for a single bottle of mother's Cordial, the quantity of the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parents and children being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that they are conducted in the same manner as is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parents and children being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far relieved by the use of his celebrated BLOOD FOOD, from consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope by his physicians, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—feels bound in honor to the medical profession, and in the cause of humanity, to give the medical world and the public the results of his experience in the use of this remarkable compound, and effect of the same upon his own system.

THE BLOOD FOOD, being the only remedy which has ever been introduced to the public with the slightest claim to the more immediate consideration and care of the medical profession, and applying the subject of physiology to the cure of CONSUMPTION, THE BLOOD FOOD, from the use of which, the Bronson was restored to perfect health, after having been given up by his physicians, and pronounced beyond the reach of medical skill, is now offered to the public, with the assurance that it will do all that is claimed for it, and more than any compound ever before offered to the public, or any other remedy, can do for the relief and cure of Consumption, Debilitation of the Lungs, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Side, Loss of Flesh, Cough, Night Sweats, Difficulty of Breathing, Spitting of Blood, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Female Weakness, Loss of Sleep, Nervous Irritability, Loss of Memory, Dizziness, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Cold Feet, Cold Hands, Cold Sweats, Pimples on the Face, Blotches on the Skin, Boils, Tumors, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Mercurial Diseases, Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, Irregularities, Suppression, Prolapsus, Fluxes, Piles, Dropsy, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Kidney Complaints, Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout, Dropsy

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can here be given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact: I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair. Now I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
REND. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Sumaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative" the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get some patronage shbuilt. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and in words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades every part of the body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous virus is variously developed by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, intoxication, all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the red of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, the numbers yearly carried to the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, &c., indeed all of the organs of life, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are tainted, their blood lacking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. Its combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its fearful consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYMPTOMS OF SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSY, BOILS OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in the "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of the Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties reach and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy functions. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of the stomach, bowels, blood and skin, and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing testimonials of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases, by the things by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

TUESDAY, JAN. 31, 1860.

PRESIDENT LORD'S LETTER.

The Democratic Standard of Jan. 28, publishes President Lord's letter in full, calling it "able and sound," and saying "it completely annihilates the arguments of the Nigger-Republican papers of New Hampshire."

The learned President speaks of three classes of men at the North, and of their several views of slavery.

In the first class, where he belongs, he places those religious men, "of grave pursuits in Church or State, who look at all things as revealed from scripture and experience"—and says:

They regard all men as depraved beings, guilty and condemned by the law of God, yet reprieved by the divine goodness, placed providentially in various states of probation. * * * Slavery is one of the constituted forms of government, and its powers and duties are accredited and described both in the Old and New Testaments. It is wisely adapted to the ruder portions of mankind.

The second class he calls delirious men, by which term we suppose he means abolitionists, and of them he says:

They are not numerous, probably not as numerous or powerful as you imagine.—There are scarcely five in a village, and fewer in the rural districts.

But he adds:

They have a wide field in our third and largest class. This third class is the great body of the people..

Among this great third class the Doctor sees all the danger and trouble. Why, and how? Answer, because they do not believe in the Doctor's peculiar theology and his peculiar philosophy, in which, so far as we know, he stands alone, not having a single public adherent, either clerical or lay, unless we are now to count in Mr. Burke as his first convert.

The Doctor lays the axe to the root of the tree in this fashion:

The true account of these alarming irregularities, in my judgment, is this, viz.: that above the constitution and the laws, and independent of the Bible, and experience, and now, to a great extent, the conceited interpreter of both, a dreamy, speculative fallacy, a higher law, a fiction of the imaginary universal reason, an ultra divine instinct, insensibly gains possession of the common mind.

Now hear the Doctor denounce Jefferson and the Declaration of Independence—and then bless slavery:

We owe it mainly to your own Jefferson, for whose sake you should bear, as long as possible, with our infirmities. He was caught by the illuminism and cosmopolitism of his times, and embolied his chimera in the "glittering generalities" of the Declaration of Independence. That gilded falsehood has betrayed us. Your inherited slavery, whatever evils may attend it, was a merciful antidote to the atheistic poison which has crept through all our veins.

Then going on farther, the Dr. speaks of this atheistic poison of the Declaration in these terms:

It virtually enthrones humanity. It makes every child a man, every man a great, and every great man God, who is willingly ignorant of our common fall and ruin, &c.

Here follows a heavy dose of the Doctor's peculiar theology, for which we have not room, in which he says "that no rights of fallen men are absolute; and that happiness is not his legitimate end and aim, but the honor of his Creator"—and that we must "wait, in the use of the appointed means of a probationary state for the restitution promised by the Spirit."

He complains that we don't believe nor do this; and argues in the following terms in favor of the puritans, and against Jefferson and his comrades:

It is this speculative fiction, not of our Puritan but our revolutionary fathers, whom we blame, however, not for revolutionizing society, but for re-constructing it on a false philosophical idea; it is this humanitarian, pantheistic image—the unknown God which we ignorantly worship — that insensibly weakens our hold on the divine realities, and consequently unsettles our foundations. * * * However self-evident the fundamental axiom of our Declaration may have appeared to its illuminated framers, or however true it would be if men were divine and existed as a community of Gods, or as developments of the divine essence, in our present actual world it can work out only confusion and derangement. It has in fact done so wherever experience has tried or history described it. Yet it is the political gospel of New England.

All this anti-Jeffersonian doctrine the Democratic Standard endorses as sound.

Now see how this Jefferson's atheism poisons theology.

It works unseen in our speculative theology, and shapes that now ductile science to the visionary idea of the ability, the capability and the perfectibility of man, and infects it with a sentimental universalistic element that deprives it of its former power.—It reduces our ethics to the level of mere expediency, and proposes utility and happiness as the end of life, and a cunning policy as its rule.

* * * It is our idol. The painted goddess of Liberty flaunts on our high places. We do her reverence, and go away drunk with the wine of her spiritual fornication.

One more short extract must suffice:—

We start back when we look into the chasm of disunion. The boldest quail before its unimaginable terrors. Harper's Ferry is a providential omen enough to scare all but the hopelessly insane.

We have already quoted part of the Dr's. call for slaves in New England, and his semi-prophecy that the children of our present Abolitionists may be slaves here, &c. This we need not repeat. But we will take occasion to say, that while we know the Rev. Dr. to be a man of eminent learning, and great personal worth,—we do not suppose this political, theological, and philosophical Letter will find one disciple in the whole State of New Hampshire, that believes the whole of it.

True we have quoted all endorsement of it, by the Standard: but no one supposes Mr. Burke would undertake to support the Doctor's theology, or knows exactly what it is.

NEBRASKA, Gov. Black of that Territory tells us, cannot be a free State. Recently the legislature passed an act to prohibit slavery, which Gov. Black, Democrat, vetoed, giving the following reasons:—1st, That the cession to the United States of Louisiana, which was then a slave Territory, carried with it the right of all who might settle in any part thereof to bring their slaves with them, if they saw fit; and 2d, That while the people at the proper time may determine the character of their domestic institutions, the Territorial Legislature has no such power, and that it is only when a State Constitution is formed, and the State is admitted into the Union, that popular sovereignty becomes inherent. While the Territory remains the common property of all the States, the citizens of each have rights which cannot be abridged by the local Legislature.

He admits that the organic act permits the people to manage their own affairs in their own way; but then comes the question, he says—who are the people? He denies that the representatives are the people, or have any right to act in the matter. In other words, the people may be unanimous in their opinion, and may send their representatives to embody that opinion in legislation, but since the representatives are not in fact the people, they have no power for such action. Query, whether this is popular sovereignty?

AGAINST DUELING. — The Louisville Journal in noticing the recent case of Brush and Grow says —

Our chief purpose in noticing the matter at all is to vindicate the right of anti-dueling folks generally, to make just as good use of their tongues and fists as if their legs were pound cannon, their bellies mortars, their heads bombshells, their fingers dirks, their ears bowie knives, and their breath smoke and flame? What! shall one man say to another, you ought to be very polite to me, for you are unwilling to violate the laws against duelling, but I'll insult you as often as I like, for I have no regard for the laws of earth or heaven!!

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—There have been many private conferences to-day among members of the different parties, with the view of perfecting the arrangements for to-morow, regarding the Speakership. The prospect is that if the Republicans unite all of the Sherman vote on Mr. Pennington, he will receive several accessions from the Anti-Lecompton Democrats, including Mr. Adrain and Messrs. Holman, Davis of Indiana, and Allen of Ohio. The three dissenting Democrats have not yielded to the persuasion of their friends to vote for Mr. Smith of North Carolina, nor is it probable that they will, according to what is considered reliable information. Since Friday, some gentlemen have been making special investigation into the political antecedents of Mr. Smith, with the design of damaging his position as a candidate for Speaker. There is no data for an assertion as to the result of the contest, further than it promises to be decided within the present week—perhaps to morrow.

A LONG TRIP.—The United States steam frigate, Mississippi, Capt. William C. Nicholson, which arrived at Boston Friday afternoon, went into commission July, 1857. She has sailed about 60,000 miles. Her time has been mostly spent in the East Indies. During the cruise the ship has lost eight seamen by death; of this number six died from chronic disease, one from cholera, and one man, John Brown, a coal heaver, was drowned, in attempting to swim ashore from the ship in Shanghae river. Otherwise the tript has been without shadows.

☞ In the Police Court at Manchester, S. R. Perkins and J. W. Joy, were held to bail on Friday, for keeping liquors for sale. Mrs. John Hardyman, for assault on Ann Martin, a widow woman, was bound over in the sum of $200; probably will go to Amherst jail, for want of sureties.

The proposition of a Virginia newspaper to place that State under the protection of France, has not escaped the attention of the French. Naturally egotistical and disposed to accept any ordinary compliment as their just due, they were not prepared, nevertheless, for this last and most overwhelming stroke of all. They don't exactly comprehend.—Paris corr. N. Y. Times.

We hear that there are nearly fifty panoramas in Boston for rent or sale. Nonpayment of dues has necessitated the owners to leave them in pledge. Singular that men will be rash enough to invest money in a style of entertainment no longer popular.—Sat. Eve. Gazette.

The "bone of contention."—Jaw-bone.

ADAMS ON BURNS AND GIN.—An interesting Temperance gathering took place at Worcester, Mass., last week. Mr. Tolman, the president, spoke of the good results of the temperance law of 1855, and that in nearly all the country towns of the State, the law had been successfully maintained. Out of eleven hundred thousand inhabitants of Massachusetts, seven hundred thousand were living under the blessing of the enforcement of this law.

After music by a select choir, and prayer, Rev. J. G. Adams, the speaker of the occasion, made an address, full of interest and of a practical bearing. The subject was Robert Burns, the day being the anniversary of the birth of the distinguished poet. The speaker gave a brief history of his life, his character, and the inspiration of his poetry. Burns had his faults, like all other men, but his great fault was the intoxicating bowl. Allusion was made to the manner in which the birth-day of Burns was celebrated one year ago in Boston. There the intoxicating bowl was drank to the very dregs, and some of the noble orators caught the inspiration of gin, instead of Burns. The speaker denounced in strong terms this kind of celebrations, in memory of the departed. He invoked the aid of the wealthy, the church, the fashionable and the influential, in favor of this noble reform. He spoke strongly against the custom of our principal men, in taking the social glass.—He said that was going to do more to increase the drunkenness of our people than anything else.

The Worcester Transcript says the meeting was a decided success, and trusts good will be the result.

DEATHS OF OLD PEOPLE IN MAINE. Died, in Portland, Anne Peabody, aged 96. Also in Portland, Jan. 26th and 27th, Misses Penelope and Catherine Martin, sisters, and daughters of Wm. Martin, who came from England in 1783, and settled in North Yarmouth, but removed to Portland in 1804. These ladies had an accomplished education, and for many years they kept a high school for young ladies in North Yarmouth and in Portland, where a thorough education was imparted. Their school attracted many scholars from abroad, and there are hundreds now living who received their education in this school. These two ladies are the last of the family. William, their last brother, died Feb. 14, 1849, at the age of 86. Penelope died on Thursday, aged 86, and Catherine died on Friday, aged 95. They were "pleasant in their lives, and at death they were not divided."

Mr Stephen Thurston, of Madison, Me., died Jan. 23d, at the advanced age of 99 years. He was the oldest person in that vicinity. His son, Col. Wm. Thurston of the same town recently died, aged about 75 years.

MRS. CHILD'S CHILD.—The Washington States copies from the New Orleans Picayune a touching story, to the effect that a Col. Lee, of Mississippi, has for years taken care of a daughter of Mrs. Child, during a long and severe illness, all the while that her hard-hearted parents refused to do anything for her relief. Says the Picayune:

This was all voluntary on the part of the gentleman. Mrs. Maria L. Child, of Boston, the would-be enthusiast and abolition sympathizer, has indeed most nobly repaid the noble kindness of Col. Lee. This statement is a fact, and abundant vouchers can be furnished, if necessary.

Now, says the N. Y. Evening Post, as Mrs. Child never had a daughter, nor a child of any kind, we do not see that she was under any especial obligations to the generous Col. Lee of Mississippi.

☞ Pierre Dumont, a volunteer of 1792, the only survivor of the heroic defenders of Mayence, died lately at Berthecourt, near Noailles, aged 91. He was in all the battles of the North, and on the Rhine, and only quitted the public service when covered with wounds. In La Vendee, he received a sabre and a musket attestation of humanity and bravery.

☞ The Great Eastern steamship has cost nearly $5,000,000; the company that built her got tired of expending money, and sold her, for less than half her cost, to a new company; and the stock of the new company is now selling for fifty cents on the dollar.

☞ Some three years ago a Doctor Baltzley disappeared mysteriously from Cleveland, Ohio, and his wife sought to recover the insurance on his life. The company refused payment, however, and, wisely, for he was found since keeping school in Virginia.

☞ The Charleston Mercury in an article upon Senator Fitzpatrick, says: "The Democratic party must be a Southern party or no party. It cannot serve slaveholders and also freesoilers with their arrogant and ruinous pretensions. The days of compromise and compromisers are past."

Organ-grinder's Adage—One good turn deserves another.

A Prior Attachment—Bennett's attachment to the "Calumniator of the Old Dominion."

FIRE.—New York, Jan. 29.—About one o'clock this morning, a fire broke out at No. 113 Fulton street, occupied by Wynkoop, Hallenbeck & Co., job printers, and Mr. Robert Bonner, as the press-room of the Ledger. The building extended through from Fulton to Ann street, and was filled with paper, presses, and other printing materials, steam engine, etc. The flames spread with fearful rapidity, and entirely baffled the exertions of the firemen, and in the space of an hour and a half, the building and its contents were completely destroyed.

Building 115 Fulton street, occupied by Ward, Close & Co., wholesale druggists, was also almost entirely destroyed.

The aggregate loss is about $175,000—understood to be about two-thirds insured.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(Tribune correspondence.)—A number of leading Democratic politicians from Kansas are here with reference to the question of admission.—Southern Senators propose altering the Western boundary, which is on the 25th meridian of longitude west from Washington, under the Wyandotte Constitution, extending it to the summit of the Rocky Mountains, and the Northern line to the Platte River. This alteration is designed to make the State Democratic by including 10,000 settlers at Pike's Peak. If passed, it would require a new election for Congress, Legislature and the like. The programme is for the Senate to amend the House bill as stated, and in the event of its refusal to accept the modification, to exclude Kansas the present session.

☞ On Monday we had another January thaw. We have had about a dozen such thaws this year—and now wheels begin to outrun the runners. Since the 6th inst. up to the 24th, the weather at the White Mountains has been charmingly mild, ranging from 26 to 50 above zero.

☞ Van Deusen Bro.'s Magical Blueing, for washing, blueing cloths, blue ink, &c., is is sold by Robert Otis, Kittery. If it can perform half it praises, it must be cheap.—We will try.

☞ J. H. Locke has received the Authentic History of the Lawrence Calamity, which we noticed Monday morning. It is compiled by Mr. E. B. Haskell of the Boston Journal, and Mr. S. W. Mason of the of the Traveller.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is so painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, I cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it brings the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary diseases; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a mild nutritive tonic is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

To Mr. F. LAPORTE, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the Sisters of CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORTE, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that he contracted a cough, had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual occupation. We know of no authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected."

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 0 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORTE, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. Local.

☞ In the Police Court on Monday morning, before Justice Odell, Patrick Buckley was brought up, on a charge of drunkenness, and sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction, and pay a fine of $4 and costs.

Henry N. Watson, alias "Gov. Dorr," was next brought up on the charge of being drunk in the streets. He plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $3 and costs of prosecution. Upon being called upon to answer to the charge brought against him, he said: "Your Honor, there are certain extenuating circumstances in my case. My drunkenness has become a disease; I therefore beg you to look upon it as such, rather than as a crime." He exhibits strong marks of insanity; undoubtly occasioned by a free use of bad rum.

He was taken back to the lock-up, and a mittimus will probably be issued in default of payment of the fine.

A correspondent informs us that on Saturday, the "Gov." purchased a turkey and a pair of chickens of a countryman, requesting him to call at his office and get his pay. The man, after hunting in vain some length of time for the "office," concluded that he had been "sold," and applied to the City Marshal, who arrested the Governor.

☞ On Tuesday morning, a little before 1 o'clock, fire was discovered in an old building on Mechanic street, near Drake's Iron Foundry,—owned by Luke Laighton. It was wholly consumed, together with a boat which was housed there. Some worthless scamp—name unknown—set it on fire.

☞ The ladies of the Pearl street Free-will Baptist Society will hold a Social Festival at Jefferson Hall, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. The Hall is neatly fitted up, and the tables will be bountifully supplied with refreshments, fancy articles, &c. The hall will be open Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock, for children. Admission 6 cents; adults 15 cents. The proceeds to be devoted to the benefit of the above Society. The public are invited to attend, and help a good cause. *

HANOVER STREET CHAPEL LECTURES.—The closing entertainment will be a humorous Poem entitled "The Yankee Kaleidoscope"—delivered by Rev. T. W. Lewis, of Boston, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1. Admission 15 cents. Doors open at 7;—commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

FAIR AT THE OCEAN HOUSE.—The M. E. church at Rye, having been recently repaired, the ladies of the Society who have so nobly interested themselves in the good work, propose holding another Fair to meet the expenses incurred.

Their first one for this purpose, held a year ago, is well remembered by all who were able to gain admittance to the crowded halls of the Surf House. This year, the spacious halls of the Ocean house having been secured, no effort will be spared to make the occasion one of rare interest and profit.

The supply of useful and fancy articles will be large, and refreshments will be furnished in abundance. Commencing on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31st, and continue two evenings. If stormy, the first pleasant evenings after. Come one, come all, and aid a good cause. Per Order.

☞ In the Betsey Farmer Will Case, as we learn from the News Letter, the jury disagreed, and were discharged on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The jury stood nine for the will, and three against it, viz. Messrs. John Moore of Auburn, foreman; Chase Wiggin of Exeter; and Daniel Porter of Chester. The News Letter gives some of the most important testimony on both sides. Gilman Currier, who wrote the will, testified that she dictated it, and that she borrowed the Probate Directory of him, and was positive in favor of the will.

On the other hand, Mrs. Clement, who took care of the deceased in her last sickness, testified:—

I went there on the 12th of Aug., 1856; she then could not walk across the room without a crutch or chair; she had a tumor; could not wear a stocking; found Dr. Bridge there; her house was in bad condition; the cats had been under the bed for years, and left their filth there. Her clothes were very filthy; should think they had never been changed; said she had night clothes, but was not allowed to wear them,—there were plenty of things in the house. I took down the bed, and took a shovel and hoe and cleaned out all the filth;—Betsey said it would ruin her. She kept her money in an old-fashioned trunk, in the middle room, and carried the key belonging to the room about her neck. The trunk was heavy; it was as much as I could do to lift it. She failed gradually after I came.

In September the deceased could not use a pen. Henry Farmer came there, and told Betsey that the spirit of his mother had given directions for a will, through a certain medium, etc.—And on such testimony as this, it seems, nine jurors were in favor of sustaining the will.

WORCESTER, MASS.—Ivers W. Phillips, Esq., the new City Marshal of Worcester, is executing the liquor law with firmness of purpose. As an instance of his success, the Worcester Transcript of Thursday relates the following:

"The City Marshal, yesterday, walked through the saloon under 265 Main street, in company with its owner. Everything was fair and pleasant to the outward eye. Soon after he visited the saloon a second time, and noticing that one back room had not been opened by the keeper of the saloon, Mr. C. C. Dexter, he inquired what was in that room. Mr. Dexter replied that he did not have charge of the room, and that he knew nothing about it. The Marshal and saloon keeper were standing within six feet of the door, and at that moment the door gently opened a little, and a voice from within inquired, "All right, Mr. Dexter?" "No," thundered Mr. Dexter, in reply; but before the reply had got out of his lips the Marshal had darted through the door, and there, under the full blaze of a gas light, was a tempting display of bottles, decanters, demijohns, &c. In a few moments these articles of contraband traffic were on there way to the police office, and a short time after, Mr. C. C. Dexter, lovingly embraced by a police officer, went to the same place, charged with maintaining a nuisance. Before he had been there long, a capias arrived summoning to attend the Superior Court on a former charge, and he was from there committed to jail.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT LITERARY LADY.—The community will learn with regret of the decease of Mrs. Eliza Lee Follen, widow of the late Prof. Charles Follen, of Boston, which occurred at her residence in Brookline, on Thursday afternoon, after an illness of about a week, from typhus fever. The husband of Mrs. Follen was Professor of History in Harvard University, and was lost by the burning of the steamer Lexington on Long Island Sound, about twenty years ago.

Mrs. Follen was a daughter of Samuel Cabot, once a distinguished merchant in Boston, and was connected with many of the most influential families in the metropolis. Her literary attainments have rendered her eminent as an authoress. She edited for many years an admirable serial for children, called "The Child's Friend," and published "Selections from Fenelon," and a work entitled the "Well-Spent Hour," which latter obtained a wide-spread popularity. She was an intimate friend of William Ellory Channing, and was well known in the Unitarian body as a zealous advocate of his views.

She has been one of the many prominent members of the Ladies' Anti-Slavery Society, and her views upon the subject of slavery have led her to take a leading part in all the movements for its abolition. She was a woman of amiable disposition, attractive in her manners, and of rare conversational powers. Her age was about sixty-three.—Boston Journal.

☞ The Pennsylvanian, Mr. Buchanan's Philadelphia organ, thus burlesques the finale of the late Baillie Peyton dinner in that city:—

The concluding scene of this grand dramatical-farcical-politico-protective-anti-tariff-Union-Abolition-Republican-anti-Republican-new-Constitutional-anti-old-Constitutional Democratic party—this high falutin, feu de joie dinner, is best given in our report, from which we copy:

The remarks of Mr. McMichael excited much bitter feeling.

"You must stop that hissing, sir," said one of the committee to a merchant standing near the reporters' table.

"You can't stop me!"

"I will have you put out."

"That may be, but you can't do it."

"That's so," replied a friend standing near.

"But, sir you have no right to hiss."

"You be ——, I paid for my ticket, and have a right to hiss or applaud, as I please. [Still hissing.]

"Stop that, I say, sir, or we will put you out."

"You haven't got men enough,' replied a stalwart man on the first circle.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no winding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EARS with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the hard wear and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Burleigh, the New York gossip-writer for the Boston Journal, thus libels the ladies:—

The ladies of New York have adopted some queer customs, that seem to make them a peculiar people. One, is the almost universal habit of chewing gum—as the men chew tobacco. It is used in high life and low—by the school girl, the maid and the matron. It is a made article, clear as amber, rolled up in small sticks, coated with sugar, and called "sugar-coated chewing gum." A large manufactory of it is kept going in New York, and the sale and consumption is immense. Another custom is, the chewing a small aromatic seed, called the caromal; it is quite costly, bringing the round sum of two dollars per pound. The ladies have their pockets full, and use it inordinately. It has a pungent, biting taste, not unlike a modified or subdued pepper.—The use of lavender is also quite common, as ladies say it adds to the brilliancy of the eye—if not to the glibness of the tongue.—Arsenic is used to make the complexion more brilliant. Ether is not wholly excluded from the arsenal of those who resolve to defend themselves against the assaults of time; and painting is as common as dressing the hair.

Broadway has been a sight for more than a week. It has been an inch deep with liquid mud, and the crossings, as well as the sidewalks, have been almost impassible.—But bad as the walking has been, the ladies have not been detained from their usual promenades; but with rich silks gathered up in their arms, as if they were carrying home a week's washing, with large, visible boots, bespattered underclothes, skirts trailing in the mud an inch deep, in a long single line they march up and down Broadway in a doleful looking procession that no other city can parallel.

SHARP PRACTICE.—A day or two since, one of our good citizens, who will be recognized at once if we call him John Smith, happened to go into a grocery establishment, and understanding that silver change was in demand, thought what premium they paid for it, and was informed five per cent. Thereupon he drew forth ninety-four cents in change, and handed it over to the grocery man. This satisfactory speculation, or something else, led our friend into the extravagance of calling for a three-cent glass of beer, which was furnished and drank, when he drew forth the identical dollar bill and tendered it in payment, which was received, and ninety seven cents in change handed back. At the latest date, the grocery man was attempting to figure up the profit on that glass of beer.—Kenosha Telegraph.

MRS. PARTINGTON AT THE FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE.—The venerable Mrs. Partington recently paid a visit to the Female Medical College, where the manakins and other anatomical apparatus were to her explained. "And that's the accidental bone," said she, resting the tip of her black-gloved finger upon the back part of the skeleton which was hanging in the lecture-room. "Very proper name too, for like always bumps his aquarium about in that spot when he gets hilarious a turning somersets or a skating." "Oracles and Canticles," and she pushed her spectacles a little nearer her eyes as Dr. Gregory opened the heart of the manakin. "La! the heart is made of oracles and canticles, is it? How proportionate the hymn, 'O, may heart in tune be found!'" And don't desecrators (she probably meant dissecters) of the human body find more than a complimental number of these oracles in the hearts of spiritual meteors, for they are as full of oracles as the pitying dames were full of the used to keep shot up in the old heathen templars.

SEIZURE AT SACCARAPPA.—The citizens of Saccarappa, of all parties having become much annoyed by the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors in that village, resolved to have the nuisance abated; and on Saturday afternoon, the warrants were put into the hands of Deputy Sheriff Huse, who found in the stores of Charles Paine and Joseph Pratt, and the dwelling house of Silas Hall, about 100 gallons of the "ardent," in barrels, jugs, demijohns, and decanters, all of which were taken possession of and conveyed to a place of safety. No resistance was made to the officer, except by Mrs. Hall, who succeeded in destroyed a bottle of liquor before it came into Mr. Huse's possession.—Portland Advertiser.

☞ There was fugitive slave in Stamford, Ct., the other day. He was afraid of being arrested by a man who gave him a short ride, and ran away. His friend thereupon took him for a burglar, and pursued him. The fugitive was caught on the top of the organ of the church, which he had broken into, questioned, quieted, fed, and sent on his way.

☞ Report says that Victor Emmanuel, on New Year's day, in reply to a hope of the Neapolitan Ambassador that all would be arranged peacefully, said, "How, arranged in peace? not at all—the cannon will settle that;" and to the Spanish Minister—"Tell your Queen she ought to unite with me, and not believe all those pasticio of the priests."

DEATH FROM BURNS.—Wm. H. Tripp and wife, of Boston, were both drunk on Saturday, and at night the woman fell on a fluid lamp and was badly burned about her abdomen and lower limbs; and on Monday morning, when the husband got up to go to work, the woman lay with her child awake on her arm, and an empty beer mug by her side, but she was dead.

Almost every wife would be a good and happy wife were she only loved enough. Let husbands, present and prospective, think of this.—London Journal.

This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Cosmetic cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the distressing cough of this season. I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of Mrs. Ricker, in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief from Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, and feel that I could sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry have frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer procure and take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say, in all of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who took it, but all are delighted to speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we know to be true, after ten years experience, and publish the testimonial of what we know to be true. In almost every instance where a child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, a single dose will relieve it in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and never-failing success, in the hands of the child from pain, but and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every other preparation that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who has had the most extensive experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, and comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of whose relations have been physicians.—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. Every Cold in the Head it is a sure remedy.—For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions, it is invaluable. Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most economical article ever offered, as the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Weak Lungs, or Consumption in its early stages, there is no medicine in all the universe so efficacious as the celebrated

DR. WM. AUSTIN'S BALSAMIC ELIXIR OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Which is warranted to cure the worst cases of Consumption, or Bronchial Affection, if taken according to directions, and persevered in for a reasonable time. Its wonderful curative powers have been tested in all climates, and in the most inclement weather, and in every instance it has given the most satisfactory results. Its effects are speedy, and permanent, and many persons who were considered by their friends and themselves in the last stage of Consumption, have been restored to perfect health and strength by its use. The result has been the production of this simple but effective compound, and effect so much more immediate and decisive than any other preparation of Hypophosphites, that it has become the most popular medicine of the day. If your lungs are sore, your throat ulcerated, your chest pained, your cough troublesome, your strength prostrated, you will find in this compound the most speedy and effectual relief. Prepared only by WM. AUSTIN, Chemist, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists everywhere. Price $1 per bottle.

WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage,

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in the praise of it. A few testimonials out of many can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Jan. 29, 1858.
Gent:—I received a bottle of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 60 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, until several months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to the wood, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAYENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Sinnaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.
To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make a tender to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," have the hair well restored, and a new growth over; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
W. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage southward. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Dyssinger & Wood.—Dear Sirs—Having lost the greater portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your Restorative, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz.: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

HALLET, DAVIS & CO.,
409 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON,
Manufacturers of Best Square & Grand Piano-Fortes,
WHICH ARE WARRANTED FOR FIVE YEARS.

Having had an extensive experience of 25 years in the business, and having at present the most competent manufacturers, and making Pianos per week, they feel confident in guaranteeing perfect satisfaction to all patrons.

As an evidence of the superiority of their Pianos, they have received the awards of thirty-two Premiums, with Medals of gold, silver and bronze; nine of which were first Premiums for the best Grands and Parlor Grands, over all competitors.

There are many instruments in Portsmouth, from this manufactory—to the owners of any of which, we would refer.

A splendid 7-octave Piano from the above celebrated makers, may be seen at the Temple; and any information given, or instruments furnished at the manufacturers' prices, on application to

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cleaning, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes thin, diluted weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in diseases on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, foul or stagnant air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or scrofula. The foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family traits origin directly in the scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this unkind infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most powerful remedy which the skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active principles of this root, long discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIVE AND EXCRETIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, EMPTINESS, RUSH OF ANTHOWS TO THE HEAD, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth. Scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this fluid. The cure of any of the above ills is impossible, in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC are so compact and so efficacious within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and their gentle energy purifies the whole organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these operations, many a sufferer, invaded by pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inexpensive.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous ills that lurk in every man's path. It is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Worms and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While nauseous inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed by every test they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 1, 1860.

☞ The license law doesn't work any better in New York city than a prohibitory law would. Out of ten thousand rumsellers in that city, only 357 took licenses, last year, and some 40 of these did not pay up. The district attorney refused to prosecute the delinquents, and one of the commissioners therefore took it upon himself; but of 6000 suits commenced, all but very few fell through, partly because the law is faulty in itself, and partly because the liquor dealers form a powerful association to defend one another regardless of expense.

The old license laws in New Hampshire used to give a little conventional respectability to the traffic—but as a restraint they were powerless.

"The Belfast Journal affirms that the peculations of Peck date pack to 1858, and said that he expended large sums for the Republican party in the 6th district to secure the re-election of Foster to Congress."

We see the above paragraph going the rounds of the Democratic papers. Our only remark at this time is to pronounce it false in every line, word, and letter.—Kennebec Journal.

The Bath Times says, "a private confidential letter from Portland leads us to expect a fluttering when Mr. Peck's disclosure is made public. He is not the only sinner in the case, and we wish we could believe that some whose names have been roughly handled were innocent. The whole facts will not tend to increase public confidence in human virtue."

Out with it. Let them flutter.

☞ The Strafford County Democratic Convention, passed a Douglas supporting resolution, and also

Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States is neither anti-slavery nor pro-slavery—it neither establishes nor prohibits slavery in the States or Territories, beyond the power of the people to control it, by the legally and fairly expressed will of a majority of the voters, through their Legislature.

Resolved, That after the organization of a Territory, it possesses the same attributes of sovereignty as a State, with respect to domestic legislation.

There was a substitute offered instead of these, viz.:

Resolved, That under the existing state of things in the Democratic party throughout the country, it is unnecessary to take radical ground upon the subject of the differences of opinion which may exist among Democrats in relation to slavery in the Territories, or the Dred Scott decision, but that all Democrats should unite, &c.

This was voted down.

CONGRESS.—The House of Representatives on Monday failed to elect a Speaker, although they came very near it. Every part of the House was crowded, and when, after a long debate upon the subject, the floor had been cleared of those who had no right there, Mr. Sherman, in a manly speech, withdrew his name as a candidate for Speaker. Three ballots were taken; on the first of which 118, and on the second 117 were necessary for a choice. On every ballot Mr. Pennington of New Jersey, republican, had 115 votes, and Mr. Smith, of North Carolina, "South American," 113.

In the Senate, several memorials and petitions were presented. Mr. Wilkinson of Minn., offered an amendment to the resolution of Mr. Brown, declaring that it is the duty of Congress to legislate for the Territories, and to protect the interests of free labor in them, etc. Mr. Nicholson of Tenn. followed in a speech on the "irrepressible conflict." The Senate then went into executive session, and soon adjourned.

☞ Thaddeus Hyatt, President of the National Kansas Aid Committee, has written to Senator Mason, a letter in answer to a subpœna to appear before the Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee, on the 1st of February, in which he informs the Committee that, while he will so far regard the summons as to appear before them, he will not answer any of their interrogations. He calls in question the exercise, by a legislative body, of powers purely judicial, that are neither incident to the government, nor conferred by any express provision of the Constitution. In this position, Mr. Hyatt is sustained by the best legal advice of Massachusetts and New York.

☞ There was another Senatorial Caucus at San Francisco on the evening of the 6th inst., at which nine ballots were had.—The first stood as follows: Weller 40, Denver 33, Baldwin and Washington each 9, and McDougal 3. The caucus then adjourned by a vote of 54 to 44, the Weller men opposing the movement. The trial of strength produced intense excitement, and was the occasion of two fights. One member voted by proxy, having been disabled for the time by a blow on the head, struck out by a Denver advocate.

☞ A man named David Dixon, who had been on a spree in Lowell for several days, was found dead in his chair, Sunday, at his boarding-house in that city.

FAST HORSES.

To the Editor of the Rockingham Chronicle—Sir:—The extract which you make from the Journal of Agriculture, in regard to "Fast Horses," does the Journal injustice, inasmuch as a qualifying clause of that article is omitted. And I apprehend you labor under some misapprehension in regard to the true intent and meaning of the resolution offered at the annual meeting of the State Agricultural Society. It does not propose to rule out or exclude "fast horses," but that horses that are nothing else but fast, shall not be allowed to compete for premiums.

The following paragraph is part of the article from which you made the extract:

"Lest some of our readers should misunderstand us, we will say that a good carriage horse that can "go fast," is not objected to. That point, in awarding premiums, should be considered. A good farm horse that can go a mile in three minutes, or can go ten miles an hour, is worth more than a slow horse. But the horses that are nothing but "two-forty," are not worth one red cent to the farmer, and he had better not try to raise them."

This is the position the Journal has taken, and as the subject will probably be thoroughly discussed, I wish that this position should be not misrepresented.

If it can be shown that it is for the advancement of the interests of Agriculture in New Hampshire, that the State Society should offer, as it did last year, $75, for the fastest pacing or the fastest trotting horse, and only $15 for the best pair of working horses, or $20 for the best family horse, or $20 for the best span of matched horses, or $30 for the best stallion, or $10 for the best walking horse,—then I shall most cheerfully abandon my position.

Truly yours, Z. BREED,
Ed. Journal of Agriculture.

Manchester, Jan. 28, 1860.

A CHAPTER FOR THE LEDGER.—Mr. Robert Bonner, of the Ledger, who has been the cause of so many "sensations," has just experienced one himself. On Saturday afternoon the Ledger building was literally eviscerated by a terrible conflagration, which destroyed a large amount of property, including no less than ten cylinder presses. Fortunately, however, for the mighty army of his subscribers, the greater part of Mr. Bonner's edition for the current week was saved, and there will be no delay in the distribution of the paper. We should be disposed to add an expression of sympathy with our cotemporary in this severe calamity, were we not convinced that, with characteristic energy, he will convert it into an absolute advantage, and that what would prove a catastrophe in many other enterprises will figure simply as an incident in the history of the Ledger.—N. Y. Times.

MECHANICAL BAKERY. — The Boston Saturday Gazette regrets to learn that the project of establishing a grand bakery in that city has been abandoned. This is to be regretted, for while every department of manufactures has witnessed great improvements, the making of bread, in that city at least, has undergone no change for a century or more. We do not know, says the editor, that Mr. Russell's plan was entirely feasible, but, it is quite certain that cheaper and better bread is required in a city where the staff of life costs more than in other cities. It is a singular fact that the best bread made is now manufactured in our pauper and charitable institutions.

A BAKERY AFTER ALL.—The Transcript is pleased to correct a statement of the Boston Evening Gazette, that there was to be no Mechanical Bakery in Boston. A company has been organized under the following management: Benjamin T. Reed, President; C. P. Curtis, jr., George Snell, John T. Heard, Charles Inches, Directors; Jeffrey Brackett, Treasurer; H. A. V. Post, Clerk. The contract for the machinery has been made with the Novelty Iron Works in New York, and they are, under forfeiture, to have the establishment ready for operation by the 20th of next May. The company have leased buildings in Eliot, near Tremont street, for the Bakery, and the first instalment from the share-owners is partially paid. The whole capital is to be paid on or before the first of May. The shares are $100 each.

A SHIP CANAL ACROSS CAPE COD.—This measure, which would save one hundred and fifty miles of dangerous navigation around the Cape, lessening the rate of freights, the cost of insurance, and doing an almost incalculable good to the commerce of the State of Massachusetts, will soon be considered by the Legislature. The expense of building such a canal has been estimated, from surveys taken by the United States, at about $500,000.

☞ Van Deusen Bro.'s Magical Blueing, for washing, blueing cloths, blue ink, etc., is sold by Robert Otis, Kittery. If it can perform half it promises, it must be cheap.—We will try.

☞ Milburn's "Ten Years of a Preacher's Life" is highly praised by the London press. Who don't read an American book?

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Pilot, (Irish Catholic,) does not think much of Congressmen resigning, for I suspect (says he) that,—

All the endorsers of the impending crisis, would be reelected. If there should be a few exceptions in manufacturing and commercial districts, it is probable that there has been a John Brown gain in the infected districts. I am sorry that this should be so, but I fear that it is, in point of fact, from the circulation of the Helper pamphlet and the Tribune.

The same writer speaks as follows on the outrages on Irish democrats at the South.

As a sincere friend of the South, I very much regret the outrages which have been perpetrated there on alleged abolitionists. Where no overt act, tending to insurrection, had been committed, expulsion would have been sufficient. Conservative and Union-loving men at the North cannot be expected to justify the tarring and feathering and flogging of men for the expression of an opinion. I do not see that we need to raise a question of nationality in this matter. Whether the man outraged was an Irishman, German or American, the principle is the same.

In the case of Power, noticed in the leader of the last Pilot, it would seem that there must be some mistake, or his fellow-workmen, whatever their country, deserve to be flogged, and tarred, and feathered themselves, for permitting such an outrage.

HELP WANTED.—By a lady—whose husband obtains his meals away from home, and who would only give trouble by being present in the evening and very early in the morning, and whose children are boarded out—a young lady to take entire charge of the domestic department. She can have her afternoons, evenings and Sundays to herself, with unlimited privileges for gentlemens' society in the kitchen. In that apartment are rocking chairs and lounges, with a choice library of works of fiction. The beds are given out to make, the scrubbing is done by special contract, and the lady of the house cleans her own pots and washes her own dishes. She will, also, if agreeable to the one who takes the situation, instruct her in the piano and guitar, with Italian and singing. Wages no object. Young ladies of the Hibernian nation would be preferred, especially those who come fresh from the green hills of Erin. Applications will receive immediate attention. Address, Laura Matilda, care of this paper.—Vanity Fair.

☞ From a leader in the London Times, on slavery in the United States, we take the following:—

"The Union of the American people is not only of importance to themselves, but to the world at large. It has been fully proved and not only on the American continent, but in our own colonies, that the forced equality of the European and African race tends, not to the elevation of the black, but to the degradation of the white man. We cannot find any sympathy for those who, in the United States, would try the plan of a half-caste republic, and we trust that the federal government and the right-thinking part of the community will protect the Southern statesfrom a repetition of such outrages as that of Harper's Ferry.

☞ An Indian was literally baked to death in Hannibal, Oswego county, N. Y., Thursday. While under the influence of liquor, he had been induced by an Irish woman to enter an oven, which was a large old-fashioned one of brick, where she confined him, intending to take him out in a short time. Meanwhile the oven was heated for some purpose, and he was allowed to remain in this hot prison for nearly an hour, when he was found blistered and swollen, and entirely dead.

☞ Last winter, the Michigan Legislature enacted a law which, in fact, really abolished the grand jury system, having made it optional either to indict upon information or to empanel a jury, and the former is receiving the decided preference. Already Vermont has followed in her footsteps, and now the proper committee in the Wisconsin Senate, has been instructed, by a unanimous vote, to bring in a similar bill, which will without doubt pass into a law.

Dean Smith said in one of his sarcastic moods: 'We see what God Almighty thinks of riches, by the people to whom he gives them."

No man should undervalue riches, says Uncle Toby,—nor can any man despise him who has gained wealth honestly and honorably, and who uses it like a man, with liberal economy.

VERMONT PRODUCTS.—The St. Albans (Vt.) Democrat furnishes the following as the amount of butter and cheese furnished from that State during the year 1859:—Total lbs. of butter, 2,348,776; cheese, 1,266,658 lbs. In 1859, the average number of lbs. of butter per week was 45,168; cheese, 24,358 lbs.

☞ A London wine merchant, who has a large proprietary interest in the island of Madeira, says that the accounts from the Island respecting the vine disease are worse than ever, as the new vines are attacked in the same manner as the old vineyards. He has no Madeira wine to sell, and therefore his statement may be fully relied upon.

☞ In Provincetown, on Friday evening last, a young Portuguese girl, fifteen years of age, walked out to the end of a wharf, leaped into the water, and was drowned.—Cause—her father was endeavoring to force her into a marriage with her cousin.

☞ The winter thus far has been remarkably severe in Texas, and large numbers of cattle and sheep have perished.

BURNING OF A FEMALE COLLEGE.—A Female College, at Oxford, Ohio, was burned a few nights since. The building contained 175 young ladies. The escape of Miss Sallie E. Moore from the College is unparalleled for daring. She roomed in the fifth story and returned the second time to her room for some books. On opening her door she discovered that the hall was dense with smoke and the stairway was in flames, and all means of exit in that direction hopeless. Closing her door, she deliberately tore the bed clothing in strips, knotted them firmly together, and, tying them to her bedpost, she hopefully descended to the ground, a distance of forty-five feet. The presence of mind shown by the entire body of young ladies was remarked by every one. This was no doubt promoted by some remarks Miss Peabody had made the day before, commenting on the Pemberton Mill accident, and desiring, if any sudden casualty should visit them, if the College should take fire, or any other accident occur, they might act in a thoughtful and collected manner.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. To those who value a fair skin, purity their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical gentlemen, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs, or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their healthy condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists of the Country, while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered in the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to a unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is novel and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

In the Boston Transcript of December 31, 1859 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in a case of Bronchial Pulmonary disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to relaxation. I have medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORTE, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it and feel bound to now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ: the following complaint, in which we have published the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Allen st, in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been, happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in giving before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORTE, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. The following testimonial from Rembrandt Peale will be read with interest:

PHILADELPHIA, March 1, 1848.

Dear Sir—Having attended at the Academy of Fine Arts the interesting lecture you have recently delivered on the Principles of Painting, and the characteristics of the different schools and of their founders, I take pleasure in expressing to you my great approbation of your course, as eminently calculated to extend a refined knowledge of the beautiful arts, and to encourage in our community a proper estimate of them. Respectfully yours,

Mr. Long. REMBRANDT PEALE.

HARD TIMES is the general complaint among our working classes, and also among those who never work. It is said that there has not been so dull a winter for business in this city—and this will apply to many other places in New England—for the past thirty years. In view of this fact, we advise everyone to live within his means, give to the needy what he can afford,—and hope for better days. A reaction must take place: one extreme is always followed by another.

☞ In the Police Court, on Tuesday morning, before Justice Odell, James Happenny was brought up, charged with an assault on Wm. Martin. Plead not guilty;—considered guilty, and sentenced to twenty days in the common jail, and to pay costs of prosecution ($7.18.) Mittimus issued.

☞ The ladies of the Pearl street Free-will Baptist Society will hold a Social Festival at Jefferson Hall, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. The Hall is neatly fitted up, and the tables will be bountifully supplied with refreshments, fancy articles, &c. The hall will be open Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock, for children. Admission 6 cents; adults 15 cents. The proceeds to be devoted to the benefit of the above Society. The public are invited to attend, and help a good cause.

HANOVER STREET CHAPEL LECTURES.—The closing entertainment will be a humorous Poem entitled "The Yankee Kaleidoscope"—delivered by Rev. T. W. Lewis, of Boston, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1. Admission 15 cents. Doors open at 7;—commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ Don't forget the Levee at Jefferson Hall, this evening,—nor the object for which it is held, viz. to help a society who need and deserve aid.

☞ The humorous poem this evening, at the Hanover st. chapel, will no doubt be an intellectual treat.

ELOPEMENT IN HIGH LIFE.—A millionaire in Kent and a large land-owner, had a daughter upon whom he was prepared to bank his fortune. This young lady was wooed and won by the curate of the parish in which she resided. The reverend gentleman wished to make her his wife, but her father resolutely refused, and eventually she was induced to marry a rich Dutch merchant. Upon her marriage her father settled £100,000 on her. The lady was married about four years, and a fortnight since eloped with her former admirer, the parison.—London Observer.

☞ In Portland, Miss Louisa Dunlap, daughter of the late John Dunlap, Esq., of that city, while preparing to attend church on Sunday, was seized with faintness. Dr. Fitch was called and he prescribed a restorative, but she sunk away and died in a short time. Her death was caused by affection of the heart.

☞ Two white men, disguised as negroes, broke into the house of Mr. Steel, in Harrison county, Va., last Monday night, for the purpose of robbery, and were driven off by Mrs. Steel, who loaded a rifle and fired upon them bravely. Her husband was absent.

☞ A man known as Patrick, formerly and for a long time, a popular guide to the White Mountains, was found hung in a barn at East Burke, Vt., last week.

☞ Ex-President Pierce and lady have arrived at Nassau, N. P., where they were received with great politeness by the Governor and other officials, who rendered every attention calculated to make their sojourn an agreeable one.

☞ Mrs. Sylvia Goodwin of Worcester, a professional midwife, has within the past ten years attended one thousand six hundred and twenty-six cases, and with the loss of but one patient out of the number.

BUFFALO, Jan. 30.—Hon. Joshua R. Giddings passed through this city, to-day, en route to Philadelphia, and probably to Washington.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Wm. H. Gilson, formerly Treasurer of this State, and recently convicted of embezzling, has been granted a new trial.

HARPER'S FERRY INVESTIGATION.—New York, Jan. 31.—(Herald Washington cor.—"The Harper's Ferry Committee met to-day, but did not examine any witnesses. Since the discharge of Judge Arny as a witness, he has said if had not been stopped by the Chairman he would have shown that Brown was 25 miles from Pottawatomie the night of the massacre. He says Brown told him that he was not with the party, but it was a righteous deed.

One of the party also told him that Brown was not there, but was camped on Middle Creek. Another witness says he saw Brown the next morning so far from Pottawattomie that it was impossible that he should have been a party to the killing.

VIRGINIA RESOLUTIONS.—Washington, Jan. 30.—Resolutions were introduced into the Virginia House of Delegates to-day, declaring that, while we recognize an imperative necessity for decisive measures in the present condition of things, yet we believe that a prompt and efficient co-operation can be more safely obtained by the direct and authoritative action of the constituted authorities of the Southern States, than through the agency of an assemblage which can have no legitimate powers except to debate and advise, therefore the General Assembly of Virginia will not, at this time, undertake to invite any conference of Commissioners appointed by the authorities of the Southern States.

LARGE FIRES IN TEXAS.—Whitmarsh's cotton press, at Houston, Texas, was burned Jan. 15. Loss $140,000. The loss includes 2100 bales of cotton, 150 hhds. of sugar, a lot of molasses, 13 carriages, some stage coaches, and a large lot of merchandise.—There was insurance on a few lots of cotton, but the amount is insignificant compared with the loss. The loss falls heaviest on the planters, and will seriously affect the trade of the place, as they were depending on sales for the payment of the 1st of January balances.

The New Orleans True Delta of the 25th says the new storehouse of the Penitentiary, at Huntsville, Texas, with 350 bales of cotton and other property, was burnt on the 16th of Jan. Loss $27,000.

TWO BROTHERS PARDONED FROM THE STATE PRISON.—Last year one John Evans, an Englishman, residing at Cape Elizabeth, Me., made a voyage to England, to bring over to this country his mother and a young brother. They arrived in Boston, where soon after the ship's cook was robbed by one Marr, a sailor on the vessel, when on Marr's testimony they were apprehended and sentenced to six years in the Charlestown Prison. Finally, Marr has acknowledged his perjury, whereupon the Gover and Council granted them pardon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Democrats determined last night to drop Smith and rally on Gilmer or McClernand. The election of Pennington to-day is considered certain.—Boston Journal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—A dispatch to the Journal of Commerce says Pennington will be Speaker through the votes of Briggs and Riggs to-morrow.

☞ Mrs. Boomer, widow of the late Sergeant Ephraim Boomer, living in Fall River, completed her one hundreth year on Saturday.

☞ The Boston Post, alluding to a statement that the organ grinders of that city contributed thirty-five dollars for the Lawrence sufferers expressed the benevolent hope that boys won't throw out to them any more hot coppers.

☞ About twenty thousand tons of ice are being packed in Peru, Ill., this season. Thirty-six hundred tons of it are loaded on barges for Baton Rouge and other places South.

☞ A bill has passed one branch of the Maine Legislature, to exempt horses from attachment to the value of $150, instead of $100 as heretofore.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1849.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Dandi street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Bonset—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

Cure cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very speedy relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. HICKEN.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many."

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found relief from them, when all else failed, and that quickly. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and the other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we can not of any other medicine, never failed in a single instance, NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, whereon to ground our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudice, or the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has brought before you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them, formally—and it entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show. Fourthly—It is distilled and not boiled, thus preserving the delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for soothing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to some one in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as our opinion of its superiority would seem warranting; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped round each bottle, must be strictly observed in the manner. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 33 Maiden Lane, New York.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country.

In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson's Vegetable Pulmonic Balsam, or Blood Food, is the most valuable preparation for the cure of Consumption, as no other remedy will so surely or speedily restore the lost or impaired health of the invalid. Its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side and Breast, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Female Weakness, Fever and Ague, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, has rendered it the most popular remedy now in use. Its success has been so great in the cure of Consumption, that the proprietor feels warranted in offering a portion of the profits arising from the sale of the medicine, as a guarantee of its efficacy in the most obstinate cases of Consumption, to be contributed beyond all doubt, to the support of any person who may be recommended by the most eminent physicians, as a proper subject for the benefit of the medicine, and who may be recovered

WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.
Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and if will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.
GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For the benefit of the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to prove by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.
To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.
To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be dearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative" the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being thus in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in diseases on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children, unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, kidneys, and intestinal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which generates in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous:—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must remove the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can confer for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but all those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUMS, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC, DISEASES OF THE LIVER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain and suffering from Impurity of Blood, or find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to present to the public gratis my Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1860.

☞ The Herald of Freedom, so called, in Kansas, has gone down. The Atlas says:

The Herald of Freedom, at Lawrence, Kansas, in consequence of its change of opinion and infamous attack on old John Brown, and its betrayal of the interests of freedom in Kansas, has been deserted by its former supporters, and, as a natural result, has ceased to live.

The Herald was established to aid the cause of freedom, and so it did, up to a very recent period; but it was sold out, by some hocus pocus, to the slave power, some time ago; and our readers may remember that for a year past we never relied on any of its statements. Indeed it became notorious for its manufacture of canards. The Kansas people understood it—and it is dead.

STEAM ON COMMON ROADS.—The question of the practicability of the application of steam to carriages on common roads has again been brought up. The New York Evening Post reports that the proprietors of certain large iron works in that city offer to furnish steam carriages at a moderate cost, after a pattern they have tested, and also to guarantee a performance on common roads, at the rate of twelve miles an hour. It is contended that these carriages, with wheels properly constructed, would be able to make an equal speed over the Western Plains; thus bringing San Francisco within about seven days of St. Joseph in Missouri, and ten days of New York. The Post adds:—

The question as to the use of steam, or some better motive power, on common roads, would seem to be only a question of time. The examples of the steam carriage which we occasionally see running through Broadway and other thoroughfares; of the steam fire-engine which recently traversed the distance from this city to Philadelphia, over the turnpikes, with such satisfactory results, together with experiments to the same effect in Europe, extending over a long period of years, all tend to the conclusion that the use of steam is practicable.

☞ Orville Wood and a Miss Mack, residing in Olivet, Wis., were engaged to be married, but the young man got drunk one evening at a social party, whereupon the young lady's parents very properly raised objections to the contemplated union. The lady declared that she could not disobey her parents, and she preferred death to life without the object of her affections. In this state of the case, they agreed upon a mutual suicide, to take place on the evening of the 6th ult., at the residence of Wood's brother-in-law. At the time appointed, Miss Mack accompanied by her sister, drove up to the house of Wood's brother-in-law, whereupon Wood drew a pistol and shot himself through the head, falling dead at the feet of his intended just as she entered the room. Miss Mack instantly drew a pistol from her pocket and attempted to ratify her part of the bloody bargain by shooting herself, but she was prevented by the efforts of her sister.

☞ Crawford's statue, "Dancing Jenny," presented by his widow to Dr. Fell, who attended the artist in his last moments, has arrived at New York. The Evening Post says the work was a favorite with the lamented artist, being modelled after his daughter, whose name it bears. It is the life size, and represented her in the attitude of dancing. Dr. Fell has been requested to place it in some public gallery, that the admirers of Crawford may have an opportunity of viewing it. He will probably comply with the expressed desire.

BUSINESS OF LYNN.—The Lynn Reporter says:—"We are glad to be able to say that there are signs of improvement in the shoe business, in this city, at least, and we trust not a long period will elapse before the trade will regain its wonted activity, and our manufacturers find full and profitable employment for their usual number of workmen."

☞ A son of Col. Elijah Sebree, of Todd county, Ky., was killed in a school house in Trenton a few days since. The boys of the school had been practicing on the credulity and fears of one of their number, by inducing him to believe that young Sebree had been making threats and intended to kill him, whereupon the lad armed himself, and walked deliberately up to Sebree in the school house and shot him dead.

☞ Rev. Dr. Joseph Addison Alexander, Professor in the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church at Princeton, N. J., died at that place on Saturday. The deceased spoke almost all the modern languages of Europe, and was one of the most distinguished Oriental scholars in the United States.

☞ The funeral of Armistead Walker, a colored preacher of Fredericksburg, Va., on Sunday week, was attended by over one thousand slaves and four hundred whites, including many ladies. The deceased was a slave, and by his respectful behavior, won the esteem of all.

ANOTHER WARNING TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—Says the New York Post, a necessity exists in every family for some portable light, and as oil is just now highly unpopular with housekeepers, the question lies between candles and camphene, or burning fluid, and as the latter is both cleaner and cheaper, it generally carries the day.—When accidents do occur, it is generally attributed to carelessness, either in refilling the lamp while lighted, or in neglecting to screw the lid tightly to prevent the fluid from escaping. We, however, have sad proof that the danger of camphene and burning fluid is imminent, even when the greatest precautions have been taken. We have seen the fragments of a lamp which exploded a few days ago, and caused an accident resulting fatally. The lamp is one of the small, bell-shaped lamps in use in so many families. It is furnished with two tubes and a handle. In the case to which we allude, a young girl residing in Brooklyn, used the lamp on retiring. As the flame was accidentally extinguished, she stepped into an adjoining room to relight the lamp from a burning gas jet. The moment she applied the wick to the flame, the lamp exploded, the bottom coming out completely, and the sides breaking into fragments. The lid of the lamp remained screwed tightly on.

The unfortunate young lady, in attempting to extinguish the flames that arose from the blazing fluid as it fell on the floor and tables, set her clothes on fire, and was so severely burned that she lived only a few days.

The shattered lamp was taken to Mr. E. Merriam, who states that the incident is by no means without precedent. He knows many cases in which life has been lost by the unexplained explosion of these lamps, every one of which is liable at any time to explode in the same manner. They should be at once expelled from every household. Better to spill candle grease on the carpets, or revert to the old-fashioned oil, than to run these fearful risks.

A SAD AFFAIR.—The Greenfield Gazette reports that on Thursday night, Wm. E. Merriam who lives in the North Meadows, in that town, attempted to take the life of his wife and himself, but only succeeded in destroying his own life. He had been for some time past subject to fits and in a partially deranged state of mind. On the night in question he arose about 12 o'clock telling his wife he wanted some pills. On returning to bed he turned to his wife and drew something across her throat twice, which she at first thought was a file. She immediately sprang from her bed and found that two slight wounds had been inflicted on her neck. She then left the room, locking her husband in, and alarmed her neighbors, who, upon repairing to the house, found Mr. Merriam with a gash cut from nearly ear to ear of his neck, laying bare the windpipe, but the main arteries were not injured.—He had bled profusely. A physician was called and his wounds were dressed, but he died from the effects of his injuries on Saturday. The instrument with which he inflicted the wound upon himself and his wife was a dull knife. Mr. Merriam and his wife are very worthy persons, about sixty-three years of age, and have always lived very happily together.

☞ Mr. Sutton, warden of the New York City Prison, made a discovery, on Monday, in the cells of the two murderers, Stephens and Sanchez. The prisoners had entered into a conspiracy to escape; and the plan was to kill the two night keepers when those officers opened the door to pass in their supper—then obtain the keys and let themselves out. A loaded revolver was found on each prisoner.

☞ The widow of Santerre, the brewer, —who played so prominent a part in the first French Revolution, and presided at the execution of Louis XVI.,—is still living.—She resides in the Faubourg St. Germain, and affirms that she has in her possession the keys of the Bastile; also a number of curious minutes and manuscripts relative to persons who were imprisoned in that fortress.

☞ A young man named Baker, formerly an organist and daguerreotypist at Rome, New York, and son of Rev. Mr. Baker of Utica, was lately driven from Augusta, Ga., by a mob. Mr. Baker went to Augusta to take the position of organist in an Episcopal church, and had played but one Sabbath, when he was warned to leave or submit to a coat of tar and feathers.

☞ New Orleans has sold the right to lay down and operate passenger railways in that city for thirty years, for the sum of $130,000. Baltimore will receive, under the present grant, not less than $1,000,000 in thirty years for the same privilege.

☞ The New York Express says twenty-five thousand persons visited the Central Park Pond on Sunday, of whom about fifteen hundred were females, but few of whom skated. The pond was covered during the day with men and boys, who were bound to skate while they had an opportunity.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday Jan. 31, Mr. Hunter made a speech on Douglas's resolution. He pointed out the evils resulting from emancipation—general decay at the South, vessels rotting at the wharves in the North, and manufactures stopping. Her own interests ought to induce the North to change her policy. Slavery was necessary in new countries. The happiest relation for the negro was that of master and slave.

He defended slavery on the abstract ground of right.

In the House, Mr. Sherman moved that the House proceed to vote for Speaker.—Mr. Smith of North Carolina, made a speech thanking the House for the great vote they had given him for Speaker.

Mr. Reagan said: When the name of the gentleman from North Carolina, (Mr. Smith) though differing with the great body of the democrats, was presented, they supported it, satisfied that his purpose was to maintain the constitution, and the integrity of the government. They voted for him on Friday, and twice yesterday. They were now satisfied he would receive no more votes.

Southern Democrats have patriotism enough to elevate themselves above party prejudices, and to strengthen the hands and hold up the arms of those in the free States, where the great battle of constitutional rights is to be fought.

Mr. Etheridge had this to say, when he made up his mind to vote for a Democrat, he had never been able to discover any remarkable difference between gentlemen on that side. (Laughter.) He thought when he voted for one of that party he honored him. They might not think so now, but the time will come when they would look upon it with satisfaction, when the necessity would arise for voting for a Democrat.

Without being offensive, he might say, in surrendering his individuality, in doing so, he might vote for the meanest of the crew. Mr. Douglas never skulked responsibility. All the noise and confusion in the South will be found to mean nothing, when the Charleston Convention meets, but the complaints of a few postmasters, editors and active politicians.

When the nomination will be made on his birth-day, there will not be found twenty Democrats who will not swear they were originally Douglas men. In voting Smith he did not see any virtue on the part of the Democrats. They sweat drops of blood. If an artist had desired to have an original subject, he would have found it in this scene of human agony. All the features of the Northwestern Democrats were expressive of this fact.

Mr. Niblack replied if he could withdraw from Smith he would not do it. He voted for that gentleman deliberately and took all the consequences.

Mr. Clark (of N. Y.) said so did he.—(Laughter.)

Mr. Etheridge replied that his friend from New York had been on a probation of six weeks.

Mr. Clark—I thought the gentleman alluded to the Northern Democracy.

Mr. Etheridge said he might refer to John Cochrane, who suffered some in voting for Smith. (Laughter.)

John Cochrane said he knew he meant nothing unkind. The gentleman had been acting the part of the Good Samaritan, pouring oil into our gaping wounds—(laughter)—wounds received in behalf of our common country.

Mr. Etheridge said his heart was in generous sympathy with those who in Illinois drew the sword against executive power.

Mr. Noell expressed the hope that his friend from Tennessee would not try to get up a difficulty among the Democrats.

Mr. Reagan thought the Americans did not treat the Democrats in a manly and generous manner.

Mr. Millson rose to second most cordially the nomination of Mr. McClernand, and to express his earnest and deep regret that there was not more unanimity among members of the House who had heretofore opposed the Republican candidate, and which recent events had given them reason to expect. In supporting Mr. McClernand he was not committing himself to every political doctrine the gentleman entertains. The gentleman who occupies the Chair is not the representative of his constituents, and makes no surrender of his political opinions by occupying that position. It is only as the organ of the House, and it is only as Speaker, that he is responsible to the House.

When the name of Davis of Md. was called, he voted for Pennington. This was greeted with more than usually loud and prolonged hisses and applause.

Mr. Leach of North Carolina said he would vote for any man to defeat the Republican organization. While repudiating squatter sovereignty, he would vote for Mr. McClernand, and if the Democratic party in a mass would come to his support, they could elect him.

Mr. Mallory said that the choice of candidates was a choice between typhus fever and the small pox.

Mr. Moore of Ky. said he would not vote for a Douglas man.

Mr. Vance said it was no time for Southmen to hesitate when a Maryland slaveholder (Davis) had landed himself in the bosom of the Black Republican party.—He voted for Mr. McClernand.

The vote was announced as follows:

Whole number of votes 233. Necessary for a choice 117. Pennington 116; McClernand 91; Gilmer 5; McQueen 6; Millson 6; Scattering 9.

Mr. Winslow moved to adjourn.

The Republicans were impatient for another vote, which the democrats resisted. The latter promised that a vote should be taken to-morrow, after the preliminary calling of the House.—Adjourned.

☞ The Vermont Freeman is informed that a German peddler, named Stearns, was killed by a bear in Stowe, week before last. It is said that the bear met him as he was crossing a field, and a woman at a farm house at some distance saw the combat and gave the alarm, but help came too late to save the man's life.

The title page is embellished with the Arms of Virginia, bearing the well known motto, "Sic semper Tyrannis."

The frontispiece is an engraved likeness of John Brown; and there are other engravings in the volume, representing a scene in the armory, and another at the trial.

This is a book which will have few endorsers, for it is a thousand times more fiery than Helper's Book, and glorifies John Brown throughout. But it will find thousands of purchasers who will pay for it the more freely because a good portion of its profits will swell the widow's purse. And it will find millions of readers; for Redpath is a live writer, and his reader cannot go to sleep over his pages, whether he likes or dislikes the discourse. The book is equal to the greatest sensation story in interest; and then the truth is stranger than the fiction.

ACCIDENT ON THE WESTERN RAILROAD.—One Person killed, and about Thirty Injured.—Shortly after the New York train for Boston passed Wilbraham, Tuesday afternoon, at five minutes before two o'clock, an axle on the last passenger car but one broke, and the car was thrown down an embankment fifty feet. About thirty passengers in the car were all more or less injured, but none of the passengers were killed.

A brakeman named Simon Daley was run over, and died in four hours after.

☞ The great snake, which was on exhibition at Horticultural Hall, Boston, last week, was necessarily killed during an encounter with his keeper, Mr. Bemis. Mr. B. was engaged in giving the serpent one of his customary warm baths, preparatory to an exhibition of feeding him, when the venomous animal seized him by the wrist, inserting his deadly fangs, and commenced coiling around him. The snake after being pounded on the head with a hammer, was forced to release his victim.

Mr. Bemis was severely bitten, but by the immediate medical attention given him, it is hoped no fatal consequences will ensue. The snake was beaten so that he died on Sunday.

☞ A bill has been introduced into the Texas Legislature providing for the arrest and imprisonment of Northern preachers, teachers and drummers, who may come there. Gov. Houston's message dissents completely from the secession resolutions of the South Carolina Legislature.

☞ Mr. Thomas Marcy, one of the early settlers of the Western Reserve, died at Freedom, Portage county, Ohio, on the 12th of January, aged ninety years, lacking one month. He removed to Ohio, from Otis, Berkshire county, Mass., and traveled the ground from Massachusetts to Ohio thirty-four times with his own team.

☞ The agent of the Richmond Enquirer is reported to have made a very valuable discovery at the Meriden Manufacturers' Convention. "Why," said he, "both parties are sound on the Union, after all!"

The Augusta Age says that Robins are very common in that vicinity. The whole State has been apprised of one great rob-in the Treasury at that place.—Bath Times.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Flerpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous dealers of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt.; and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommend them to the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it is being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal conditions. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and strongest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some will great benefit. It is one of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last: but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, which was brought the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. H. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has recovered health, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents nov7ly

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and have been used with success according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have resisted, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one day remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Irregularities, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

Such as Pain of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

FIVE MINUTES' TALK ON MORALS.—Messrs. Editors:—The communication of S. T., made in such a kindly spirit, is entitled to a respectful reply. It cannot but be regretted, however, that it exhibits such a clumsy misapprehension of the object and argument of the several "talks," and if he will take the pains to review them he may arrive at a more comprehensive view.

In regard to the practices of the world, I hold that it is the duty of every age to examine them and judge in regard to their correctness and not transmit to posterity erroneous precedents and bad examples, without at least a decided protest. The intention of these "talks" is not discussion or controversy, but statements in the most concise form possible, of the result of reflection and experience; therefore explanations and reasons are precluded. If anything erroneous is stated, others have the opportunity of showing the error by contra propositions.—I will now state, under a new form of illustration, something in relation to the perversion of milk, thus: This article is the God-ordained portion of infancy and childhood, while the "cattle upon a thousand hills" is that of the mature man—and I charge upon the manfacturers and consumers of butter and cheese that they thereby defraud the poor innocents of their necessary food; and the amount of suffering that is thus occasioned, to say nothing of the vast accumulation of physical imbecility, is beyond the power of computation. The "torment" that goes up in the smoke of the late catastrophe at Lawrence is but a "flea bite" in comparison.

Now if S. T. will show a way by which these little ones can have their proper portion restored to them, one of the things that I am "trying to do" will be accomplished, and one step will be taken in the way of moral reform.

I also suggest to S. T. to establish the right of indulgence in the "luxuries of the table" named, by showing that under the present order of things there is

1. A due supply of milk for those to whom it first belongs, viz., infants and children.

2. A reasonable quantity for grown people, for whom, to a certain extent, it is a very excellent article of diet.

3. To show that the manufacture of butter and cheese is a recuperative form of industry, and that it is not a drain on agricultural resources—operating in an unwarranted slaughter of cattle and their young, and thus rendering very pertinent and pressing the question whether the world is not tending towards a condition of famine and general lack of means of sustenance.

☞ It is said that a question may come up before the Common Council this evening, on the legal right of members to hold other offices by appointment. Two of the Common Council are engineers.

☞ The thermometer stood at 3 below 0, at 8 A. M. on Wednsday, at the Navy Yard. In the city, 4 below.

We do not wish needlessly to excite the fears or curiosity of our republican friends, but we warn them to prepare for the most unwelcome revelations when the Peck disclosure is fully made public. We have confidential letters in our possession, which justify us in giving them this timely hint.—The blow will fall with crushing force where they least expect, or we are sadly misinformed.—Bath Times.

The Virginia homespun mania is fading out. Even Senator Mason, that most haughty of Southern demagogues, who appeared in a full suit of Virginia hodden-gray, is gradually "shedding." it. First the pantaloons were discarded for a black pair—the coat for one more suitable to the Senate chamber—and I suppose the vest will soon follow.—Perley.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune notices the large increase of the Japan plum tree in that city. The tree is very handsome in itself, and the fruit ripens when no other fruit is in season, the plums appearing in market as early as February, a most valuable addition to the products of the garden. One orchard of about 300 trees, brought last spring nearly $4000.

☞ The town of Amherst, N. H., was incorporated on the 20th day of February, 1760, and the people of that town will, on the 20th of Feb., 1860, meet in convention and make arrangements for a grand celebration, which is to come off May 30.

☞ The Marblehead fishermen figure up their last season's labor at about $60 for a man, which is meagre compensation.

☞ The Manchester Cornet Band sent to Mayor Saunders, for the relief of the sufferers by the Lawrence calamity, the generous sum of $340,50.

LATEST NEWS FROM CONGRESS.

Pennington Elected Speaker!

By a telegraphic dispatch received in this city on Wednesday evening, we learn that Pennington is elected Speaker by two majority.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The President has prepared a special message recommending the Pacific Railroad, which will be submitted soon after the organization of the House. He favors no particular project.

The Senate Committee on Commerce have agreed to report Mr. Clay's bill repealing the fishing bounties.

The Postmaster General has decided to distontinue the coach service between Yuma and San Diego, Cal., and substitute horse service as more economical.

Chancellor Walworth of Saratoga has written an article in the Saratogian, in which the long-mooted question of how many children John Rogers had when he was burned at the stake is definitely settled. The number is two. Many of the Chancellor's relatives are descendants of the martyr.—Exchange.

The number is not two, but ten. We have seen the above singular blunder going round in the papers. The old dispute used to be, were they nine or ten? The new number two must be a typographical error.

☞ The paper factory of Wm. Clark & Co., at Northampton, Mass., was destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock, Monday morning.—The loss will amount to $40,000 or $50,000. The mill and stock was insured for $41,000, which will probably cover the loss.

☞ Kitty Clyde and Katy Darling, two of the Echoes of the Past, arranged for the Piano Forte, published by Russell & Tolman, are on our table from C. C. Harvey, with a long catalogue of music.

☞ The question of abolishing colored schools in Rhode Island is now before the Legislature of that State.

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its medicinal effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, whereof we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in NEW England and has been used with EXPERIENCED and THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe the best and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper Sold by Druggists throughout the world. GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Morning Chronicle.

From Dwight's Journal of Music.

LUTHER'S HYMN.

I.

Our God's a fortress, strong indeed,
A sword and shield unfailing:
Us will He free from ev'ry need,
And danger now prevailing.
The old bitter foe
Is bent on woe;
Armed fiercely with spite,
Deep guile and fearful might;
He all on earth surpasses.

II.

Our mightiest efforts all are vain,
Our fall were soon effected;
There fights for us the very man:
Him God himself elected.
Who, ask you, this?
Christ Jesus—who is Of Sabbaoth Lord—
Him, God of all record!
He needs must be the victor.

III.

Though earth, of devils full, essayed
To bring destruction o'er us;
We'll not be very much afraid;
Success is sure before us.
And though this world's prince,
Fierce anger evince,
No harm is us done;
For judged is he by One,
Least word of whom can fell him.

IV.

The word despite of foes shall stand,
No thanks to them—He's near us,
Upon the field with helping hand,
Whose gifts and Spirit cheer us.
And should they take life,
Goods, fame, child and wife;
Let all go—ev'n then,
To them there is no gain;
For ours remains the kingdom.

THE CONTENTED FARMER.—Once upon a time, Frederick, King of Prussia, surnamed "Old Fritz," took a ride, and espied an old farmer ploughing his acre by the way-side, cheerily singing his melody.

"You must be well off, old man," said the King. "Does this acre belong to you, on which you so industriously labor?"

"No, sir," replied the farmer, who knew not that it was the King. "I am not so rich as that; I plow for wages."

"How much do you get a day?" asked the King.

"Eight groschen," (about twenty cents,) was the reply.

"That is not much," replied the King, "can you get along with this?"

"Get along, and have something left."

"How is that?"

The farmer smiled and said, "Well, if I must tell you; two groschen are for myself and wife; with two I pay old debts; two I lend away, and two I give away for the Lord's sake.

"This is a mystery which I cannot solve," replied the King.

"Then I will solve it for you," said the farmer. "I have two old parents at home, who kept me when I was weak and needed help, and now that they are weak and need help, I keep them. This is my debt toward which I pay two groschen a day. The third pair of groschen, which I lend away I spend for my children that they may receive Christian instruction. This will come to me and my wife when we get old. With the last two groschen I maintain two sick sisters, whom I would not be compelled to keep—this I give for the Lord's sake."

The King, well pleased with his answer, said: "Bravely spoken, old man. Now I will give you something to guess. Have you ever seen me before?"

"Never," said the farmer.

"In less than five minutes you shall see me fifty times, and carry in your pocket fifty to my likenesses."

'That is a riddle which I cannot unravel,' said the farmer.

"Then I will do it for you," said the King.

Thrusting his hand into his pocket and counting out fifty bran-new gold pieces into his hand, stamped with his royal likeness, he said to the astonished farmer, who knew not what was coming:—

"The coin is genuine, for it also comes from our Lord God, and I am his paymaster. I bid you adieu.—German Reformed Messenger.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Tumors, Swelled eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Pthisis, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY O. BUCKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. BUCKER.

CANAAN, Dec. 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief from using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY BUNKER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIPHALET CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this certificate to inform them, and all others afflicted, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer in the preacher take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our families than from all other medicines put together

THOPHILUS CURRIER,

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation, will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED, IN NO INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE. Nor did we know an action by any one to the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of the highest practical effects and medical skill, "Values experience, and pledges the judgment of what we know every instance where it comes from pain and exhaustion in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS of cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We speak in the strongest terms of the efficacy of this medicine, when we say that we have sold this article for over ten years, and never been called upon to change our opinion, or to retract a single recommendation we have made in its favor. We have never been asked a question respecting it, but we have always recommended it as the best medicine in the world, and we believe it to be the duty of every mother who has a child suffering from any of the diseases and pains incident to children, to give it a trial. We believe it to be the duty of every one who has a child suffering from any other cause, to give the SOOTHING SYRUP a trial, and we do not hesitate to say to the mother who has a child suffering from any other cause than those incident to teething, that if she will but give the SOOTHING SYRUP a fair trial, she will be as happy in the result as we have been in recommending it to our friends and the public.

We have never been able to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never, in the instance of disease in our families, in our own persons, or in the instances of our friends and acquaintance, have we been disappointed in the effect of this medicine. We speak in the strongest terms of its efficacy, and we do so in the confidence that we are not exceeding the truth in any thing we say in its behalf. We have sold this article for over ten years, and our confidence in its efficacy has been constantly increasing, as we have been enabled to witness its effects on our friends and acquaintance. THE
ONLY PREPARATION WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been prejudiced by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling of the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly destitute of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and in words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles or three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least one pint, and is cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease wherever part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor indeed one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, by bad living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by the deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from virulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin, directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their germs are introduced by this hereditary infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Since it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Blotches, Eruptions, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Syphilis, Kidney Affections, Dropsy, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
for all the purposes of a family physic, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find its health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing the certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Disease, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gravel, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

FRIDAY, FEB. 3, 1860.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

Some persons do not understand how it can be that Rev. Dr. Lord remains so quietly in the presidency of Dartmouth College, if it be true that he has no clerical or other followers or friends who agree with his peculiar theological and political philosophy.

One strong reason why he does and probably will remain there is a personal reason. Dr. Lord left the pastorship of a good parish at Amherst, in which he and his people were mutually well pleased, to become the President of a poor College; and one of his early and self-denying acts as President was to go through the State, and somewhat out of it, on a begging tour, to procure adequate funds, which should put the College on a more respectable and comfortable basis as to buildings, &c., &c.

His personal influence then was powerful; he made free use of it, and was successful.

In the prime of ministerial life, he gave his influence, and himself, to the College — And as a president, and as a friend to the young student, he has maintained a character for kindness, not to be overthrown or disregarded in consequence of any oddity, or even absurdity, in his religious or political speculations.

Another reason is, that the president is not a theological professor, nor does he subscribe an official creed.

A third, and somewhat powerful reason is, that Dartmouth College is a close corporation, under a Royal Charter, in which the Trustees, being only 12 in number, fill vacancies in their own board, and thus preserve themselves as an immortal body.

The president is a trustee, and presides in the board. The members are usually of the orthodox congregational church, a goodly portion of them its ministers; and of these Dr. Lord is one.

However a lack of orthodoxy might effect a president who had become a unitarian or universalist—there seems no call for censure when the president is not only of the "old school," but professes to go back to a system older than any of the schools, and stranger than all of them put together.

Gratitude, honor and sympathy, on the part of the trustees, and confidence that he is right, on the part of the president, hold him securely in his place.

It might be quite otherwise, to be sure, were he a young man, with such peculiar views, seeking to be president; but he is in office, he has been a trustee nearly forty years and president more than 30; he thus has age, station and character on his side, as to permanency. And for the sake of freedom of opinion, in all coming presidents, we hope and believe he will remain, unless he should really choose to retire.

Nobody will suspect us of having any sympathy with his peculiar views; but we hold with Jefferson, (in whom the Dr. does not believe,) that error in opinion may be tolerated, it reason be left free to combat it.

Parents, who have scruples against placing their sons under such a president, will of course send them elsewhere, as there are more colleges, travel is cheap, and all presidents are not alike.

MUSICAL PRODIGY.—The Charleston Courier publishes an account of a remarkable African boy, living in Savannah, we believe. The boy is blind, and in nature resembling an idiot. His only wonderful gift is the power of musical composition and execution, and this is entirely natural. He plays upon the piano forte, and has only to hear a piece once to reproduce it, not only accurately, but with the same shades of expression which the performer gave to it.—His touch is said to be wonderfully delicate, while at the same time it has great force. That the boy's talent is not alone a development of the faculty of memory and the power of imitation, is shown by his improvisations, which the paper alluded to commends as of exceeding beauty. The countenance of the child when he is not under the influence of music is said to be almost repulsive, vacant and ugly. But the moment his fingers call the sounds from his instrument, his face lights up with inspiration, and becomes absolutely beautiful. This is the idea conveyed by the editor of the Charleston Courier.

☞ Spurgeon, the revivalist baptist preacher, of London, has written a letter, in which he says it is not true, as reported, that he has taken the anti-slavery out of his sermons, as copied for this country—because preaching anti-slavery in London, would be like carrying coals to New Castle. Nevertheless he hates slavery, and will preach against it in American sermons. He closes thus:—

Finally, let me add, John Brown is immortal in the memories of the good in England, and in my heart he lives.

☞ Cardinal Wiseman is said to have promised an Irish brigade to the Pope.

WONDERFUL PHASE OF THE PLANET MARS.—"How beautiful! oh, how beautiful!" exclaimed Mrs. M. to her daughter, the other evening, as she stood at the door, gazing at Mars, with enthusiastic admiration.

"Come here—come here—quick—and see Mars! I never, in all my life, saw such a perfectly splendid sight—only see!"—Louise had bounded to the door in an instant, and she, too, now expressed her extreme delight at the marvelous beauty, and extraordinary brilliancy of the martial planet.

"How charming, indeed! oh, how large, and fiery! why, did you ever, mother?"—said she, clapping her hands in wonderment, and gazing steadfastly.

Just at this time, two accomplished ladies came up the street, on the opposite side of us, and one of them, looking casually towards the North, likewise beheld the strange phenonemon, and instantly burst forth in a volume of the most eloquent encomiums.

"Oh! never, in all my born-days, did I ever behold Mars so perfectly beautiful—so exceedingly brilliant—so exquisitely lovely—why, only look, my dear Mrs. B.! see how large, full and peculiarly red! Indeed, I could stand here all night long, looking at this charming, wonderful planet—why, it even eclipses the very stars and other orbs!"

This last expression was quite enough for us, for thick clouds had completely mantled the heavens. So we moved on, chuckling in our sleeves, that the red signal lantern of a fire engine, which the steward had brilliantly lit up and suspended at the top of the flag-pole, on the engine-house, should "sell" intelligent ladies so admirably, gazing at Mars, in that quarter of the heavens, on a dark and starless night. C.D.A.

CURTAIN LECTURE ON FURS.—Cold weather—yes! it is cold, and I believe I was promised that as soon as the cold winter weather has set in I was to have a full set of stone martens, no imitations but the real genuine article. Don't know stone martens? Have you lived so long in the world, and had so much to do with women, and not know the genuine article of furs.—I'll bet, if the truth were known, there is more than one woman wearing them at your expense, and married at that. Now you shall not fool me with your ignorance. I know wh t is what as well as some other people. Come, where can go for the furs? Lapland a good place to get them! Indeed, indeed, is your order good there? Was it there you purchased the last present you made to—? What am I trying to get through me? I am trying to get something on me to keep from freezing this cold winter. Can't sleep in them! Why do you anticipate my thoughts? You must be an impressible "mejeum," as the sprituialists say; I didn't say sleep in them. You had not better press too close, or I'll put a question to you that will make you hotter than a Lapland robe. Only cost two hundred and fifty dollars! You groan as if it was something terrible. I have known them to cost as much as a small farm, or a village house and lot. The cost is nothing, so long as I wear the furs. Can't rest! You ought not to rest. A man with the load on his conscience you have, never will rest, either in this world or the world to come. Insinuations! Truth! every word as true as the gospel. Get the furs? I knew it.—I may look old, but I ain't green.—Buffalo Republic.

SKATING.—The skating in this vicinity has been excellent for the past few days and it has been improved in right good earnest. On Saturday it was estimated that not less than two thousand persons of all ages were on the river above the bridge. The scene was animating beyond description.

The skating match at Tremont, on Saturday drew a good attendance. Two prizes were offered—a bonnet to the best lady skater, and a hat to the best gentleman.—The former was won by Miss Lydia Post, and the hat was carried off by Mr. David Chase, who also won the tile offered at the previous match.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ According to the Richmond correspondent of the Fredericksburg (Va.) News, John Minor Botts speaks thus of Mr. Memminger's speech:—

"Fifty-four years ago, Aaron Burr was tried for his life in the same Hall for being suspected of holding the same views and advocating the same cause Mr. Memminger had substantially urged, and been respectfully listened to—to wit, to dismember the Union, and establish a Southern Confederacy."

☞ Mr. John Goffe, an esteemed citizen of Newport, R. I., was buried on Thursday, thirteen days having elapsed since he died. No perceptible change took place until the day preceding the burial, and the love for an affectionate parent forbade the idea of parting with his mortal form while the semblance of life existed.

☞ Mr. Everett is to contribute the biography of Washington to the new edition of the "Encyclopedia Brittanica," published at Edinburgh.

☞ A Russian nobleman in Paris, who wore a fur cloak lining valued at twenty thousand silver rubles, (about $15,000,) had the costly article stolen from him one night at the opera so deftly, that all the ingenuity of the Paris police was insufficient to detect the purloiner.

☞ Fifteen hundred pounds of pickerel were taken from Long Pond, in Middleborough one day last week, by means of traps; average weight, one and a half pounds.

RICHES IN THE GARB OF POVERTY. An agent engaged in selling Adams' Patent Coal Sifter in New York city, says the wealthy and business classes there have great charity for their poor in refraining from having their coal ashes sifted, and gives the following instances of the economical results of such liberality.

A woman who went about the streets picking up refuse coal recently died, when under the bed on which the corpse lay, was found a long stocking filled mostly with gold and some silver coin, amounting to several thousand dollars.

Another coal picker, who had excited much sympathy for his forlorn appearance, attending an auction and bid upon a farm, for which he was rebuked, as it was a "cash sale." The wretched looking man persisted in bidding, however, and the farm was soon knocked off to him at upwards of $4000, when he immediately produced bags of gold for the full amount.

Some of the family domestics are allowed the soap-grease and ashes, as perquisites.—On a warm day last week one was asked why she kept a large wood fire burning? "O!" said she, "we get a shilling a bushel for the ashes!"

☞ A letter from New Orleans to a St. Louis paper says thieves and burglars are plentiful in the Crescent City. One morning, in broad daylight, a respectable female, on her way home from market, was stumbled against and nearly thrown down by four men, one of whom snatched her purse from her bosom and ran away. The thief passed directly in front of the police office in his flight, but, before an alarm conld be given, his legs had carried him far out o danger.

☞ The Jamaica papers announce the death of a millionaire, Hon. Edward Thomson, Chief Magistrate and senior member of Assembly for the Parish of Clarendon.—Mr. Thomson may be considered the last of the planters of the olden time. He was connected with the agricultural interest of every parish in the island, and owned several sugar estates. His life was insured for £60,000.

☞ A Winsted, Conn., widow, whose husband left her the life use of $1400 so long as she remained unmarried, but which was to go to a third party at her marriage, has, after some years's siege, succumbed. A compromise was effected between herself and the ultimate legatees, by which they received the $1400 by paying her $650 to get married.

☞ The Troy papers chronicle the marriage of Frank B. Converse, of the Campbell Minstrels, with a young widow, Mrs. Hattie A. Clark, youngest daughter of Thomas Maxwell, Esq., of Elmira. Her first husband died about eight months since, leaving her $150,000.

☞ There were thirty American sea-going vessels and seven foreign vessels, bound to or from United States ports, reported during last month as missing, wrecked, or otherwise lost. Their total value is estimat at $465,000.

☞ At Oconomowoc, Wis., a short time since, a small party of men were playing cards, when one of them, Joseph Mills, accused another named Egan, of cheating.—Egan struck him a powerful blow under the jaw-bone, with his fist, and Mills fell dead on the floor.

☞ The importance of Irishmen's staying in Ireland was never clearly set before our eyes, till we read the following from the Pilot. That paper says:

"As soon as Father Cahill gets acquainted with our institutions, &c., he will write more correctly than he now does. Our own opinion is, that, where a living can be made at home, it is better for our people to remain in the Old Land. To say the least, the eternal salvation of themselves and children are more secure in Ireland than in the States or Canada. We think all will admit this."

☞ The Charleston Mercury has discovered from much investigation of the statistics of marital infelicity, that more wives of Northern men run away from their husbands than there are slaves who flee from their masters.

☞ The Evening Express, a paper published in the city of Savannah, Georgia, asserts that, during the present winter, a locomotive builder of Philadelphia has obtained orders in the South to the extent of fifty-six locomotives for railroads in that section of the Union.

☞ The Northern Railroad of France, on which are employed some of the largest locomotives ever constructed, is being partly relaid with flat-footed rails, spiked directly to the sleepers, the joints being finished, and no chairs being used.

☞ The Bangor Whig says "the hay crop of Maine averages one million tons, worth $10,000,000, per annum, and the amount of pasturage is as much more.—Grass is and always must be the staple crop of Maine. Our long winters do it good, and not harm."

Fortune knocks once at every man's door. Every man is the son of his own work.

☞ In Congress, Wednesday, Feb. 1, the Senate proceedings were brief, and Senators went to the House, where the Speaker was elected.

In the House, the proceedings were opened with prayer by Jewish Rabbi Raphael. It abounded with fervently expressed patriotic and religious sentiment. He implored Divine blessings to direct the House in the election of a Speaker who may preside without favor and fear, and that the members might speak and act for the glory and happiness of their common country. The prayer was listened to with marked attention

The Clerk stated that the question pending was the motion of Mr. Sherman, that the House proceed to vote for Speaker.

After much fillibustering, and some sharp debate the vote was then announced:—

Whole number of votes	233
Necessary to a choice	117
William Pennington of N. J. had	117
John A. McClernand of Ill.	85
John A. Gilmer of N. C.	16

The announcement of the result was followed by applause.

The Clerk declared Mr. Pennington elected Speaker of the House.

Mr. Hindman rose to call the attention of the country to some fact connected with the election, but was loudly called to order.

Mr. Grow, elevating his voice to the highest pitch, said:—"A Speaker having been elected, nothing is in order till he has been conducted to the chair."

Cries—"That's so—let him take his place."

The Clerk sustained Mr. Grow's suggestion, and appointed Messrs. Bocock and Sherman to conduct Mr. Pennington to the chair.

These gentlemen at once entered upon the performance of that duty, and escorted him to the chair.

Mr. Sherman moved that when the House adjourn it be to Friday.

Mr. Burnett—Let us pass the Post Office Appropriation Bill before we adjourn.

After more debate, Mr. Stevens moved that when the House adjourn it be until Friday, when he was called to order from the Democratic side.

The motion to adjourn till Friday was carried by 18 majority.

Mr. Kellogg of Ill. wanted the Post Office Deficiency Bill passed. Adj.

☞ Rev. Elijah Ward died in Willoughby, Ohio, on the 16th inst., at the ripe old age of ninety-four years. He joined the New York conference in 1801, and for more than half a century was a Methodist preacher of no common order of talent.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS.—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its effects upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge of the extraordinary efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, SCURVY, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their forms and stages.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Diseases, from its intrinsic value for its most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country, while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy for conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of delicate stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my lungs, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new to this market, I had recourse to it but half a trial, and now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. YOURS, truly,

SAMUEL S. PHELPS.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that give the public faith in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. Local.

☞ We understand that the land on which Hatch's Carriage Factory and Jackson & Co.'s Express Office now stand, on Fleet and Congress streets, has recently been purchased by a gentleman who has had much experience in the bread business, and who will soon erect a spacious building for the purpose of carrying on an extensive bakery, for wholesale and retail trade. The express men will still hold an office there.

A bakery and bread shop were formerly on this same stand, about 60 years ago, kept by Nathl. Dean, who afterwards sold dry goods in Market street, then removed to the brick store which he built, now owned by Thomas Treadwell, in Congress street, and thence to Stratham, adjoining New Market bridge.

That corner was formerly a business stand; then business moved away from it; now it comes back again.

☞ Quite an extensive Fish trade at this season of the year is carried on between the Shoals and the towns and cities in the interior of the State. The agent in this city informs us that the principal freight on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad is the transportation of crates of fish. 150,000 or 160,000 lbs. per week are boxed here and forwarded to the traders in other places.

☞ The rooms over Mr. Harvey's book store are being renovated and fitted up for a first class Daguerreotype Saloon. The proprietor is a native of the city, and the stand will soon be a superior one for the business.

☞ A British brig, the Artemas, Capt. Fisher, from Leghorn, bound for Boston, put into our Lower Lower Harbor on Monday last, with the loss of one of her yards. She was fitted out, and cleared at this port on Thursday.

☞ Different thermometers in this city, varied from six to nine degrees below zero, on Thursday morning. The little snow on Tuesday night, has renewed our sleighing.

☞ All persons who are interested in skating, are requested to assemble on the North Pond this (Friday) afternoon, for the purpose of clearing the ice of snow.—Snow ploughs, scrapers, shovels and brooms, will be furnished for the occasion.

SACRED CONCERT.—A concert of sacred music will be given in a few weeks, at the Stone Church, for the benefit of the City Mission. All of the musical talent of the city will be brought into requisition. H.

☞ In connection with the shock of earthquake experienced in South Carolina and Georgia on the 20th ult., the city papers relate a fact which the savans may or may not connect with the phenomena. An artesian well in the city had been bored to the depth of 330 feet a year since, when an obstruction was met that it was impossible to penetrate or remove by pressure. Weights equal to several hundred tons were placed on the tubing, and there they rested for nearly a year without any perceptible effect. On the day before the shock, however, the weights triumphed, and while they rested on the ground the tubing sunk thirty feet below the level. The Springfield Republican says the question arises, did it "bust" a hole in the region of earthquakes.

AN EVENTFUL LIFE.—Mr. Darius Nash, who was rescued from the ruins of the Pemberton Mill, after several hours of great suffering, has passed though as many imminent dangers as usually fall to the lot of one man. On the stormy night in which the Minot's Ledge Lighthouse was carried away, he was on a vessel some fifty miles from New York, and was wrecked. The whole crew lashed themselves to the wreck, and out of the nine only four survived.—They were picked off by the crew of a vessel from Salem, after four days and three nights of danger, and Nash was among those saved. At another time he fell from the main topsail yard; and saved his life by catching at a reefing bit.

At one time of his life he had accumulated $4,000 by his own industry and frugality, and he invested it in a barque. The barque was wrecked on the coast of Florida, and the insurance had expired two days before. Last spring he had a long and painful siege of the bilious fever, which was followed by the typhoid fever in the summer; and on the night of the terrible calamity of the Pemberton Mill he was among those confined beneath the ruins. Mr. Nash's father was killed by falling from a load of hay. His brother was killed under the ruins. Mr. Nash is still in good courage, and says that all he desires is good health.

☞ A colored man, his wife and one child, who had escaped from slavery, reached Boston on Tuesday, and at once took the "underground road" for Canada. At Concord, Mass., the supplies gave out, but a sufficient amount of funds was at once furnished to convey the fugitive family in comfort to the domains of Queen Victoria.

☞ The owners of the Pemberton mill have made a claim upon the insurance companies for the entire amount of the insurance, some $415,000, and have retained able legal counsel in case the claim is resisted. They also intend to rebuild the mill during the coming year.

We are glad to see them rebuild their mill; hope they will build it heavy and strong. But we don't believe they will ever get a cent of insurance money. We can hardly imagine how a jury could be packed that would give them a verdict. No doubt they retain able counsel—they are able to pay them; all their ability will be wanted—for no insurance company insured a heap of ruins against fire! The mill fell down—the ruins burnt—a total loss, and really no insurance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The committees will be announced next week. Sherman will be Chairman of the Ways and Means and leader of the House. Grow will be at the head of the Territories, and others who were members of the 34th Congress, will probably be restored to the positions they then occupied. Nothing is yet determined, however.

Mr. Wendell has refused to answer certain interogatories propounded by the Printing Investigating Committee.

Mr. Reaif is discharged by the Harper's Ferry Committee, and Mr. Hyatt will appear to-morrow.

☞ On Wednesday night, citizens of Washington serenaded Speaker Pennington, and Messrs. Sherman, Grow, Winter Davis, Burlingame and Briggs, all of whom spoke. Mr. Burlingame invited them to an impromptu collation, at which prominent men of all parties, North and South, spoke.

The Republicans of Concord, N. H. fired 117 guns, on Thursday, in honor of Pennington's election as Speaker.

The same number of guns were fired at Newark, N. J. and at Pittsburg, Penn.

At Manchester they fired thirty-four guns.

JAMAICA.—A letter from Jamaica, says, the sugar crop of this island looks favorable, and there is reason to expect that the exports of 1860 will largely exceed those of 1859. Business in consequence is reviving.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY. — Charleston, Jan. 31.—Delsca, Ambassador from one of the countries of South America, who arrived at this port on the Isabel was robbed at his hotel on Saturday of $2000 in Spanish 100 real pieces of the coinage of 1859, $1500 in ten and twenty pound notes on the Bank of England, honorary decorations, crosses, jewels, watches, &c., the total amounting in value to $17,000.

POLITICAL.—Saco, Me., Feb.—At the Democratic Convention for the First District, holden in Biddeford to-day, S. R. Lyman and Augustine Haines were chosen delegates to Charleston; one a Douglas, and the other an administration man.—Douglas resolutions were voted down.

Providence, Feb. 1.—The "conservative men of Rhode Island who place the memory of Clay and Webster above the living Garrison," met to-day noon, at Howard Hall, in this city to nominate candidates for State officers.

MARRIED.

In New Orleans, Jan. 28th, Mr. JAMES W. GRAVES, of Kittery, Me., to Miss FRANCES SMITH, formerly of New York city.

In Great Falls, Mr. James Otis to Miss Lydia E. Hall, both of Great Falls.

DIED.

In this city, Feb. 1st, suddenly, Miss ELIZA V. FERNALD, aged 75 years and 4 months.

Funeral on Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, if fair weather, from A. R. H. Fernald's, corner of Islington and Summer streets.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Bowels, the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its shapes, phases and forms, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in market, as a safe, easy and efficacious Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have been me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that disagreeable cough, to use it freely." MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many." FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and the weakness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Ed. EDWIN BURKHAM

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found great relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an mother, who tried it, but, on the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its magical effects and invariable success. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, from our own experience, and pledge our judgment of what we know in every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, the mother will find, in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered, a perfect relief and quiet to the poor tormented little sufferer, and the mother will find no other instance in her experience, where she will not, in the most emphatic manner, recommend the use of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY STOP GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, we know whereof we speak, when we say, that if she will but follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieved by remedies of your child, instead of stupefying or deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly innocent and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, Costiveness, Griping, Fretfulness and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, when first and cautiously administered, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to lose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as our excellent medicine is their own advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the highest eminence in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her as a friend, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENT. A. LAVENDER.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This fluid corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can offer, and which everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the eradication of this fatal poisoner from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed by the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate the vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

SATURDAY, FEB. 4, 1860.

NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS.

Henry P. Rolfe, Esq., who declined to be the Democratic candidate for Senator in District No. 4, gave his reasons in a letter, in which he says:

The resolutions, so far as they relate to national politics, do not conform to my long settled convictions, nor do they commend themselves to my judgment. I cannot in any sense endorse them; * * * [they] are fraught with evil to the Democratic party and the nation. On this point the resolutions are in direct antagonism to my fondly cherished convictions, and I am therefore compelled, by an imperative sense of duty, to respectfully decline the nomination of the Convention.

The resolutions referred to we have already published. They assert the right of the slaveholder to carry his slave property into all the Territories; and assert the duty of Congress, the Judiciary and the President to protect it there! We styled the two planks, slavery extension and a slave code; but the Gazette was not willing to call the two planks by these two names, though it praised the platform.

But upon a recall of the delegates, the Convention re-assembled at Concord last Saturday, and by a vote of 31 to 7 endorsed the sentiments of the letter of Mr. Rolfe, and declined to accept his declination of the nomination. The Concord Patriot says:

This action will be approved by the Democracy of the District generally, we have no doubt. Whatever may be the views of Democrats here in regard to the points raised in the resolutions nominally adopted at the previous meeting of the Convention, all who really desire the harmony and success of the party must agree with us that those resolutions ought not to have been passed—if for no other reason, because they were calculated to divide and distract the party upon a matter not now in issue here, and to give aid and comfort to the enemy. We do not intend to discuss those resolutions, nor is it necessary for us to reiterate our views on the subjects involved. It is sufficient to say that, in our opinion, they were uncalled for, that they contain sentiments in which a great majority of our party in this State do not concur, and that they are directly opposed to the spirit of those adopted by our State, Councillor, County and other Senatorial Conventions.

The Patriot should remember that similar resolutions were passed in Rockingham County, and published in the Gazette.

We see no explanation as to how the resolutions were nominally passed—and the Convention at Concord has not, in form, repealed at its second session the resolutions passed at the first. It only says in a preamble that it approves the principles and sentiments of Mr. Rolfe's letter, and therefore declines to accept his declination.

It is a sort of backing out, and a sort of holding on. No one expects Mr. R. to be elected; but the platform which was made for use abroad, seems, like the great ship, to be hardly fit to go to sea in.

The Gazette gives a view of the broken platform in No. 4, not very flattering to the Democratic party up that way, as to its prospects of success next March. We have copied the article in another column.

☞ The Bath Times says—"There are rumors that Gen. Berry, the Collector of the port of Bath, has been removed to give place to one recently brought over to the faith of the administration, and whose appointment is the 'consideration,' or 'thirty pieces of silver,' consequent upon the betrayal of friends. Gen. Berry, about the time of his appointment, had the misfortune to become severely embarrassed in business, and though he has bled severely—so severely that the office has yielded him no emolument—yet he has been unable to do for the 'Board of Trade' all that they demanded, and then, being an honest man, he could not meet their demands; and hence their thirst for blood. Thank God a speedy end is awaiting the 'reign of terror' from which the Democracy have been suffering."

SKATING ON THE CONNECTICUT.—A correspondent of the Boston Journal, at West Lebanon, N. H., says that for miles up and down the Connecticut from that point the skating was never better, and hundreds of persons, both ladies and gentlemen, may be seen every pleasant afternoon, indulging themselves in this healthy exercise.

The appearance of President Lord of Dartmouth College on skates is no new thing. He is a splendid skater, and moves about with a speed and agility rivaling his more youthful competitors.

☞ Mr. John R. Blake of Lancaster, N. H., as we learn from the Coos Republican, writes home from Indiana that he was recently driven from the town of Perry, Ga., on account of the Harper's Ferry excitement, and lost all his baggage. He says he was shamfully abused, simply because he was from the North. Mr. Blake went South to work on an engagement made before he started.

It is rumored that a majority of French Bishops have expressed themselves ready to go into public opposition, but Rome hesitates to give the requel.

PARIS, Saturday. The Pays, this evening, says: Should our information be correct, the state of affairs is daily improving, not only as regards the relations of the French Government with the Holy See, but also in reference to those of England, which are continually becoming more intimate.

The Vienna Gazette has published an Imperial Decree, enacting that the testimony of Jews shall be regarded as of the same value as that of Christians. This measure is considered as preliminary to according full civil and political rights.

The Diet of Denmark has decided by a large majority that the bill for the separation of Church and State be read a second time.

The London Times, editorially criticizing the financial condition of the American government, points out that allowing for the youth of one State and the maturity of the other, there is the strongest possible analogy between the respective proceedings of England and America. In another leader the same journal expatiates on Mexican affairs in connection with the President's Message. It says there is not a question but that the Americans, if they so please, can march to Mexico, nor is it to be doubted that their advance would be attended with the temporary benefit of tranquility. Saving British interests, we should look on such a proceeding without the least dissatisfaction, but if President Buchanan's description of Mexico is a faithful picture, it will require far more than one casual interven tion to restore the country to the rank of an organized State.

A stormy meeting of the great ship company had been held at London. A report was presented showing the condition of the company and announcing the resignation of the Board. A motion to receive the report was followed by an amendment that before doing so a Committee of Investigation be appointed. After a warm discussion it was resolved to decide the question by ballot.—The result of this ballot was expected to be made known upon the day the America sailed. The meeting stood adjourned till the 19th.

A Capt. Walker stated to be the captain of the slaver Wanderer, and who recently arrived in Liverpool under extraordinary circumstances, was under arrest in that place charged with having conspired with others to obtain money by false pretences. Evidence given before the magistrate showed that Walker was treating for the purchase of a ship for a slaving expedition.

Edmund Lane and George Hires, the first and second mates of ship Anna of New York, were under arrest in London, charged with having murdered several colored seamen during the voyage from Legona to England.

The cotton mill at Blackburn, called Swallow Steel Mill, containing upwards of 20,000 spindles, has been burnt. Loss, £30,000.

☞ Some churches in New York (says "Burleigh") when they do a good act make a noise about it, and some don't. The other Sunday, the pastor of one of our churches said to his people, "There is in this house this morning a young girl that is a slave;—she is at the North on her parole of honor; she wants to purchase her freedom; if she does not do so within a few days, she must return to her master. If any one is disposed to help her, they will have an opportunity after the service." At the close of the meeting a few gentlemen gathered around the altar and made up the sum in a few moments, and the girl was free. The church I allude to is the Fourth Avenue Methodist Church, of which Rev. Dr. McClintock is pastor—he who is so soon to leave for Paris. It is the church of the Harpers, of Mr. Stout, the City Chamberlain, and other distinguished and large hearted men.

JUDGE EDMONDS. — Burleigh, writing from New Hork to the Boston Journal, says:—

Judge Edmonds gave a lecture at the Hall of Dodsworth last Sunday night. It was on Spiritualism. But the Judge took such a new and startling stand as to create some surprise.

It is regarded as backing down from his positions, and taking a step or two in the direction of the religious faith of the community. He stated that he had been an infidel of fifty years' standing—that he had devoted himself to gain and ambition—that he had of late been somewhat a recluse—had given himself up to prayer—had found its value and now came to recommend it. He advised the people to follow out the impulses of their own souls in this matter, but to be devotional in the manner and form that best suited their desires; to join any sect and unite with any people whose faith and worship they could sympathize with.

The citizens of Charlotte county Va., on the 26th inst., met to deliberate upon the existing state of affairs. Among the resolutions adopted was the following:—"That this meeting recommend this meeting recommend to Christians throughout the Union to observe the next 22d of February, as a day of fasting and prayer to Almighty God, for guidance and support through the dangers by which we are all surrounded."

☞ The author has favored us with a handsome volume of 160 pages, on Mexican trade, politics and prospects,—of some interest to all who care to know about that country or the southern part of our own.—The title is, "United States and Mexican Mail Steamship Line, and Statistics of Mexico. By Carlos Butterfield, Washington."

BURNING OF A COAL OIL FACTORY.—The new coal oil factory in Hartford was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning.—The fire originated from the gas arising from the oil in one of the tanks coming in contact with a lantern. One of the workmen, by the name of Smith, was pouring oil into one of the tanks, when the flames flashed up, knocking him down and burning his face somewhat. When he rose the roof was on fire. The smoke arising from the ruins was of the blackest and densest character. All the exertions of the firemen were in vain; the water serving only to float the oil and spread the flames. Loss $14,000; insurance $10,000.

☞ Over two thousand sailors were wounded and many killed by the blowing up of a Spanish war steamer in the port of Malaga, Dec. 25th. Some grenades in the stern first caught fire, and communicating with other combustibles, caused a detonation which a correspondent of the Charleston News describes as tremendous and fearful. The steamer had a vast quantity of gunpowder on board, and to prevent its explosion the hull was riddled with cannon balls and finally sunk in the middle of the harbor.

☞ The Richmond, Va., Dispatch says that a subscription has been opened in that city for raising a joint stock company with a capital of not less than $20,000 or more than $100,000, to build a boot and shoe manufactory in the town of Chester, in Chesterfield county, and one hundred and twenty shares were at once taken by three gentlemen. The plan is to employ Southern workmen, as far as such can be had, to take their seats in the factory, and to instruct apprentices, whites and blacks.

☞ The Abington Standard reports trouble in the North Abington Congregational Church. Last Sunday morning, in accordance with the instructions of a portion of the members, the sexton attended church at East Abington, carrying the key to the church with him. One of the deacons broke into the meeting house, rung the bell, and the pastor preached to a small congregation. A portion of the church favor his dismission, while others stand by him.

☞ About one-third of the roof and walls of the Union Railroad Depot, at Troy, N. Y., at its northern termination, fell on Friday morning burying in the ruins the offices of the Central and Saratoga Railroads. This depot was the largest in the country; cause of the accident was the contraction of the iron chords of the arch from the intensely cold weather, which made the east wall give way. The watchman was in the other end of the building, and nobody was hurt. The loss will amount to about $10,000. The building was erected in 1853, and is 400 feet long, the roof having a span of 150 ft.

VIRGINIA INSPECTION LAW.—W. E. Mann, Esq., a prominent citizen of Pasquotank County, N. C., has gone to Richmond, as bearer of a petition very numerously signed by the citizens of North Carolina, praying the Legislature of Virginia to repeal the "Vessel Inspection Law," so far as applicable to vessels owned in North Carolina; or to include in the provisions of the law vessels owned in Virginia, so as to place owners in the two adjacent states on an equality in regard to the law alluded to.

A VALUABLE NEGRO.—At the recent sale of property belonging to the estate of Mr. Joab Mauldin, a negro man, 33 years of age, sold for $3500. Shortly after the sale, the party who made the purchase was offered $4000 for the man, who was a first-rate carpenter, and very likely. Assuming the latter price to be his value, it is the closest instance we know of in which a negro may be said to be "worth his weight in silver."—Greenville (S. C.) Patriot.

☞ The Gaceta of Havana fiercely denounces hooped skirts, as a diabolical invention, apropos of an accident which recently happened to the Prima Donna Cortesi.—While ascending a stairway she stepped on her skirt, was thrown down, and dislocated her shoulder.

☞ An Irishman named Cottrell, and his wife, living in Milford, had a drunken fight on Saturday night, and the woman died so soon after that the neighbors suspected foul play, and an inquest is in progress.

☞ It has been stated that Gov. Stewart of Missouri had refused to sign a bill passed by the Legislature for the exclusion of the free colored population from that State. It appears that Gov. Perry of Florida has also declined to sign a bill of a like character.

☞ In the Portland Municipal Court on Wednesday, the liquors seized at the store of Thomas Gibbons, a short time since, were declared forfeited to the use of the city, no one appearing to claim the same.

☞ A Pennsylvania Shaker, while engaged in selling seeds, was expelled from Virginia a short time since. The excuse now assigned is, that he proved himself an abolitionist by offering for sale an improved white bean!

The disaffected Republicans of Rhode Island have held a convention at Providence and nominated a second State ticket. That gives an opening for the Democrats, and perhaps the last they will ever have in New England, to elect a Governor.—Newburyport Herald.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A fire broke out here at half past seven o'clock this evening, in a tenement house in Elm street, between Grand and Broome, in which twenty-four families reside. From ten to fifteen persons are supposed to have perished in the flames. A number have been carried to the City Hospital suffering from burns, and from injuries occasioned by jumping from the windows to save their lives. These are all the particulars that can at present be ascertained.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2.—Gov Houston's message to the Legislature of Texas, transmitting the resolutions of the South Carolina Legislature, opposes the Southern Convention. The Legislature introduced resolutions sustaining Gov. Houston's views.—Texas gave up her independence to the Union, and is unwilling to surrender the Union on an emergency not deemed sufficient to excuse so important a step.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—The Republicans fired 117 guns this afternoon in honor of the election of Mr. Pennington Speaker of the House.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—Ex-Gov. Salmon P. Chase was to-day elected U. S. Senator on the first ballot. The vote stood Chase 75, Pugh 54, Corwin 5.

A BOY DROWNED.—Plymouth, Mass., A son of N. M. Heath, aged about ten years, while skating this afternoon on the lower Mill Pond, ventured too near the open stream and the ice giving way he was drowned before assitance could reach him.

☞ The dwelling house of Mr. Railey Allen, of East Bridgewater, was entirely destroyed Wednesday afternoon, together with all the furniture in the house. A young lady, named Miller, who boarded in the house, also lost all her clothing and $59 in money.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Samuel Perkins, of Seabrook, while leading logs upon a sled, on Wednesday morning had one of his legs broken by the fall of a log. The leg was crushed in such a manner that amputation was necessary.—Newburyport Herald.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among American, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

WOLFE'S PURE COGNAC BRANDY.

TO ALL WHO USE BRANDY

Udolpho Wolfe's pure Cognac Brandy, imported and bottled by himself, warranted pure, and of the best quality.

The citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully invited to try this Brandy, which, on comparison, will be found superior to any article of the kind ever offered for sale in this market. Each bottle has the following Certificate, and we are requested by Mr. Wolfe to state, that when the certificate on the bottle is not sufficient, he is always willing to make an affidavit that what he says in the Certificate is true:

PURE COGNAC BRANDY.

CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify that the brandy contained in this bottle was imported and bottled by me, with my name on the cork, for medical and private use, and is warranted perfectly pure, and of the best quality.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY for speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Diseases both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and purest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from the respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; moreover, any of the alkaloids present, it does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORTE, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it very efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 16, 1859.

J. F. LAPORTE, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington street, corner of State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the author, Mr. Wm. H. Brigham, No. 103 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that without receiving any benefit to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, one of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, either by advertisement, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents novl1y

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who tried all other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have resisted, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

DANCING.—The hard times do not prevent the young folks from enjoying themselves. Mr. Lamprey's third Assembly on Thursday evening was attended by a large and respectable company, and all expressed a determination to participate in the same amusement on the coming Thursday, Feb. 9.

☞ The Fair at the Ocean House, Rye, closed on Wednesday evening. Pecuniarily, it has been quite successful; those who attended from this city were much pleased with the entertainment, and had the sleighing been good, the attendance from here would have been much larger. H.

☞ Just as the train on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad arrived in this city on Thursday afternoon, the axle of the engine broke, and one of the wheels came off. No other damage was done.

☞ Elder E. Whitney will preach at the Advent Chapel to-morrow. Friends invited.

☞ The Howard Opera Troupe are to perform at the Temple next Tuesday evening. See small bills.

☞ As the passenger train from Island Pond to Montreal,(Grand Trunk Railroad,) Tuesday afternoon, was crossing a high embankment near the Boundary Line, an axle of the tender broke, causing the baggage car to be crowded from the track; it rolled end over end down the embankment, and was broken into a thousand pieces. About a dozen persons, including the mail agent, were precipitated down the embankment, but none were seriously injured. The embankment is one of the highest on the whole line of the road, and the escape of these passengers from a sudden and horrid death was almost a miracle.

☞ "Occasional," the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, makes the following statement, by which it appears that Northerners cannot visit Mount Vernon, which they have contributed so largely to purchase, without being watched and insulted by the "chivalric" Virginians:

You will hardly believe it, but it is nevertheless the fact, that the foolish excitement created in the South by the fire-eaters in Congress is exhibited in constant petty annoyances towards all Northerners who dare to visit Mount Vernon! A few days ago, two or three gentlemen from Philadelphia took a jaunt to the home and grave of the Father of his Country, and were studiously watched, as if they had come armed with fire and sword, or as if they were resolved to poison the whole State. On their return, having purchased three canes cut from the homestead of Washington, which they had wrapped in a blanket shawl, they soon discovered that they had become objects of suspicion, and it became necessary for them to explain that they carried no deadly weapons.

ANTI-SLAVERY CONVENTION.—Albany, Feb. 2.—The State Anti-Slavery Convention held its closing session here this afternoon, with a full attendance. Addresses were made by Messrs. Phillips, Pillsbury, Powell and others. Revolution and insurrectionary doctrine were advocated. A resolution was adopted strongly censuring Gov. Morgan and the Legislature for inviting man-stealing Governors and Legislatures to visit New York as the guests of the State. The invitation was denounced as an insult to the people of this State, and an atrocious servility to the slave power, while Northern citizens were daily punished in or exiled from the South.

THE HARPER'S FERRY COMMITTEE.—James Redpath has received a second summons to appear before this committee at Washington, and to-day (Saturday) was named as the day. The Boston correspondent of the Woonsocket Patriot says Redpath has been informed by U. S. Marshal Freeman, on the authority of Senator Mason, that the witnesses summoned need have no apprehension for their personal safety. Any interference with them would be punishable as an affront to the Senate. Nevertheless Mr. Redpath, acting under legal advice, has determined not to obey the summons.

EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE.—New York, Feb. 2.—This morning a steam boiler in the extensive distillery of Graham Polley, in North Fourth street, corner of First street, Williamsburg, exploded, blowing out one end of the building, and instantly killing one of the employees of the concern. A flying fragment of the boiler was thrown into a blacksmith's shop near at hand, killing the blacksmith.

☞ From the annual report of the State Superintendent of Schools in New York it appears that the number of persons between the ages of 4 and 21 is 1,572,486.—The number attending the public schools in 1850 was 851,543. About 200,000 children attended the academies and private schools, leaving only about 200,000 of school age not in school at all. The total receipts for school purposes were $4,156,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Forney's friends are confident of his success as Clerk, but Allen is secretly endeavoring to be elected. The contest will be close.—Bos. Jour.

☞ The Virginia Court, at Charlestown, is trying Stevens, another of John Brown's men. Of course he will be convicted and executed.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY
Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is:—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quitter learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spool—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

The Concord Resolutions.

The Democratic Senatorial Convention for District No. 4, at Concord, seem to have trod back from the just and sound sentiments avowed in their resolutions which were published in the Gazette week before last with commendation. H. P. Rolfe, Esq., the candidate nominated for Senator, declined, assigning objections to the resolutions as his reason. This made it necessary for the Convention to reassemble, when, as is stated, the following resolution was adopted by a vote of 31 to 7:

Whereas—The principles and sentiments expressed in the letter of H. P. ROLFE, Esq., declining the nomination as candidate for Senator in this District, are approved by the delegates here assembled, therefore—

Resolved, That this Convention decline to accept his declination, but pledge to him the earnest efforts of the Democracy of this District, by all honorable means, to secure his election.

The subjoined extract from Mr. Rolfe's letter presents his views in the premises, and exhibits the latest position of the Convention:

"The resolutions in the main, so far as they relate to national politics, do not conform to my long settled convictions, nor do they commend themselves to my judgment. I cannot in any sense endorse them; and without noticing matters contained in them, which at this time are of minor importance, I desire it to be distinctly understood that I do not admit the claim that Congress either has, or ought to have, any power to interfere with or control the domestic institutions or local affairs of either the States or Territories, and I believe, in the language of another, that 'the principle is as old as free government itself, that the people of a Territory, like those of a State, shall decide for themselves whether slavery shall or shall not exist within their limits,' and that the opposite doctrines are fraught with evil to the Democratic party and to the nation. On this point the resolutions are in direct antagonism to my fondly cherished convictions, and I am therefore compelled, by an imperative sense of duty, to respectfully decline the nomination of the Convention."

We suppose Mr. Rolfe means to be understood by this to hold that Congress has no power to interfere for the protection of property rights held in the Territories under and by virtue of the Constitution of the United States, for this is simply the point affirmed by the resolutions which he condemns; and also, that the people of a Territory may settle the slavery question for themselves before they possess the qualifications to form a constitution for admission into the Union. If so, Mr. Rolfe asserts absurdities which neither he nor his endorsers can maintain. If ever there was ground for doubt as to the power of the people of the Territories in reference to the matter of slavery, which we do not admit, it exists no longer. The Supreme Court of the United States, the constitutional arbiter in the case, has settled the question, in accordance with justice, reason and common sense as well as the Constitution, in the Dred Scott decision, and the opinion of the Court, we hardly need say, is precisely opposite to the position assumed by Mr. Rolfe. And has it come to this, that the Democratic party are not only to follow close at the heels of the Black Republicans in their abolition heresies, but also to adopt their doctrine of a "higher law," and repudiate the Constitution and the Judiciary?

The resolutions which Mr. Rolfe "cannot in any sense endorse," present sound, rational, constitutional doctrines, which it is not in his power nor that of any or all of his sympathisers, to refute. When they were unanimously passed they beyond doubt reflected the honest sentiments of the Convention, and that they have now been repudiated only shows that managers and dictators have been at work. Such a stultifying act on the part of the Convention it seems to us cannot promise very flattering results at the approaching election.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY EVENING, Feb. 2.

ALDERMEN.—The Mayor read several communications from different quarters, concerning the subject of steam-fire engines, but without taking action, the matter was postponed one week.

The Committee on Streets, to whom was referred the subject of a topographical survey of the city, reported that the expense of such a survey would be about $1000, and a joint resolution was passed appropriating that sum for the purpose.

The bill abolishing the office of Street Commissioner, which came up from the Common Council, was referred to the Committee on Bills. The bill provides that all expenditures on the streets shall be under the direction of the Committee on Streets.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The resolution from the Committee on Fire Department, providing for the introduction of water into the several engine houses and for furnishing fire-suits for the pipemen, was indefinitely postponed.

The joint resolution appropriating a sum not exceeding $1000 for a topographical survey of the streets was concurred in.

A resolution abolishing the office of Street Commissioner was passed and sent to the Board of Aldermen for concurrence.

LEGISLATIVE VISITATION. The Legislature of Tennessee has recently made a friendly visit to the Legislature of Kentucky, and these two bodies, in turn, visited the Legislature of Ohio, at Columbus, by special invitation, and were enthusiastically received.

"GOOD BYE, ADRAIN."—The New York Tribune says that when Mr. Adrain, of N. J., voted for Gov. Pennington, there were cries from the Democrats of "Good bye, Adrain."

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Ulcers in the mouth, throat, nose or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Cancerine cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY BURNHAM.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine I have ever tried. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this method to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has ever offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly, it is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying and killing it. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show you, and that it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for soothing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to some one in the neighborhood of the disease, and much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those who make the expense is their study for profit; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped round each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continue to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and Claims for Reissues or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished for a fee of "One Dollar." Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have every advantage in obtaining patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other in the country, as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind has charged less for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of securing their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to grey. Some five or six years since it began to thin out, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that grey hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the grey hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing grey or getting bald. Very respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 355 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamanton, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir. Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative" the hair will return more beautiful than ever, at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
W. H. R. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get much patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. R.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no one can express more my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frame.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by reason of which the blood becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, erupt eruptive complaints. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. It should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, ERYSIPELAS, RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, ASTHMA, GIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is laboring under pain or physical debility is astonished to find the health and energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the everyday complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous disorders. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Inflammations, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Scurvy, as a dinner Pill, and for purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MONDAY, FEB. 6, 1860.

☞ The advocates of slavery tell us, (says a good modern writer,) we need not fear in the contest between freedom and slavery—if free institutions are the best they will be adopted. Once they told us, if there had been no interference, there would have been no excitement, and freedom would have prevailed without a struggle. Nebraska was cited as a favorable instance of an opposite policy. What becomes now of the boasted squatter sovereignty when an executive officer from a free State, appointed by a free State President interferes to prevent the almost unanimous expression of the popular will?

The folly of letting freedom and slavery run a race together, could only be equaled by the farmer who should not only refuse to keep down the weeds in his fields, but should scatter broadcast all manner of noxious plants, under the notion that if his wheat and corn were not a match for the weeds they were not worth cultivating.—The State of Massachusetts has been at the expense of the preparation and distribution of a work on "Insects injurious to Vegetation." We have never learned that it was for the purpose of increasing the propagation of such insects. What a mistake mankind has been laboring under, to employ teachers and preachers to train the intellect and morals of the people, and physicians to heal the physical maladies.

THE DASHAWAYS.—A San Francisco correspondent of a recent date, has the following in relation to the Dashaways, a vital institution in that city:—

"The Dashaways are just a year old.—They celebrated their second birthday with speeches, songs and a new haul of members. Their origin, you may remember, was in an engine-house, where five or six dashed away their cups and went in for a new life of total abstinence from everything intoxicating In twelve months they had gathered 2400 members, of whom very few after six month trial have availed themselves of their privilege of withdrawing, and the black list, as I have already written, is remarkably brief. By hoisting a flag on their hall, they can rally twenty-five members at any hour of the day. Whenever a man suddenly agrees to sign the pledge, up goes the flag, a quorum (25) assemble, and down goes his name. During the present month, they hold meetings twice a day—at noon and 7½ o'clock in the evening—for the purpose of accommodating penitent drinkers, of whom they anticipate a large gathering in. The Dashaways are a most curious people—as earnest as if life depended on their behavior; as full of zeal as in the first month of their life. In thirteen States, in Oregon, Washington Territory and Columbia, even in Europe, they have branch Societies established.

"ALIEN AND SEDITION LAWS."—During the debate in the Senate on Douglas's last bid for the Charleston nomination, Mr. Doolittle quietly inquired of him if he intended by his bill to punish "conspiracy against the General Government," to which Douglas promptly answered "certainly," not knowing that the words were cited from John Adams famous "Sedition Act," against which such a clamor was raised by the Republicans of that day, and which was so potent in overturning his administration.

The Democracy of New Hampshire at the coming election will have a chance to express their opinion of Mr. Douglas's movement to procure a re-enactment of old John Adam's "Sedition Laws." Their fathers did not think much of those laws.—What will the sons say?—Dover Enquirer.

They have a law in Louisiana against selling liquors to slaves, but there is difficulty in enforcing it. The question of its constitutionality has come before the Louisiana courts.

Just such difficulty as there is in regard to all such laws. The advanced class of tipplers will lie, fight and steal for their jugs, and some persons who find their craft in danger as sellers, do not scruple to lie and fight also, in defence of their right to get the fool's pence.

☞ It is stated that when the twelve hundred clerks employed in the Bank of England leave the building, a detachment of troops march into it to guard it during the night, although a burglar could not penetrate the vaults in six weeks.

☞ William S. Bailey, proprietor and publisher of the Free South, at Newport Ky., has commenced a suit against the parties engaged in the destruction of his newspaper press and printing apparatus, on the 29th of October last, laying damages at $15,000.

☞ Mr. Charles Caswell, residing near Petersburg, Va., while at breakfast on Thursday morning endeavored to swallow the tough tendons of a fowl's leg and was strangled to death. He was but recently married.

☞ Col. Sprague has declined the nomination for Governor tendered him by the Conservative Convention held in Rhode Island on Wednesday.

Michael McCarthy, of the Kerry militia, was generally late on parade. "Ah, Michael," said the sergeant, "you are always last." "Be say Sergeant Sullivan," war his reply, "sure some one must be last."

KITCHEN CULTURE.—Rev. Dr. Cuyler, of New York, in a letter to the Christian Intelligencer, makes some practical suggestions in reference to the value of the kitchen department in all institutions for the education of young ladies. We make the following extract, alluding to a female seminary he had just visited:

They have good teachers of all the stereotyped studies of ladies' seminaries; but, in addition to all these, the college graduates its girls also from the kitchen. Each pupil is required to spend a certain time of each day in housework and in practical cookery. Premiums are bestowed for skill in housewifery, as well as for skill in painting landscapes or solving problems. This is a feature alone which makes Elmira College worth the $80,000 already expended on it. As a matter of good morals, as well as of economy, every woman should be an expert housekeeper. Because the Divine Teacher gently reproved Martha for excessive carefullness, I am persuaded he did not mean to discourage the womanly tact and training which fit to possess to guide a household well. To fashionable girls in these days a larder or a kitchen are as unknown regions as Dr. Livingston's new-found jungles and lakes of Central Africa.

Yet these young ladies, who are so much above housekeeping, do not seem to be above having a house to keep their idle bodies in. So they rush into matrimony as naturally as a duck takes to water. As soon as the wedding tour has passed, and the honeymoon has waned (how sad it is that the "old moon" comes so soon)—when the new upholsteries are all adjusted, and the stupid formalities of wedding calls are over, then comes the tug of war. A sensible couple marry to be happy. The husband expects to do his work out of doors, and expects too that his wife will do hers as well within doors.

But perhaps instead of a wife, the young bridegroom has married only a delicate doll, or a flippant flirt, or a pretty plaything. She is no Martha, nor no Mary either. In market she can hardly distinguish between a calf's head and a pig's feet; in cooking she is as much puzzled as poor old King George, who could not conceive "how the apples got into the dumplings."

But she can dance. She can spoil Bristol board. She can play polkas. She has an ear for music, if not an eye for dirt. She is accomplished; but alas! her tired and hungry husband cannot live on accomplishments. He would gladly give all her daubs "in oil" and all her embroidered stool covers, for one clean table-cloth, and for a loaf of bread that would not give him the nightmare.

A wife need not be a drudge; nor any more should she be a drone. The most cultivated women I have ever met have known how to prepare a dinner as well as how to criticize an essay by Macaulay.

☞ The Coroner's Jury in the case of the Pemberton Mill declare the direct cause of the fall of this mill was the weakness and inefficiency of the cast iron shoring; that the thinness of the brick walls, and their manner of construction, the length of span from one support to another, beneath the floor timbers, as well as distance from one floor timber to another, were additional causes, and aided in the general demolition of the building; that so far as actual defects in the cast iron pillars existed, the responsibility rests upon Albert Fuller, the former contracting agent and foreman of the Eagle Iron Foundry, then at West Boston; that upon Chas. H. Bigelow, being the architect as well as the superintendent of this structure, rests all responsibility arising from an insufficient test of said pillars, and from any and every defect, weakness and insecurity in and about the general construction of said buildings.

☞ Burleigh says that in New York great fires are the order of the day. Robert Bonner has been burnt out. But the Monday's Ledger was forthcoming, and came out Phenix-like from the flames.—Bonner will make money out of this, as he does out of all things else. Money sticks to Bonner like moisture to a sponge.

The current in favor of steam fire engines is running strong. The two great fires in Ann street have demonstated their necessity. The fire on Sunday morning was kept under and in one building only by its untiring flow and power. Companies are demanding steam engines. They will be multiplied in New York.

Small pox abounds in New York. It does not care to hide its head. The wonder is that it is not an epidemic. The other day one of the cars of the city railroad was crowded. One of the most eminent of our doctors got on board. In a moment he said—"Ladies and gentlemen, there is a malignant case of small pox on board this car—I smell it." The car was stopped, and the passengers fled, all but one, and she a woman closely veiled. The doctor asked her to lift her veil. She did, and he beheld a most dreadful case of that foul and dangerous disorder. She said she was on her way to the hospital.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Times' Washington correspondent says the following programme was arranged between the Republican and American members. President, Bates of Missouri; Vice President, Cameron of Philadelphia. Seward is provided with the French mission. The platform is to be distinctly national and conservative.

☞ At the Court in Lawrence, Mass. last week, Wm. Pease of Salem, for keeping a liquor nuisance was sentenced to six months at Ipswich.

TROUBLE AMONG THE "SAINTS."—A letter (Dec. 30th) from Salt Lake City states that on Christmas day the city was thrown into quite an unusual excitement by a fight among the Danites. Bill Hickman, their notorious leader, and Lot Huntington, who has heretofore figured as the first lieutenant of the band, became engaged in a quarrel in regard to the division of stolen property. From words they soon came to blows. Hickman drew his knife, and attempted to stab Huntington, but he threw him off and retreated to the street, Hickman following him up. When they were both in the open air, Huntington drew his revolver and fired; the shot struck Hickman's watch and glanced downward, taking effect in the fleshy part of the thigh, inflicting a very severe, if not a mortal wound.—Several others of the party then drew their revolvers and commenced firing, some at his antagonist. Some forty or fifty shots were fired in all, but no one was injured but the two leaders.

This street fight, the writer says, assumes a greater air of importance when we reflect that the Danite band has always been regarded as the strong arm of the Mormon church. As Hickman's Danite band offered great inducements in the way of public plunder, its numbers were very large, and his power almost rivalled that of Brigham Young himself, and hence a growing jealousy has for a long time existed, but they did not dare to cut him off from the church. He knew too much, and had too many desperadoes like himself under his control.—But now that his wounds are likely to prove fatal, the wish universally expressed by the Mormons is that he should die, and it is rumored that they have even gone so far as to cut him off from the church.

☞ The Frankfort Yeoman, of the 24th ult., referring to the New England mechanics, who live by making boots and shoes and other articles for the Southern states, offers these remarks:

"Hunger and rags are staring these poor people in the face, and unless they put a stop to the mad folly of their political leaders, will surely come upon them.—We say they must put a stop to it, and that speedily; they can do it, for there are one hundred thousand of these poor wretches in Massachusetts alone, who go to the polls, and it is high time for them to take the power into their own hands. If they permit the politicians to exasperate the Southern people, as they are now doing, there will be but one alternative for them, and it is to do like the poor Irish—they must starve or emigrate. This is a thought that has probably never occurred to the negro philanthropists of New England, that whereas hunger and want reduced the population of Ireland in three years some three millions of souls, so the same causes can do likewise for New England, and that more rapidly."

☞ A Georgia American, in the Augusta Chronicle, takes the following off-hand but perfectly practical view of disunion:

That the country feels secure under the government that has protected us for eighty years, is proved by a witness that never lies—the high price of slaves. Let a dissolution take place, and they would fall at least fifty per cent in fifty hours. And who will sacrifice three thousands of millions to have the offices in the hands of one set of politicians rather than another? But it is useless to argue the question on the ground taken, that we are to go out of the Union on the election of a Black Republican, irrespective of what may be done.—Now, as much as I hate the Black Republicans, I am not so much in love with Democracy as to give thousands of millions of property to have the offices distributed to the latter; that Cobb or Douglas shall receive $25,000, instead of Seward.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.—A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes from Berryville, Clark county, Va., as follows:—"A report reached here the other day from the most reliable source, that a slave (a man) belonging to R. M. T. Hunter, Senator from Virginia, was kidnapped and conveyed on the underground railroad to Canada. Strange as it may seem, the kidnapper was a Northern lady, a member of a distinguished family there. The name of this lady and the whole affair will be made public in a few days."

LOST HIS EAR.—The Manchester American says that an overseer on one of the corporations in that city was passing down Manchester street a few days since, and as he was opposite an alley-way, a missile was thrown out, which struck him on the side of the head, cutting (lengthwise) one-half of his ear so nearly off that it hung merely by the skin, and cut a slight wound in his head. The ear has been sown together again.

☞ The tenement house in New York, where 30 persons were burnt to death last week, was six stories high; the cellar was full of shavings: the basement contained a bake-house and a groggery; the upper stories were full of human beings. No ladder could reach the top; the houses on each side were low;—the victims could not get down, but were seen to burn and fall.

☞ Mr. Wikoff, of the New York Herald was summarily expelled from the House of Representatives at Washington, at the instance of Roger A. Pryor.

HAT FACTORY BLOWN UP.—New York, Feb. 3.—Holmes & Moulton's hat factory, Brooklyn, has just blown up. Ten or fifteen workmen are buried in the ruins.

The building was an immense structure and usually contained about 220 employees, including 100 females. Very few of the operatives were on the premises, the catastrophe having happened before the hour for commencing work.

The engine and machinery were entirely new, and had just been put up by Messrs. Woodruff & Beach, of Hartford, and were in charge of Mr. Eastman, an engineer in their employ, who was sent on to superintend the putting up and testing of the engine.

The main building, which was of brick, 300 feet long, and three stories high, is almost entirely demolished.

The killed are—Joseph McCracken, Superintendent and one of the owners

John Farmer, boss hatter.

——— Eastman, the Hartford engineer.

Theodore Bigbee, a young man who had come to work in the factory for first time.

Patrick McNally, an apprentice.

Two men, names unknown, one of whom is supposed to be another engineer from Hartford.

John Farrell and John Mulholland have since died at the hospital.

There were about 25 employees in the building at the time of the explosion, of whom 9 were females.

The explosion is supposed to have been caused by the freezing of water in the pumps. The boiler was torn into fragments—one piece passed into three 12-inch walls: another crossed the yard, striking the building used as a drying room and passing through both walls.

Four girls were found after the explosion, clinging to the rafters, but were rescued with but trifling injury. It is feared there are still others under the ruins.

The accident occurred about 15 minutes before 8 o'clock, when the greater part of the operatives were on the way to the factory to commence their day's work.

The loss on the building is $12,000; machinery, $10,000; stock, $15,000.

☞ In the Supreme Judicial Court, at Newport, N. H., Walter H. Comstock of Newport, indicted for an assault upon his son with intent to kill, has been found guilty. Furgerson, who wrote letters threatening to burn the buildings of Capt. Long, with the design to extort money, was duly indicted and plead guilty. He turns out to be an old jail bird. The Grand Jury presented several indictments for selling liquor. Thomas Barrett, of South Charlestown, decided not to contend with the Commonwealth, and was fined $50 each and costs on three indictments. Angel, of Sunapee, sentenced $50 each and costs on three.—Reuben M. and Theron A. Clough, of Unity, $50 and costs, one on each.

☞ A clergyman in Salem, N. J., says the Standard, announced from his pulpit that upon the next Sabbath evening he would preach to "moral men." Upon the occasion the house was crowded in every part, and a large proportion of the congregation was made of those who had not "darkened a church door" for years.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
W. M. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the Highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and most proof of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to a unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any morphia or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I think it is of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a sufficiency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it a useful, efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner of Bedford St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 120 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of consumption, and that while he had been a sufferer to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he is now able to attend to his business, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORME, sole Agent, Boston.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, such as COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have related, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly destroyed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, strengthen the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from whatever cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

THE PORTSMOUTH CORNET BAND gave a very successful. Promenade Concert last Friday evening, at the New Armory, at Kittery village. They were met at the other side of the river by Capt. Wentworth's company in full uniform, who escorted them to the hotel. About two hundred persons attended, who listened with much pleasure to the excellent music. At 9 o'clock, Elliott's Quadrille Band appeared and gave the audience a chance to participate in dancing which lasted until twelve o'clock. We understand the Band will give similar concerts in our neighboring towns. It is to be hoped they may meet with good success, as they are worthy of patronage. H.

☞ Every Saturday evening, for the past three weeks, there has been an alarm of fire; and in every instance has proved false; raised ostensibly for the purpose of having what rowdies term "a good time;" to consummate the happiness of the week's debauchery and rowdyism. The alarm last Saturday evening was raised by a drunken man who was being conveyed to the watch-house.

APPLEDORE HOUSE, Isle of Shoals, has been undergoing extensive repairs this winter. An addition of seventy feet in length has been built, which enlarges the dining-room, so that it will seat one hundred more persons, and increasing the numbes of sleeping rooms, which will accommodate many more boarders. H.

TWENTY-SECOND OF FEBRUARY.—Preparations are being made by Engine Co. No. 1 to celebrate Washington's birthday by a Parade and Grand Ball. We also hear that Mr. Lamprey will give a ball on the same evening. H.

☞ The Ladies of the M. E. Church, Rye, will hold their Fair at the Ocean House, Rye Beach, on Tuesday eve., Feb. 7th, where a great variety of useful articles will be sold—if the weather is pleasant; if not, the first pleasant evening.

ART UNION.—The sixth annual distribution of the Cosmopolitan Art Association took place in the Dusseldorf Gallery, Broadway, New York, Tuesday evening, Jan. 31st, under direction of Col. Hiram Fuller, (formerly editor of the Mirror,) Wm. A. Rand, C. C. Merchant, and Jas. C. Barnes, of New York, and Jas. W. Ward of Cincinnati.

The full list of awards was published in the N. Y. Herald of Thursday, and will also appear in the Art Journal for March, when all details will be given. Among the Portsmouth list (which is much larger this year than ever before,) are the recipients of two pictures—Mrs. John Stavers, "Road Scene near Tuckahoe," and Lt. Colvocoresses, "Scene on the Coast of Normandy."

All subscribers receive the quarterly Art Journal for the year, commencing with the March number; and the engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends." Those whose names were received in New York too late for the distribution, will be carried to the list for next year, but receive the engraving and Magazine for this. Those who have not received their pictures will be furnished this week.

FROM WASHINGTON.—Washington, Feb. 3.—Mr. Forney's election as Clerk of the House was effected by the votes of all present who had voted for Speaker Pennington together with those of Horace F. Clark and Mr. Riggs, and with the exception of Mr. Davis of Maryland. Hoffman also received the votes of the Republicans and about half of the American vote, and was thus elected Sergeant-at-Arms. Seven Americans, viz.: Maynard and Moore of Kentucky, Quarles, Stokes, Hatton and Smith of N. C. voted for Mr. Underwood. Mr. Glossbrenner, in addition to the Democratic votes, received those of Boligny, Bristow, Hardeman, Hill, Leach of N. C., and Vance, who belonged to the Southern opposition.

—The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Phelps, to-day, appropriates $4,296,000 for the deficiencies of the year ending June last, and for part of the present fiscal year; $24,000,000, under the law of 1838, in payment of the salaries of the officers and clerks, and for the transportation of mails; the third section provides for an interest of 6 per cent. on and after the expiration of quarter in which the mail service was rendered, and a sufficient sum to payment, and appropriates $4000 for temporary clerk hire to expedite the payment.

No doubt is entertained that the bill will pass next week.

Hon. Clark B. Cochrane writes to a friend here that he will not return to Washington, and that, instead of being in a lunatic asylum, he is living with the family of Dr. Gray, the superintendent, having gone to Utica to obtain his medical advice for chronic constipation and rheumatism.

The Republicans will again meet in conference to-morrow, on the subject of the election of door-keeper and postmaster.—The number of applicants for the subordinate offices is unusually large.

☞ Rev. David T. Kimball, the well-known veteran clergyman of Ipswich, and one of the oldest living graduates of Harvard College, died on Friday, aged 77.

☞ The U. S. Senate was not in session Friday Feb. 3d.

In the House Mr. Sherman moved to proceed to the election of a Clerk, previous to which there was a call of the House.

Mr. Schwartz nominated Mr. Forney.

Mr. Smith (of Va.) nominated James C. Allen, late Clerk.

Mr. Nelson nominated Samuel Taylor, of Tennessee.

Mr. Cobb nominated Mr. Dawson, of Alabama.

The Speaker appointed Messrs. Elliott Whitley, Smith (of Va.) and Maynard tellers.

The ballott resulted as follows:

Whole number 221. Necessary to a choice 111. Mr. Forney 112; Mr. Allen 77; Mr. Tayloy 23; Mr. Dawson 8; Mr. McKeuren 1.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the House decided to proceed to the election of a Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Bocock nominated the present incumbent, Mr. Glossbrenner.

Mr. Harris of Maryland nominated H. A. Hoffman of Maryland.

Mr. Garnett nominated James C. Allen, who, he said, had been a consistent Democrat. He believed that Mr. Hoffman was elected to a former Congress, by Know Nothings.

Mr. Houston inquired whether Mr. Hoffman was not nominated or recommended, as rumor said, by a Black Republican caucus yesterday.

Mr. Garnett thanked God that he was not a member of that caucus, but he understood the fact to be as Mr. Houston had stated. He withdrew the nomination of Mr. Allen.

Before the vote was announced, Mr. Forney was sworn in as Clerk.

Mr. Hoffman was elected Sergeant-at-Arms. He received 114 votes; Mr. Glossbrenner 92; Mr. Underwood 7.

On motion of Mr. Winslow, the Speaker was authorized to appoint the Standing Committees of the House.

Mr. Spinner offer a resolution that Mr. Allen, the late Clerk, be allowed eight dollars per day, from the 4th of December, 1859, to the 3d of February, 1860, for extra services, in addition to his salary.

Mr. Burnett felt bound to oppose the resolution. The law fixes the compensation at $3600, and that was enough.

The resolution was rejected. An unsuccessful motion was made to reconsider.

Mr. Covode gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill for the purpose of raising revenue to meet the present expenses of government; for preventing frauds on the revenue, and for protecting iron, coal and other articles.

Several gentlemen on the Democratic side objected.

Mr. Sherman moved that when the House adjourned it be to Monday. Decided in the affirmative by 16 majority.

Mr. Phelps asked, and obtained leave to introduce a bill making propriations for the Post Office Department, for the last fiscal and part of this year. He moved it be referred to tde Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, pending which the House adjourned.

☞ It is expected that the census of the present year will show that we have 32,100,000.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of them, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, AT EXETER.

The Court commenced on Monday the trial of No. 106, Piscataqua Exchange Bank v. Andrew H. Jones. Phineas Drake was appointed foreman of the jury. The action was brought to foreclose a mortgage of real estate given by defendant to to plaintiff. Defence set up is payment of the notes set forth in the condition of the mortgage. Defendant proved, that in November 1849 he gave to the Bank and Augustus Lord a draft on the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad, for $9453.35, to be applied to their debts and to be accounted for. Said draft was accepted by said Railroad, payable in ninety days. Defendant produced a receipt for said draft, signed by said Bank and said Lord by their attorney, W. H. Y. Hackett. The Bank did not collect said draft, but commenced this suit upon the mortgage. The case was argued on Tuesday, by Christie for defendant, and by Hackett for plaintiffs, and given to the jury in the afternoon. After being out six hours, unable to agree, and one of the jurors being ill, the jury were released. They stood seven for plaintiff and five for defendant.

No. 121, David Bartlett v. John H. Prescott & als. is now on trial. This is an action of trespass, brought against the defendants for breaking and entering the plaintiff's close, situated in Epping. The question for the jury is whether the defendants were entitled to a right of way across the plaintiff's premises, for the purpose of drawing wood, etc., as set forth in the plaintiff's writ. Bartlett and Small for plaintiff, Wood and Frink for defendants.

THE NEW DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

1. A majority may rule, in electing a President, providing the candidate elect is satisfactory to the $50,000 slave holders who now rule thirty millions of people, at Washington. Otherwise, says Mr. Toombs, we "whelm all in ruin!"

2. The election of a "black" Republican, would be an overt act, demanding revolution or disunion, as it would be "against the peace and dignity of" the Democracy.

3. Slavery may go where it pleases, and must be protected in the Territories, when these Territories become States; and also when carried into any of the free States, as servants, and remain so long as their masters choose to remain.

4. As openly avowed in Congress, the South mean to add Mexico, Central America and Cuba, to make new slave States.

5. The doctrine should prevail (Senator Mason's declaration,) "that slavery ennobles both races, black and white!" Note. The Senator explained, by saying he meant by "ennobling" that slavery elevates "both races" — the elevation not necessarily reaching the highest standard.

Here we have, in plain English, the great principles of the Democratic party, as defined by the Southern leaders in Congress. What say Mr. Hibbard, Mr. Wells, (both having been Presidents of "the Senate,) the friends of the late Senator Norris, (Speaker of the House,) the unanimous Legislature, and all the Democratic Conventions between 1847 and 1850, with the New Hampshire Patriot into the bargain? Is the present the entertainment to which they were invited? And what say the mass of the hood-winked and abused men who have heretofore supported the Democratic ticket? Two or three extracts only from the doings of the Democratic party in 1848, will suffice, of twenty other Resolutions, in County and District Conventions; — and we enjoin it upon every Republican reader to lend this paper to his Democratic neighbor who never sees or reads any other than papers of the "unalterable" Democracy, viz:

1846.—Wilmot Proviso approved by the Democratic State Convention, John S. Wells committee on Resolutions.

1847.—N. H. Legislature. "Resolved, that we declare it our solemn conviction, as the Democratic party have heretofore done, that neither slavery nor involuntary servitude should hereafter exist in any Territory which may be acquired or annexed," etc. etc.

1848.—N. H. Legislature. "Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, That we are in favor of the passage of a law by Congress forever prohibiting slavery in New Mexico and California, and in all other Territories now acquired, or hereafter to be acquired, by the United States, in which slavery does not exist at the time of such acquisition." Passed unanimously in both houses.

Once more. "The Southern people have no right — natural, moral or political — to force slavery upon new Territories. They have no more right to go there, and hold slaves, than they have in New Hampshire."—N. H. Patriot, Dec. 28, 1848.

This is the whole story. Will the honest but deceived portion of the so called Democratic party be led up to the polls in support of democracy as it is, in March? We shall see. Cato.

Market street.—Not many years since, and in times too when Portsmouth was thought to be be doing a pretty good business, there could at any time be found half a dozen or more closed stores in Market street. But for several years past all have been in demand. In vain did Mr. Dearborn, (of the late firm of D. Knight & Co.) attempt to find a location in Market street when their old store was disposed of last year. Mr. Dearborn has now obtained a good location directly opposite his old stand, and in connection with his son, advertises a good stock of the various articles in the line of a hat, cap, trunk and fur store. May their business be as successful as that of their predecessors in the store occupancy.

Pembroke Mills — Coroner's verdict. — The Jury made up their verdict on Thursday evening — it would occupy more than a column of our paper. It is summed up in this manner:

That upon Charles H. Bigelow, being the architect as well as superintendent of this structure, rests all responsibility arising from an insufficient test of said pillars, and from any and every defect, weakness and insecurity apparent in and about the general construction of said building.

Installation.—Mr. John E. Todd, son of the Rev. Dr. John Todd, of Pittsfield, Mass. was installed as pastor of the Winter street Congregational church, in Boston, on Thursday evening, Feb. 2.

The sad story which we lately published of a young lady losing her foot by freezing is entirely incorrect. The report had only a slight foundation of fact.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled, for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or Inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1,00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

Lawrence, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. Mary N. Richards.

I know the above testimony to be true with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. Charles C. RickER.

Canaan, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and I found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. Fanny Mixer.

"I have been cured of a severe cough by using Dr. Swett's preparations, and therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. Elizabeth Currier.

Exeter, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer from disease take a phial and try it. Eld. Edwin Burnham.

Exeter, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicine with which I am acquainted. Nancy F. Jones.

Canaan, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, of it, what we have not of any other medicine, that it NEVER HAS FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of the best of its effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know," and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, a single dose of it will relieve it within five or twenty minutes after they rub it in.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and SUREST remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, from teething, or from any other cause. We have never known an instance of a child suffering from any other disease, but what it would immediately relieve. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

NOTICE.

The Copartnership existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOHN MITCHELL & CO is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All bills against said firm will be paid by said Mitchell, and all debts due said firm will be paid to said Mitchell. JOHN MITCHELL, OLIVER MESSER.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

It is prepared by the prescription of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Second—It is compounded free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibility. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forest under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

DR. EATON'S CHILDRENS COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, Inflammation of the gums and relieving pain. For teething children the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—It costs so little in comparison with other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is in the puffing, and yet we feel confident in saying it is the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle must be strictly followed. Price 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Brown, Physician to the Royal Family, has been enabled to bring to light this article, which is the most powerful and effectual in hastening the cure of Consumption, Scrofula, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all cases where a general prostration of the system takes place, you will find it to be the most invigorating remedy. Consumption which has been pronounced incurable, has been cured by this invaluable medicine. Thousands have testified to its perfect health giving qualities. The result has been the production of the most wonderful cures, and that too in the most desperate cases, when every other means had failed. A Recent Discovery of Importance to the public. It is the most powerful and invigorating tonic known, and will cure in a few days, when all other means have failed, the most desperate cases of Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Female Complaints, and all those who are in the decline of life, or those who are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, you will find a cure by taking the Blood Food. It is the most powerful invigorating remedy ever discovered, and has no injurious effect upon the constitution, as it is composed of the purest vegetable extracts, and does not contain a particle of Mercury, or any other injurious mineral. It is the most powerful and effectual remedy for the cure of Consumption, Scrofula, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 18th inst. was duly received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and intermixed with some five or six years past it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling of the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was however agreeably surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and uniformity to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least such is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like—I'll be publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very article needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds about twelve per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Bickford's Spring Balance,

for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by a deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently such numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this mortal pollution, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we most reliable alterative, combined with a tonic, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical art of our times can derive for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is composed of the most active vegetables that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul chyme from the blood, and the recovery of the system from its disorganizing consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, LIVER COMPLAINT, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purge and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search out diseased and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its disordered action, and restoring its healthy vitality. The combination of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find the health or energy restored by a remedy so at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many of the more malignant and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing the certain cures of the disease for these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find the health or energy restored by a remedy so at once so simple and inviting.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its beneficent influence, so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ when the first symptoms of dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies throughout the country have fallen, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

TUESDAY, FEB. 7, 1860.

CONGRATULATION.

The Union is safe, says Uncle Toby, as he reads the papers since Mr. Pennington's election to the Speaker's Chair.

Never, in half a century's reading of the newspapers, has he seen such a universal satisfaction and pleasure expressed at any election.

The Republicans, on their part, have fired guns, serenaded and made speeches in honor of the event, as might naturally be expected. Their newspapers, also, as far as we see them, all rejoice at the event. The Manchester American, now before us, says of him:

Mr. Pennington, the Speaker elect, is a man of large experience and sound judgment. He is a reliable Republican, and voted from the outset for Mr. Sherman.

There is also, on the part of the Democratic papers, and of some other partics, an uncommon expression of satisfaction. The Portsmouth N. H. Gazette says:

The result, if not a Democratic triumph, is an inglorious defeat of the Black Republicans, as such. * * * Mr. Pennington is an old line Whig of New Jersey, who has frequently declared that he never belonged to any other political party. He has no sympathy with John Brown Republicanism, or at least has not had heretofore, but has been a conservative, national man.

Gov. Pennington is a Whig very much after the pattern of Gov. Goodwin of New Hampshire. And Mr. P. is no doubt a conservative man, and be voted, as above stated, for Sherman throughout the whole canvass.

The Manchester Mirror says:

He is about 60 years of age, and is much respected. He is understood to be national in all his notions.

The Newark, N. J., Advertiser says:

Every person in this vicinity, without distinction of party or sect—will feel gratified should he be elected to the Speakership, and recognize the choice as one fit to be made.

The Newark Journal says:

The election of Gov. Pennington to the Speakership being a conservative victory, * * * in a national no less than a local sense, have the Democracy of New Jersey nothing to regret in the choice.

It is very remarkable, however, that in all the national rejoicing now, it is convenient to forget that only a few minutes before Pennington was chosen the following question was put:

Mr. Mallory—Can the Democrats place Mr. McClernand in a position that he can be elected by South American votes.

And this was the answer:

Mr. Barksdale—He can be placed in a position to defeat Mr. Pennington.

Mr. Barksdale was just as earnest to defeat Mr. Pennington as to do the same by Mr. Sherman. Mr. B. wanted power; and therefore he wished to prolong the struggle, in hope something would turn up.

It is also remarkable that just before election the same Newark Journal, speaking of Sherman's withdrawal, and the probable nomination of Pennington or Corwin, said:

It is by no means certain that either of these gentlemen can be elected, as Smith concentrated a larger vote than was expected. At any rate, the few outside men, like Briggs and Adrain, will have a chance to decide between the National party and the Republicans.

Thus, C. and P. were not national before election—but Mr. P. is now, as he is chosen.

The Journal of Commerce says:

An old line Whig is Gov. Pennington, although he was elected to Congress in part by Republican votes. We would ourselves have preferred Smith of N. C., another old line Whig, on account of his better political associations, but are quite satisfied with the result as it stands. Better satisfied, we presume, than the majority of the Republicans are.

No doubt the majority of the Republicans will be much obliged to the J. of C. and other such papers, for being so very kind as to express their supposed dissatisfaction, which they have only dared to do by burning gunpowder. Query—whether the guns were minute guns?

The New York News says:

Any man, no matter what his peculiar or objectionable views, who could be used to drive the traitor-sustaining Sherman from the field, is acceptable.

This, for rejoicing seems rather bitter.—Analyzed, it means just this, viz.: Helper, a Southern abolitionist, is a traitor, because he wrote against slavery. Sherman sustained Helper by signing a recommendation of his book. Pennington sustained Sherman by voting for him after he had been denounced on this very account. Yet there's great difference betwixt tweedledum and tweedle-dee—and this great difference is acceptable to the News, satisfactory to the Journal of Commerce, and consoling to all the rest.

And not a State has seceded—not a representative has shot himself—but every one took his oath, and got his pay!

But—presto change! Just when our article was written so far,—and as we fondly thought was complete—along comes an item of another sort. The Richmond Enquirer comes out dressed in a full suit of mourning, column rules bottom up, looking blacker than all the black Republicans. What's the matter? is Gov. Wise dead, that his son dresses the Enquirer in such sad fashion? or has John Brown come to life? or what?

Ah, no! Pennington is elected, and the Enquirer indulges in weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Uncle Toby must alter his piece; black Republicans must hide their heads from the wrath of the Enquirer; and Northern Democrats who were giving three cheers for Sherman's defeat, must change their tune, and weep and howl over Pennington's success. In the Enquirer is the following editorial leader:

The Latest National Calamity.—It is with the deepest mortification that we are called upon to record an event of national shame and disgrace. A reference to our telegraphic column will show that a leader of a party whose political watchword is "sectional hatred," has been chosen to fill the third highest office in the gift of this confederacy.—Now, indeed, active and decided resistance to wrong can furnish the only safeguard against the violence of revolution, the only palladium of the constitution and the Union.

For more than half a century the Richmond Enquirer has continued to maintain the cause of State equality in the Union, and under the strict guaranties of the Constitution. Whenever these are assailed with a new act of successful invasion, it is especially appropriate that our venerated sheet should record the deed in tokens of the deepest mourning.

WORSE AND WORSE.—Some paper, we think the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, has said that New Jersey Republicans were not black ones; and half a dozen northern papers of the democratic party have half spoken of Pennington as a conservative man.

But now, let all such softs bear and tremble, as the executive organ, the Washington Constitution, brays out its anathemas against Henry Winter Davis. It says:—

By his vote yesterday to place a Black Republican in the Speaker's chair, he has betrayed the South into the hands of her enemies just as much as if he had invited John Brown to cross the border with his guns and pikes, and other implements of murder and treason. The Southern man, who in the face of recent events, would vote for a Black Republican for any office, or who would not oppose a Republican with all his might and main, is an unworthy son who deserves to be driven from the home he has betrayed.

THE NEW YORK CATASTROPHES.—Three more bodies were taken from the ruins of the Elm street fire on Saturday.—They are believed to be those of Mrs. Stork and her two children. The whole number of lost and injured thus far is 17. Mrs. Bothna, one of the injured, died at the hospital Friday evening. The eight wounded still remaining there, it is believed, will recover. Another body, that of Michael Kahn, was recovered from the ruins of the hat factory in Brooklyn. Mr. Smith, the fireman, is still missing, and is supposed to be under the ruins. John Gallagher, one of the injured, was dying at the hospital.—The other wounded are recovering.

FENCING.—In the Maine Board of Agriculture, a very interesting report on fencing was read, and it seemed to be the general opinion that road fences ought to be abolished, and division fences also, and that only occasional moveable hurdle fences should be used to separate pastures from tillage land. The repairs, interest on first cost of fence, increased expense of clearing out roads in consequence of road fences, &c., costs Maine per annum $5,000,000.—Original cost of the fence was $25,000,000.

☞ At the Court in Newport, N. H., now in session for Sullivan county, there were sixteen indictments for the illegal sale of liquor, to all of liquor, to all of which the plea of not guilty was first made. All these pleas were afterwards retracted, and the respondents severally pleaded nolo con.

There were five respondents: and fines of $50 and costs were imposed in nine of the sixteen cases, being one or more for each respondent. The other seven cases were suspended, for future use if bonds should be forfeited.

☞ James Stephens, the wife murderer in New York city, was hung on Friday, Gov. Morgan would have changed his sentence to imprisonment for life, but for his recent attempt to murder the prison guard. He protested his innocence to the last. He is the 14th who has been hung on the same gallows.

FIRE IN LEE.—The barn belonging to Job Thompson, containing about 50 tons of hay, together with twenty-six head of cattle, a flock of sheep and two horses were destroyed by fire on Tuesday night, Jan. 31. The fire was supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The barn had been built about two years and cost $800.

☞ In the police court of Newburyport, last Saturday, Michael Lowry, for keeping a groggery in his cellar, was fined $10 and costs, and sentenced to 20 days at hard labor in the House of Correction at Ipswich, the term to be extended to 30, if the fine is not paid; and he also to recognize in the sum of $1000, not to violate the law for one year.

☞ It appears that the six story man trap in New York, miscalled a tenement house, where so many people lost their lives last week, had but one staircase, made and finished with pitch pine lumber. Of course it would burn like a candle.

A reporter, when gazing upon the scene from the street below, could see hands and arms thrust from the windows and quickly withdrawn, and at times part of a form would be exhibited, as if the person were endeavoring to escape. The roof was at one time filled with the victims, who had rushed to it as a final means of escape.—There they stood, looking sorrowfully down upon the crowd below, and shrieking for that help they could not get.

One couple, in particular, giving up all hope, rushed into each other's arms; others seemed in prayer; while several small children, in their night clothes, rushed frantically about. At last the roof gave way, and fell with a crash, carrying with it the miserable unfortunates, and precipitating them into eternity. At this moment many of the lookers on, sickened with the fearful sight, left the scene, unable longer to be witnessess of so much terrible agony.

A son of Mr. Parrott got out of a side window on to the roof of the adjoining buildings, three stories below the one occupied by his parents. His mother threw to him at this distance, her three children, all of whom he caught safely in his arms.—The mother leaped after them, and was also caught by the son. Seeing her children safe, she fainted, and it was a long time before she was restored to consciousness.

A Frenchman leaped from the fifth story to the ground, and escaped with a broken leg. He said he had left his wife and five children in the building. They all perished.

A young girl named Eliza White, being on the third floor, found herself surrounded by the flames. She endeavored to escape by the stairway, but could not, and rushing to the window, looked out for a moment and then sprang to the earth. She was picked up in an insensible condition, and conveyed to the Police Headquarters, where she soon revived, and was found to be wholly uninjured.

☞ The Lecture Committee of the Mercantile Library Association of St. Louis, lately asked a lecture of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, but with the understanding that he should "eschew all matters pertaining to politics and religion." Mr. Beecher in reply said:—

I am too much of a patriot to eschew the one, and too good a Christian to neglect the other. Indeed the only motive that I have for lecturing at all, is the hope that I may make better citizens and better Christians, of my fellow men. And it seems to me, that a course of lectures, from which had been strained out "all matters pertaining to politics and religion," must afford but very meagre diet to the young people of St. Louis.

☞ On the anniversary of Franklin's birthday, a colossal statue of the philosopher was erected in Philadelphia, in front of the market which bears his name. The statue is cut from Pictou stone, weighs about six tons, and is much admired for design and execution.

☞ The life of a little girl, five years of age, was the other day saved in Cincinnati, by a noble St. Bernard dog. She had fallen into the Miami Canal, and would have been drowned, had not the dog plunged in and kept her from sinking until relief came.

☞ In the Massachusetts House of Representatives on Thursday, the bill to incorporate the Nahant Hotel Company, with a capital of a half million dollars, was recommitted with instructions to amend so that the charter will be forfeited if intoxicating liquors are sold in the house.

A RUMOR.—The Augusta correspondent of the Boston Journal, on the Peck defalcation, says:—

I have heard already of a fur store and a livery stable in Portland which the Treasurer had on his hands, and which he was obliged to take possession of, in order to secure himself for certain sums belonging to the State which he had loaned to the proprietors!

☞ Scott Russell in his statement to the stockholders of the Great Eastern, referring to the various harbors which she can enter, says:

"She can be navigated up the Hoogly—if not to Calcutta at least to Diamond Harbor Sydney and Melbourne are open to her in Australia, and Portland in Canada."

☞ In the Police Court, Portland, Friday, the liquors seized on the premises of Ellen Goodrich, were declared forfeited to the city. Ellen is a liquor nuisance wherever she goes.

☞ The Cheshire Bridge, connecting Charlestown, N. H., with Springfield, Vt., and which was carried away last spring, is about to be rebuilt, within a year.

☞ Half a dozen scholors have been brought before the police court at Belfast, and fined $2 each and costs for flogging a schoolmaster.

☞ There were 855 births in Worcester during 1859, of which 453 were males, and 411 females.

ELOPEMENT AND REMORSE.—The Chicago Herald tells the following story:

"A few days ago one of our city officials, tired of the domestic restraints around him thrown by an exacting wife, resolved upon eloping with a young lady with whom he had been some time desperately smitten. He secretly packed his trunks and conveyed them to the depot at Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Railroad, and the young lady aforesaid performed a similar operation, and away they went on the wings of love towards St. Louis. By and by, conscience, that worm which knaws into the very soul of guilt, seized upon him, and remorse quickly followed. He wished himself back again a thousand times. By that time he reached ———, a little station a few miles this side of St. Louis, and was almost frenzied. He had not the moral courage to reveal his feelings to the partner of his guilty flight, and meeting a deputy sheriff of this county he begged him to extricate him from his predicament. His friend, the deputy, acceded to the very reasonable demand, and when the absconding husband had seated himself in the car, he walked up to him and read a bogus warrant, arrested him and took him out of the car just as it moving off, leaving the damsel to pursue her journey alone."

☞ The contest for the Speakership of the House in 1860 was protracted to within two days of the length of that of 1856. Mr. Banks was elected on the third day of February, Mr. Pennington on the first. Mr. Banks was chosen on the 133d ballot by a plurality of three, Mr. Pennington on the 43d ballot by a majority of one. Mr. Banks, though not the original candidate of the Republicans, was voted for almost from the outset—Mr. Pennington did not become the candidate till two days before his election.

☞ At East Abington, on Sunday last, says the Standard, Mr. Wm. Wall met with a sudden death. He was on his way to attend a funeral, and while in an intoxicated condition, pitched out of the carriage, and striking on the head, near the temple, was instantly killed.

☞ About the beginning of November last, a little girl named Melissa Carhart, of Hickory Grove Township, Iowa, was bitten on the arm by a dog, and last week hydrophobia developed itself and she died of the dreadful disease.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will accertainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

☞ Yesterday was literally a "washing day." The rain, at times, fell in torrents, washing away the snow and leaving the streets covered with glassy ice, rendering them unsafe for any one to venture abroad without rubber boots,—and not perfectly safe even with them,—they might, without a moment's warning, find themselves uncomfortably seated in a puddle of water, or as flat on their faces as pilgrims at the shrine of Mecca.

☞ On Saturday evening, four horses attached to a sleigh containing a band of music and a number of persons, passed through the principal streets of this city, creating considerable excitement among the boys. We learn that it was occasioned by the triumph of one party over another in the result of a recent law case at Exeter.

☞ There were two kinds of figs in Jeremiah's Vision, (chap. 24.) one very naughty, and the others like those first ripe, very good. Well, we have just had a vision of figs also, from Mr. Stavers—but there was only one kind, viz., the good ones; and they not only looked like the first ripe figs, but tasted exactly like them. If you don't like to trust our judgment, then buy a little drum and judge for yourselves.

ENTERPRISE.—The enterprising firm of Allen & Paine have, for the past fortnight, been busily engaged in making improvements and additions in their store, for the purpose of enlarging their stock for the Spring Trade. Mr. Paine left the city yesterday, for Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, and other places, to take orders for their extensive Cloak trade, which they purpose to extend on a larger scale the coming season. CABOT ST. SCHOOL HOUSE is progressing rapidly. ☞ The Paris correspondent of the London Post telegraphs that the current rumor that the Pope had demanded the evacuation of Rome by the French troops, is absolutely false. The Times correspondent, however, says unless the French government disavows the famous pamphlet, it certainly will be called on to withdraw its army.

With regard to Napoleon's free trade programme, he is represented to have said, in reply to certain observations:

The manufacturers, who exist solely because they were protected, have been aware of my intentions for five years, and have had plenty of time to prepare for the change. The system of prohibition has had its day, and I have not the power to raise the dead.

The London Chronicle says the new commercial treaty embraces, on the side of France, the suppression of prohibition, and a reduction of duties on coal and iron; on the part of England, a reduction of duties on wines, spirits, articles de Paris and silks.

FROM KANSAS.—Leavenworth, K. T., Feb. 4.—The Territorial Legislature has passed an act incorporating the Central Overland and Pike's Peak Express, being a re-organization of the Pike's Peak Express Company, with an increased capital and a wider field of opperation. A bill abolishing slavery has been under consideration, but no definite action has been taken upon it, both branches being principally engaged in local legislation.

Martin F. Conway, Congressman elect, under the Wyandotte Constitution, left here some days since for Washington, in consequence of a summons to appear before the Senate Harper's Ferry Committee. The general belief is that the project for enlarging the boundaries of Kansas will be voted down by a large majority.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Mr. Forney has appointed N. Barry Hayes his chief Clerk, in place of Carter. The Republican conference has recommended Geo. Marston of N. H. for Doorkeeper, and Josiah M. Lucas of Ill. for Postmaster of the House.

CANAAN, N.H., Feb. 6.—Milton's Hotel, the stores of Barnard & Co. and Jos. Johnson, and several small buildings, were burnt in this place at midnight. Loss $6000; partly insured.

☞ The Boston Journal's Augusta correspondent says—Mr. Somes of Biddeford, member of Congress, is said to be indebted $10,500 to Mr. Peck. Mr. Somes failed in business shortly after his election to Congress, and has not since been able to pay the amount.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—[N. Y. Herald Correspondence.]—A number of Democrats who are here from Kansas have conferred with the Southern Democracy in Congress and propose to advocate the admission of Kansas into the Union, with the Wyandotte Constitution, changing the boundaries so as to include Pike's Peak and that portion of the Territory of Nebraska south of the Platte River, the change to be submitted to the vote of the people of Kansas; and, when ratified, they are to be admitted as a State by proclamation of the President.

Hon. Marcus J. Parrott, Gen. Pomroy, Judge Amy, and others, Republicans, who are here from Kansas, insist on the admission of Kansas under the Wyandotte Constitution, without any alteration, that constitution having been already ratified by two-thirds of the citizens of the Territory. The question of population will not be urged, as Judge Pettit of Kansas has said that he is confident there is 100,000 inhabitants, which comes up fully to the requirements of the English bill. It is also proposed by the Democratic Senators to resist the organization of any new Territories. They want to attach Dacotah and the region round about it, to Nebraska, while Utah and the territories south of Kansas are to be annexed to New Mexico, and follow its fortunes. To this it is objected that having secured slavery in New Mexico by law, this immense territory should not be brought under the same enactment, which might secure it to slavery forever.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONER.—The only full pensioner upon the revolutionary roll of Massachusetts is Benjamin Smith, of Grafton. There are other revolutionary pensioners, but none besides Mr. Smith, who served over three years in the army Mr. Smith was a fifer, and was with the army nearly four years. He is now nearly ninety-seven years of age, his birthday occurring on the 8th of this month, and is quite feeble, being confined to his room.

The State for three years past has voted Mr. Smith a gratuity of one hundred dollars per annum, which will probably be continued as long as he lives, which added to his $96 from the general government, affords him means of support.—Newburyport Herald.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. George Drew, who was in the employ of Mr. John Deering, in his Steam Saw Mill, at North Kennebunkport was so severely injured on Monday last, that he died Friday morning. Mr. Drew belongs in Stoddard, N. H., where he has a family. His age is 51 years.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and fragile with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapor freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1858.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. F. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents nov7ly

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other remedies in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have lasted, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Everyone afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

CITY OFFICERS.—The failure of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen to elect the city officers in the month of January, as required by the law, has not surprised us at all. Nobody is to blame for it. It is the necessary consequence of that happy condition of things which our neighbor of the Journal was so much pleased at in the result of the municipal election, and which he thought many Republicans would have helped to consummate if they could only have known "how it would come out." But it is due to our neighbor to state that at the time he expressed this very liberal opinion he supposed his party in carrying the City Council had secured everything in the way of office and patronage except the Mayorship, which didn't happen to be quite correct.

It is not an entirely unheard-of circumstance that when a thing depends on the agreement of two opposing bodies of equal powers for consummation, that said thing is never consummated, and this appears to be the state of the case in regard to the appointment of city officers. An election might possibly have been effected, had the Mayor been willing to give his Republican opponents of the Aldermen the disposition of all the places worth having, but, strange to say, he has not been made quite to appreciate this exceeding liberality, although he is of course aware that a respectable majority of the popular vote of the city is with the Democratic party, and that the Republicans are only accidentally in power in the City Council.

However, as the old officers held over by law until new ones are chosen, we do not apprehend that the city is likely to suffer any very serious injury in consequence of the failure to make the appointments as required by the statute—especially as the Republican members of the Council have signified a disposition entirely averse to any extravagant enhancing of salaries until their friends are in place to "pocket the rocks."

☞ An important slander case has been on trial recently before the Supreme Judicial Court in Hillsborough County. The case was once tried, and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff for $8 damages and $8 costs. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, and the case tried again, when after an examination of about 100 witnesses, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $12 damages and $12 costs. A verdict in a case of slander, in this State, does not carry costs above the amount of the verdict, unless it exceeds $13.33. The parties belonged in the town of Weare.

From the Journal.

TEMPER OF THE TWO PARTIES.

The tone and temper of the Republican and Democratic parties, remarks the Concord Statesman, are so dissimilar that it cannot escape the observation of the country. On the Republican side, no threats are uttered; no violence attempted. In Congress, the representatives of the party are conducting with admirable discrimination: so much so as to elicit the applause of their constituents in all portions of the land where Republican principles have foothold. And the tone of our papers is in harmony with the conduct of Republicans in the popular branch of Congress. We are biding our time, in the utmost confidence that all will come out well; that the country will, by the present contrast now presented in the temper of the two great parties, rightly judge to which it is safest to commit their interests for the coming four years.

It ought to make an abiding impression upon candid Democrats, that all the threats yet uttered against the Union proceeded from members of the Democratic party. The Republicans have not lifted a finger against the sacred inheritance transmitted to them by the sages of the Revolution. Under all the irritating circumstances of the past seven weeks in the House, at Washington, they have manifested a degree of forbearance that affords full proof of their amicable purposes. Treasonable sentiments have been plentifully scattered there, and from the columns of Democratic papers; but the Republicans in Congress and elsewhere have abstained from even uttering irritating words — much less those which were of a nature to precipitate a catastrophe the Democrats profess to deplore. Let the country take knowledge of the temperate course the Republicans are pursuing, and mark the Union-weakening deeds of the other side, and then judge to which party it is safest to commit the destinies of the Republic.

PROGRESS.

Two members of Congress, Reagan of Texas, and Underwood of Georgia, have now avowed the doctrine, not only that slaves may be carried into new Territories, and be protected by law, the same as horses and other property, but that slaves there in the Territory, when a State, shall continue to be protected; thus making every new Territory a slave State, mangre all laws or State Constitutions! So we now know pretty well the position of what is called the Democratic party, which our editors at home are required to support.

"STATE ISSUES."—The democratic papers in this state, at the last two or three State elections, were very industrious in pressing upon the the people the importance of "State issues"—the magnitude of the state debt and the mismanagement of the state finances—the incompetency of the State Judiciary and the iniquity of the State Liquor law—all of which, and cognate subjects, were harped upon unceasingly. From their silence upon these matters now, it is evident that their resolution makers and presses have found that the discussion of them don't pay expenses. The people understand their own State affairs too well to be deceived by their clamor. They know that they have been prudently managed by the Republicans—much better than they were by the democracy when they held the reins. John Brown and his doings is now their only "harp of a thousand strings" and the democratic fuglers are playing upon it with as much industry and desperation as John Chinaman beats his gong to scare away "outside barbarians," and they will meet with about the same success. —Dover Inquirer.

DEMOCRATIC THERMOMETER. — The Democratic record for the latitude of New Hampshire has within ten years ranged thus:

1850. It is the duty of Congress to prohibit slavery in the Territories.

1855. Congress has no power to interfere with slavery in the Territories.

1860. It is the duty of Congress to protect slavery in the Territories.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found no more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY RICKER.

"I have been afflicted of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints. J. R. PERKINS, agent of his medicines in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Ed. EDWIN BERNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most efficacious medicine for Coughs, and for many other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has been recommending.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.

Second—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying its faculties. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show. Fourthly—It is pleasant to taste, which is distilled being duty from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, mainly of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly safe and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to lose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements; but we cannot help the expense to be at in advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped round each bottle must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world HONTON; by the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and testimonials of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to the inventor, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Shamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing wanted. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 percent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Bickford's Spring Balance,

for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights. It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole system, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, deprives the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded, their health is in jection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active vegetables that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. It should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS, AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on the truth, that it is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which good health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, they are found to heal the sick with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so agreeable and safe.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Dropsies and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaints, Drowsiness, Worms, and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what confidence to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. Widely many inferior remedies thru upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7, 1860.

☞ STEVENS, one of John Brown's men, has just been found guilty, by a Virginia jury, at Charlestown, after fifteen minutes' absence.

The prisoner received the verdict with most perfect indifference, and smiled at the announcement.

The trial was a farce. No new evidence was adduced. The speeches of counsel were mostly of a political character, discussing the present position of the questions between the North and South. The Commonwealth, by Mr. Harding, made the opening argument. He denounced as a falsehood and libel that assertion of John Brown that he was to receive aid from the laboring classes at Harper's Ferry. He concluded with an earnest appeal to the jury to vindicate the law, and charged that the prisoner was a blood-thirsty villain and wretch, and worse than Brown.

Mr. Sennott, for the defence, made an eloquent speech, going into the history of the rise and progress of the Republican party, closing with an earnest appeal to the jury to spare the life of the prisoner.

Mr. Hunter closed on the part of the Commonwealth. He had no confidence in the Union meetings held in the North. The invasion had been a benefit to the South, as it had shown them the position in which they were placed. He referred to Mr. Hickman's boasting of the eighteen millions of Northern men, and declared the South were prepared for any emergency.

GOV. WISE PINNED.—Judge Bailey, formerly of Georgia, at a recent Union meeting at Knoxville, Tenn., made a speech which contained some very damaging disclosures concerning Governor Wise, although they were merely confirmatory of what has before been stated. Of the speech the Whig says:

The Judge made one startling disclosure, which was new to us all. He said that during the Presidential contest, Gov. Wise had addressed letters to all the Southern Governors—and that the one to the Governor of Florida had been shown to him—in which Wise said that he had an army in readiness to prevent Fremont from taking his seat, if elected, and asking the co-operation of those to whom he wrote!

In remarking upon this, the Louisville Journal says that it is "unquestionably true that Gov. Wise did in 1856, write exactly such letters as Judge Bailey describes. He was as deep-dyed a traitor then as old Brown has since been."

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?—I, said the sparrow. The New York Herald correspondent writes:

The battle is over, and Pennington is elected Speaker without a vote to spare.—The Helper book and lightning have both served him. But for the New York Herald's publication of the extracts from the "Impending Crisis," Sherman would never have been defeated and Pennington elected. Southern members are reported to have said that the Herald's exposition of Helperism has been of more service to them than forty Brown raids could possibly have been in the conflict for the Speakership.—The vote of H. Winter Davis, of Maryland, elected Pennington. He would never have voted for Sherman while the latter refused to disclaim the sentiments of the extracts read from Helper's book. He was not elected by Republicans, as Mr. Briggs was, but by Southern oppositionists in a slave State.

Mr. Clark of Missouri said he didn't kill the turkey—he only made him roost lower.

☞ The Augusta, Maine, Age, speaks the first words for Helper's book that we have seen from a democratic journal.—It says:—

"That book may have been well enough, written by a Southern man and addressed to a Southern community, with a view to induce them to abolish Slavery as an institution injurious to Southern prosperity.

The entire volume is a stern array of facts and figures, showing the superiority of free over slave labor, in every material point, and is addressed, not to slaves, but to the non-slaveholding whites of the South.

☞ A writer in a Nashville paper has compiled the probable number of free colored persons now in the slave States, which is about 265,000, distributed as follows: Maryland 80,000; Virginia 60,000; North Carolina 30,000; Delaware 20,000; Louisiana 20,000; Kentucky 11,000; District of Columbia 11,000; South Carolina 10,000; Tennessee 8000; Georgia 3000; Mississippi 3000; Alabama 3000; Florida 1200; Missouri 1200; Texas 1000; Arkansas 1000.

☞ A committee of the Maryland Legislature is taking testimony in a case of impeachment of one of the Judges of Baltimore. One of the witnesses, who had been twenty-one days a juror in the Court over which the Judge presides, swore that the Judge appeared on the bench, drunk every day.

☞ Mr. Hoffman, the new Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, when he was a member, voted to expel Brooks for his assault on Senator Sumner, and supported his vote by an earnest speech.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 6.

SENATE.—Mr. Hunter said that the Post Office Deficiency Bill would probably be reported to-morrow, and would claim attention.

Mr. Brown—That's just the way; resolutions for the protection of slavery in the Territories are to be postponed till eternity.

The Senate, by a large majority, agreed to a motion to adjourn.

HOUSE.—Mr. Clark of Mo., made a personal explanation, denying statements in certain papers, that Douglas was the first choice of Missouri.

The Post-Office Appropriation Bill was read, and Mr. Phelps said that the first section appropriated $4,000,000 for the support of the Post Office Department for the remainder of the fiscal year ending June last. He offered an amendment to the second section, that the $2,400,000, therein appropriated, be devoted exclusively to the compensation of Postmasters and clerks in their offices, mail departments, special agents and the transportation of mails; and suggested that the section providing for interest on the unpaid compensation of contractors be stricken out.

Mr. Phelps' amendment to the 2d section designating to whom the $2,400,000 shall be paid, was agreed to—118 to 76.

The House refused to strike out the section providing for the payment of interest to contractors.

Mr. Sherman moved to proceed to the election of a doorkeeper.

Whole no. votes 207; nec. to choice 104; Marston, elected, 110; Wright 57; Markland 16; Ward 12; Larner 12.

Mr. Washburn, of Illinois, moved to proceed to the election of a Postmaster.

Necessary to a choice 106; Mr. Lucas had 108, and was elected.

The House adjourned till Thursday.

SWINDLER CONVICTED.—The public will be pleased to learn that Francis Fowler, a well-known emigrant ticket agent and swindler in New York, has at last been convicted, though defended by an ex-Recorder who, when on the bench, was a terror to evil-doers by reason of his acuteness.—Fowler has been very often complained of by the victims of his numerous frauds, but his policy has always been to refund at the least movement of the police; and the swindled emigrant usually was content to go about his business, rather than to starve for the sake of waiting to punish his robber.—At last, however, one victim was found who was willing to make an example of this crafty Fowler, and the result is a conviction, after a trial of two days. The jury deliberated only ten minutes. The strong point made by the counsel for the defence seemed to be, that the pretence by which the prisoner deceived the emigrant, though a thorough falsehood, was not a legal offence. Another point made by the lawyer was, that his client was a man of "wealth and position," and that though his bail was very low, he had not run away.

CRINOLINE ON THE WANE.—Although the last advices from Paris state that crinoline is not to be abolished or curtailed there, the latest news from New York is that the fashionable ladies of that city are having their spring "turn outs" materially diminished in circumference and in length. The dresses fall just below the top of the boot, displaying the foot, and are from eight inches to a foot less in diameter than heretofore.

Last Sabbath morning, Miss Hannah Tyler, an accomplished daughter of Capt. Andrew Tyler of Frankfort, came near losing her life by applying a very small quantity of creosote to kill the nerve of a decayed tooth. In about two hours after the application she was thrown into convulsions, and remained insensible through the day. For some time her life was despaired of. She now lies dangerously ill of congestion of the brain.—Progressive Age.

☞ The recent murders, burglaries, shooting and stabbing affrays in New Orleans, have demonstrated the utter inefficiency of the police, and have led to the introduction of a bill in Legislature for its re-organization. A Board of Police is to be established—the policemen to be uniformed, and to carry side-arms.

☞ The disunion proposals of the South Carolina Legislature do not meet with very brilliant success. Texas laid them on the table; Virginia talks them over, and that's all; while Maryland is only restrained by State courtesy from contemptuously passing over them without the compliment of a reading.

☞ The tea plant grows in the agricultural Garden at Washington. It is said that it makes a finer flavored dish of tea than that usually imported. It is drank without milk, and has a rich, oily taste.

☞ Leonard Byington, a land operator in Iowa, lately had one hundred and nine separate notices, comprising nine columns in the Iowa Reporter, issued to different parties, that he is going to foreclose the mortgages which he holds upon their lands and tenements.

☞ In the Manchester Police Court, Friday, Feb. 3, Jere. Hayes, Timothy McQuinn, and Andrew Farrell, were severally bound over in $200 each, for trial,—for keeping liquors for sale. They are taken up by the city marshal, under the new search clause.

☞ Four great historians, Macaulay, Hallam, Prescott and Irving, died in 1859.

NAPOLEON'S WAR HORSE.—Everybody has seen a copy, in some form, of the famous painting, "Napoleon crossing the Alps," and everybody doubtless remembers the noble-looking white horse in the foreground, which bears upon his back the young general of the army of Italy, who leans upon the neck of his rearing steed, and points to the long lines of soldiers climbing by tortuous paths the steep and rocky passes of the Alps. The horse is not a mere artist's ideal, but was intended as a portrait of Napoleon's horse Superb. This beautiful animal was a light grey Arabian, about 15 3-4 hands high, slightly, but compactly built, possessing remarkable intelligence and great muscular power, combined with a nervous active temperament, and a strong, vigorous constitution.

Superb was a great favorite with Napoleon, and accompanied him in many of his most successful campaigns. In 1813, during the disastrous retreat from Moscow, he was captured by the Russian General Orloff, who kept him at St. Petersburg till 1834, when he was presented to the father of M. Tourmiaire, then manager of the imperial circus, a passionate lover and accomplished trainer of horses, and well known for his devoted attachment to the memory of the great Napoleon. Gen. Orloff, in presenting the horse said, "Jacques Tourmiaire, you were greatly attached to the late Emperor of the French, and your attachment honors you. You are known to be a favorite among horses; and satisfied of the care he will receive at your hands, to you I confied this my greatest favorite.—Superb is too slight for my use. I have become too heavy for him. To sell him to a strange master is a fate which I cannot think of subjecting him. To you therefore I entrust him, and as you loved him to whom he first belonged, you will, I am sure, cherish Superb for the memory of his owner as well as for his own sake." The horse was well cared for by his new master, who brought him upon the stage, and taught him to perform some light part in pieces performed in the circus. Jacques Tourmiaire died in 1839, and left Superb to his son, who treated the veteran still with the tenderest care. He was subsequently exhibited in London, and other large cities.

Several years since, we read a history of this horse, published in an English journal, and if our memory serves us well, it was stated that he was foaled in 1802, and died in 1841, having lived to the extraordinary age of thirty-nine years.—Am. Stock Journal.

HOW A DRUGGIST SOLD PURE LIQUOR. A capital story is told of a druggist in Chicago, which is to this effect. Druggist had the reputation of keeping most elegant brandy, imported expressly for himself, all the way from La belle France. Of course he was supposed to keep it solely for family use or medicinal purposes, and for "nothin' else." There was, however, a cask kept on tap in a back room, and it was really astonishing what a lot of favorites went into that back room daily, and how much sickness there was in the city, while that cask, like the "widow's cruse," was always full. But here the "fun come in."

One day—a snapping cold day—about lunch time, several thirsty heads of families, grain men, et id omne genus, might have been seen in that back room, anxiously waiting for the druggist, who was dealing out boluses in the front shop, to come in and draw some of the genuine unadulerated Cognac. Druggist comes in, and turns the tap with a knowing wink and a grin, but stands petrified to find that the thing don't run. "Something is the matter with the faucet, gentleman; guess I'll take it off, but tho' the orifice is thus enlarged, the thing still won't run. Druggist is sure that the cask is full. Grain men propose to take out the bung and see what the matter is.—Bung is taken out and cask turned to the light, when the horrifying fact presents itself to the naked eye, that this unadulterated brandy, imported from France, is frozen solid.

Too much water had killed the brandy. Grain men evaporate, heads of families explode, and the last seen of druggist he was hesitatingly glancing at the strychnine jar in the front shop.

The telegraphic report of the loss of the steamer Northerner, bound to Panama, from San Francisco, on or about Jan. 16, is tho't to be an error, as no boat leaves San Francisco for Panama until Jan. 29. the mail of Jan. 5 having already arrived.

The steamer Northerner is on the mail route between San Francisco, Oregon and Puget Sound, and is undoubtedly the boat referred to. The next steamer from San Francisco was to have been the J. L. Stephens.—Boston Journal.

☞ A dealer in lottery policies in Washington, D. C., has been convicted of selling policy tickets and sentenced to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100.

☞ J. P. Sinclair of Levant, Me., states that eight years ago he paid twenty-five cents for a Houghton gooseberry bush, and since then he has sold in bushes $150, and in berries $100.

"Pride," says Hugo, "was born in heaven but forgetting by what way she fell therefrom, she could never find her way thither again."

Till we have sinned, Satan is a parasite; when we have sinned he is a tyrant.

All tears will not be clean wiped from our eyes till all sin be taken out of our hearts.

☞ Mr. Trask, the veteran opponent of tobacco, has just issued No. 2. of the Anti-Tobacco Journal, at Fitchburg, Mass. Each No. contains 24 large pages, well printed. $1 per annum, 3 copies quarterly.

☞ It is proposed to establish a zoological garden in the New York Central Park.

☞ The Virginia Legislature has declared an amnesty to all persons who were engaged in duels previous to Jan. 10.

☞ Twenty-six persons aged one hundred and over, have died in the United States in 1859.

AN ESSAY ON LIFE.—[By Miss Ann Thrope.]—Life is a humbug, and all the men and women are hums. Happiness is a word of three syllables, found only in dictionaries. Friendship is a pleasant union of persons on amicable terms, so long as convenience or self-interest shall serve. Hope is a bunch of turnips evermore temptingly dangling about two feet before your, the donkey's nose. Faith is something of a divine nature, not to be exercised upon things earthly. Charity begins at home and covers a multitude of sins. Perfect content is found only in two cases—in a man dead drunk in the gutter, or a lightning bully just thoroughly whipped. Wealth is a bright three cent piece in the hands of a poor child, or millions controlled by a miser. Comfort is a condition of physical enjoyment ardently desired and seldom attained. Trust is a vain confidence, the exercise of which has often been the ruin of friends, retail grocers, and newspapers.—True greatness is success, right or wrong.—Patriotism means hard work for our party, and true patriots are those on our side.—Love is a strange bird; it sometimes flies with its sad victim far up in the ethereal regions of joy, serenity and infinite content—then drops him down, down, with bruised and bleeding heart, into the profoundest depths of Hades, to writhe with ceaseless torture. Constancy is adhering to one friend or lover till a new or better one is found. True religion is pure and heavenly, and rarely, very rarely, found on earth. Therefore, brethren and sisters, I conclude that life is a humbug and not worth half the trouble that is taken to preserve it.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of the fair profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS.—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that its great which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous evils which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Find it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

JAMES F. SIMMONS, U. S. Senator from R. I.
J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON. And for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thatcher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Hacker, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Local.

☞ Of all persons to be detested, loathed and shunned by all decent people, one of the most detestable is he who is wantonly cruel to animals. Show me the person who will willfully abuse an inoffensive animal, and I will show you a coward and a tyrant who would not hesitate to abuse or assassinate his fellw man, if he thought he should not get found out and punished.

Two instances of recent cruelty to animals prompt us to speak of it at this time. One occurred last week in State street in this city, where a number of boys, led on by one ———, set a large dog upon a pet cat, and, notwithstanding the entreaties of several ladies, allowed the dog to tear poor pussy in pieces before their eyes.

In another instance a pet kitten, highly prized, belonging to a gentleman in this city, by some accident wandered from the door-yard into the street, late in the evening, when three brutes, in the shape of young men came along; one of them lifted a stick which he carried in his hand, and struck the poor thing a blow which laid her dead and bleeding at the door. We wish we knew the names of all three of them;—but we know only two. C. W. G.

Such brutal boys as these, grown to be men in stature and age, are the incendiaries, robbers and assaulters, the murderers, pirates and felons, that infest society, fill prisons, and disgrace humanity.

We have too many of them, the nuisances of the public streets, the apprentices learning all sorts of crime.

Messrs. Editors:—A scientific or topographical survey of the streets is proposed, at an expense of one thousand dollars. The writer has been informed that a survey of the streets was had some years since, and found to be of no practical use, and amounted to about nothing, as far as any good is concerned. Experience is often a good school-master, but probably as often an expensive one; and to avoid expense, why not profit by others' experience?

Although the thousand dollars may be four times as much as is necessary for a survey, the expenses of surveying would probably be only a drop in the bucket, compared with the grading, injury to individual property, lawsuits, &c. The thing is too chimerical, to speak seriously, and, with all due respect to its originators, its feasibility can only exist in an excited brain.

Only think of "a regular grade" from Mason's to Windmill hill, thence to Puddle Dock, over meeting-house ledge, to South Mill Bridge. A grand political union of the inhabitants of Cape Horn, Good Hope and Cape Cod, and all the way "down east," would look like practicability and wisdom when compared to it.

Our city is now over fifty thousand dollars in debt. Do, gentlemen of the City Council, try to reduce it, and not add to it by an expensive undertaking which has been tried and proved to be useless and of no practical utility. A good many words may be said in its favor, but they will be like froth upon water, that makes a show, evaporates and is no more. B.

☞ The Howard Opera Troupe are to stop in this city, and perform at the Temple this afternoon and evening. Children admitted to the afternoon entertainment for 10 cents; adults 15 cts. We are assured by the managers that nothing will be said or done that would offend the most delicate or refined. See their advertisement in another column.

JUVENILE DANCING SCHOOL.—Mr. Lamprey respectfully informs the ladies and gentlemen of Portsmouth and vicinity, that the Spring Term of his Juvenile Dancing School will commence the first Wednesday in April next, at Irving Hall, in Jones's new block, for the instruction of young misses and masters in all the fashionable dances and genteel accomplishments.

☞ The number of deaths in this city during the month of January, was thirteen, as follows:—

Males seven—aged 10 months, 2 years, 3, 4, 82, 85, and 90.

Females six—aged 1 year, 1 year 9 mos., 4 years, 70, 79, and 80.

☞ A large flock of wild geese were seen flying to the northward, at an early hour on Monday morning—a sign that the winter has broke?

☞ The eclipse of the moon was seen in this city, for a few minutes on Monday evening, at quarter before eleven o'clock.—The clouds and fog which had obscured it, broke away and made it visible.

☞ Superintendent Blaisdell informs us that the new Custom House will be open for a few days, for the reception of visitors, on and after to-day, Feb. 8th.

☞ The whole of France, a nation of thirty-six millions of inhabitants—only appropriates as much money to common schools as does the city of New York alone—some hing like six millions of francs!

FROM CALIFORNIA — OVERLAND.—Mallory's Station, Feb. 5.—The overland mail, with San Francisco dates of the 13th, has passed here.

Mr. Latham was elected United States Senator by the Legislature on the same day of the Governor's inauguration, having 79 votes, to 15 for Randolph (anti-Lecompton,) and 3 for Shafter (Repub).

Steamship Northener, bound to Panama, was wrecked Jan. 16. Eleven passengers and 22 of the crew were lost. The vessel and cargo were a total loss, also the mails and treasure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Among the notices of intention to introduce bills, given under the rules in the House to-day, were the following: by Mr. Morril (of Vt.) a bill to provide for the payment of outstanding treasury notes; to authorize a loan; to regulate and fix the duties on imports and for other purposes.

Also, a bill to punish and prevent the practice of golygamy in the Territories of the United States and other places, and disproving of certain acts of the legislature of Utah; also a bill donating public lands to the several States, which may provide colleges for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Art; by Mr. Killinger—a bill to locate and establish a National Foundry in Pennsylvania; by Mr. Quarles—a bill to establish a branch Military Academy at the Hermitage.

The reason assigned for the House adjourning to Thursday, is to give to Speaker time to form the Standing Committees.

There is but little, if any doubt, but that the House Post Office Appropriation Bill will pass the Senate to-morrow.

☞ The publishers of Redpath's Life of John Brown have sent to Mrs. Brown a draft for $1,000 as the first installment of profits due her.

☞ A sad and fatal accident we learn, happened in New York city, on Saturday night, when a large crowd was assembled at the Volks Garden, No. 45 Bowery, to witness the performance. In the course of the evening, Mrs. Josephine Herskell, havconcluded her performance on the tight-rope, leaped from it to the stage. In so doing she came in contact with the foot-lights, and in an instant she was enveloped in flames. Her husband, who was in the orchestra, and two or three others, sprang to her assistance, and in putting out the flames were severely burned. Mrs. Herskell was frighfully burned, and was shortly after conveyed to her residence, where she died on Sunday morning. She has a mother, a a little brother and a sister, who have been wholly dependent upon her for support.—Her husband is a German musician, connected with the Volks Garden. She was about 22 years of age. An inquest was held and the jury rendering a verdict censuring the managers of the theatre for omitting to provide wire masks for the foot-lights.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(Herald Washington corrrespondence.)—The Harper's Ferry Committee meet again to-morrow, when Giddings will again appear. Additional facts have been placed before the Committee, in regard to Giddings' connection with the Harper's Ferry affair. Gov. Robinson of Kansas has been subpenaed here, and will testify to-morrow.

☞ Mrs. Sarah Hancock, aged 100 yrs., 11 months, died in Canterbury, N. H., the 15th ult.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief, and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents no7ly

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worm in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping-cough of my child. I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I have the above testimony of my wife in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, and I would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. Rev. ABNER CHANDLER.

EXETER, March 5, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer try them, is my advice and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad colds, than any thing in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine,—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, to EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest commendation of its magic virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know, after years of experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, if but one bottle of this invaluable preparation is administered, the child from pain, but and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the surest and safest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand in the way of relieving your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over all preparations that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who has been liberally trained from childhood in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiates in its nature, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article on the market will show; and it is the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Colds in the Head, it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions, we cannot sufficiently recommend it to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot but think long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as being the most economical article in market. Its directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 35 Maiden Lane, New York.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country.

In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON.

Sold by all respectable Druggists throughout the country. In Portsmouth by W. R. Preston, 105 Middle St. Price 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Brosnan, having been so far reduced by the use of the Mercury and other poisonous medicines and practice of the regular physicians, that his life was despaired of, was induced to try the BLOOD FOOD, which has been the means of his recovery, and he feels it his duty to make the fact known, that others may be benefited by it. The result has been the production of the most incredible connection, and effect of BLOOD FOOD, and applying the medicine to the system, which is effecting wonders, and is ANALYZING THE BLOOD, being the most wonderful discovery of the age. Its effect is perceptible in every part of the system, and is subject of publication, and is a remedy for all diseases of the blood, and is the most invigorating cures of any medicine in the world. Dr. Brosnan, Druggist, No. 3 Bowdoin Square, Boston, and also by Burnett & Porter, Portland, and by druggists everywhere. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, and warranted to be the most valuable compound ever offered to the public. Over 500 testimonials can be produced, which will prove the same to be the best medicine in the world. Sold by druggists everywhere. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have the seven commissions appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as those who may be present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

THE STATES OF DELAWARE AND GEORGIA

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $50 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, UNDER THE ACT OF 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—also, legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the validity or the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, and immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would say that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them at early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1859.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has obtained FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such numbers of claims allowed, and such success on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials out of many here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.
GENTLEMEN:—For more than the 16th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact; if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl; some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by my hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, agreeably surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ'A LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.
To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all. Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. It has now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a pint, twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached to the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated week and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in diseases on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which pollutes the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they bar less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of the people are scrofulous—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compiled from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND VENEREAL ERUPTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and efficacious.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous disease. The eminent men named is pleased to furnish graffs my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions of the Skin, Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. Within many recent months their vast upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEB. 9, 1860.

☞ A new, correct, and complete Map of the State of Maine is undertaken, and will in due time be published by J. Chase, Jr., & Co., of Portland, who have already got up the excellent County Maps in the same State.

A scale has been fixed upon, and a polyconic projection of the State made, based upon the triangulation established by the U. S. Coast Survey between Portsmouth Harbor and Passamaquoddy Bay. Everything is laid down with great minuteness and distinctness, showing the whole network of roads, railroads, streams, ponds, town and county lines, lakes, bays, harbors, islands and mountains; with the same particularity of detail seen on the most accurate town and county maps, all given from new and accurate surveys.

In addition to this, the location of houses, stores, mills, manufactories, &c., is shown in the proper position, except perhaps a few in close corners or crowded streets. The design also includes plans of all the cities and large villages in the State, exhibiting the streets, residences, stores, wharves, railroads &c., in each, so that roads can be traced to and past every man's house via any city or town from Kittery Point to Eastport and the most secluded settlement in the wilds of Aroostook.

There can be no doubt of the usefulness of the publication, of the ability of the publishers, nor of the success of the work. Every able family in Maine should have a copy hanging on the wall.

POLITICAL RETRIBUTION AND POETIC JUSTICE.—In the United States Senate, several years since, John R. Weller, then a Senator from California, taunted Hon. S. P. Chase (whose Senatorial term was then about to expire) with the insulting prophecy that his "place in the Senate Chamber would soon know him no more forever."—Not five years have passed away since Mr. Chase's retirement from the Senate, and for four years of that period he has been Governor of Ohio. And now, in the course of one short week, the telegraph has informed us of his triumphant re-election to the United States Senate for six years, and that the ill-mannered Weller, in seeking a return to the Senate for a fragment of a term, has been repulsed and rejected by his own party in California.

☞ A man named Thomas Faulkner, of Halifax county, who, while intoxicated, had a habit of amusing himself by frightening his wife, declared his intention one day last week of hanging himself. This he had done before, and had tied the rope to the joist, and then around his neck, always taking care, however, to have it long enough, so that in stepping from the chair, box, or whatever he used on the occasion to elevate himself, he would easily reach the floor. On this occasion he tied the rope too short, and when he stepped from his elevation, instead of reaching the floor, broke his neck.

Interested parties in New York having taken pains to assert that Henry Ward Beecher had got off the anti-slavery track, he says among other things:

Great pains have been taken to spread abroad the rumor, that we have changed our ground, and receded from our former anti-slavery opinions. It is needless to say, that we have given up nothing, changed nothing, except as a bud changes to a blossom, and a blossom to its fruit. We never abhorred slavery so much. We never more dreaded its malignant influences both upon white and black, upon civil and religious institutions. We never were more invincibly determined to make no terms with it, but to carry on legitimate war to the end and destruction of it. But, for that very sake, we shall refuse a zeal without knowledge, and all bigotry of anti-slavery feeling, and all attempts to punish men for variation of belief on anti-slavery doctrine.

THE POST OFFICE.—The New York Evening Post is strongly in favor of abolishing the monopoly of transmitting the correspondence of the country by the U. S. post office. After alluding to the great saving, both to the government and the people, which would thus be made, adds:

"There is another advantage to be derived from surrendering the mails to the private expresses. The expresses would be responsible for every dollar of money and every article of value committed to their charge. The post office department is not."

☞ It is reported that Mr. Wendell stated in his testimony before the Senate Printing Investigation Committee on Thursday, that he had paid out during the past three years over one hundred thousand dollars for party support to newspapers, and in aid of election expenses, in Pennsylvania principally, but extending over New Jersey, New York, Maryland, Ohio, and other States. Much had been paid by official authority, and some of his own free will.

☞ The annual expenses of the Philadelphia city government are $4,666,131.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, Feb. 7, Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution for a Committee of Inquiry into Presidential patronage, its interference with elections, &c.

Mr. Hunter moved to postpone prior orders and take up the Post Office Deficiency bill. Adopted.

The bill was taken up and read. The first amendment made by Committee on Finance, was to make provision for wrapping paper, mail paper, &c. It was agreed to.

The second amendment was to the 3d section, providing that interest should only be paid to contractors themselves, and be in full of all claim for damages, and providing that no interest is to be allowed on the last quarter.

Mr. Hale thought this would set a dangerous precedent. The Postmaster General goes on making contracts just as though Congress had made appropriations.

Mr. Toombs moved an amendment to include sub-contractors, who actually performed the service, in the benefits of the bill. Adopted.

The amendment was reconsidered, and afterwards rejected—yeas 17, nays 30.

The third amendment provides for the abolishment of the franking privilege after the 1st of May; but that all persons now entitled to the privilege are exempted from the pre-payment of postage.

Mr. Hamlin said the amendment had no business there. A difference of opinion on this point led to the defeat of the bill at the last session.

Mr. Hale moved to amend by changing the time to April. If extended to the 1st of May it would be after the Charleston Convention, and the Democrats would have benefits not enjoyed by the Republicans, who do not meet in Chicago till June.—(Laughter.)

Mr. Toombs accepted the amendment.

After further debate, in which Toombs, Collamore and Haven participated, a vote was taken on Mr. Trumbull's motion to take out the proviso, and it was rejected—yeas 24 nays 32.

Mr. Slidell moved to postpone the bill until half past one o'clock to-morrow.—Carried.

The House was not in session.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—New York, Feb. 8.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says the name of Gen. Whitney, Superintendent of the U. S. Armory at Springfield, Mass., has been nominated to the Senate as Collector of Boston Custom House, vice Austin, removed.

The Attorney General has given an opinion to the Secretary of State, to the effect that under the Kansas-Nebraska bill, two-thirds of a quorum only, and not two-thirds of all the members of a Territorial Legislature, are necessary to pass a bill over the Governor's veto. The language used in the act is identical with that used in the Constitution of the United States, in relation to bills vetoed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Interesting accounts of the war in Morocco have been received here. It is said there were 60,000 Moors at the battle of Castellegos.

Incident to the unexpected delay of the passage of the Post Office appropriation bill by the Senate to-day, owing to the discussion of the franking privilege, a memorial is in circulation this evening among the mail contractors now here, praying for the passage of the bill as it came from the House. If this cannot be done without delay, they ask that the interest clause and all other objectionable features be stricken out, and left for future legislation, stating, in conclusion, that their necessities are such as to require immediate action.

The doorkeeper of the House, Mr. Marston, appointed Capt. Darling his first, and Ira Goodenow his second assistant. These gentlemen came here as candidates for the principal office, and are thus accommodated. There is wild excitement for places.—Mr. Marston was to-day pursued by hundreds of importunate men and boys.

It is said that only four or five of the 30 or more employees under the Clerk will be retained by Mr. Forney. The subject of dismissal and appointment was under consideration to-day. The number of applicants is unusually large.

Judge Rowes of Tennessee has been appointed Treasurer of the United States.—He received the unanimous endorsement of the Democratic members of Congress from that State.

Much excitement is manifested in regard to the Printer of the House. The conference to-night, of those who voted for Mr. Pennington, was called to determine that question.

Mr. Washburne of Ill. presided, and Mr. Colfax was the Secretary. After a spirited debate, the following were placed in nomination: Mr. Abram S. Mitchell, editor of the St. Louis News; Mr. Dupees of Ind.; Z. K. Pangborn, editor of the Boston Atlas; and Mr. Coombs, of the Washington Republic. Three ballots were taken, and on the last Mr. Mitchell had a plurality, but this was not conclusive. If elected, it is Mr. Mitchel's intention to unite with Mr. Bailey of the National Era. Another conference will be held to-morrow.

Col. Forney's appointments will not be made for a week to come. He leaves to-morrow morning for Philadelphia.

☞ Some of the papers mention that the North Church in Newburyport has contributed $150,000 towards Andover Institution. It should be remembered that much the largest part of this was given by Wm. Bartlett, who was never a member of that church, though he belonged to that parish when he gave most of the money. Mr. Bartlett was (in pulpit parlance) one of the world, and not of the church.

☞ At the last ball at the Tuilleries it was remarked that several ladies, and among them the Princess de Metternich, the Princess Murat, and Mme. Aguado, appeared without crinoline, and with dresses rather short in the waist, somewhat in the fashion of the first empire.

☞ A correspondent of the Charleston Mercury thinks "there are in New York at least 10,000 poor people who would be happy to swap places with Southern slaves. All they want in the world is plenty to eat, decent clothing, and a reasonable amount of labor; and that any kind Southern master would ensure them." The Bath Times copies this and remarks:

We dare say this remark is true; and now, as slavery is a philanthropic institution, designed to christianize and elevate the subjects of it, why can't the owners of such property consent to receive these "10,000 poor people," giving in exchange an equal number of that class of slaves who have become christianized and are anxious to set up on their own hook? We don't believe the Yorkers would object to the exchange; surely we would not, if the poor whites "would be happy" to have it so; and the Southern gentlemen of property would, by such an exchange, show the since rity of their plea that slavery is designed to bless the objects of it rather than to enrich the slaveholders. Surely they cannot object to receive willing, for discontented slaves.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE ON WOMAN'S DRESS.—In her recent work published in London, Florence Nightingale has the following paragraph:—

"It is, I think, alarming, peculiarly at this time, when the female ink-bottles are perpetually impressing upon us 'woman's particular worth and general missionariness,' to see that the dress of women is daily more and more unfitting them for any 'mission,' or usefulness at all. It is equally unfitting them for all poetic and all domestic purposes. A man is now a more handy and far less objectionable being in a sick-room than a woman. Compelled by her dress, every woman now shuffles or waddles—only a man can cross the floor of a sick room without shaking it. What is become of woman's light 'step?—the firm, light, quick step we have been asking for?"

FLORIDA.—A gentleman who is spending the winter in Florida for the benefit of his health, writes:

The news of the John Brown affair reached Florida before we did, and a party of chivalrous citizens had an indignation meeting, and threatened to tar and feather any abolitionist who might venture among them. I understand from one of the residents of the place, that not one of the indignant citizens aforesaid owned a slave, or had money enough to buy one.—They appointed a committee to wait upon a poor Jersey minister, half dead with bronchitis; but the only thing they could find against him was, that he had been seen to shake hands with a nigger—so that they only warned him.

AN ATTEMPT TO MURDER.—Hawesville, Ky., Feb. 7.—Mr. H. A. Davidson went into the store of Duncan & Bros., in this place, yesterday, with a lighted bomb in a basket of eggs. The bomb exploded, blowing the store to pieces, and wounded Hon. Wm. Sterrett, C. B. Duncan, and Wm. Bennett—some of them mortally.—Mr. Davidson was also mortally wounded. It is supposed that he intended to kill Mr. Sterrett because of his (Sterrett's) course towards him (Davidson) in regard to the late love tragedy.

☞ The Detroit Advertiser says that the opportune discovery that the roof of St. Paul's church in that city was unsafe, has probably prevented a great catastrophe.—The timbers were found to be so decayed that the wood could be reduced to powder by the simple compression of the hand.—Services were at once discontinued, and a new roof will be put on.

ARRIVAL OF THE FIRST TRAIN.—S. O. Reynolds, from Bethel Hill, eleven days out with a family of ten, nicely stowed in to a camp on runners, in which was a box stove, and everything as comfortable as need be, arrived last Friday night. He has taken up a farm on Eaton Grant, so called, a few miles north of this town, and has a house already to occupy. He reports all well.—Aroostook Pioneer.

☞ It is a sign of the times that forty thousand copies of Gen. Wilson's speech on disunion have already been printed, and that these are insufficient to supply the demand. Letters are daily received from all parts of the Free States, requesting bundles of this valuable "campaign document."

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 7.—The Mayoralty election came off here to-day. The vote cast is very heavy. Saunders (Dem.) is elected Mayor over Burrows (Repub.) by 189 majority—a Democratic gain of 500 over the vote of last year.

☞ An accident occurred on Friday, on the Dayton and Michigan Railroad. Two cars, filled with passengers, were precipitated over the embankment, twenty feet high, rolling over and over into the Miami Canal. Nearly every one of the passengers was more or less injured, but no lives were lost.

Fools measure actions after they are done, by the event; wise men beforehand, by the rules of reason and right. The former look to the end, to judge of the act. Let me look to the act, and leave the end with God.

Many persons when they find themselves in danger of shipwreck in the voyage of life, throw their darling vices overboard, as other mariners their treasures, only to fish them up again when the storm is over.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON. And for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Rutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

AN INTERESTING SCENE IN PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—Another case of the ransom of a slave occurred on Sunday, in the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, the circumstances of which were of touching interest. We copy the following account from the New York Times:

A good looking and intelligent little girl named Pink, about nine years of age, having in her veins only one-sixteenth part African blood, (although that was more than enough to make her a slave,) was brought from Washington City to Brooklyn on Saturday last, with a view to the purchase of her freedom. Her father is at present one of the leading physicians in Washington.—The mother was sold a few years ago to a Southern trader. At different times, five of her six children were sold to various parts of the South, until only little Pink remained. The child was taken care of by her grandmother, who had received oft-repeated assurances from the owner that Pink should never be parted from her. But during the last holidays, arrangements were made to sell the child for $800. It was thought that when she grew up to womanhood she would be worth $3000.

Mr. Blake, a young clergyman recently from Alexandria Episcopal Seminary, hearing of the circumstances, interested himself to save the child. For this purpose, he procured permission to bring her to the North, leaving behind him satisfactory assurance for the return, either of the child or of the price of her ransom. The girl was yesterday morning introduced to the Sunday School by the Superintendent, Mr. Theodore Tilton. Some interesting incidents in the child's history were related by Mr. Blake, and the children determined to undertake, with the assistance of the Church, the purchase of the child—the classes contributing $5 each. At the close of the morning sermon, the pastor, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, took the child into the pulpit, stated the case to the congregation, and made an eloquent plea for her liberty, which drew tears from many eyes. The collection plates were then passed, and returned laden with bank notes. The money was not counted before the close of the service, but a lady in the audience sent word to the pastor that she would make up the deficiency, if any should be found. This announcement was received with an irrepressible demonstration of applause. Many persons crowded around the platform to congratulate the little girl on her new-found freedom, which she is now too young fully to appreciate.

CAPTURE OF AN AMERICAN SLAVER, WITH A CARGO OF NEGROES.—Captain Matthews of the ship Alarm, arrived at Boston, Tuesday, from Calcutta, reports having left at St. Helena, Dec. 27th, the American barque Orion, of New York, Capt. Morgan, which vessel had been captured by the British steamer Pluto while engaged in the slave trade. When the vessel was brought into port, she had on board eight hundred and seventy-one negroes, of which number sixty-eight were women, one hundred and twenty-seven girls, three hundred and ninety-six boys, two hundred and seventy-three men, and seven, sex unknown. Before the vessel arrived, one hundred and fifty-two had died, which would make the total number taken on board when she left the coast of Africa, ten hundred and ninety-three. Among those who died were sixty boys, forty men, eight women, twenty-four girls, and twenty others, sex unknown.

The slaver, after her arrival at St. Helena, was delivered up to the United States steamer Mystic. The Mystic reached that port on the 21st of December, from St. Paul de Loando, officers and crew all well. The slaver would probably be sent home for adjudication.

The captain and first and second officers of the Orion were in prison at St. Helena when the Alarm sailed. They had been delivered into the custody of the U. S. steamer Mystic, and would be brought to this country for trial. The captain of the slaver appeared disposed to make a clean breast of the whole affair.

The slaves remained on board the Orion when the Alarm left St. Helena.

The Orion is 449 tons, and was built at Newcastle, Me., in 1846.—Boston Jour.

JOHN BROWN, JR., of Dorset, Ohio, has absolutely refused to obey the summons of the Senate Investigating Committee to appear at Washington and testify as to the Harper's Ferry foray. The correspondence between United States Marshal Johnson and Mr. Brown throws some additional light upon the subject. It appears that Marshal Johnson went to Dorset, but not finding Brown left a letter in which he urges him to obey the summons. Johnson tells Brown that he need have no fear that the authorities of Virginia will take advantage of his presence to arrest him, and says that Senator Mason, in transmitting him the papers, uses the following language,—

"If you can get an interview or other means of communication with him, (John Brown) he may be induced to come under the assurance you can give that, by a late law of Congress, no person who has been examined as a witness before a committee of either House of Congress, can afterwards be held to answer upon a criminal charge for any fact or act done or committed by him to which his testimony may refer. Thus, should the witness have done anything in connection with the Harper's Ferry affair which might subject him to prosecution, by testifying before the committee he will be thenceforth exempt from prosecution."

In addition to this assurance, Marshal Johnson pledges Mr. Brown his sacred honor, that if he will accompany him to Washington, he will see him safely home, and he shall not be molested either in that city or on the way.

Mr. Brown replies in a spicy letter, refusing Senator Mason's polite invitation, for two reasons. His first is, that he has no confidence in Virginia, and no sane man, in his circumstances, would trust her for a moment. His second reason is, that in taking the oath to tell the whole truth, "I should obligate myself to make known that which would implicate others, which, as the Lord liveth, I will not do." On this point, he says:

You say that, by giving my testimony, I can exempt myself from further trouble.—In answer I would say, that I cannot purchase immunity from further prosecution by an act of treachery. To that system of piracy which reduces to chattels every sixth man, woman or child of our land, I owe no obligations. It "has no rights which I am bound to respect;" but to the noble men and women, who, in the same spirit which prompted effort in behalf of Greece, Italy and Hungary, labored by word and deed to aid "Native Americans, descendants of the first families of Virginia," to throw off their yoke, to them I owe unswerving fidelity.—Some of them reside in slave States, and my testimony would place their lives in jeopardy. On their account, if for no other, I refuse to appear and answer, and shall patiently wait for the infliction of "the pains and penalties in such cases made and provided."

AUGUSTA, GA., Feb. 7.—John W. Walker, an overseer, shot John Owens, a merchant, dead, at Waynesboro, on Monday. The Sheriff, with a posse, in attempting to arrest him, met resistance. He shot Walker dead, and also fatally wounded his wife and child.

☞ Some 6000 bottles of the late Lord Seymour's wine were recently sold in Paris —not at high figures—there were so many gourmets present, and the article was so inferior.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who claim to be the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common graders, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, entirely irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever dis covered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of
SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,
Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a safe and sure remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is especially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the test of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all BRONCHIAL DISEASES.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the developments of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858 the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. It is now of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or habitually accustomed to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they find it a valuable medicine in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1858.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 38 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore could sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine I know of. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others afflicted, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer by present take a phial and try it. Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaint of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic, in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine, — NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, to EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted in its operations, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, from long experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found within fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES EXPERIENCED and in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC. and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the safest and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not, for the sake of your children and others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that is ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every compound that name or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who has been well qualified from such experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care and accuracy, and is with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of the maker, many of which he has to gather by hand. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and before a parent's anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much cheaper than the preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Brosson, having been so far relieved by the use of this invaluable compound of the BLOOD FOOD, and finding the analysis of the blood of his patients, and the results of its use, so far in accordance with his own ideas of the nature and effect of the BLOOD FOOD, he has thought it his duty to make the production of this invaluable compound, and effect so much good, and relief to the afflicted, he has concerted the idea of ANALYZING THIS BLOOD FOOD, and publishing the analysis of the same, that the public may judge for themselves, as to its capacity for good, and its adaptation to the cure of the sick. Dr. Brosson has restored to perfect health, by the use of this invaluable compound, and effect of the BLOOD FOOD, and publishing the analysis of the same, that the public may judge for themselves, as to its capacity for good, and its adaptation to the cure of the sick. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington. Continued at 167.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research more into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unequalled by any agency, by which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimony from Americans, to prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leaves me no alternative but to advise my friends to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWENTY rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact. If I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.
To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir.—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and my scalp healthy, expressed obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all the vital organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their organs are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active vegetable remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, TETTER AND RINGWORM, ARTHRITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate that fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who has been bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and so powerful.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous maladies. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once used, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies that for upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEB. 10, 1860.

A MISTAKE.—We observe that the editor of a newspaper, who promises to "review the whole temperance movement," sets out in the first article of his series, with this queer announcement :—

The temperance question leaves in doubt the best minds in New England. They are at a loss what is the best course to be pursued.

If by the best minds we are to understand the most earnest, intelligent, and persevering laborers in promoting temperance, especially those christians and christian ministers who have taken the most active part in past efforts,—they are not at a loss, nor in any great doubt about the matter of duty.

All over New England, if we may judge by the religious and temperance papers, there is a feeling like this ;—The efforts, in the way of temperance sermons, total abstinence lectures, essays and tracts, need to be revived and renewed : for while the laws may and do restrain vice, something higher and better is needful to encourage and sustain virtue.

To carry out this feeling, religious bodies and temperance societies, under various names, are in motion now, and will move more rapidly during the approaching Spring and Summer.

The best minds among temperance men, are not balancing a straw to find out the relative merits of moral and legal means.—They leave this to moderate drinkers, sellers, and those who have some axe to grind by such a course,—while the temperance men in every place avail themselves of such lawful and honorable means as they can find near at hand.

CATHOLIC DEMONSTRATION IN NEW ORLEANS.—A Roman Catholic Provincial Council was held last week in the Crescent City, concluding its session by a grand public demonstration, on the 29th ult., in favor of the Pope's temporal sovereignty. The meeting was held in Jackson square, which was densely filled on the occasion. According to the Crescent, the audience numbered from ten to fifteen thousand, including several Irish and Catholic societies, which marched in possession to the ground. The cathedral services having concluded, the Archbishop, Bishops and clergy issued forth. Right Rev. Bishop Quinlan, of Mobile, preached a sermon, taking occasion to make some severe strictures upon the conduct of the French Emperor. An address in French was also given. After this, was presented an address from the lay Catholics, expressive of their sympathy with his Holiness in his present troubles. The solemn ceremony of the Papal benediction was then pronounced, followed by a merry peal from the cathedral bells, music by several bands, and a national salute of thirty-three guns. The day was beautiful, and the scene presented is described as magnificent.

THE SPEAKER AND THE SABBATH.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser, writing on Saturday says :—

"This evening, as I have just learned, a political friend said that he would call to morrow to give his views on the formation of committees. 'Sir,' replied Mr. Speaker Pennington, 'you will excuse me, but at home I am in the habit of attending church, and to-morrow I hope to be able to hear Dr. Gurley. At any rate I shall not transact any business, but on Monday I will be glad to see you.'

CRUELTY TO PRISONERS.—The Massachusetts Legislative Committee on Prisons are investigating charges against Mr. Adams, keeper of the House of Correction at East Cambridge, which, if the one half should prove true, should keep that State very quiet about outrages on slaves at the South, till they have seen that justice was done at home.

☞ Stevens, just tried and condemned in Virginia, is said to have been a brave soldier, in the Mexican war. Sennott, the Boston lawyer who defended him, is said to be an Irishman of the democratic party.—Yet his plea for the prisoner is stated to have been an explanation or defence of the republican party and its intentions.

TRIAL OF HAZLITT.—The trial of Hazlitt at Charlestown, Va., is proceeding.—Two or three witnesses identified the prisoner as one of John Brown's party. The other evidence was a mere repetition of that of the former trials.

☞ M. Adolphe Radiguel, a civil engineer, who has long made human remains in the different geological strata, special study, has called the attention of the French Academy to facts which he thinks prove the existence, at a recent epoch, of a species of man distinct from the present.

☞ Trustee and Lady Suffolk are the only two horses in America that have trotted 20 miles in the hour. Flora Temple tried it, but lost a shoe, and failed, after going 12 miles in 37 1-2 minutes.

☞ The latest news from Liverpool, Jan. 25, comes to us via Portland, where the North American arrived Feb. 8.

In a debate on the Queen's speech, Lord Palmerston admitted the objections against commercial treaties, but explained that the convention with France was an exceptional one. As regards Italy, Government had thus far entered into no engagements whatever. Its policy was clear and simple, viz., non-intervetnion.

Capt. Harrison, commander of the Great Eastern, lost his life by the upsetting of a boat at Southampton. Energetic efforts were made by no less than ten medical men to restore animation after the body was taken from the water, but all were fruitless. A galvanic battery was applied without any effect whatever. The event created a painful sensation throughout England, owing to the high esteem in which Capt. Harrison was held.

The London Athenæum alludes to a report that Mr. Cobden has lost nearly all his private fortune by investments in American railway securities, and says that £40,000, in sums of from five hundred to five thousand pounds, had been subscribed to repair his loss.

The two mates of the American ship Anna, who were arrested at Cowes on the charge of murdering five of the crew, and were discharged for lack of jurisdiction, had been re-arrested by the American Consul at Southampton.

The Irish papers publish a letter from the Pope to the clergy of the Diocese of the Casket. His Holiness returns thanks for the sympathy expressed towards him, and denounces those who seek to curtail the civil power of the Holy See.

The Times' City Article says gold continues to flow from the Bank to meet the demand in India. Stock and Funds have again been dull throughout the day. The flatness on the Paris Bourse, and the fact of the King of Naples having dissolved his Cabinet rather than abandon the project of an armed intervention in favor of the Pope, coupled with the notification from the Austrian Government that the report that Verona having been placed in a state of siege is merely premature, also produced a feeling of discouragement.

The commercial treaty between France and England was signed at Paris on the 23d ult.

ITALIAN AFFAIRS.—A letter from Leghorn states that an English frigate had entered that harbor and saluted the town, the batteries of which at once responded.—The English salute was interpreted as a recognition by the British Government of the fall of the Grand Duke, and is the first fruit of the combined French and English policy on Italian affairs.

A ministerial crisis prevailed at Naples. The Filangheri Cabinet resigned on the question of giving armed assistance to the Pope, which they opposed. The King sent to Sig. Troja Murena to form a new ministry.

The Liverool Post contains the following :—"We are in a condition to affirm that the following statement is true :—'The Emperor of the French has written a second letter to the Pope—brief, but emphatic. His Majesty is willing and anxious to remain as hitherto, the eldest son of the church, and continue deferential to the Holy Father in all things spiritual; but if his Holiness opposes it let him remember Henry the Eighth. The Pope having called for the withdrawal of the French troops from Rome, the Emperor in the same letter, says they shall be withdrawn, if his Holiness persists, but that he (the Emperor) will cause a month's notice to be given to all strangers resident in the Eternal City.'"

☞ Rev. R. M. Sargent has been dismissed from the Congregational Society at Gilmanton Centre.—Rev. Daniel Goodhue is to be dismissed from that in Danbury; reason, failure of support.—Mr. K. B. Glidden from Bangor Seminary, is to be pastor of the 1st Church in Westmoreland.—Rev. Dr. Huntington has not been called by the Shawmut church, Boston.

PORTLAND, Feb. 9.—Brig Eliza Grieve, Capt. Brooking, of Newfoundland, from Baltimore for Newfoundland with a cargo of pork, flour and tobacco, capsized about one hundred and fifty miles from Cape Race, Jan. 23, and righting, drifted a wreck until the following morning, when the crew were taken off by the steamer North Briton, sixty miles southeast of Sable Island. The crew consisted of ten men, of whom the captain and steward, Richard Carter, were drowned.

☞ Mr. Wm. Parker Snow, who is already known in connection with Arctic matters, is getting up an Arctic expedition, and subscriptions are already flowing in to aid him in his object. He argues that it is by no means clear that all the members of the crews of the Erebus and Terror are dead.

Some folks are great on borrowing. If they can't borrow anything better, they turn their attention to trouble. After having borrowed as much as possible of this commodity, they sicken of their gains, and endeavor to cast them upon others.

☞ Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, with her child and servant, were thrown from a carriage in Brooklyn, on Wednesday. Mrs. Beecher was seriously injured, but no fears for her life were entertained. The child and servant were slightly hurt.

Life is shortened by indulgence in anger, ill-will, anxiety, envy, grief, sorrow, and excessive care. The vital powers are wasted by excessive bodily exercise in some cases, and want of a due portion in others.

☞ Master J. Elliott Pillsbury, son of a widow lady of Chelsea, has been appointed Page of the House of Representatives at Washington.

If a man can be fired with ardor, why can't a musket be fired with the same material?

ART UNION.—At the annual distribution of the pictures of the "Cosmopolitan Art Association," Herring's famous Painting of the "Village Blacksmith" fell to Gov. Wise of Virginia. It is a rich work of art, worth some $5000—says the Boston Transcript.

The total number of tickets was 27,703. A list of those who drew will appear in the March number of the Art Journal, which will be out shortly, and forwarded by mail to every holder of a ticket.

Any one desirous of procuring one of the Engravings, can do so at any time, by paying $3 to the Secretary, and will thus secure an interest in the distribution of next year.

AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON.—Gentlemen or ladies—business men or pleasure travellers—visiting Boston, will find at the American House, on Hanover street, all the comforts of a temporary home, with as few of the drawbacks as can be found anywhere. This is the largest hotel in New England, and one of the best in the country. It has long been a popular resort for business men, being located conveniently for them; and since the enlargement and refitting, a year or two since, and under the skilful and efficient management of Lewis Rice, Esq., and his gentlemanly assistants, has come also to be very attractive to lady travellers. The house is finished and furnished in the best modern style, and warmed throughout in the most agreeable and healthy manner, by steam; the sleeping rooms are spacious, airy and neat; the tables all that an epicure could ask—and the charges not exorbitant. We consider the American a model house.

☞ We call the attention of merchants, booksellers, manufacturers, painters and others, to the advertisement of "The Croton Manufacturing Company," of No. 10 Cortlandt street, New York, in another column. This Company undoubtedly stands at the head of the trade, both in quantity and the variety of the goods they manufacture and import; as they are constantly manufacturing, they keep up a full assortment at all seasons of the year, and are fully prepared to fill orders for goods in their line at any time.

One of the humanitarian movements of the times, although little known as such, can hardly be over estimated in its importance, upon the well being of our widely scattered communities. The population of the American States is in many sections so sparse, that skilful physicians are hardly available to them. Vast numbers of our people, are obliged to employ in sickness, such medical relief as they can hear of from each other, or indeed any they can get from any quarter. Hence arises the great consumption of Patent Medicines among us greater by far than any of the old countries, where skilful physicians are accessible to all classes. Unprincipled men have long availed themselves of this necessity, to palm off their worthless nostrums, until the world has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. One of our leading Chemists in the East, Dr. AYER, is pursuing a course which defeats this iniquity. He brings not only his own, but the best skill of our times to bear, for the production of the best remedies which can be made. These are supplied to the world, in a convenient form, at low prices, and the people will no more buy poor medicines instead of good, at the same cost, than they will bran instead of flour. The inevitable consequence of this is that the vile compounds that flood our country, are discarded for those which honestly accomplish the end in view—which cure. Do we ever estimate its importance, in believing that this prospect of supplanting the by-word medicines, with those of actual worth and virtue, is fraught with immense consequence for good, to the souls of our people.—Gazette and Chronicle, Peru, Ia.

☞ Prof. Crosby, of the State Normal School in Salem, sent $83.55 to Lawrence, from the teachers and pupils of his school, In the answer Mr. H. Oliver, after speaking of the courage and strength of those who rescued many of the people, says :

I have wondered since how it was that I could look upon the sufferers as they were taken out, right under my feet, as I stood upon the steep wreck, and not shed a tear! One's whole frame seemed nerved to work, and there was no time nor thought for weeping.

Yet since, when I have thought upon the terrors of the night and of the day following, and have read descriptions of what took place at parts remote from the scene of my own labor; when I have heard and read of the calm and courageous resignation of the sufferers, and of the heroic acts of their deliverers, I have choked with deep emotions. God bless the souls of the dead;—God comfort and heal the wounded and survivors; God be thanked that so many, so wonderfully many, escaped. May they never cease to thank Him for His saving mercy!

DELMONICO, the great caterer of New York, with a fame wide as civilization, has failed. He failed as six men out of ten now fail in New York—as the millionaires fail—merchants, brokers, bankers, book men, lawyers, hotel men fail—by neglecting their legitimate calling, and running into side issues—stock corporations, patent machines, railroads and mining companies. I could name dozens of men in New York who have made fortunes by tact, dilligence and shrewdness, who, not content to go along the way they ran so well, took a notion that they could do all things as well, and went all to smash. Delmonico went into the kerosene oil business, and his well-earned fortune evaporated.—Burleigh.

"Much remains unsung," as the tom-cat said when "Hod" shied our blacking-brush at him the other night.

☞ The barque Emily, which was recently brought to New York as a slaver, escaped from Green Point on Saturday night last, and sailed again for the African coast, via Long Island Sound.

The most patient man that ever breathed cured the day he was born, and the meekest man murdered an Egyptian, and denounced God's people.

☞ A South Carolina paper notices the death of a mule, whose age was known with certainty to be sixty-two years at the time of his death.

Liver Complaint.

The liver, being the great purifying organ, arrests in its substance many morbid products, the fertile sources of disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP stimulates the liver to the performance of its functions, lessens the evils of bad digestion, and thus acts at the same time in a restorative and preventive manner.

Testimony from a well known physician.

Letter from S. H. Kendall, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, '59—I was for many years afflicted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.

S. H. KENDALL, M. D.

The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection, is second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgements of its superior excellence and beneficent results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great boon to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this Medicine in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchial Affection, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, many of whom advise us of the fact under their own signature:

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

AUBURN, Sept. 6, 1858.

S. W. Fowle & Co,—Sirs—I most cheerfully add testimony in favor of the Balsam. We have used it in our family, in Pulmonary affections, Coughs and Colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy, and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature with invariably happy results. W. B. LYNCH, M. D.

MANSFIELD, Tioga Co., Pa., Aug. 1858.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal conditions. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in this country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to its unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of the compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids found in it. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the effect by which they are employed is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

10 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1859.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says :

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPOMME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known pulmonary physician.

BOSTON March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPOMME, Esq.:

CHARLES H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, cor. Pleasant.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is the following of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been almost happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we feel pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 75 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPOMME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 20 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the agents novtly

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense. Every store might have a drop-box, at a trifling expense, which would save much trouble and watching.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

☞ A skating match took place on the North Mill Pond, in this city, on Thursday morning, which was attended by about three hundred spectators. The competitors were Messrs. Jacob Haddock, James Ayers, and Geo. W. Marston.

A track half a mile in length was laid out on the north side of the pond; fifteen miles in the quickest time being considered the test.

Ayers did the fifteen miles in 47 minutes, Marston in 47:6, and Haddock in 50 min. The two former made one of their miles in two minutes and twenty seconds, and the last mile inside of three minutes. Pretty fast skating, that.

☞ A very large number of people have visited and inspected the new Post Office, Custom House, and U. S. Court Rooms, within the last two days.

Every part of the building is constructed on the most liberal plan as to accommodations, and with great apparent strength and durability.

It is decidedly the finest structure in the State, and one of the most elegant and substantial to be seen anywhere. We wish the same owner and builder would now put us up a City Hall as good, without burdening the citizens with taxes or debt.

☞ The examinations of both of the High Schools were fully attended, on Wednesday and Thursday, and the appearance of the schools was highly satisfactory—though some judicious spectators and friends might wish for greater physical development.

"HOME PASTIMES, OR TABLEAUX VIVANTS."—This novel little book, gotten up by Mr. James H. Head, of this city, is now in the press of J. E. Tilton & Co., Boston, and will be published about the 15th of February; so says the author, who exhibited the beautiful illuminated title page and frontispiece to us yesterday.

☞ The second lecture of Mr. Samuel P. Long's course on Art, was delivered at the Boston Mercantile Hall, on Thursday evening. Subject: "Hogarth, Wilkie and Modern Art."

☞ Dr. Baker, the Dentist, has removed to No. 5, Congress street.

CROSBY, NICHOLS, LEE & CO.—Mr. William Lee, formerly of the firm of Phillips, Sampson & Co., has joined the widely known firm of Crosby, Nichols & Co., Boston, whose business will hereafter be conducted under the style at the head of this article.

☞ Grace Greenwood's Little Pilgrim has started on his monthly pilgrimage for February; and will be welcomed cordially; both he and his mother always are, wherever they go.

THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE for February is an unusually valuable number. The illustrations are two portraits of the Duke of Wellington and Queen Victoria.

CONGRESS.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 8.

SENATE.—Mr. Green presented a petition from the mail contractors asking the immediate passage of the bill for their relief, with the interest left out, to be settled by future legislation.

Mr. Davis made a report from the Committee on Printing, recommending the printing of ten thousand copies of the report of Majors Mordecai and Delafield of observations in the Crimea.

Mr. Hunter asked how much they would cost?

Mr. Davis replied fifty thousand eight hundred dollars. If they cost double that amount they were well worth the expenditure.

Mr. Hunter moved to reduce the number of copies. Rejected—yeas 26, nays 28. The report of the committee was then rejected—yeas 25, nays 31. A motion to reconsider was lost by a large majority.

The Post Office Deficiency Bill was taken up, the question being on the amendment offered by Mr. Collamer to repeal the acts of 1847 and 1851, appropriating $700,000 for the expenses of free matter. Mr. Collamer withdrew the amendment.

Mr. Powell discussed the amendment of the Finance Committee to abolish the franking privilege, regarding this as the very time and place to effect reforms. The privilege had been abused for partisan and private purposes; the franking of electioneering documents and letters to friends.

There was more debate, and several propositions for amendment.

Mr. Douglas thought it unwise to encumber the deficiency bill with such legislation as was proposed. It would delay action and keep the contractors out of the money due them. He was ready to co-operate on a separate bill.

Mr. Foote was in favor of the abolishment of the franking privilege, but opposed to its introduction in this bill as out of time and out of place.

Mr. Hale said there was a great want of efficiency in the mail service. Express companies, in his opinion, now carried one-half the correspondence between our cities, because they did so more rapidly and safely than the Department. He would make the revenues of the Department subject to the draft of the Postmaster General, and give him discretion in establishing routes and making contracts according to the financial condition of the Department. The payment of the honest debts of the contractors had nothing to do with the abolishment of the franking privilege. It was not just to do so.

Mr. Green said he was in favor of abolishing the franking privilege, but did not think this was the appropriate place for its introduction.

The Senate did not get the bill to its passage. Mail contractors, post-masters and the public have a right to complain of the delay.

☞ Wm. E. Borden of Sandwich, had twelve sheep killed and wounded by two dogs, on Friday last.

☞ The Ale Brewery in Exeter, has suspended business. Cause—want of demand for the liquid; says the Ballot.

Sydney Smith compares the whistle of a locomotive, to the squeal of an attorney when Satan first gets him.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for the Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1,00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Concentrated cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICHARDS.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MERRR.

"I have been cured of a severe cough by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found that giver relief, and so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any complaint of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER, wife.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these inpocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR. SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his residence in

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say of it, what we have of any other medicine, FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an instance in which we were disappointed, but always delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its wonderful effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know," from long and extensive experience, and pledge the fulfilment of what we utter, in every instance where suffering from pain and exhaustion from weakness, in children or twenty minutes after they are given, will be found the prescription EXPERIENCED and used in NEW ENGLAND and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not hesitate for a moment, as the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

NOTICE.

The Copartnership existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOHN MITCHELL & CO in this day dissolved by mutual consent. All bills against said firm will be paid by said Mitchell, and all debts due said firm will be paid to said Mitchell. JOHN MITCHELL,

MOTHERS.

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupifying or poisoning it. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very bottle which it is distilled being during from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is entirely vegetable and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for soitening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it never fails to give perfect satisfaction, and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to have it on hand when your children are teething; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, concocted the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phisology to the more immediate connection, and effect on the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and rational relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual for Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the undersigned, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities to inventors and Patentees.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and that one is now pending, with unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to secure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—You note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair natural, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for, I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, good enough to try it, and after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BEN: A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamaston, Ala., July 28th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage, in the sale of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and my wife and myself consider my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be confided to for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUMS, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NECRALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from a vitiated state of the BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate the vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are a compound of the best medicines within the range of their action can rarely will be found to evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its disorders and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or broken by disease, is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many so middable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is prepared to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a diuretic Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its curative powers and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of this kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

SATURDAY, FEB. 11, 1860.

LIFE IN HAVANA.

From a private letter received in this city from a son of Portsmouth now resident in Cuba, we are permitted to make the following extracts:

HAVANA, Sept., 1859.

On my return here, via Nassau, I found that the principal subject of conversation among the passengers was, that of wreckers and wrecking; so much so that it awakened my curiosity to know more of the subject. On questioning the Attorney General of the island, he gave me many details of the business, which astonished me, having no idea before of the extent to which it was carried on. His very kindly, also, seeing my interest in the subject, offered to send me some statistics concerning it. A few weeks since, I accordingly received a letter from him, from which I gather the following details. I must tell you first, however, that every vessel and man engaged in the business of wrecking must have a license, for which the men are obliged (I think) to pay $10. I am not sure as to the sum. The amount of a license for a vessel I have forgotten.

The Attorney General says:—"I find that up to the present month (June), 186 vessels and 1807 men have been licensed from the principal office at Nassau; and up to the 31st of May, 187 vessels and 1494 men have been licensed from the sub-offices of the colony (Bahama Islands)—making in all a total of 373 vessels and boats, and 3301 men. * * About 50 of the vessels are employed in foreign trade, and are licensed merely to be employed in the service should they, while on a voyage, fall in with a wrecked vessel. The new licensing law came into operation on the first of July of last year."

I was much astonished to learn the extent of this very necessary but much-abused business. I was given to understand by the passengers that the effect of the trade was exceedingly demoralizing to those engaged in it, there being not unfrequently an understanding between captains of vessels and the wreckers that at certain times and places there would be wrecks.

I think that the Attorney General told me that the wreckers were allowed 25 per cent. of all they save. It was curious to see the immense quantity of damaged goods of every description exposed for sale in the stores of Nassau. Among multitudes of other things, I saw some Malakoffs in a woful state, but so cheap that every negro woman could afford to have one. The Attorney General told me many anecdotes connected with the business, and of its abuses before the law of July went into operation.

The weather of course has been exceedingly warm here the past season, and the fever more than usually fatal among the seamen. It is a curious fact that some years there is little fever (comparatively speaking) on the shore, while it commits sad havoc among the seamen in the bay; and vice versa. This year, I have heard of but very few cases (again comparatively speaking) in the city, and the most of those quite mild; while among the seamen it has prevailed very extensively.

HAVANA, Dec. 23, 1859.

* * * We never see clams here, and very rarely oysters in the shell, when they sell at a price that would astonish you down-easters. To me, reared in the North, and accustomed to the luxuries of brown bread and baked beans and such sort, it is a sort of a purgatory to be obliged to live here. The Spaniards or Cubans have made no progress in the science of cooking. What was good for their fathers is good enough for them. Let their dishes be well soaked in olive oil (being a little rancid improves it) and garlic, and they are all right. Notwithstanding all this, when, by chance, they can prove any of our favorite dishes, they enjoy them hugely. The trouble is, the cooks do not wish to learn.

I will tell you about my apple-pie. My friend Dr. ———, (from Boston) and I thought we would perpetrate an apple-pie. The Dr. was to supply the apples, and I all the rest of the cooking. Well, we sallied out in search of the apples, and bought a dozen for a dollar and a half. After many solemn consultations with my cook (a Spaniard), I gave it up in despair, and finally negotiated with a baker, the terms of the contract being that I should furnish the apples, and that he should deliver me the pies in good order and well conditioned—stipulating, among other things less important, that they should be hot on delivery. Well, Sunday I, in honor of the apple-pies, invited the Dr. to dine, and sure enough along came the pie. What do you think, the man had made the crust of the same dough that he made bread! How we did laugh. Luckily, there was but one crust, and the apple had not been spoilt—so that we ate that with thankful hearts, and the next day I paid the baker $2.75 for his share in the transaction, with many compliments for the able manner in which he had fulfilled his part of the contract! You may be sure that I have not had an apple-pie since. However, I cannot help wishing that I could have a taste of one of mother's mince pies.

All the world here in Havana are in ecstacies with our new Captain General.—When I say all the world, I mean the Spanish part of it, and not the native Cubans. These latter view the whole thing with the utmost indifference, estimating the whole of the Spanish residents as a cloud of locusts, come to fatten on them, and then return to their country to enjoy their gains, and to laugh at the ignorant Cubans. I could not begin to give you an idea of the bitter hatred that exists between them. The Spaniards laugh at and despise the Cubans, and these latter return it with the most inveterate hatred.

A Cuban, in endeavoring to express to me his hatred of the Spaniards, said if he thought that God was a friend to them he would disown him. The expression is certainly not a good one, but it is as certainly expressive. But I have forgot what I was about to tell you about the departure of the other Capt. General, about the strewing of the streets with flowers, and the reception of the new one; and now I have no room.

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.—The Concord, N. H., Patriot contains the following valuable item:

It is said that when slaves become refractory and can be subdued in no other way, their masters have but to threaten to set them free and send them to the North to make their living among the abolitionists. A nigger in such a case rarely if ever fails to succumb.

If this were true, then were it wonderful that anybody should ever have been so foolish as to make a fugitive slave bill. And again, if it were true that they are so stubborn and refractory, what becomes of the assertion that they are the happiest peasants on earth?

A MASTER KILLED AND BURNED BY HIS SLAVES.—The following particulars of a horrible tragedy we copy from the Richmond (Va.) Dispatch:—

"Dr. Wm. Croxton, of Essex county, had occasion to correct a servant woman for some offence, but in a mild and gentle manner. This fact enraged a negro man, who vowed to have revenge. On Wednesday last, while one of his servants was engaged in grinding a cutting knife, Dr. Croxton walked to where he was, and whilst looking on, another servant stepped behind him, gave him a violent blow upon the back of the head, which felled him to the ground, and then dispatched him. The two then dragged him behind the barn, and kindled a fire, placed his body on it, and burned it. They then cut the skirts of the saddle upon his riding-horse, and then turned the horse loose, expecting to create the impression that he had been attacked on the road and murdered. When the Doctor was missed, his friends instituted a search for him, and in the pile of ashes near the barn discovered two or three of his fingers and a portion of one of his feet."

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—Bangor, Feb. 9.—The Democratic Convention for the 5th District assembled here to-day, and after an excited contest, Henry A. Wyman, of Skowhegan, and Charles D. Jameson, of Oldtown, the candidates of the Popular Sovereignty men, were elected delegates to the Charleston Convention, by a vote of, respectively, 128 and 119 out of 198.—The following brief resolution was adopted as a substitue for a reported series particularly endorsing the Administration in all its measures:—

Resolved, That we endorse the Cincinnati platform, the resolutions of the Maine State Convention of 1859, and the Administration of Mr. Buchanan.

It is said that there are only about 20,000 barrels of whiskey made in Kentucky annually, yet some five millions of barrels are palmed off on dealers and customers as "genuine Bourbon."

So says an exchange. It is a large story, but it may be true.

A SINGULAR APPLE TREE.—Mr. Chas. Smith has an apple tree in his garden in Newburyport that bears a mixed fruit, one side of each apple being sour, and the other side sweet. The color upon the surface shows how far each variety prevails. This mixture was produced in budding.—Herald.

The Grand Trunk railroad has made a contract for 1,000 boxes middles and 150 tierces of lard at 85 cents per 100 pounds, from Cincinnati to Liverpool, which includes forwarding charges.

HORACE MANN remarks:—"To put children on a short allowance of fresh air, is as foolish as it would have been for Noah, during the deluge, to have put his family on a short allowance of water. Since God has poured out an atmosphere fifty miles deep, it is enough to make a miser weep to see our children stinted in breath."

A GOOD PRICE.—The New Orleans Picayune mentions the sale of fifty bales of cotton, from the low lands of the parish of St. Landry, La., at 17 1-2 cents per pound.

If, in instructing a child, you are vexed with it for want of adroitness, try, if you have never tried before, to write with your left hand, and remember that a child is all left hand.

Why is a fool in high station like a man a balloon? Because everybody appears little to him, and he appears little to everybody.

We know some men who, when they are perplexed in argument, get out just as poor debtors get out of jail—they swear out.

A DRY GOODS PALACE.

George W. Warren & Co., have removed to their elegant new store, at Nos. 242 and 244 Washington street, Boston. This establishment has several features worthy of especial mention. The entrance from the street is into a spacious black walnut vestibule, where ladies can stand while waiting for carriages or passing cars and omnibuses. From here they pass into the magnificent sales room, one hundred and forty-eight feet long by sixty in width, and seventeen feet high. The panelled ceiling is supported by handsome Corinthian pillars. At the lower end of the room five magnificent mirrors are set into the wall, in silver plated panels, adding much to the beauty of the store.

The store is lighted in a peculiar manner, there being windows over the shelves, giving a better light than is found at any other dry goods store in the city.

There are in this room five hundred feet of mahogany counters, circular in form, and of the best finish. The top projects out fifteen inches, thus allowing the patrons to approach close to the counter, without inconvenience from full dresses. By these counters are one hundred and eighty four stationary seats, where ladies can be seated while being waited upon.

The Cashier's desk, conveniently located near the center of the room, cost, exclusive of the counter on which it rests, about $600.

A feature peculiar to this store is a room where ladies can remain while waiting for the arrival of friends or for any other purpose. It is fitted up with a marble-topped sink, and suitable furniture, and from it is an entrance into a retiring room.

Next to this room is a dark room, lighted only by gas, for the display of goods suitable for evening wear.

Passing from this room down a broad and easy stair-way, the vistor enters a basement room, over sixty feet square, where housekeeping goods and cloths, and stuffs for boys' wear, are sold.

Adjoining this is the hat and cloak room for the one hundred and twenty clerks of the store, and the bundle room, where all parcels to be sent out, are done up. There is free communication all through the establishment, by means of speaking tubes.

The store is heated by steam from a boiler placed in the rear and separate from the building, so that there can be no danger from explosion or fire.

The chambers over this extensive store, are to be occupied as salesrooms for the celebrated Chickering Piano-fortes.

This firm now, for the first time, enters into the business of selling at wholesale, and the arrangements for this department are on the same liberal scale as characterizes the retail department. The building is 60 feet by 40 wide, and is five stories high, besides the basement. The first story is devoted to the sale of silks, gloves, and the costlier fabrics. On the second floor, the various kinds of dress goods are displayed, and a convenient room for sale of goods by samples.

Upon the third story, shawls, cloaks, &c., are kept; and the fourth story is to be used for the manufacture of cloaks, which in the busy season will employ about one hundred and fifty girls. The fifth story is for storage, and here will be sleeping rooms for watchmen, etc.

Taken in all its departments, for convenience, both to patrons and to those employed, for beauty and taste in all its details, we doubt whether the establishment has its equal in the United States; and when it is added that the shelves and cases are filled with new and elegant goods, of every kind and pattern, it cannot be doubted that thousands will visit the place, to admire and to patronize.

☞ Business is working "up town," in Boston, as in New York—leaving down town to wholesalers and jobbers. Geo. W. Warren & Co. have moved up, and taken a splendid new building with Chickerings' piano ware rooms. This brings the three principal piano-manufacturers in the country—Hallet, Davis & Co., the Chickerings, and Hallett & Cumston, near together.—When Hallet, Davis & Co. first fitted up the spacious and elegant suite of rooms they now occupy, 409 Washington st., they seemed to be almost out of town; but others have crept up towards them, in location if not in successful competition, till they are now in the centre of business—as indeed they always will be, while they continue to turn out such superior instruments. The Transcript is also erecting a very handsome building, for an office, on Washington street, and will change to greatly improved quarters presently. So they go.

☞ For seducing Miss Christie, of St. Mary's, C. W., an individual named Weir has paid $50,000 as a compromise to her friends to avoid prosecution.

☞ The N. Y. Times advises the insurance companies of New York to organize a paid "brigade" of picked men to put out the fires there, like the celebrated London Fire Brigade.

In the common fowl, every egg must be submitted to a separate positive vitalization; in the turkey, once is sufficient for an entire laying.—Wilkes' Spirit.

Liver Complaint.

The liver, being the great purifying organ, arrests in its substance many morbid products, the fertile sources of disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP stimulates the liver to the performance of its functions, lessens the evils of bad digestion, and thus acts at the same time in a restorative and preventive manner.

Testimony from a well known physician.

Letter from S. H. Kendall, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, '59.—I was for many years afflicted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.

The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection, is second to none in America or elsewhere. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgments of its superior excellence and beneficent results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS,

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense. Every store might have a drop-box, at a trifling expense, which would save much trouble and watching.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

☞ We publish in another column, a report of the doings of the City Council, copied from the weekly papers. The Council did not adjourn until about half-past 10 o'clock—rather late for us to insert a matter so long and unimportant. It is interesting only as showing what was not done. The members proposed to be unseated are firemen, and therefore held to be ineligible, as the city charter says no member shall hold any city office with salary.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

GRATIFYING IF TRUE.—The Independent Democrat informs us that the Democrats "are slyly at work in every portion of the State," that they have lots of money, and that they hope to make gains, &c.—This would be extremely gratifying intelligence to us if we could believe it to be true. We hope it is.—Concord Patriot.

The Republican Committee in New Hampshire have canvassed that State and put down as good for five thousand majority in March. There is no State in the Union where the Republican party is so well organized and know so well in advance how the vote will come in.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ A correspondent of the Traveller says fire broke out last Sunday night in the new store of E. W. Johnson, in East Canaan Village, N. H., which spread rapidly to adjoining buildings, and in twenty minutes one quarter of the business part of the village was in flames. The Union Hotel and stable were soon on fire, barely leaving time to rescue the horses, &c. The Post Office building and store of Messrs. Barnard & Co., were also burnt to the ground. Several wooden dwellings burnt so rapidly that the occupants could only escape with their lives. It was only through the almost superhuman exertions of those who were present that a large part of the village was saved from destruction. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

COST OF STREET LIGHTS.—The Fall River News states that there have been used there during the last three months, 52 gas lights, and 52 fluid lights, and that the cost of the gas lights has been 1 cent an hour, and of the fluid lights 6 1-2 mills per hour. But the paper don't say which gave the greater light, actually, or relatively to cost.

☞ Rev. Cranmore Wallace, a highly esteemed Episcopal clergyman, died at Charleston, S. C., on Friday of last week. He was a native of Acworth, N. H. He graduated at Dartmouth in 1824, and went to South Carolina about 1830. The Charleston papers pay noble tributes to his memory, deploring his death as a serious loss to the community.

THE BANGOR UNIFORM CASE.—On Monday, Judge Pratt, of Bangor, rendered his decision in the replevin suit of three ex-members of Engine Company No. 4, for their uniforms, in favor of the Company—thus deciding that the property is owned by the Company in its corporate capacity, and not individually by the members. An appeal was taken from the decision.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—In the Maryland House of Delegates to-day, resolutions were adopted, condemning the course of Hon. Henry Winter Davis in voting for Mr. Pennington for Speaker of the House, as an act deserving of censure, it being in opposition to the sentiment of the people of the entire State. The resolutions were adopted with but one dissenting voice. All the American delegates voted for the censure.

☞ Friday morning, at 5 o'clock, we had in Portsmouth a fall of damp snow, with a S. W. wind, and by 6 we had two inches of snow; then the wind shifted to N. W., and blew hard all day, doing no damage that we know of.

The same wind prevailed at Montreal, Rouse's Point, Burlington, and St. Johnsbury, Vt. A New York despatch says:

A terrible gale is raging here. Great damage is being done to vessels at the docks. One or two ferry barges, are wrecked, and the Wall street and the South Ferry boats have been compelled to suspend their trips. The gale is apparently increasing in violence. The steamer Empire State, from Fall River, is the only Eastern boat that arrived this morning. She got in at 10 o'clock, and was compelled to land passengers at Jersey City, the storm preventing her getting into her own dock.

☞ A cotton factory, capable of running 2500 spindles, has just been put in operation in Jefferson City, Louisiana.

☞ The Transcript states that a gentleman of Boston has sent $100 to the widowed mother of the dancer who lost her life by her dress taking fire in New York last Saturday evening.

A PROLIFIC COW.—The Gazette, of Marlboro', Mass., states that a cow belonging to John W. Brigham, Esq., of that town, was recently delivered of five healthy and perfect calves, averaging 35 pounds, and the whole together weighed 175 pounds.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Thursday, Mr. Sumner of Mass. introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the expediency of further legislation for the prevention of violence and crime among our merchant marine. The Post-office Deficiency Bill was taken up and the amendment allowing 6 per cent interest to contractors was lost. The bill then passed and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

After a long debate, the election of Printer for the House was postponed until Monday. The standing committees were announced.

The President's Message was read and was ordered to be printed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Chamber of Commerce, to-day, also adopted a report and resolutions against privateering, and in favor of the immunity of all private property upon the ocean in time of war.

Mrs. Beecher seems to have been more seriously hurt than was supposed, but hopes are entertained of her recovery.

THE ANT AND THE CRICKET;
OR, THE BANKRUPT AND THE BANKER.

A silly young cricket, accustomed to sing
Through the long sunny months of gay summer and spring;
Began to complain, when he found that at home,
His cupboard was empty, and winter had come.

Not a crumb to be found on the snow-covered ground;
Not a flower could he see, not a leaf on the tree:
"Oh! what will become" said the cricket, "of me."

Compelled by starvation, by famine made bold;
All dripping with wet, all shivering with cold;
Away he set out for a miserly ant,
To see if, to keep him alive, he would grant
Him shelter from rain, and a mouthful of grain;
He wished only to borrow; he'd pay him again:
If not, he must die of starvation and sorrow.

Said the Ant to the Cricket, "I'm your servant and friend;
But we Ants never borrow, we Ants never lend.
Pray tell me, dear Cricket, did you lay nothing by,
When the weather was warm?"

Quoth the Cricket, "Not I:
My heart was so light that I sang day and night,
When all nature looked gay."

"You sang, sir, you say:
Go home, then, I pray you; dance winter away."
Thus saying, he hastily lifted the wicket,
And out of the door turned the poor little cricket.

Some call this a fable; I'll warrant it true;
Some crickets have four legs, and some have but two!

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease both from its innocuous nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomach, or bowels of a tender nature. I think medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being now in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases so desperate, he was induced to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 29 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents nov7ly

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the unusuals of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—so re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Boddices, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as

CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing to the sick and afflicted, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and sweetness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY EVENING, Feb. 9.

In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening—Voted, that the bells in the city be rung on Washington's Birth-Day, (Feb. 22,) as usual.

Use of Jefferson Hall granted to the Cornet Band for a promenade concert, next Monday evening.

A report was sent up from the Common Council, recommending the revision and publication of the City Charter and Ordinances. Laid over one week.

The bill abolishing the office of Street Commissioner was adopted with slight amendments, and sent down for concurrence.

The com. on School Houses reported that a room in the Temple had been procured, and one in the State-street school house fitted up for the accommodation of the Cabot-street schools, while the new house was being built.

The following resolution was adopted:

That so much of the Mayor's Address as relates to the appointment of officers be referred to a committee, consisting of Messrs. Bufford, Jackson and Kimball, with directions to report an account of the proceedings of Mayor and Aldermen in relation to said appointments, and any other matters they may deem proper; and also whether any further action is necessary or expedient in relation to said appointments.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Mayor sent communications in relation to a steam fire engine. Referred to committee on Fire Department.

Mr. Moses offered a resolution inquiring into the expediency of placing a bell on new Cabot street school house. Referred.

Mr. Rider offered a resolution inquiring into the expediency of placing gates at Liberty Bridge to confine the water in Puddle Dock, to be used in case of fire. Referred.

Mr. Brown offered a remonstrance against the rights of Messrs. Rider, Abbott, Hayes and S. G. Folsom to seats in the council, because "Each of the before mentioned gentlemen are holding office of emolument under the board of Mayor and Aldermen in opposition to the City Charter," and offered a resolution that their seats shall be declared vacant and a new election ordered in accordance with section 14 of the City Charter.

Without taking action on the resolution, the Council adjourned.

ENLARGEMENT.—Messrs. Allen & Paine, who have so successfully established the manufacture of Cloaks and Capes in this city, are now making large additions and improvements to their store to give them better conveniences for a great extension of that branch of their business, as well as to enable them to exhibit a greatly enlarged stock of fashionable spring and summer goods.

☞ Among the Patents issued for the week ending Feb. 7, we notice one to Frank A. Allen, of this city, for improvement in making plaits in sewing.

☞ A little daughter of Mr. Frederick D. Akerman, seven or eight years old, fell from a table one day last week, and broke a thigh bone just above the knee.

FAST DAY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—Governor Goodwin has appointed Thursday, April 12th, as Fast Day in this State.

Rev. Lyman Whiting, of Providence, will preach at the North Church next Sabbath.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth, throat, Sore Legs, Inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Ointment for the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the amphisbic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them to be the medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others afflicted, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing whereby relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1840. "This certifies that we have found great relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in all cases where it has been used, it never been able to say of any other medicine, —NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN ONE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it, but on the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know and testify what we have seen," and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where a child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after this syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be found. This is ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper throughout the world. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has invented for children.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying it with laudanum. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show. The ingredients which it is distilled being drawn from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly safe and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it has been used in many instances successfully, and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those who use opiate to gain their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837,

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research can be made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any of the Patents issued by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but, through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unexcelled by any other in the country, and can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has at command no better reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

PEALE'S COURT OF DEATH.

This magnificent Painting has been purchased from the Peale family, and a large PLATE ENGRAVED, 17x27 inches, from which are now being printed 100,000 splendid colored Engravings, which present as perfect a fac-simile of the original Painting as art can produce.—These are issued at the low price of ONE DOLLAR EACH. Besides the Engraving each subscriber is entitled to a certificate of ownership in the painting itself, which will be disposed of for their benefit when all the engravings are issued.

A copy of the engraving can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who has been appointed agent for this place.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A party of citizens of Saginaw, Mich., went out upon the ice in the bay to see the Indians fish, a few days since, and while thus engaged the ice separated from the shore and started down the bay, en route for Lake Huron. The weather was bitter cold, and the event caused great consternation not only to the party, but to the people on shore. After drifting fourteen miles the ice grounded on a point, and the frightened party scrambled ashore with their horses and sleighs, over broken cakes of floating ice. They had a narrow escape from a disagreeable cruise on the lake.

GENEROSITY OF IRISH SERVANT GIRLS Dr. Cahill, in a letter to the Dublin Telegraph, speaks of the generosity of Irish servant girls here in sending money to their relatives in the old country. He has visited the different offices in New York city for the transmission of money to Ireland, and from the statistics thus obtained, estimates that during the year 1859, the Irish servant maids now working in that city and Brooklyn have sent home to their parents, brothers and sisters, the enormous sum of one million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

☞ At Saxton's River, Vt., last Tuesday, fifty gallons of liquor belonging to A. K. Wilder, landlord of the hotel, were seized by the authorities. Mr. Wilder was fined $50 and costs, and the liquor destroyed.—Immediately after the seizure, Mr. Wilder cut down his sign and closed his house.

Mr. Allard of Plymouth, Vt., was fined $50 and costs, Jan. 25, for selling liquor contrary to law, and in default of means was committed to jail.

☞ Mr. and Mrs. Annin, residing near the High Bridge of the New Jersey Central Railroad, are supposed to be the largest couple in this country. The gentleman's weight is 700 pounds, and the lady's weight 500. Mr. Annin's age is about 45, and Mrs. Annin's about 40. It requires six yards of cassimere for Mr. A.'s pants, and nine yards of cloth for a coat. He and his wife keep a public house at a place called Peg's Pebble.

CHARITY embraces the wide circle of all possible kindness. Every good act is charity; your smiling in your brother's face is charity; and exhortation to your fellow-man to virtuous deeds is equal to alms-giving; your putting a wanderer in the right road is charity; your moving stones and thorns from the road is charity; your giving water to the thirsty is charity.

☞ The Coroner's investigation of the circumstances attending the late disastrous explosion in Brooklyn shows that it was caused by closing the valve-cock between the boiler and steam-chest.

A man's true wealth hereafter is the good he does in this world to his fellow-man. When he dies, people will say, "What property has he left behind him?" But the angels will ask, "What good deeds has he sent before him?"—Irving.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in this condition it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or viscerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which pervades the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It can be combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the renovation of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, ERYSIPELAS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ENTYSELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popularity of Sarsaparilla as "purify the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this preparation of Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties clear the blood, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent here named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Gravel, Colic, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cures of its curse, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PROF. HUNTINGTON'S SERMONS.

We have already noticed Prof. Huntington's new volume of sermons, in which he distinctly avows himself a trinitarian, and in which he also strongly urges such a belief as essential to the fullness of the christian life.

In the Boston Evening Traveller of Feb. 6, is a very favorable and flattering review of the Sermons, containing more flippant criticism, more bad taste, and more ex cathedra assumptions, than are commonly crowded into three columns of small type.

Nevertheless, the writer of the review states some important facts in regard to Prof. Huntington's views at the time of his appointment to the Plummer Professorship of Morals, &c., at Cambridge. The review says:

We well recollect a conversation we had at that time with a distinguished Unitarian clergyman, in which we expressed a strong conviction that Prof. Huntington would soon become an orthodox man; but the undertone and nonchalance of his reply were intended to convey a strong impression that it was distinctly understood between the Professor and his Unitarian confreres, that he would not swerve from their faith, and that evangelical men had little reason to expect any accession to their strength from that quarter.

From the moment Dr. Huntington was installed in his Professorship, he has been "the observed of all observers;" and from that moment, if not before, his mind and heart have been gradually opening to the hallowed influences of light and truth.

In connexion with these statements, we make below a short extract from a sermon which Dr. Huntington preached to his society in Boston, April 2, 1854, at which time he was before the public as a prominent candidate for the Professorship.

There was then, and had been for some time before, a something in Dr. Huntington's preaching, by which, as the reviewer says, a few orthodox men "were already satisfied that Dr. Huntington stood substantially upon evangelical ground, but many more regarded his position as hopeful rather than satisfactory."

The same thing, whatever it was, raised corresponding suspicions and apprehensions among his Unitarian hearers and associates. For the purpose, we presume, of allaying these apprehensions, and removing these suspicions, Dr. Huntington preached a Sermon on the Incarnation, in which he not only took strong Unitarian ground, but also urged some cogent reasons against Trinitarianism.

In this sermon he speaks, desiringly, of a quiet independent place, not too close to any sect, &c. His hearers were satisfied, and so were those gentlemen who held the appointing power, that Dr. H. was a devotional, earnest Christian preacher, of decided Unitarian views.

There was, as we understand, some talk about publishing the sermon; but the author was not disposed to have it published. A friend, however, borrowed it and made a copy; and the discourse found its way, recently, into the Boston Evening Gazette, where it was published Jan. 28.

We have room only for one extract, containing Dr. H.'s seven reasons why he could not be a Trinitarian:

But furthermore I object to Trinitarianism in any and all its forms in which it can state itself, and for the following among other reasons.

I object to it, first, because neither the word Trinity, nor any other corresponding to it, is found in the Scriptures, which would have supplied it if it had been wanted.

I object to it, secondly, because to the very idea of Trinity proper there is necessary the assumption that Christ was literally not derived from the Father, nor dependent on him, which is contrary to the Biblical teaching.

I object to it, thirdly, because it insists on going back, behind God revealing himself, into God as he is in essence, entering into the interior relations of the Divine Nature, undertaking to settle the abstract psychological facts of God's being, roughly handling with mortal understanding what human knowledge never can find out, and instead of leaving the divine mystery of the Son's generation as an object of wondering faith, interposes a sharp-cut dogma of absolute Eternity, condemning all that differ.

I object to it, fourthly, that it introduces into the Divine Nature itself a certain rigid grammatical and almost unclassical division, often practically recognizing three Gods instead of one, and thus degenerating into a baptized Polytheism, confusing the mind and disturbing the simplicity of worship.

I object to it, fifthly, that whereas the whole strain of the New Testament implies a certain filial subordination on the part of the Son ever in his higher nature, as that he is sent by a Sender, has power given to him by a Giver, prays to one that answers, received wisdom, anointing, and all that he is and has in fact, from the Father, saying "that the Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do;" and that of a certain day and hour the Son knoweth not, but the Father only, whereas he cries also in the agonies of the Garden, "Not as I will, but as thou wilt," and takes his eternal place not in the Father's throne, but on the right hand thereof. Trinitarianism, on the other hand, overlooks these facts, or else accounts for them, by breaking up the singleness of Christ's nature into two opposites, making, instead of one nature with a twofold aspect, divine and human, two distinct natures, a human soul and a divine one, thus marring its beauty and hindering our communion.

I object to it, sixthly, that it asserts the distinct personal independent existence of the Holy Spirit, instead of representing that Spirit as the Scripture does, as proceeding forth from the Father and the Son.

I object to it, seventhly and finally, that it presses a new speculation or metaphysical distinction beyond all the extent of any practical or evangelic use, thus sundering believers that ought to stand shoulder to shoulder, and preventing the Master from being honored as he deserves in the harmony of his undivided fold. These are my objections to the church doctrine of the Trinity.

CRUELTY TO PRISONERS.—The Legislative Committee on Prisons are investigating charges against Mr. Adams, keeper of the House of Correction at East Cambridge, which if the one-half should prove true, should keep this State very quiet about outrages on slaves South, till they have seen that justice was done at home.—Newburyport Herald.

No, no! says Uncle Toby, let Massachusetts do justice at home, and let her people call for it abroad! "This ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone." The investigation at Cambridge shows something rotten there,—and abuses creep in everywhere. They do not belong exclusively to one sect, section, or party. The most honest men in the world will bear watching, —and those not quite so honest, need it the more.

☞ The Mobile Register, in advocating the claims of Mr. Douglas for the Presidency, says:

"Above all, it is important for the Southern States to have a man in the Presidency who will take advantage of European troubles to favor a policy which will give slave labor the control of the central portions of this continent."

We observe also that the new Douglas organ in New Orleans, the States Rights Louisianian, squints towards the re-establishment of the African slave trade.

☞ At New York, in the gale of Friday, as many as 30 vessels were injured, some badly, several sunk.

Both bridges of the Jersey City Ferry were demolished.

The Catholic Orphan Asylum in Sixth street was unroofed. There were four hundred children in the building, but none were injured.

A large factory building on DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn, was demolished, and hundreds of other buildings in New York city, Brooklyn, Jersey City and Hoboken were unroofed, or otherwise badly injured.

A. DePeyster, President of the Relief Insurance Co., while walking in Broadway, was thrown down by the force of the wind, and sustained a very severe fracture of the hip.

A new ship lying at a wharf in Newburyport, during the gale on Friday, parted two heavy chain fasts and drifted down stream until brought up in a dock. She sustained no damage.

In Manchester, N. H., chimneys were blown down; the roof of the Gas Works was blown off, and the roof of the passenger depot was started. In other places some damage was done. Loads of hay going to market were blown over, roofs were started, and there was whisking about generally.

CALIFORNIA.—But little has been done in the Legislature since the Senatorial election. A resolution, instructing the Senators in Congress to oppose dividing the State for purpose of erecting six Southern counties into a Territory, has been introduced, and will probably pass, a test vote having so indicated.

An attempt to authorize the raising of a volunteer company to suppress Indian hostilities in Mendocino County has failed, and Gov. Downey has referred the subject to Gen. Clark, of the United States Army.

Considerable effort is making to induce the Legislature to elect Senator Gwin's successor at the present session, but it will probably fail, as the present indications are not favorable to any such movement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The steamer Atlantic arrived at noon with California advices to Jan. 20, and nearly a million and half of treasure, and upwards of 300 passengers.

Advices from the Isthmus state that frigate Saranac had arrived at Panama from Realejo. The Levant had sailed for Realejo. The war sloop Preble sailed from Aspinwall 26th for Vera Cruz.

Advices from Bogota state that the Catholic clergy there had collected all bibles distributed by the London Bible Society, and burnt them in the public square. The British Minister strongly protested against the proceeding; but Mr. James, the American Minister, was present countenancing the outrage. A full account of the affair has been sent to Washington.

Another destructive fire had occurred at Valparaiso, destroying fifty houses, mostly owned by Germans.

It so happens that nothing exists, absolutely nothing, which is not, at some time, and to some persons, wearisome and even potentially disgusting.—De Quincy.

Many a sweetly fashioned mouth has been disfigured and made hideous by the fiery tongue within it.

The greatest gluttons are those who feed upon slander.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

In the House of Lords on the 26th ult., Lord Brougham gave notice that he would on an early day, move for some returns relative to slavery, and would bring the whole question before the House. He would also move for returns of cotton imported into England, from America. He made his motion the following day.

The Duke of Newcastle, in response, said the returns should be produced, and the government would do all in its power to suppress the slave trade.

On the 27th, in the House of Commons, Mr. Griffith called attention to a rumor that 30,000 French troops were expected at Leghorn, and enquired whether there was any reason to suppose that the object of such a movement was to prevent the annexation of Central Italy to Sardinia.

Lord John Russell said there was no truth in the statement, and he had no reason whatever to believe that the French government contemplated any such step with the view imputed to it in the question.

Lord John Russell also stated, in reply to a question from Mr. Monckton Milnes, that, in compliance with the address of the House on the cruelties practiced on board American ships, he had communicated with the American government, and the power had been given by it to Mr. Dallas to enter into negotiations to put an end to the atrocities so disgraceful to humanity. A convention was being drawn up, with this object in view. (Cheers.)

The Attorney General gave notice of a bill for the amendment and consolidation of the Bankruptcy laws.

Later advices had been received from Australia. There was a panic at Melbourne, and numerous failures had occurred.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The Univers publishes a letter of the Pope to the Archbishops and Bishops, stating the motives of his refusal to accept the advice of the Emperor to give up the Romagna.

☞ The U. S. Senate were not in session Friday, Feb. 10.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Morris, the Committee on Commerce was directed to inquire into the expediency of the prohibiting by law, all American vessels engaging in the Coolie trade, or for transporting apprentices to the West Indies or other parts of the world.

The Speaker laid before the House a copy of the State Coustitution, recently adopted at Wyandotte, as preliminary to the admission of Kansas into the Union.

Mr. Morris introduced a resolution that the several Standing Committees, who were authorized to employ clerks at the last session of Congress, be now authorized to do so, with the addition of the committees on Accounts and Territories.

The Democrats opposed the resolution by dilatory motions. Without disposing of it, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. Washburn of Ill. in the Chair.

Mr. Sherman offered a series of resolutions, referring various branches of the President's Message to appropriate standing committees, and the Pacific Railroad question to a secret committee of fifteen.

Mr. Ferry proceeded to reply to what he characterized as unfounded and unprecedental assaults made on the Republican party. He reviewed what he considered the fudamental principles of the Democratic party on slavery, and argued that property in man cannot exist as a national right. It was a libel on the Constitution to say that slavery existed anywhere by virtue of its provisions. Every page of that document is radiant with the light of universal liberty. In conclusion, he gave his views, in the course of which he said he would not interfere with slavery where it exists, but would provide against its further extension.

Mr. Reagan explained his views, denying the legal authority, either on the part of Congress or the people of a teritory to deprive a man of his slave property therein. When, however, the people of a Territory come to form a Constitution, they may, by the exercise of a revolutionary right, destroy slavery; but in no other way.

A memorial from Mr. Blair, of Missiouri, contesting Mr. Barrett's seat, was presented, and referred to the Commite on Elections. Adjourned.

☞ A new paper, very neatly printed and well edited, called the Firemen's Friend, has just appeared in Boston, and may be had of J. H. Locke in this city. As its name indicates, it is especially intended for firemen; but it is readable by any one.

☞ The Dover Gazette has been enlarged, and replenished with presses with type.

☞ There is great excitement and much confusion at Denver City in the Pike's Peak region, caused by jumping claims, &c. There is trouble at Aurora, also, in consequence of robberies.

☞ The joint resolutions of the Alabama Senate, to appropriate $50,000 to aid Virginia in defraying the expenses of suppressing the Harper's Ferry disturbance, were laid on the table in the House.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that an attempt will be made to increase the rate of postage to five cents, but it will fail.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune of the 31st ult. says the Mississippi river is now rising very rapidly along its whole line.—Opposite New Orleans it presents an angry, turbid, tumultous aspect. The waves sweep along with great power.

☞ According to the Tribune's correspondent, "Judge Douglas has said, within a day or two, that he thought at one time he was gaining at the South, but that now he doubted, and was by no means certain that his time would come before 1864."—Jefferson Davis denies that Douglas has the ghost of a chance at Charleston.

For a pretty woman to wear too many jewels, is as foolish as to put three feet of gilt frame on one foot of picture.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an-hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S

PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

Liver Complaint.

The liver, being the great purifying organ, arrests in its substance many morbid products, the fertile sources of disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP stimulates the liver to the performance of its functions, lessens the evils of bad digestion, and thus acts at the same time in a restorative and preventive manner.

Testimony from a well known physician.

Letter from S. H. Kendall, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, '59.—I was for many years afflicted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.

S. H. KENDALL, M. D.

The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection, is second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgements of its superior excellence and beneficent results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

CITY COUNCIL.—Sec. 22d of the Charter of the City of Portsmouth, contains this clause, forbidding any member of the Council to hold any city office for pay:

No person shall be elected by the city council, or appointed by the mayor and aldermen, to any office of emolument, who at the time of his election or appointment, shall be a member of the board of aldermen or of the common council.

Well, four of the Common Councilmen, and one Alderman, are members of the Fire Department; and hold commissions as such, from the Mayor and Aldermen—with salaries fixed, though small—three being simple Firemen, and two Assistant Engineers.

A resolution has been introduced in the Common Council, to declare vacant, the four seats occupied by the Firemen—not in either case from any objection to the incumbents; but to preserve the law intact. The resolution will doubtless be carried, and a new election ordered, unless the said members resign as Firemen.

It is objected to this movement, in part,—that a mere Fireman's berth is not an "office of emolument;" but Webster defines "office" to be, "an employment undertaken by commission or authority of government or those who administer it"—and "emolument" to be, "that which is received as a compensation for services." It is also urged that the members objected to, were eligible to office at the time of their election; and have been appointed Firemen since. This does not help the matter at all—take it either way. The Common Council is "the final judge of the election and qualification of its members" (Charter, Sec. 14); so that if it shall appear at any time, that any member is not entitled to his seat, of course he may be removed.

But these five members were, most of them at least, and we think all,—members of the last Fire Department; and therefore clearly ineligible to their seats when elected to either Board of the Common Council.—And being elected, the Board of Aldermen acted illegally in appointing them as Firemen. This may not be a matter of much consequence, in fact, though the principle is an important one; but it is well to understand the matter thoroughly, since it has been brought to public notice. The fact that similar irregularities have been allowed before, or passed unnoticed, is no reason that the law should not be strictly construed, and faithfully executed, when such errors are brought to light.

☞ The Republican party papers of the city, have pitched into our new Mayor considerably, while explaining the "dead-lock" in the City Government, which prevents anything being done, in the way of appointing new officers, &c. We publish on the fourth page this morning, an article from the Journal; and will only add, that politics makes strange bed-fellows, giving in this case, a democratic Mayor veto power over a Republican Board—and that special legislation (as in changing the City Charter,) does not always accomplish its end—and that common sense and world-wide usage ought not to be lost sight of by partizans even (vide the action of the chairman of the Overseers of the Poor.)

☞ The Portsmouth Cornet Band give a Promenade Concert at Jefferson Hall this (Monday) evening. Tickets only 15 cts, Dancing commences at 9 o'clock.

☞ There were two false alarms of fire, Sunday evening—for which we could not ascertain the least excuse.

☞ We learn that the number of tickets to the Firemen's Ball, are limited, and we would advise all our dancing friends to secure tickets as soon as possible, if they wish to attend the dance.

☞ A patent has been granted to Mr Frank A. Allen of this city, (of the firm of Allen & Paine,) for an improved Folder, to be attached to Sewing Machines, similarly to the Hemmer—designed for use in plaiting bosoms, skirts, cloaks, &c. We learn he has been offered a handsome sum for the invention.

☞ The Manchester American states that Hon. J. M. K. Wilkins, of Manchester, at his decease, left a large amount of real estate for the use of the N. H. House of Reformation, and the property has been surrendered to the trustees of that house. It will be of great service to the institution, which for the past year has been embarrassed by its limited means.

☞ By dispatches from the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, it seems the Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee don't find out much that is new or important.—They propose to put Gov. Wise on the stand. Gov. Robinson of Kansas has testified, implicating Redpath, Jim Lane and others in the treason against slavery in Kansas, but as to Virginia Gov. R. seems to know nothing.

☞ On the 9th, a house in Thetford, Vt., was found to be on fire. It was occupied by Mr. Cheney, who was burned up—his head, one leg and one arm only being left. He was a man of intemperate habits, and his family could not live with him.

JOHN A. ANDREW, Esq., of Boston, appeared before the Senate Investigating Committee, Thursday, and was questioned as to the motive which actuated him in employing counsel, at an expense of $1300, to defend John Brown. He stated in reply that he and other Bostonians had contributed money to secure the defence of a brave man, wounded and friendless; and in addition expressed his anti-slavery sentiments unreservedly.

☞ The Charleston Mercury, referring to the Speaker contest, says it was disastrous that, at last, an old, Consolidation, Tariff, Black Republican is elected; and, more disastrous than all, that the great majority of Southern Democrats should have abandoned Mr. Smith and Mr. Bocock, and voted for a Squatter Sovereignty Democrat. The result is not merely that the South was beaten, but that she is demoralized.

☞ We find the following in a Scottish paper: "At Silverhillocks, Gamrie, the wife of Charles Wilson of twin daughters—one born on the 31st of December, 1859, the other on Jan. 1, 1860."

☞ The Yale Agricultural Convention at New Haven, is a decided success.

The Jersey City Courier raises the name of Wm. Pennington for President.
